32 ¶ And king David ſaid, Call me Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſonne of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 The king alſo ſaid unto them, Take with you the [o] ſervants of your lord, and cauſe Solomon my ſonne to ride upon † mine own mule, and bring him down to Gihon.

34 And let Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, anoint him there king over Iſrael: and blow ye with the trumpet, and ſay, God ſave king Solomon.

35 Then ye ſhall come up after him, that he may come and ſit upon my throne; for he ſhall be king in my ſtead: and I have appointed him to be ruler over Iſrael, and over Judah.

36 And Benaiah the ſonne of Jehoiada anſwered the king, and ſaid, Amen: the LORD God of my lord the king ſay ſo too.

37 As the LORD hath been with my lord the king, even ſo be he with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord king David.

38 So Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, went down, and cauſed Solomon to ride upon king Davids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the prieſt took an horn of [p] oyl out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon: and they blew the trumpet, and all the people ſaid, God ſave king Solomon.

40 And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with ‡ pipes, and rejoyced with great joy, ſo that the earth rent with the ſound of them.

41 ¶ And Adonijah and all the gueſts that were with him, heard it as they had made an end of eating: and when Joab heard the ſound of the trumpet, he ſaid, Wherefore is this noiſe of the city, being in an uprore?

42 And while he yet ſpake, behold, Jonathan the ſonne of Abiathar the prieſt came, and Adonijah ſaid unto him, Come in, for thou art a valiant man, and bringeſt [q] good tidings.

43 And Jonathan anſwered and ſaid to Adonijah, Verily our lord king David hath made Solomon king.

44 And the king hath ſent with him Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the ſonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they have cauſed him to ride upon the kings mule.

45 And Zadok the prieſt, and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gihon: and they are come up from thence rejoycing, ſo that the city rang again: this is the noiſe that ye have heard.

46 And alſo Solomon ſitteth on the throne of the kingdome.

47 And moreover, the kings ſervants came to [r] bleſſe our lord king David, ſaying, God make the name of Solomon better than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne: and the king bowed himſelf upon the [ſ] bed.

48 And alſo thus ſaid the king, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, which hath given one to ſit on my throne this day, mine eyes even ſeeing it.

49 And all the gueſts that were with Adonijah, were afraid, and roſe up, and went every man his way.

50 ¶ And Adonijah feared becauſe of Solomon, and aroſe, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the [t] altar.

51 And it was told Solomon, ſaying, Behold, Adonijah feareth king Solomon: for lo, he hath caught hold on the horns of the altar, ſaying, Let king Solomon ſwear unto me to day, that he will not ſlay his ſervant with the ſword.

52 And Solomon ſaid, If he will ſhew himſelf a worthy man, there ſhall not an hair of him fall to the earth: but if wickedneſſe ſhall be found in him, he ſhall die.

53 So king Solomon ſent, and they brought him down from the altar; and he came and bowed himſelf to king Solomon: and Solomon ſaid unto him, Go to thine houſe.

CHAP. II.

1 David having given a charge to Solomon, 3 of religiouſneſſe, 5 of Joab, 7 of Barzillai, 8 of Shimei, 10 dieth. 12 Solomon ſucceedeth. 13 Adonijah, moving Bath-sheba to ſue unto Solomon for Abishag, is put to death. 16 Abiathar having his life given him, is deprived of the prieſthood. 28 Joab fleeing to the horns of the altar, is there ſlain. 35 Benaiah is put in Joabs room, and Zadok in Abiathars. 36 Shimei confined to Jeruſalem, by occaſion of going thence to Gath, is put to death.

NOw the dayes of David drew nigh, that he ſhould die: and he charged Solomon his ſonne, ſaying, 8 And behold, thou hast with thee * Shimei the sonne of Gera, a Benjamite of Bahurim, which cursed me with a † grievous curse, in the day when I went to Mahanaim: but he came down to meet me at Jordan, and I sware to him by the LORD, saying, * I will not put thee to death with the sword.

9 Now therefore hold him not guiltlesse: for thou art a wise man, and knowest what thou oughtest to do unto him; but his hoar head bring thou down to the grave with [g] bloud.

10 So * David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David.

11 And the dayes that David * reigned over Israel, were fourty yeares: seven yeares reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three yeares reigned he in Jerusalem.

12 ¶ * Then sat Solomon upon the throne of David his father, and his kingdome was established greatly.

13 ¶ And Adonijah the sonne of Haggith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Solomon, and she said, [h] Comest thou peaceably? And he said, Peaceably.

14 He said moreover, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And she said, Say on.

15 And he said, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, & that all Israel set their [i] faces on me, that I should reigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned about, and is become my brothers: for it was his from the LORD.

16 And now I ask one petition of thee, † deny me not. And she said unto him, Say on.

17 And he said, Speak, I pray thee, unto Solomon the king (for he will not say thee nay) that he give me Abishag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-sheba said, Well, I will speak for thee unto the king.

19 ¶ Bath-sheba therefore went unto king Solomon, to speak unto him for Adonijah: and the king rose up to meet her, and [k] bowed himself unto her, and sat down on his throne, and caused a seat to be set for the kings mother; and she sat on his right hand.

20 Then she said, I desire one small petition of thee, I pray thee say me not nay. And the king said unto her, Ask on, my mother, for I will not say thee nay.

21 And she said, Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 And king Solomon answered and said unto his mother, And why dost thou ask Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? ask for him the [l] kingdome also; (for he is mine elder brother) even for him, and for Abiathar the priest, and for Joab the sonne of Zeruiah.

23 Then king Solomon sware by the LORD, saying, God do so to me, and more also, if Adonijah have not spoken this word against his own life.

24 Now therefore, as the LORD liveth, which hath established me, and set me on the throne of David my father, and who hath made me an house, as he * promised, Adonijah shall be put to death this day. 277

25 And king Solomon sent by the hand of Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and he fell upon him that he died.

26 ¶ And unto Abiathar the priest said the king, Get thee to Anathoth, unto thine own fields, for thou art † worthy of death: but I will not at this time put thee to death, because thou [m] barest the ark of the Lord GOD before David my father, and because thou hast been afflicted in all wherein my father was afflicted.

27 So Solomon thrust out Abiathar from being priest unto the LORD; that he might * fulfill the word of the LORD, which he spake concerning the house of Eli in Shiloh.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Joab, (for Joab had [n] turned after Adonijah, though he turned not after Absalom) and Joab fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon that Joab was fled unto the tabernacle of the LORD, and behold, he is by the [o] altar: then Solomon sent Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, saying, Go fall upon him.

30 And Benaiah came to the tabernacle of the LORD, and said unto him, Thus saith the king, Come forth. And he said, Nay, but I will die here. And Benaiah brought the king word again, saying, Thus said Joab, and thus he answered me.

31 And the king said unto him, Do as he hath said, and [p] fall upon him, and bury him; that thou mayest take away the innocent bloud which Joab shed, from me, and from the house of my father.

32 And the LORD shall return his bloud upon his own head, who fell upon two men more righteous and better than he, and slew them with the sword, my father David not knowing thereof, to wit, * Abner the sonne of Ner, captain of the host of Israel, and * Amasa the sonne of Jether, captain of the host of Judah.

33 Their bloud shall therefore return upon the head of Joab, and upon the [q] head of his seed for ever: but upon David, and upon his seed, and upon his house, and upon his throne shall there be peace for ever from the LORD.

34 So Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada went up, and fell upon him, and slew him; and he was buried in his own house in the wilderness.

35 ¶ And the king put Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada in his room over the host; [r] and Zadok the priest did the king put in the room of Abiathar.

36 ¶ And the king sent, and called for Shimei, and said unto him, Build thee an house in Jerusalem, and dwell there, and go not forth thence any whither.

t His covetous mind moved him rather to venture his life, than to loſe his worldly profit, which he had by his ſervants.

41 And it was told Solomon that Shimei had gone from Jeruſalem to Gath, and was come again.

42 And the king ſent and called for Shimei, and ſaid unto him, Did I not make thee to ſwear by the LORD, and proteſted unto thee, ſaying, Know for a certain, that on the day thou goeſt out, and walkeſt abroad any whither, that thou ſhalt ſurely die? and thou ſaidſt unto me, The word that I have heard, is good.

43 Why then haſt thou not kept the oath of the LORD, and the commandment that I have charged thee with?

44 The king ſaid moreover to Shimei, [u] Thou knoweſt all the wickedneſſe which thine heart is privy to, that thou didſt to David my father therefore the LORD ſhall return thy wickedneſſe upon thine own head;

i He knew that God had appeared unto him in a dream.

16 ¶ Then came there two women that were harlots, unto the king, and [k] ſtood before him.

17 And the one woman ſaid, O my lord, I and this woman dwell in one houſe, and I was delivered of a childe, with her in the houſe.

18 And it came to paſſe the third day after that I was delivered, that this woman was delivered alſo: and we were together; there was no ſtranger with us in the houſe, ſave we two in the houſe.

22 And the other woman said, Nay; but the living is my sonne, and the dead is thy sonne: and this said, No; but the dead is thy sonne, and the living is my sonne. Thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said the king, The one saith, This is my sonne that liveth, and thy sonne is the dead: and the other saith, Nay; but thy sonne is the dead, and my sonne is the living.

AND Hiram king of Tyre ſent his ſervants unto Solomon; (for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father) for Hiram was ever a lover of David.

2 And * Solomon ſent to Hiram, ſaying.

3 Thou knoweſt how that David my father could not build an houſe unto the name of the LORD his God, for the warres which were about him on every ſide, untill the LORD put them under the ſoles of his feet.

4 But now the LORD my God hath given me [a] reſt on every ſide, ſo that there is neither adverſarie, nor evil occurrent.

5 And behold, I † purpoſe to build an houſe unto the name of the LORD my God, * as the LORD ſpake unto David my father, ſaying, thy ſonne, whom I will ſet upon thy throne in thy room, he ſhall build an houſe unto my name.

6 Now therefore command thou, that they hew me cedar-trees out of Lebanon, and my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants: and unto thee will I give [b] hire for thy ſervants, according to all that thou ſhalt † appoint: for thou knoweſt that there is not among us any that can skill to hew timber, like unto the Sidonians.

7 ¶ And it came to paſſe, when [c] Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoyced greatly, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD this day, which hath given unto David a wiſe ſonne over this great people.

8 And Hiram ſent to Solomon, ſaying, I have † conſidered the things which thou ſenteſt to me for: and I will do all thy deſire concerning timber of cedar, and concerning timber of firre.

9 My ſervants ſhall bring them down from Lebanon unto the ſea: and I will convey them by ſea in flotes, unto the place that thou ſhalt † appoint me, and will cauſe them to be diſcharged there, and thou ſhalt receive them: and thou ſhalt accompliſh my deſire, in giving food for my [d] houſhold.

10 So Hiram gave Solomon cedar-trees, and firre-trees, according to all his deſire.

11 And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thouſand † meaſures of wheat for food to his houſhold, and twenty meaſures of pure oyl: thus gave Solomon to Hiram yeare by yeare.

12 And the LORD gave Solomon wiſdome, * as he promiſed him: and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and they two made a [e] league together.

13 ¶ And king Solomon raiſed a † levie out of all Iſrael; and the levie was thirty thouſand men.

14 And he ſent them to Lebanon, ten thouſand a moneth by courſes: a moneth they were in Lebanon, and two moneths at home: and * Adoniram was over the levie.

15 And Solomon had threeſcore and ten thouſand that bare burdens, and foureſcore thouſand hewers in the mountains:

1 The building of Solomons temple. 5 The chambers thereof. 11 Gods promiſe unto it. 15 The cieling and adorning of it. 23 The cherubims. 31 The doores. 36 The court. 37 The time of building it.

AND * it came to paſſe in the foure hundred and foureſcore yeare after the children of Iſrael were come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth yeare of Solomons reigne over Iſrael, in the moneth [a] Zif, which is the ſecond moneth, that he † began to build the [b] houſe of the LORD.

2 And the [c] houſe which king Solomon built for the LORD, the length thereof was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof twentie cubits, and the height thereof thirtie cubits.

3 And the porch before the temple of the houſe, twentie cubits was the length thereof, according to the breadth of the houſe; and ten cubits was the breadth thereof, before the houſe.

4 And for the houſe he made ‡ windows of narrow lights.

5 ¶ And ‡ againſt the wall of the houſe he built † chambers round about, againſt the walls of the houſe round about, both of the temple, and of the [d] oracle: and he made † chambers round about.

6 The nethermoſt chamber was five cubits broad, and the middle was ſix cubits broad, and the third was ſeven cubits broad: for without in the wall of the houſe he made † narrowed [e] reſts round about, that the beams ſhould not be faſtened in the walls of the houſe.

7 And the houſe when it was in building, was built of ſtone, made ready before it was brought thither: ſo that there was neither hammer, nor ax, nor any tool of iron heard in the houſe, while it was in building.

8 The doore for the middle chamber was in the right † ſide of the houſe: and they went up up with winding ſtairs into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

9 So he built the [f] houſe and finiſhed it; and covered the houſe ‡ with beams and boards of cedar.

10 And then he built chambers againſt all the houſe, five cubits high: and they reſted on the houſe with timber of cedar.

11 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Solomon, ſaying, 12 Concerning this houſe which thou art in building, if thou wilt walk in my ſtatutes, and execute my judgements, and keep all my commandements to walk in them: then will I perform my word with thee, * which I ſpake unto David thy father.

13 And I will [g] dwell among the children of Iſrael, and will not forſake my people Iſrael.

14 So Solomon built the houſe, & finiſhed it.

15 And he built the walls of the houſe within with boards of cedar, ‡ both the floore of the houſe, and the [h] walls of the cieling: and he covered them on the inſide with wood, and covered the floore of the houſe with planks of firre.

16 And he built twenty cubits on the ſides of the houſe, both the floore, and the walls with boards of cedar: he even built them for it within, even for the oracle, even for the moſt holy place.

17 And the houſe, that is, the temple before it, was fourtie [i] cubits long.

18 And the cedar of the houſe within was carved with ‡ knops, and † open flowers: all was cedar, there was no ſtone ſeen.

19 And the oracle he prepared in the [k] houſe within, to ſet there the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

20 And the oracle in the forepart was twentie cubits in length, and twentie cubits in breadth, and twentie cubits in the height thereof: and he overlaid it with † pure gold, and ſo covered the altar which was of cedar.

21 So Solomon overlaid the houſe within with pure gold: and he made a partition, by the chains of gold before the oracle, and he overlaid it with gold.

22 And the whole houſe he overlaid with gold, untill he had finiſhed all the houſe: alſo the whole [l] altar that was by the oracle he overlaid with gold.

23 ¶ And within the oracle he made two cherubims of ‡ † olive-tree, each ten cubits high.

24 And five cubits was the one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the other wing of the cherub: from the uttermoſt part of the one wing unto the uttermoſt part of the other were ten cubits.

25 And the other cherub was ten cubits: both the cherubims were of one meaſure, & one ciſe.

26 The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and ſo was it of the other cherub.

27 And he ſet the cherubims within the inner houſe; and * † they ſtretched forth the wings of the cherubims, ſo that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall: and their wings touched one another in the midſt of the houſe.

28 And he [m] overlaid the cherubims with gold.

29 And he carved all the walls of the houſe round about with carved figures of cherubims, and palm-trees, and † open flowers, within and without.

30 And the floore of the houſe he overlaid with gold, within and without.

31 ¶ And for the entring of the oracle he made doores of olive-tree: the lintel and ſide-poſts were ‡ a fifth part of the wall.

32 The ‡ two doores alſo were of olive-tree; and he carved upon them carvings of the cherubims, and palm-trees, and † open flowers, and overlaid them with gold, and ſpread [n] gold upon the cherubims, and upon the palm-trees.

33 So alſo made he for the doore of the temple, poſts of olive-tree ‡ a fourth part of thee wall.

35 And he carved therein cherubims, and palm-trees, and open flowers: and covered them with gold, fitted upon the carved work.

36 ¶ And he built the [o] inner court with three rows of hewed ſtone, and a row of cedar-beams.

37 ¶ In the fourth yeare was the foundation of the houſe of the LORD laid, in the moneth Zif.

38 And in the eleventh yeare, in the moneth [p] Bul, (which is the eighth moneth) was the houſe finiſhed ‡ throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the faſhion of it: So was he ſeven yeares in building it.

2 ¶ He built alſo the houſe of the [b] forreſt of Lebanon; the length thereof was a hundred cubits, and the breadth thereof fiftie cubits, and the height thereof thirtie cubits, upon foure rows of cedar-pillars, with cedar-beams upon the pillars.

11 And [g] above were coſtly ſtones (after the meaſures of hewed ſtones) and cedars.

h As the lords houſe was built ſo was this: only the great court of Solomons houſe was uncovered.

12 And the [h] great court round about, was with three rows of hewed ſtones, and a row of cedar-beams, both for the inner court of the houſe of the LORD, and for the porch of the houſe.

27 ¶ And he made ten baſes of braſſe, foure cubits was the length of one baſe, and foure cubits the breadth thereof, and three cubits the height of it.

28 And the work of the baſes was on this manner: They had borders, and the borders were between the ledges:

21 And I have ſet there a place for the ark, wherein is the [g] covenant of the LORD, which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

g The two tables wherein the articles of the covenant were written.

22 ¶ And Solomon ſtood before * the altar of the LORD, in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael; and ſpread forth his hands toward heaven:

* 2 Chron. 6, 12.

23 And he ſaid, * LORD God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepeſt covenant and mercy with thy ſervants, that walk before thee with [h] all their heart:

* 2 Mac. 2, 8.

h Unfainedly and without all hypocriſie.

24 Who haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father that thou promiſedſt him: thou ſpakeſt alſo with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

25 Therefore now, LORD God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father that thou promiſedſt him, ſaying, * † There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit on the throne of Iſrael; † ſo that thy children take heed to their way, that they walk before me as thou haſt walked before me:

* Chap. 2, 4. 2 Sam. 7, 12.
† Heb. there ſhall not be cut off unto thee a man from my ſight.
† Heb. onely if.

26 And now, O God of Iſrael, let thy word (I pray thee) be verified, which thou ſpakeſt unto thy ſervant David my father.

27 But will God [i] indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven, and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee, how much leſſe this houſe that I have builded?

i He is raviſhed with the admiration of Gods mercies, who being incomprehenſible and Lord over all, will become familiar with men.

28 Yet have thou reſpect unto the prayer of thy ſervant and to his ſupplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and to the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth before thee to day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this houſe night and day, even toward the place of which thou haſt ſaid, * My name ſhall be there: that thou mayeſt hearken unto the prayer which thy ſervant ſhall make ‡ towards this place.

* Deut. 12, 11.

‡ Or, in this place.

30 And hearken thou to the ſupplication of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, when they ſhall pray ‡ toward this place: and heare thou in heaven thy dwelling-place, and when thou heareſt, forgive.

‡ Or, in this place.

31 ¶ If any man treſpaſſe againſt his neighbour, † and an oath be [k] laid upon him to cauſe him to ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe:

† Heb. and he require an oath of him.
k To wit, the judge, or neighbour.

32 Then heare thou in heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants, condemning the wicked, [l] to bring his way upon his head, and juſtifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteouſneſſe.

l That is, make it known.

33 ¶ When thy people Iſrael be ſmitten down before the enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee, and ſhall turn again to thee, and [m] confeſſe thy name, and pray, and make ſupplication unto thee ‡ in this houſe;

m Acknowledge thy juſt judgement, and praiſe thee.
‡ Or, towards.

34 ¶ Then heare thou in heaven, and forgive the ſinne of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land, which thou gaveſt unto their fathers.

35 ¶ When heaven is [n] ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee, if they pray towards this place, and confeſſe thy name, and turn from their ſinne, when thou afflicteſt them:

n So that there be a drought to deſtroy the fruits of the land.

36 Then heare thou in heaven, and forgive the ſinne of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, that thou teach them the good way wherein they ſhould walk, and give rain upon thy land which thou haſt given to thy people for an inheritance.

37 ¶ If there be in the land famine, if there be peſtilence, blaſting, mildew, locuſt, or if there be caterpiller; if their enemy beſiege them in the land of their ‡ cities, whatſoever plague, whatſoever ſickneſſe there be;

38 What prayer and ſupplication ſoever be made by any man, or by all thy people Iſrael, which ſhall know every man the plague of his own [o] heart, and ſpread forth his hands towards this houſe:

o For ſuch are moſt meet to receive Gods mercies.

39 Then heare thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and do, & give to every man according to his wayes, whoſe heart thou knoweſt; (for thou, even thou onely knoweſt the hearts of all the children of men)

40 That they may fear thee all the dayes that they live, in the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers.

41 Moreover, concerning a [p] ſtranger that is not of thy people Iſrael, but cometh out of a farre countrey, for thy names ſake; p He meaneth ſuch as ſhould be turned from their idolatry, to ſerve the true God.

42 (For they ſhall heare of thy great name, and of thy ſtrong hand, and of thy ſtretched out arm) when he ſhall come and pray towards this houſe:

43 Heare thou in heaven thy dwelling-place: and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth to thee for: that all people of the earth may know thy [q] name, to fear thee, as do thy people Iſrael, and that they may know that † this houſe which I have builded, is called by thy name.

q That this is the true religion wherwith thou wilt be worſhipped.
† Heb. thy name is called upon this houſe.

44 ¶ If thy people go out to battel againſt their enemie, whitherſoever thou ſhalt ſend them, and ſhall pray unto the LORD † toward the citie which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe that I have built for thy name:

† Heb. the way of the citie.

45 Then heare thou in heaven their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their ‡ cauſe.

46 If they ſinne againſt thee, (for there is no man that ſinneth not) and thou be angry with

* 2 Chron. 6, 36. Eccles 7, 20. 1 John 1. 8, 10.

with them, and deliver them to the enemy, so that they carry them away captives, unto the land of the enemy, farre or neare;

† Heb. bring back to their heart.

47 Yet if they shall † bethink themselves, in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make supplication unto thee in the ‡ land of them that carried them captives, saying, We have sinned, and have done perversely, we have committed wickednesse;

‡ Though the temple was the chief place of prayer, yet he secluded not them, that being let with necessity, call upon him in other places.

48 And so return unto thee with all their heart and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies, which led them away captive, and pray unto thee toward their § land which thou gavest unto their fathers, the citie which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built for thy name:

§ As Daniel did, Dan. 6. 10.

49 Then heare thou their prayer and their supplication in heaven thy dwelling-place, and maintain their ‖ cause,

‖ Or, right,

50 And forgive thy people that have sinned against thee, and all their transgressions wherein they have transgressed against thee, and give them compassion before them who carried them captive, that they may have ¶ compassion on them:

¶ He understood by faith, that God of enemies would make friends unto them that did convert unto him.

51 For they be thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest forth out of Egypt, from the midst of the furnace of iron:

52 That thine eyes may be open unto the supplication of thy servant, and unto the supplication of thy people Israel to hearken unto them in all that they call for unto thee.

53 For thou didst separate them from among all the people of the earth, to be thine inheritance, * as thou spakest by the hand of Moses thy servant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord GOD.

* Exod. 19, 5.

54 And it was so, that when Solomon had made an end of praying all this  prayer and supplication unto the LORD, he arose from before the altar of the LORD, from kneeling on his knees, with his hands spread up to heaven.

 Solomon is a figure of Christ, who continually is the Mediatour between God and his church.

55 And he stood, and blessed all the congregation of Israel, with a loud voice, saying, 56 Blessed be the LORD, that hath given rest unto his people Israel, according to all that he promised: there hath not † failed one word of all his good promise, which he promised by the hand of Moses his servant.

† Heb. fallen.

57 The LORD our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forsake us:

58 That he may ‡‡ incline our hearts unto him, to walk in all his wayes, and to keep his commandments, and his statutes, and his judgements, which he commanded our fathers.

‡‡ He concludeth that man of himself is enemy unto God, and that all obedience to his law proceedeth of his meer mercy.

59 And let these my words wherewith I have made supplication before the LORD, be nigh unto the LORD our God day and night, that he maintain the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Israel † at all times, as the matter shall require:

60 That all the people of the earth may know that the LORD is God, and that there is none else.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfect with the LORD our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day, 62 ¶ And * the king, and all Israel with him, offered sacrifice before the LORD.

* 2 Chron. 7, 4.

63 And Solomon offered a sacrifice of peace-offerings, which he offered unto the LORD, two and twenty thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheep: so the king and all the children of Israel ‖‖ dedicated the house of the LORD.

‖‖ Before the oracle where the ark was.

64 * The same day did the king hallow the middle of the court that was before the house of the LORD: for there he offered burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings: because the brasen altar that was before the LORD, was too little to receive the burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings.

* 2 Chron. 7, 7.

65 And at that time Solomon held a feast, and all Israel with him, a great congregation, from the entring in of ‡‡‡ Hamath, unto the river of Egypt, before the LORD our God, § seven dayes and seven dayes, even fourteen dayes.

‡‡‡ That is, from north to south: meaning, all the countrey.

§ Seven dayes for the dedication, and seven for the feast.

66 On the eighth day he sent the people away: and they ‖‖‖ blessed the king, and went unto their tents joyfull and glad of heart, for all the goodnesse that the LORD had done for David his servant, and for Israel his people.

‖‖‖ Or, thanked.

* Chap. 8, 29.

4 And [a] if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, in integrity of heart and in uprightnesse, to do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my statutes and my judgements:

[a] If thou walk in my fear, and withdraw thy self from the common manner of men which follow their sensualitie.

5 Then I will establish the throne of thy kingdome upon Israel for ever, * as I promised to David thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man upon the throne of Israel.

* 2 Sam. 7, 12. 1 Chron. 22, 10.

6 But if you shall [b] at all turn from following me, you or your children, and will not keep my commandments and my statutes, which I have

[b] God declareth that disobedience against him, is the cause of his displeasure, and so of all misery.

286 I have ſet before you, but go and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them:

7 Then will I cut off Iſrael out of the land which I have given them; and this houſe which I have hallowed * for my name, will I caſt out of my ſight, and Iſrael ſhall be a [c] proverb, and a by-word among all people:

8 And at this houſe which is high, every one that paſſeth by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhall hiſſe; and they ſhall ſay, * Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and to this houſe?

9 And they ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they forſook the LORD their God, who brought forth their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold upon other gods, and have worſhipped them, and ſerved them: therefore hath the LORD brought upon them all this evil.

10 ¶ And * it came to paſſe at the end of twenty yeares, when Solomon had built the two houſes, the houſe of the LORD, and the kings houſe, 11 (Now Hiram the king of Tyre had furniſhed Solomon with cedar-trees, and firre-trees, and with gold, according to all his deſire) that then Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyre to ſee the cities which Solomon had given him, and they † pleaſed him not.

13 And he ſaid, What cities are theſe which thou haſt given me, my brother? And he called them the land of ‡ Cabul unto this day.

14 And Hiram ſent to the king [d] ſixſcore [e] talents of gold.

15 ¶ And this is the reaſon of the levie which king Solomon raiſed, for to build the houſe of the LORD, and his own houſe, and [f] Millo, and the wall of Jeruſalem, and Hazor, and Megiddo, and Gezer.

16 For Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up, and taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and ſlain the Canaanites that dwelt in the citie, and given it for a preſent unto his daughter, Solomons wife.

17 And Solomon built Gezer, and Bethhoron the nether, 18 And Baalath, and Tadmor in the wilderneſſe, in the land.

19 And all the cities of [g] ſtore that Solomon had, and cities for his chariots, and cities for his horſemen, and † that which Solomon deſired to build in Jeruſalem, and in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.

20 And all the people that were [h] left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebuſites, which were not of the children of Iſrael, 21 Their children that were left after them, in the land, whom the children of Iſrael alſo were not able utterly to deſtroy, upon thoſe did Solomon levy a tribute of bond-ſervice unto this day.

22 But of the children of Iſrael did Solomon * make no bond-men: but they were men of warre, and his ſervants, and his princes, and his captains, and rulers of his chariots, and his horſemen.

23 Theſe were the chief of the officers that were over Solomons work [i] five hundred and fiftie, which bare rule over the people that wrought in the work.

24 ¶ But * Pharaohs daughter came up out of the city of David, unto her houſe which Solomon had built for her: then did he build Millo.

25 ¶ And three times in a yeare did Solomon offer burnt-offerings, & peace-offerings upon the altar which he built unto the LORD, and he burnt incenſe † upon the altar that was before the LORD: ſo he finiſhed the houſe.

26 ¶ And king Solomon made a navie of ſhips in Ezion-geber, which is beſide Eloth on the † ſhore of the Red ſea, in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram ſent in the navie his ſervants, ſhipmen that had knowledge of the ſea, with the ſervants of Solomon.

28 And they came to Ophir, and fet from thence gold, [k] foure hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Solomon.

AND when the * queen of [a] Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, concerning the name of the LORD, ſhe came to prove him with hard queſtions.

2 And ſhe came to Jeruſalem with a very great train, with camels that bare ſpices, and very much gold, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Solomon told her all her † queſtions: there was not any thing hid from the king, which he told her not.

6 And ſhe ſaid to the king, It was a true † report that I heard in mine own land, of thy ‡ acts, and of thy wiſdome.

7 Howbeit, I beleeved not the words, untill I came and mine eyes had ſeen it: and behold, the half was not told me: † thy wiſdome and proſperity exceedeth the fame which I heard.

d It is a chief ſigne of Gods favour, when godly and wiſe rulers ſit in the throne of juſtice.

e This is the cauſe why kings are appointed.

10 And ſhe gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, & of ſpices very great ſtore, and precious ſtones: there came no more ſuch abundance of ſpices, as theſe, which the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon.

11 And the navie alſo of Hiram that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir great plentie of almug-trees, and precious ſtones.

12 And the king made of the almug-trees, ‡ † pillars for the houſe of the LORD, and for the kings houſe, harps alſo and pſalteries for ſingers: there came no ſuch * almug-trees, nor were ſeen unto this day.

13 And king Solomon gave unto the queen of Sheba, all her deſire whatſoever ſhe asked, beſides that which Solomon gave her † of his royall bountie: ſo ſhe turned and went to her own countrey, ſhe and her ſervants.

14 ¶ Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one yeare, was ſix hundred threeſcore and ſix talents of gold, 15 Beſides that he had of the merchantmen, and of the traffick of the ſpice-merchants, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the ‡ governours of the [f] countrey.

16 ¶ And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: ſix hundred ſhekels of gold went to one target.

17 And he made three hundred ſhields of beaten gold, three pound of gold went to one ſhield; and the king put them in the * houſe of the forreſt of Lebanon.

18 ¶ Moreover, the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the beſt gold.

19 The throne had ſix ſteps, and the top of the throne was round † behinde: and there were † [g] ſtayes on either ſide on the place of the ſeat, and two lions ſtood beſide the ſtayes.

20 And twelve lions ſtood there on the one ſide and on the other upon the ſix ſteps: there was not † the like made in any kingdome.

21 ¶ And all king Solomons drinking-veſſels were of gold, and all the veſſels of the houſe of the forreſt of Lebanon were of pure gold, ‡ none were of ſilver, it was nothing accounted of in the dayes of Solomon.

22 For the king had at ſea a navie of Tharſhiſh, with the navie of Hiram: once in three yeares came the navie of [h] Tarſhiſh, bringing gold and ſilver, ‡ ivorie, and apes, and peacocks.

23 So king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth, for riches and for wiſdome.

24 ¶ And all the earth † ſought to Solomon, to heare his wiſdome, which God had put in his heart.

25 And they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and garments, and armour, and ſpices, horſes, and mules, a rate yeare by yeare.

26 ¶ * And Solomon gathered together chariots, and horſemen: and he had a thouſand and foure hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen, whom he beſtowed in the cities for chariots, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

27 And the king † made ſilver to be in Jeruſalem as ſtones, and cedars made he to be as the ſycomore-trees, that are in the vale, for abundance.

28 ¶ * † And Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and linnen yarn: the kings merchants received the linnen yarn at a price.

29 And a chariot came up and went out of Egypt for ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and an horſe for an hundred and fifty: and ſo for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, did they bring them out † by their means.

CHAP. XI.

1 Solomons wives and concubines, 4 In his old age they drew him to idolatry, 9 God threatneth him, 14 Solomons adverſaries were Hadad, who was entertained in Egypt, 23 Rezon, who reigned in Damaſcus, 26 and Jeroboam, to whom Ahijah propheſied, 41 Solomons acts, reigne, and death: Rehoboam ſucceedeth him.

BUt king Solomon loved * many [a] ſtrange women, (‡ together with the daughter of Pharaoh) women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Zidonians and Hittites:

2 Of the nations concerning which the LORD ſaid unto the children of Iſrael, * Ye ſhall not go in to them, neither ſhall they come in unto you, for ſurely they will turn away your heart after their gods: Solomon clave unto theſe in love.

3 And he had ſeven hundred wives, princeſſes, and three hundred [b] concubines: and his wives turned away his heart.

4 For it came to paſſe when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was [c] not perfect with the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father.

5 For Solomon went after * Aſhtoreth the goddeſſe of the Zidonians, and after [d] Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

6 And Solomon did evil in the ſight of the LORD, and † went not fully after the LORD, as did David his father.

7 Then did Solomon build an high place for Chemoſh, the [e] abomination of Moab, in the hill that is before Jeruſalem; and for Molech, the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And likewiſe did he for all his ſtrange wives, which burnt incenſe, and ſacrificed unto their gods.

9 ¶ And the LORD was angry with Solomon, becauſe his heart was turned from the LORD God of Iſrael * which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And * had commanded him concerning this thing, that he ſhould not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

14 ¶ And the LORD ſtirred up an adverſarie unto Solomon, Hadad the Edomite; he was of the kings [h] ſeed in Edom.

15 * For it came to paſſe when David was in Edom, and Joab the captain of the hoſt was gone up to bury the ſlain, after he had ſmitten every male in Edom:

16 (For ſix moneths did Joab remain there with all Iſrael, untill he had cut off every [i] male in Edom)

17 That Hadad [k] fled, he and certain Edomites of his fathers ſervants with him, to go into Egypt; Hadad being yet a little childe.

18 And they aroſe out of Midian, and came to Paran, and they took men with them out of Paran, and they came to Egypt, unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, which gave him an houſe, and appointed him victuals, and gave him land.

19 And Hadad found [l] great favour in the ſight of Pharaoh, ſo that he gave him to wife the ſiſter of his own wife, the ſiſter of Tahpenes the queen.

20 And the ſiſter of Tahpenes bare him Genubath his ſonne, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaohs houſe: and Genubath was in Pharaohs houſhold among the ſonnes of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that David ſlept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the hoſt was dead, Hadad ſaid to Pharaoh, † Let me depart, that I may go to mine own countrey.

22 Then Pharaoh ſaid unto him, But what haſt thou lacked with me, that, behold, thou ſeekeſt to go to thine own countrey? And he anſwered, † Nothing: howbeit let me go in any wiſe.

23 ¶ And God ſtirred him up another adverſary, Rezon, the ſonne of Eliadah, which [m] fled from his lord Hadadezer king of Zobah.

24 And he gathered men unto him, and became captain over a band, * when David ſlew them of Zobah: and they went to Damaſcus and dwelt therein, and [n] reigned in Damaſcus.

25 And he was an adverſarie to Iſrael all the dayes of Solomon, beſide the miſchief that Hadad did: and he abhorred Iſrael, and reigned over Syria.

26 ¶ And * Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, an Ephrathite of Zereda, Solomons ſervant, (whoſe mothers name was Zeruah, a widow woman) even he lift up his hand againſt the king.

27 And this was the cauſe that he lift up his hand againſt the king: Solomon built Millo, and † repaired the breaches of the city of David his father.

28 And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valour: and Solomon ſeeing the young man that he † was induſtrious, he made him, [o] ruler over all the † charge of the houſe of Joſeph.

29 And it came to paſſe at that time when Jeroboam went out of Jeruſalem, that the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite found him in the way, and he had clad himſelf with a new garment; and they two were alone in the field.

30 And Ahijah caught the new garment that was on him, and [p] rent it in twelve pieces.

31 And he ſaid to Jeroboam, Take thee ten pieces: for thus ſaith the LORD, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will rend the kingdome out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to thee:

32 (But he ſhall have one tribe for my ſervant Davids ſake, and for Jeruſalems ſake, the city, which I have choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael)

33 Becauſe that they have forſaken me, and have worſhipped Aſhtoreth the goddeſſe of the Zidonians, Chemoſh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and have not walked in my wayes, to do that which is right in mine eyes, and to keep my ſtatutes and my judgements, as did David his father.

34 Howbeit, I will not take the whole kingdome out of his hand: but I will make him prince all the dayes of his life, for David my ſervants ſake, whom I choſe, becauſe he kept my commandments and my ſtatutes:

35 But * I will take the kingdome out of his ſonnes hand, and will give it unto thee, even ten tribes.

36 And unto his ſonne will I give one tribe, that David my ſervant may have a † [q] light alway before me in Jeruſalem, the city which I have choſen me to put my name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou ſhalt reigne according to all that thy ſoul deſireth, and ſhalt be king over Iſrael.

38 And it ſhall be, if thou wilt hearken unto all that I command thee, and wilt walk in my wayes, and do that is right in my ſight, to keep my ſtatutes and my commandments, as David my ſervant did; that I will be with thee, and build thee a ſure houſe, as I built for David, and will give Iſrael unto thee.

39 And I will for this [r] afflict the ſeed of David, but [f] not for ever.

40 Solomon ſought therefore to kill Jeroboam: and Jeroboam aroſe, and fled into Egypt, unto Shiſhak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt untill the death of Solomon.

41 ¶ And the reſt of the † acts of Solomon, and all that he did, and his wiſdome, are they not written in the [t] book of the acts of Solomon?

42 And the † time that Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem, over all Iſrael, was * fourty yeares.

43 And Solomon ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David his father: and * Rehoboam his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

1 The Iſraelites aſſembled at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, by Jeroboam make a ſuit of relaxation unto him. 6 Rehoboam refuſing the old mens counſel, by the advice of young men, anſwereth them roughly. 16 Ten tribes revolting, kill Adoram, and make Rehoboam to flee. 21 Rehoboam raiſing an armie, is forbidden by Shemaiah. 25 Jeroboam ſtrengtheneth himſelf by cities, 26 and by the idolatrie of the two calves.

3 That they ſent, and called him: and Jeroboam, and all the congregation of Iſrael came, and ſpake unto Rehoboam, ſaying, a Oppreſſe us not with ſo great charges which we are not able to ſuſtain.

* Chap. 4, 7.

5 And he ſaid unto them, Depart yet for three dayes, then come again to me. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam conſulted with the old men that ſtood before Solomon his father, while he yet lived, and ſaid, How do you adviſe, that I may anſwer this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou wilt be a [b] ſervant unto this people this day, and wilt ſerve them, and anſwer them, and ſpeak good words to them, then they will be thy ſervants for ever.

b They ſhewed him that there was no way to win the peoples hearts, but to grant them their juſt petition.

8 But he forſook the counſel of the old men, which they had given him, and conſulted with the young men that were grown up with him, and which ſtood before him:

9 And he ſaid unto them, What [c] counſel give ye, that we may anſwer this people, who have ſpoken to me, ſaying, Make the yoke which thy father did put upon us, lighter?

c There is nothing harder for them that are in authority, than to bridle their affections, and follow good counſel.

10 And the young men that were grown up with him, ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou ſpeak unto this people that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it lighter unto us; thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, My little finger ſhall be [d] thicker than my fathers loyns.

d I am much more able to keep you in ſubiection than my father was.

11 And now whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will adde to your yoke: my father hath chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 ¶ So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had [e] appointed, ſaying, Come to me again the third day.

e The people declare their obedience in this, that they would attempt nothing before the king had given them juſt occaſion.

13 And the king anſwered the people † roughly, and forſook the old mens counſel that they gave him;

14 And ſpake to them after the counſel of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will adde to your yoke; my father alſo chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 Wherefore the king hearkened not unto the people; for the cauſe was from the LORD, that he might perform his ſaying, which the LORD * ſpake by Ahijah the Shilonite unto Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat.

* Chap. 11, 31.

16 ¶ So when all Iſrael ſaw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in [f] David? neither have we inheritance in the ſonnne of Jeſſe: to your tents, O Iſrael: now ſee to thine own houſe, David. So Iſrael departed unto their tents.

f Though their cauſe were good, yet it is moſt hard for the people to bridle their affections, as theſe vile words declare.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael which dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Adoram, who was over the tribute, and all Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died: therefore king Rehoboam † made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 So Iſrael ‡ rebelled [g] againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

‡ Or, fell away.
g By the juſt judgement of God, for Solomons ſinnes.

20 And it came to paſſe when all Iſrael heard that Jeroboam was come again, that they ſent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Iſrael: there was none that followed the houſe of David, but the tribe of Judah * onely.

* Chap. 11, 13.

21 ¶ And when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he [h] aſſembled all the houſe of Judah, with the tribe of Benjamin, an hundred and foureſcore thouſand choſen men, which were warriours, to fight againſt the houſe of Iſrael, to bring the kingdome again to Rehoboam the ſonne of Solomon.

h For as yet he perceived not that the Lord had ſo appointed it.

22 But * the word of God came unto Shemaiah the [i] man of God, ſaying,

* 2 Chron. 11, 2.
i That is, the prophet.

23 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſonne of Solomon king of Judah, and unto all the houſe of Judah, and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, ſaying, 24 Thus ſaith the [k] LORD, Ye ſhall not go up; nor fight againſt your brethren the children of Iſrael: return every man to his houſe, for this thing is from me. They hearkened therefore to the word of the LORD, and returned to depart, according to the word of the LORD.

k Who of his juſt judgement will puniſh the treſpaſſer, and of his mercy ſpare the innocent people.

25 ¶ Then Jeroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went out from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Jeroboam ſaid in his heart, Now ſhall the kingdome return to the houſe of David:

27 If this people go up, to do ſacrifice in the houſe of the LORD at [l] Jeruſalem, then ſhall the heart of this people turn again unto their lord, even unto Rehoboam king of Judah, and they ſhall kill me, and go again to Rehoboam king of Judah.

l He feared leſt his people ſhould have by this means been entiſed to rebel againſt him.

28 Whereupon the king took counſel, and made two calves of gold, and ſaid unto them, [m] It is too much for you to go up to Jeruſalem: * behold thy gods, O Iſrael, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

m So craftie are the carnall perſwaſions of princes, when they will make a religion to ſerve to their appetite.

29 And he ſet the one in Beth-el, and the other put he in Dan.

* Exod. 32, 8.

30 And this thing became a ſinne: for the people went to worſhip before the one, even unto Dan.

n That is, a temple, where altars were built for idolatrie.

31 And he made an [n] houſe of high places, and made prieſts of the loweſt of the people, which were not of the ſonnes of Levi.

o Becauſe he would the more binde the peoples devotion to his idolatry, he made a new holy day, beſides thoſe that the Lord had appointed in the law.

32 And Jeroboam ordained a feaſt in the eighth moneth, on the [o] fifteenth day of the moneth, like unto the feaſt that is in Judah, and he † offered upon the altar, (ſo did he in Beth-el) ‡ ſacrificing unto the calves that he had made: and he placed in Beth-el the prieſts of the high places which he had made.

‡ Or, went up to the altar, &c.

33 So he ‡ offered upon the altar which he had made in Beth-el, the fifteenth day of the eighth moneth, even in the moneth which he had deviſed of his own heart: and ordained a feaſt unto the children of Iſrael, and he offered upon the altar, † and burnt incenſe.

‡ Or, went up to the altar, &c.

1 Jeroboams hand that offered violence to him that propheſied againſt his altar at Beth-el, withereth, 6 and at the prayer of the prophet is reſtored. 17 The prophet refuſing the kings entertainment, departeth from Beth-el. 11 An old prophet ſeducing him, bringeth him back. He is reproved by God, 23 ſlain by a lion, 26 buried by the old prophet, 31 who confirmeth his propheſie. 33 Jeroboams obſtinacie.

a That is, a prophet.

AND behold, there came a [a] man of God out of Judah, by the word of the LORD unto [b] Beth-el: and Jeroboam ſtood by the altar ‡ to burn incenſe.

b Not that, that was called Luz in Benjamin, but an other of that name.

‡ Or, to offer.

2 And he cried againſt the altar in the word of the LORD, and ſaid, O altar, altar, thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, a childe ſhall be born unto the houſe of David, * Joſiah by name, and upon thee ſhall he offer the prieſts of the high places that burn incenſe upon thee, and mens bones ſhall be burnt upon thee.

* 2 Kings 23, 16.

3 And he gave a ſigne the ſame day, ſaying, This is the [c] ſigne with the LORD hath ſpoken: Behold, the altar ſhall be rent, and the aſhes that are upon it ſhall be poured out.

c By this ſigne ye ſhall know that the Lord hath ſent me.

4 And it came to paſſe when king Jeroboam heard the ſaying of the man of God, which had cried againſt the altar in Beth-el, that he put forth his hand from the altar, ſaying, [d] Lay hold on him. And his hand which he put forth againſt him, dried up, ſo that he could not pull it in again to him.

d The wicked rage againſt the prophets of God, when they declare to them Gods judgement.

5 The altar alſo was rent, and the aſhes poured out from the altar, according to the ſigne which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

6 And the king anſwered and ſaid unto the man of God, [e] Intreat now the face of the LORD thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be reſtored me again. And the man of God beſought † the LORD, and the kings hand was reſtored again, and became as it was before.

e Though the wicked humble themſelves for a time, when they feel Gods judgements, yet after they return to their old malice, and declare that they are but vile hypocrites.

† Heb. the face of the LORD.

7 And the king ſaid unto the man of God, Come home with me, and refreſh thy ſelf, and I will give thee a reward.

8 And the man of God ſaid unto the king, If thou wilt give me half thine houſe, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread, nor drink water in this place:

9 For ſo was it charged me by the word of the LORD, ſaying, [f] Eat no bread, nor drink water, nor turn again by the ſame way that thou cameſt.

f Seeing he had the expreſſe word of God, he ought not to have declined therefrom, neither for the perſwaſion of man nor angel.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 ¶ Now there dwelt an old prophet in Beth-el, and his ſonnes came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el: the words which he had ſpoken unto the king, them they told alſo to their father.

12 And their father ſaid unto them, What way went he? for his ſonnes had ſeen what way the man of God went, which came from Judah.

13 And he ſaid unto his ſonnes, Saddle me the aſſe. So they ſaddled him the aſſe, and he rode thereon, 14 And went after the man of God, and found him ſitting under an oak; and he ſaid unto him, Art thou the man of God that cameſt from Judah? And he ſaid, I am.

15 Then he ſaid unto him, [g] Come home with me, and eat bread.

g This he did of a ſimple minde, thinking it his duty to declare friendſhip to a prophet.

16 And he ſaid, I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread, nor drink water with thee in this place.

17 For † it was ſaid to me by the word of the LORD, Thou ſhalt eat no bread, nor drink water there, not turn again to go by the way that thou cameſt.

† Heb. a word was.

18 He ſaid unto him, I am a prophet alſo as thou art, and an [h] angel ſpake unto me by the word of the LORD, ſaying, Bring him back with thee into thine houſe, that he may eat bread, and drink water: but he lied unto him.

h His fault is here double: firſt, in that that he ſuffereth not the prophet to obey Gods expreſſe commandement: and next, that he faineth to have a revelation to the contrary.

19 So he went back with him, and did eat bread in his houſe, and drank water.

20 ¶ And it came to paſſe as they ſat at the table, that the word of the LORD came unto the prophet that brought him back:

21 And he cried unto the man of God that came from Judah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, [i] Foraſmuch as thou haſt diſobeyed the mouth of the LORD, and haſt not kept the commandment which the LORD thy God commanded thee, i God would reprove his folly by him, who was the occaſion to bring him into errour.

22 But cameſt back, and haſt eaten bread, and drunk water in the place of the which the LORD did ſay to thee, Eat no bread, and drink no water; thy carcaſe ſhall not come unto the ſepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And it came to paſſe after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he ſaddled for him the aſſe, to wit, for the prophet whom he had brought back.

24 And when he was gone, [k] a lion met him by the way, and ſlew him: and his carcaſe was caſt in the way, and the aſſe ſtood by it, the lion alſo ſtood by the carcaſe.

k By this fearful example God, ſetteth forth how dangerous athing it is for men to behave themſelves coldly, or deceitfully in their charge, whereunto God hath called them.

25 And behold, men paſſed by, and ſaw the carcaſe caſt in the way, and the lion ſtanding by the carcaſe: and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And

26 And when the prophet that brought him back from the way, heard thereof, he ſaid, It is the man of God, who was diſobedient unto the word of the LORD: therefore the LORD hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath † torn him, & ſlain him, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake unto him.

27 And he ſpake to his ſonnes, ſaying, Saddle me the aſſe. And they ſaddled him.

28 And he went and found his carcaſe caſt in the way, and the aſſe and the lion ſtanding by the carcaſe: the lion had [1] not eaten the carcaſe, nor † torn the aſſe.

[1] To declare that this was only the judgement of God: for if the lion had done it for hunger, he would alſo have devoured the body.

29 And the prophet took up the carcaſe of the man of God, and laid it upon the aſſe, and brought it back: and the old prophet came to the citie, to mourn, and to bury him.

30 And he laid his carcaſe in his own [m] grave, and they mourned over him, ſaying, Alas my brother.

[m] Which he had prepared for himſelf.

31 And it came to paſſe after he had buried him, that he ſpake to his ſonnes, ſaying, When I am dead, then bury me in the ſepulchre wherein the man of God is buried, lay my bones beſide his bones.

32 For the ſaying which he cried by the word of the LORD againſt the altar in Bethel, and againſt all the houſes of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, ſhall ſurely come to paſſe.

[n] So the wicked profit not by Gods threatnings, but go backward, and become worſe and worſe, 2 Tim. 3, 13.
† Heb. returned and made.

33 ¶ After this thing Jeroboam [n] returned not from his evil way, but † made again of the loweſt of the people, prieſts of the high places: whoſoever would, he † conſecrated him, and he became one of the prieſts of the high places.

34 And this thing became ſinne unto the houſe of Jeroboam, even to cut it off, and to deſtroy it from off the face of the earth.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Abijah being ſick, Jeroboam ſendeth his wife diſguiſed with preſents to the prophet Ahijah at Shiloh. 5 Ahijah forewarned by God, denounceth Gods judgement. 17 Abijah dieth, and is buried. 19 Nadab ſucceedeth Jeroboam. 21 Rehoboams wicked reigne. 25 Shishak ſpoileth Jeruſalem. 29 Abijam ſucceedeth Rehoboam.

2 And Jeroboam ſaid to his wife, Ariſe, I pray thee, and [a] diſguiſe thy ſelf, that thou be not known to be the wife of Jeroboam: and get thee to Shiloh; behold, there is Ahijah the prophet, which told me that * I ſhould be king over this people.

4 And Jeroboams wife did ſo, and aroſe, and went to Shiloh, and came to the houſe of Ahijah: but Ahijah could not ſee, for his eyes † were ſet by reaſon of his age.

[c] Than the wife of Jeroboam.

6 And it was ſo, when Ahijah heard the ſound of her feet, as ſhe came in at the doore, that he ſaid, Come in, thou [d] wife of Jeroboam, why feigneſt thou thy ſelf to be another? for I am ſent to thee with † heavy tidings.

7 Go, tell Jeroboam, thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Foraſmuch as I exalted [e] thee from among the people, and made thee prince over my people Iſrael.

8 And rent the kingdome away from the houſe of David, and gave it thee; and yet thou haſt not been as my ſervant David, who kept my commandments, and who followed me with all his heart, to do that onely which was right in mine eyes.

9 But haſt done evil above all that were before thee: for thou haſt gone and made thee other gods, and [f] molten images, to provoke me to anger, & haſt caſt me behinde thy back, 14 Moreover, the LORD ſhall raiſe him up a king over Iſrael, who ſhall cut off the houſe of Jeroboam that day: but what? [l] even now.

[l] The Lord will begin to deſtroy it out of hand.

15 For the LORD ſhall ſmite Iſrael, as a reed is ſhaken in the water, and he ſhall root up Iſrael out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and ſhall ſcatter them beyond the [m] river, becauſe they have made their groves, provoking the LORD to anger.

27 And king Rehoboam made in their ſtead braſen ſhields, and committed them unto the hands of the chief of the [†] guard, which kept the doore of the kings houſe.

28 And it was ſo, when the king went into the houſe of the LORD, that the guard bare them, and brought them back into the guard-chamber.

* 2 Chron. 13, 1.

NOw in the eighteenth yeare of king * Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, reigned Abijam over Judah.

2 Three yeares reigned he in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Maachah, the daughter of [a] Abiſhalom.

a Some think that this was Abſalom, Solomons brother.

3 And he walked in all the ſinnes of his father, which he had done before him: and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, as the heart of David his father.

4 Nevertheleſſe, for Davids ſake did the LORD his God give him a [‡b] lamp in Jeruſalem, to ſet up his ſonne after him, and to eſtabliſh Jeruſalem:

‡ Or, candle. b Meaning, a ſon to reigne over Judah.

5 Becauſe David did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, and turned not aſide from any thing that he commanded him all the dayes of his life, * ſave onely in the matter of Uriah the Hittite.

* 2 Chron. 11, 4. and 12, 9.

6 And there was warre between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the dayes of his life.

7 Now the reſt of the acts of Abijam, and all that he did, are they not written in the * book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? And there was warre between Abijam and Jeroboam.

* 2 Chron. 13, 3.

8 And Abijam ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and * Aſa his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

* 2 Chron. 14, 1.

9 ¶ And in the twentieth yeare of Jeroboam king of Iſrael, reigned Aſa over Judah.

10 And fourty and one yeares reigned he in Jeruſalem: and his [c] mothers name was Maachah, the daughter of Abiſhalom.

c That is, his grandmother, as David is oftimes called father of them, whoſe grandfather he was.

11 And Aſa did that which was right in the eyes of the LORD, as did David his father.

12 And he took away the ſodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.

13 And alſo * Maachah his mother, even her he [d] removed from being queen, becauſe ſhe had made an idol in a grove; and Aſa † deſtroyed her idol, and burnt it by the brook Kidron.

* 2 Chron. 15, 16.

d Neither kindred nor authoritie ought to be regarded, when they blaſpheme God and become idolaters, but muſt be puniſhed.

† Heb. cut off.

14 But the high places were not removed: nevertheleſſe, Aſa his heart was [e] perfect with the LORD all his dayes.

e For in that, that he ſuffered them to worſhip God in other places, than he had appointed, it came of ignorance, and not of malice.

15 And he brought in the † things which his father had dedicated, and the things which himſelf had dedicated, into the houſe of the LORD, ſilver and gold, and veſſels.

† Heb. holy.

16 ¶ And there was warre between Aſa and Baaſha king of Iſrael all their dayes.

17 And * Baaſha king of Iſrael went up againſt Judah, and built [f] Ramah, that he might not ſuffer any to go out or come in to Aſa king of Judah.

* 2 Chron. 16, 1.

f Of the ſame purpoſe that Jeroboam did, becauſe the people ſhould not go up to Jeruſalem, leſt they ſhould follow Aſa.

18 Then Aſa took all the ſilver and the gold that were left in the treaſures of the houſe of the LORD, and the treaſures of the kings houſe, and delivered them into the hands of his ſervants: and king Aſa ſent them to * Benhadad the ſonne of Tabrimon, the ſonne of Hezion king of Syria, that dwelt at Damaſcus, ſaying,

* 2 Chron. 16, 2.

19 There is a league between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent unto thee a preſent of ſilver and gold; come and break thy league with Baaſha king of Iſrael, that he may † [g] depart from me.

† Heb. go up. g And vex me no longer.

20 So Benhadad hearkened unto king Aſa, and ſent the captains of the hoſts, which he had, againſt the cities of Iſrael, and ſmote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-beth-maachah, and all Cinneroth, with all the land of Naphtali.

21 And it came to paſſe, when Baaſha heard thereof, that he left off building of Ramah, and dwelt in Tirzah.

22 Then king Aſa made a proclamation throughout all Judah, (none was † exempted) and they took away the ſtones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baaſha had builded, and king Aſa built with them Geba of Benjamin, and Mizpah.

23 The reſt of all the acts of Aſa, and all his might, and all that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? Neverthelesſe, in the time of his old age he was diſeaſed in his [h] feet.

h He had the gout, and put his truſt rather in phyſicians than in the Lord, 2 Chron. 16, 12.

24 And Aſa ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David [i] his father: and * Jehoſhaphat his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

25 ¶ And Nadab the ſonne of Jeroboam † began to reigne over Iſrael, in the ſecond yeare of Aſa king of Judah, and reigned over Iſrael two yeares.

26 And he did evil in the ſight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in his ſinne wherewith he made Iſrael to ſinne.

27 ¶ And Baaſha the ſonne of Ahijah, of the houſe of Iſſachar, conſpired againſt him; and Baaſha ſmote him at Gibbethon, which belongeth to the Philiſtines, (for Nadab, and all Iſrael laid ſiege to Gibbethon)

28 Even in the third yeare of Aſa king of Judah, did Baaſha ſlay him, and reigned in his ſtead.

29 And it came to paſſe when he reigned, that he [k] ſmote all the houſe of Jeroboam, he left not to Jeroboam any that breathed, untill he had deſtroyed him, * according unto the ſaying of the LORD, which he ſpake by his ſervant Ahijah the Shilonite:

31 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

32 And there was warre between Aſa and Baaſha king of Iſrael all their dayes.

33 In the third yeare of Aſa king of Judah, began Baaſha the ſonne of Ahijah to reigne over all Iſrael in [m] Tirzah, twenty and foure yeares.

m Which was the place where the king of Iſrael remained.

34 And he did evil in the ſight of the LORD, and walked in the way of Jeroboam, and in his ſinne wherewith he made Iſrael to ſinne.

CHAP. XVI.

1, 7 Jehu's propheſie againſt Baaſha. 5 Elah ſucceedeth him. 8 Zimri conſpiring againſt Elah, ſucceedeth him. 11 Zimri executeth Jehu's propheſie. 15 Omri made king by the ſouldiers, forceth Zimri deſperately to burn himſelf. 21 The kingdome being divided, Omri prevaileth againſt Tibni. 23 Omri buildeth Samaria. 25 His wicked reigne. 27 Ahab ſucceedeth him. 29 Ahabs moſt wicked reigne. 34 Joſhua's curſe upon Hiel the builder of Jericho.

THen the word of the LORD came to Jehu the ſonne of Hanani, againſt Baaſha, ſaying,

2 [a] Foraſmuch as I exalted thee out of the duſt, and made thee prince over my people Iſrael, and thou haſt walked in the way of Jeroboam, and haſt made my people Iſrael to ſinne, to provoke me to anger with their ſinnes.

a Thus ſpake Jehu to Baaſha in the name of the Lord.

3 Behold, I will take away the poſteritie of Baaſha, and the poſteritie of his houſe: and will make thy [b] houſe like * the houſe of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat.

b Meaning, the houſe of Baaſha. * Chap. 15, 29.

4 * Him that dieth of Baaſha in the city, ſhall the dogs eat: and him that dieth of his in the fields, ſhall the fowls of the aire eat.

* Chap. 14, 11.

5 Now the reſt of the acts of Baaſha, and what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

6 So Baaſha ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in Tirzah, and Elah his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

7 And [c] alſo by the hand of the prophet Jehu the ſonne of Hanani, came the word of the LORD againſt Baaſha, and againſt his houſe, even for all the evil that he did in the ſight of the LORD, in provoking him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the houſe of Jeroboam, and becauſe he killed [d] him.

c That is, the prophet did his meſſage.

d Meaning, Nadab Jeroboams ſonne.

8 ¶ In the twentie and ſixth yeare of Aſa king of Judah, began Elah the ſonne of Baaſha to reigne over Iſrael in Tirzah, two yeares.

9 And his ſervant Zimri (captain of half his chariots) conſpired againſt him as he was in Tirzah [e] drinking himſelf drunk in the houſe of Arza † ſteward of his houſe in Tirzah.

e The Chalde text hath thus, Drinking till he was drunken, in the temple of Arza the idol, by his houſe in Tirza. † Heb. which was over.

10 And Zimri went in and ſmote him, and killed him, in the twenty and ſeventh yeare of Aſa king of Judah, and reigned in his ſtead.

11 ¶ And it came to paſſe when he began to reigne, aſſoon as he ſat on his throne, that he ſlew all the houſe of Baaſha: he left him not one that piſſeth againſt a wall, ‡ neither of his kinsfolks, nor of his friends.

‡ Or, both his kinſmen and his friends.

12 Thus did Zimri deſtroy all the houſe of Baaſha, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake againſt Baaſha † by Jehu the [f] prophet;

† Heb. by the hand of. f Both Hanani his father, and he were prophets.

13 For all the ſinnes of Baaſha, and the ſinnes of Elah his ſonne, by which they ſinned, and by which they made Iſrael to ſinne, in provoking the LORD God of Iſrael to anger with their vanities.

14 Now the reſt of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

15 ¶ In the twentie and ſeventh yeare of Aſa king of Judah, did Zimri reigne ſeven dayes in Tirzah: and the people were encamped againſt [g] Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philiſtines.

g The ſiege had continued from the time of Nadab, Jeroboams ſon.

16 And the people that were encamped heard ſay, Zimri hath conſpired, and hath alſo ſlain the king: wherefore all Iſrael made Omri the captain of the hoſt, king over Iſrael that day in the camp.

17 And Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Iſrael with him, and they beſieged [h] Tirzah.

h Where Zimri kept himſelf in hold.

18 And it came to paſſe when Zimri ſaw that the citie was taken, that he went into the palace of the kings houſe, and burnt the kings houſe over him with fire, and died;

19 For his ſinnes which he ſinned in doing

294 evil in the ſight of the LORD, in walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his ſinne which he did, to make Iſrael ſinne.

20 Now the reſt of the acts of Zimri, and his treaſon that he wrought, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

21 ¶ Then were the people of Iſrael divided into two parts: [i] half of the people followed Tibni the ſonne of Ginath, to make him king; and half followed Omri.

i That is, the people which were not at the ſiege of Gibbethon: for there they had choſen Omri.

22 But the people that followed Omri, prevailed againſt the people that followed Tibni the ſonne of Ginath: ſo Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 ¶ In the thirtie and one yeare of Aſa king of Judah, began Omri to reigne over Iſrael twelve yeares: ſix yeares reigned he in Tirzah.

24 And he bought the hill Samaria of Shemer, for two talents of ſilver, and built on the hill, and called the name of the citie which he built, after the name of Shemer, owner of the hill † Samaria.

25 ¶ But Omri wrought evil in the eyes of the LORD, and did [k] worſe than all that were before him.

k For ſuch is the nature of idolatrie, that the ſuperſtition thereof doeth daily increaſe, and the elder it is, the more abominable it is before God and his church.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, and in his ſinne wherewith he made Iſrael to ſinne, to provoke the LORD God of Iſrael to anger with their vanities.

27 Now the reſt of the acts of Omri, which he did, and his might that he ſhewed, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

28 So Omri ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in [l] Samaria, and Ahab his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

He was the firſt king that was buried in Samaria, after that the kings houſe was burnt in Tirzah.

29 ¶ And in the thirty and eight yeare of Aſa king of Judah, began Ahab the ſonne of Omri to reigne over Iſrael; and Ahab the ſonne of Omri reigned over Iſrael in Samaria, twenty and two yeares.

30 And Ahab the ſonne of Omri did evil in the ſight of the LORD, above all that were before him.

† Heb. was it a light thing, &c.

31 And it came to paſſe, † as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the ſinnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat: that he took to [m] wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Zidonians, and went and ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him.

m By whoſe means he fell to all wicked and ſtrange idolatry, and cruel perſecution.

32 And he reared up an altar for Baal, in the houſe of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.

33 And Ahab made a grove; and Ahab did more to provoke the LORD God of Iſrael to anger, than all the kings of Iſrael that were before him.

34 ¶ In his dayes did Hiel the Beth-elite build [n] Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his firſt-born, and ſet up the gates thereof in his youngeſt ſonne Segub, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake by Joſhua the ſonne of Nun.

1 Elijah having propheſied againſt Ahab, is ſent to Cherith, where the ravens feed him. 8 He is ſent to the widow of Zarephath. 17 He raiſeth the widows ſonne. 24 The woman beleeveth him.

AND † Elijah the Tiſhbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, ſaid unto Ahab, * As the LORD God of Iſrael liveth, before whom I [b] ſtand, there ſhall not be dew nor rain theſe yeares, but [b] according to my word.

† Heb. Elijahu. Luke 4, 25, he is called Elias.
* Ecclus 48, 3. James 5, 17.
a That is, whom I ſerve.
b But as I ſhall declare it by Gods revelation.

2 And the word of the LORD came unto him, ſaying,

3 Get thee hence, and turn thee eaſtward, and hide thy ſelf by the brook Cherith, that is before Jordan.

4 And it ſhall be, that thou ſhalt drink of the brook, and I have commanded the [c] ravens to feed thee there.

c To ſtrengthen his faith againſt perſecution, God promiſeth to feed him miraculouſly.

5 So he went, and did according unto the word of the LORD: for he went and dwelt by the brook Cherith, that is before Jordan.

6 And the ravens brought him bread and fleſh in the morning, and bread and fleſh in the evening: and he drank of the brook.

7 And it came to paſſe † after a while, that the brook dried up, becauſe there had been no rain in the land.

† Heb. at the end of dayes.

8 ¶ And the [d] word of the LORD came unto him, ſaying, d As the troubles of the ſaints of God are many, ſo his mercie is ever at hand to deliver them.

9 Ariſe, get thee to * Zarephath, which belongeth to Zidon, and dwell there: behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to ſuſtain thee.

* Luke 4, 26, called Sarepta.

10 So he aroſe, and went to Zarephath: and when he came to the gate of the citie, behold, the widow woman was there [e] gathering of ſticks: and he called to her, and ſaid, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a veſſel, that I may drink.

e All this was to ſtrengthen the faith of Elijah, to the intent that he ſhould look upon nothing worldly, but only truſt on Gods providence.

11 And as ſhe was going to fetch it, he called to her, and ſaid, Bring me, I pray thee, a morſel of bread in thine hand.

12 And ſhe ſaid, As the LORD thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but an handfull of meal in a barrel, and a little oyl in a cruſe: and behold, I am gathering two ſticks, that I may go in, and dreſſe it for me and my ſonne, that we may eat it, and [f] die.

f For there is no hope of any more ſuſtenance.

13 And Elijah ſaid unto her, Fear not; go, and do as thou haſt ſaid: but make me thereof a little cake firſt, and bring it unto me, and after make for thee and for thy ſonne.

14 For thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, The [g] barrel of meal ſhall not waſte, neither ſhall the cruſe of oyl fail, untill the day that the LORD † ſendeth rain upon the earth.

g God receiveth no benefit for the uſe of his, but he promiſeth a moſt ample recompenſe for the ſame.

15 And ſhe went, and did according to the ſaying of Elijah: and ſhe, and he, and her houſe did eat ‡ [h] many dayes

h That is, till he had rain and food on the earth.

16 And the barrel of meal waſted not, neither did the cruſe of oyl fail, according to the word of the LORD, which he ſpake † by Elijah.

† Heb. by the hand of.

17 ¶ And it came to paſſe after theſe things, that the ſonne of the woman, the miſtreſſe of the the houſe, fell ſick, and his ſickneſſe was ſo ſore, that there was no [i] breath left in him.

i God would try, whether ſhe had learned by his merciſull providence, to make him her onely ſtay and comfort.

18 And ſhe ſaid unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my ſinne to remembrance, and to ſlay my ſonne?

19 And he ſaid unto her, Give me thy ſonne. And he took him out of her boſome, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.

20 And he cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD my God, haſt [k] thou alſo brought evil upon the widow, with whom I ſojourn, by ſlaying her ſonne?

k He was afraid leſt Gods name ſhould have been blaſphemed, and his miniſters contemned, except he ſhould have continued his mercies, as he had begun them, ſpecially while he remained there.

21 And he † ſtretched himſelf upon the childe three times, and cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD my God, I pray thee, let this childes ſoul come † into him again.

22 And the LORD heard the voice of Elijah, and the ſoul of the childe came into him again, and he revived.

23 And Elijah took the childe, and brought him down out of the chamber into the houſe, and delivered him unto his mother: and Elijah ſaid, See, thy ſonne liveth.

24 ¶ And the woman ſaid to Elijah, Now by this [l] I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in thy mouth, is truth.

l So hard a thing it is to depend on God, except we be confirmed by miracles.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 In the extremity of famine Elijah ſent to Ahab, meeteth good Obadiah. 9 Obadiah bringeth Ahab to Elijah. 17 Elijah reproving Ahab, by fire from heaven convinceth Baals prophets. 41 Elijah by prayer obtaining rain, followeth Ahab to Jezreel.

AND it came to paſſe after many dayes, that the word of the LORD came to Elijah in the [a] third yeare, ſaying, Go ſhew thy ſelf unto Ahab; and I will ſend rain upon the earth.

a After that he departed from the river Cherith.

2 And Elijah went to ſhew himſelf unto Ahab: and there was a ſore famine in Samaria.

3 And Ahab called † Obadiah which was † the governour of his houſe: (now Obadiah [b] feared the LORD greatly:

b God had begun to work his feare in his heart, but had not yet brought him to that knowledge, which is alſo requiſite of the godly: that is, to profeſſe his name openly.

4 For it was ſo, when † Jezebel cut off the prophets of the LORD, that Obadiah took an hundred prophets, and hid them by fiftie in a cave, and fed them with bread and water)

† Heb. Izebel.

5 And Ahab ſaid unto Obadiah, Go into the land, unto all fountains of water, and unto all brooks: peradventure we may finde graſſe to ſave the horſes and mules alive, † that we leeſe not all the beaſts.

† Heb. that we cut not off our ſelves from the beaſts.

6 So they divided the land between them to paſſe throughout it: Ahab went one way by himſelf, and Obadiah went another way by himſelf.

7 ¶ And as Obadiah was in the way, behold, Elijah [c] met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and ſaid, Art thou that my lord Elijah?

c God pitieth oft times the wicked for the godlies ſake, and cauſeth Elijah to meet with Obadiah, that the benefit might be known to be granted for Gods childrens ſake.

8 And he anſwered him, I am: go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

9 And he ſaid, What have I ſinned, that thou wouldeſt deliver thy ſervant into the hand of Ahab, to ſlay me?

10 As the LORD thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdome, whither my lord hath not ſent to ſeek thee: and when they ſaid, He is not there; he took an oath of the kingdome and nation, that they found thee not.

11 And now thou ſayeſt, Go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

12 And it ſhall come to paſſe, as ſoon as I am gone from thee, that the ſpirit of the LORD ſhall carrie thee whither I know not; and ſo when I come and tell Ahab, and he cannot finde thee, he ſhall ſlay me: but I thy ſervant [d] fear the LORD from my youth.

d I am none of the wicked perſecutors that thou ſhouldeſt procure unto me ſuch diſpleaſure, but ſerve God, and favour his children.

13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Jezebel ſlew the prophets of the LORD? how I hid an hundred men of the LORDS prophets, by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou ſayeſt, Go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here: and he ſhall ſlay me.

15 And Elijah ſaid, As the LORD of hoſts liveth, before whom I ſtand, [e] I will ſurely ſhew my ſelf unto him to day.

e By my preſence I will declare that thou haſt told him the trueth.

16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him: and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17 ¶ And it came to paſſe when Ahab ſaw Elijah, that Ahab ſaid unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Iſrael?

18 And he anſwered, I have not troubled Iſrael, but [f] thou and thy fathers houſe, in that ye have forſaken the commandments of the LORD, and thou haſt followed Baalim.

f The true miniſters of God ought not only, not to ſuffer the trueth to be unjuſtly ſlandered, but to reprove boldly the wicked ſlanderers, without reſpect of perſons.

19 Now therefore ſend, and gather to me all Iſrael, unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal foure hundred and fiftie, and the prophets of the groves foure hundred, which eat at Jezebels table.

20 So Ahab ſent unto all the children of Iſrael, and gathered the prophets together unto mount Carmel.

21 And Elijah came unto all the people, and ſaid, How long [g] halt ye between two † opinions? if the LORD be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him. And the people anſwered him not a word.

g Be conſtant in religion, and make it not as a thing indifferent whether ye follow God or Baal, or whether ye ſerve God wholly, or in part, Zeph. 1, 5.
† Or, thoughts.

22 Then ſaid Elijah unto the people, I, even I only remain a prophet of the LORD; but Baals prophets are foure hundred and fifty men.

23 Let them therefore give us two bullocks, and let them chooſe one bullock for themſelves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under: and I will dreſſe the other bullock, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under:

24 And call ye on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD: and the God that anſwereth by [h] fire, let him be God. And all the people anſwered and ſaid, † It is well ſpoken.

25 And Elijah ſaid unto the prophets of Baal, Chooſe you one bullock for you ſelves, and dreſſe it firſt; for ye are many: and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire under.

26 And they took the bullock which was

296 given them, and they dreſſed it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even untill noon, ſaying, O Baal † heare us. But there was no voice, nor any that † anſwered. And they ‡[i] leapt upon the altar which was made.

28 And they cried aloud, and cut themſelves after their manner with knives and lancers, till † the bloud guſhed out upon them.

† Heb. poured out bloud upon them.

29 And it came to paſſe, when mid-day was paſt, and they propheſied untill the time of the † offering of the evening ſacrifice; that there was neither voice, nor any to anſwer, nor any † that regarded.

31 And Elijah took twelve ſtones, according to the number of the tribes of the ſonnes of Jacob, unto whom the word of the LORD came, ſaying, * Iſrael ſhall be thy name.

* Gen. 32, 28. 2 Kings 17, 34.

32 And with the ſtones he built an altar in the name of the LORD: and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two ‡ meaſures of ſeed.

‡ Heb. Sats, which ſome think contain about three pottels, and a third part a piece.

33 And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, & laid him on the wood, and ſaid, Fill foure barrels with water, & poure it on the burnt-ſacrifice, and on the wood.

34 And he ſaid, Do it the ſecond time: and they did it the ſecond time. And he ſaid, Do it the third time: and they did it the third time.

35 And the water † ran round about the altar, and he [m] filled the trench alſo with water.

m Hereby he declared the excellent power of God, who contrary to nature could make the fire burn even in the water, to the intent, they ſhould have none occaſion to doubt that he is the onely God.

36 And it came to paſſe at the time of the offering of the evening ſacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came neare and ſaid, LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael, let it be known this day, that thou art God in Iſrael, and that I am thy ſervant, and that I have done all theſe things at thy word.

37 Heare me, O LORD, heare me, that this people may know that thou art the LORD God, and that thou haſt turned their heart back [n] again.

n Though God ſuffer his to runne in blindneſſe and errour for a time, yet at the length he calleth them home to him by ſome notorious ſigne and work.

38 Then the fire of the LORD fell, and conſumed the burnt-ſacrifice, and the wood, and the ſtones, and the duſt, and licked up the water that was in the trench.

39 And when all the people ſaw it, they fell on their faces: and they ſaid, The LORD, he is the God, the LORD, he is the God.

40 And Elijah ſaid unto them, ‡ Take the prophets of Baal, let not [o] one of them eſcape: and they took them, and Elijah brought them down to the brook Kiſhon, and ſlew them there.

o He commanded them, that as they were truely perſwaded to confeſſe the onely God: ſo they would ſerve him with all their power, and deſtroy the idolaters, his enemies.

41 ¶ And Elijah ſaid unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink, for there is ‡ a ſound of abundance of rain.

‡ Or, a ſound of a noiſe of rain.

42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink, and Elijah went up to the top of Carmel, and he caſt himſelf down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees, 43 And ſaid to his ſervant, Go up now, look toward the ſea. And he went up, and looked, and ſaid, There is nothing. And he ſaid, Go again [p] ſeven times.

p As Gods Spirit moved him to pray, ſo was he ſtrengthened by the ſame, that he did not faint, but continued ſtill till he had obtained.

44 And it came to paſſe at the ſeventh time, that he ſaid, Behold, there ariſeth a little cloud out of the ſea, like a mans hand. And he ſaid, Go up, ſay unto Ahab, ‡ Prepare thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain ſtop thee not.

† Heb. tie, or binde.

45 And it came to paſſe in the mean while, that the heaven was black with clouds and winde, and there was a great rain: and Ahab rode and went to Jezreel.

q He was ſo ſtrengthened with Gods ſpirit, that he ran faſter than the chariot was able to run.

46 And the hand of the LORD was on Elijah; and he girded up his loyns, and ran [q] before Ahab, † to the entrance of Jezreel.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Elijah threatned by Iezebel, fleeth to Beer-sheba. 4 In the wilderneſſe being weary of his life, is comforted by an angel. 9 At Horeb God appeareth unto him, ſending him to anoint Hazael, Iehu, and Eliſha. 19 Eliſha taking leave of his friends, followeth Elijah.

AND Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and withall, how he had ſlain all the [a] prophets with the ſword.

a To wit, of Baal.

2 Then Jezebel ſent a meſſenger unto Elijah, ſaying, So let the [b] gods do to me, and more alſo, if I make not thy life as the life of one of them, by to morrow about this time.

b Though the wicked rage againſt Gods children, yet he holdeth them back that they cannot execute their malice.

3 And when he ſaw that, he aroſe, and went for his life, and came to Beer-ſheba, which belongeth to Judah, and left his ſervant there.

4 ¶ But he himſelf went a dayes journey into the wilderneſſe, and came and ſat down under a juniper-tree: and he requeſted † for himſelf that he might die, and ſaid, It is enough, now O LORD [c] take away my life: for I am not better than my fathers.

† Heb. for this life.

c So hard a thing it is to bridle our impatience in affliction, that the ſaints could not overcome the ſame.

5 And as he lay and ſlept under a juniper-tree, behold then, an angel touched him, and ſaid unto him, Ariſe and eat.

6 And he looked, and behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruſe of water at his † head: and he did eat and drink, and laid him down again.

7 And the angel of the LORD came again the ſecond time, & touched him, & ſaid, Ariſe and eat, [d] becauſe the journey is too great for thee.

d He declareth, that except God had nouriſhed him miraculouſly, it had not been poſſible for him to have gone this journey.

8 And he aroſe, and did eat and drink, and went in the ſtrength of that meat fourty dayes and fourtie nights, unto Horeb the mount of God.

9 ¶ And he came thither unto a cave, and lodged there; and behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and he ſaid unto him, What doeſt thou here, Elijah?

10 And he ſaid, I have been very [e] jealous for the LORD God of hoſts: for the children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and ſlain thy prophets with the ſword; and * I, even I onely am left, and they ſeek my life, to take it away.

e He complaineth, that the more zealous that he ſhewed himſelf to maintain Gods glory, the more cruelly was he perſecuted.

* Rom. 11, 3.

11 And he ſaid, Go forth, and ſtand upon the mount before the LORD. And behold, the LORD paſſed by, and a great and ſtrong winde rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the LORD; but the LORD was not in the [f] winde: and after the winde an earthquake; but the LORD was not in the earthquake:

f For the nature of man is not able to come near unto God, if he ſhould appear in his ſtrength and full majeſty, and therefore of his mercy he ſubmitteth himſelf to our capacity.

12 And after the earthquake a fire; but the LORD was not in the fire: and after the fire a ſtill ſmall voice.

13 And it was ſo, when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and ſtood in the entring in of the cave: and behold, there came a voice unto him, and ſaid, What doeſt thou here, Elijah?

14 And he ſaid, I have been very jealous for the LORD God of hoſts: becauſe the [g] children of Iſrael have forſaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and ſlain thy prophets with the ſword; and I even I onely am left, and they ſeek my life, to take it away.

g We ought not to depend on the multitude in maintaining Gods glory, but becauſe our dutie ſo requireth, we ought to doe it.

15 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Go, return on thy way to the wilderneſſe of Damaſcus: and when thou comeſt, anoint Hazael to be king over Syria.

16 And * Jehu the ſonne of Nimſhi ſhalt thou anoint to be king over Iſrael: and * Eliſha the ſonne of Shaphat of Abel-meholah, ſhalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

* 2 Kings 9, 1, 3. Ecclus 48, 8. * Luke 4, 27, called Eliezeus.

17 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that him that eſcapeth the ſword of Hazael, ſhall Jehu ſlay: and him that eſcapeth from the ſword of Jehu, ſhall Eliſha ſlay.

18 * Yet ‡ I have left me ſeven thouſand in Iſrael, all the [h] knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kiſſed him.

* Rom. 11, 4. ‡ Or, I will leave. h He declareth that wicked diſſemblers and idolaters are not his.

19 ¶ So he departed thence and found Eliſha the ſonne of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth: and Elijah paſſed by him, and caſt his mantle upon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and ſaid, Let me, I pray thee, [i] kiſſe my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he ſaid unto him, † Go back again; for what have I done to thee?

i Though this naturall affection is not to be condemned, yet it ought not to move us when God calleth us to ſerve him. † Heb. go return.

21 And he returned back from him, and took a yoke of oxen, and ſlew them, and boyled their fleſh with the [k] inſtruments of the oxen, and gave unto the people, and they did eat: then he aroſe, and went after Elijah, and miniſtred unto him.

k He would not ſtay till wood was brought, ſo great was his deſire to follow his vocation.

CHAP. XX.

1 Ben-hadad not content with Ahabs homage, beſiegeth Samaria. 13 By the direction of a prophet, the Syrians are ſlain. 22 As the prophet forewarned Ahab, the Syrians truſting in the valleys, come againſt him in Aphek. 28 By the word of the prophet, and Gods judgement, the Syrians are ſmitten again. 31 The Syrians ſubmitting themſelves, Ahab ſendeth Ben-hadad away with a covenant. 35 The prophet under the parable of a priſoner, making Ahab to judge himſelf, denounceth Gods judgement againſt him.

AND Ben-hadad the king of Syria gathered all his hoſts together, and there were thirty and two [a] kings with him, and horſes, and chariots: and he went up and beſieged Samaria, and warred againſt it.

a That is, governours, and rulers of provinces.

2 And he ſent meſſengers to Ahab king of Iſrael into the citie, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Ben-hadad,

3 Thy ſilver and thy gold is mine, thy wives alſo and thy children, even the goodlieſt, are mine.

4 And the king of Iſrael anſwered and ſaid, My lord O king, according to thy ſaying, [b] I am thine, and all that I have.

b I am content to obey, and pay tribute.

5 And the meſſengers came again, and ſaid, Thus ſpeaketh Ben-hadad, ſaying, Although I have ſent unto thee, ſaying, Thou ſhalt deliver me thy ſilver and thy gold, and thy wives and thy children.

6 [c] Yet I will ſend my ſervants unto thee to morrow about this time, and they ſhall ſearch thine houſe, and the houſes of thy ſervants; and it ſhall be, that whatſoever is † pleaſant in thine eyes, they ſhall put it in their hand, and take it away.

c He would not accept his anſwer, except he did out of hand deliver whatſoever he ſhould ask, for he ſought an occaſion, how to make warre againſt him. † Heb. deſireable.

7 Then the king of Iſrael called all the elders of the land, and ſaid, Mark, I pray you, and ſee how this man ſeeketh miſchief: for he ſent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my ſilver, and for my gold, and † I denied him not.

† Heb. I kept not back from him.

8 And all the elders, and all the people ſaid unto him, Hearken [d] not unto him, nor conſent.

d They thought it their duties rather to venture their lives, than to grant to that thing which was not lawfull, onely to ſatisfie the luſt of a tyrant.

9 Wherefore he ſaid unto the meſſengers of Ben-hadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didſt ſend for to thy ſervant at the firſt, I will do: but this thing, I may not do. And the meſſengers departed, & brought him word again.

10 And Ben-hadad ſent unto him, and ſaid, The gods do ſo unto me and more alſo, if the [e] duſt of Samaria ſhall ſuffice for handfulls for all the people that † follow me.

e Much leſſe ſhall there be found any prey, that is worth any thing, when they ſhall be ſo many. † Heb. are at my feet.

11 And the king of Iſrael anſwered, and ſaid, Tell him, Let not him that girdeth on his harneſſe, [f] boaſt himſelf, as he that putteth it off.

f Boaſt not before the victory be gotten.

12 And it came to paſſe, when Ben-hadad heard this † meſſage (as he was drinking, he and the kings in the ‡ pavilions) that he ſaid unto his ſervants, ‡ Set your ſelves in aray: and they ſet themſelves in aray againſt the city.

† Heb. word. ‡ Or, tents. ‡ Or, place the engines: and they placed engines.

13 ¶ And behold, there † came a prophet unto Ahab king of Iſrael, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Haſt thou ſeen all this great multitude? behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day, and [g] thou ſhalt know that I am the LORD.

† Heb. approched. g Before God went about with ſignes and miracles to pull Ahab from his impietie, and now again with wonderfull victories.

14 And Ahab ſaid, By whom? And he ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, Even by the ‡ young men of the princes of the provinces. Then he ſaid, Who ſhall † order the battel? And he anſwered, Thou.

‡ Or, ſervants. † Heb. binde, or tie.

15 Then he numbred the young men of the princes of the provinces, and they were two hundred and thirty two: and after them he numbred all the people, even all the children of Iſrael, being ſeven thouſand.

16 And they went out at noon: but Ben-hadad was drinking himſelf drunk in the pavilions, 298 lions, he and the kings, the thirty and two kings that helped him.

h That is, young men trained in the ſervice of Princes.

17 And the [h] young men of the princes of the provinces, went out firſt, and Ben-hadad ſent out, and they told him, ſaying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he ſaid, Whether they be come out for peace, take them alive; or whether they be come out for warre, take them alive.

19 So theſe young men of the princes of the provinces, came out of the citie, and the armie which followed them.

20 And they ſlew every one his man: and the Syrians fled, and Iſrael purſued them: and Ben-hadad the king of Syria eſcaped on an horſe, with the [i] horſemen.

i With them that were appointed for the preſervation of his perſon.

21 And the king of Iſrael went out, and ſmote the horſes and chariots, and ſlew the Syrians with a great ſlaughter.

22 And the prophet came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid unto him, Go ſtrengthen thy ſelf, and mark and ſee what thou doeſt: for at the return of the yeare, the king of Syria will come up againſt thee.

23 And the ſervants of the king of Syria ſaid unto him, [k] Their gods are gods of the hills, therefore they were ſtronger than we: but let us fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger than they.

k Thus the wicked blaſpheme God in their furie, whom notwithſtanding he ſuffereth not unpuniſhed.

24 And do this thing, Take the kings away, every man out of his place, and put captains in their rooms.

25 And number thee an army, like the army † that thou haſt loſt, horſe for horſe, and chariot for chariot: and we will fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger than they. And he hearkened unto their voice, and did ſo.

† Heb. that was fallen.

26 And it came to paſſe at the return of the yeare, that Ben-hadad numbred the Syrians, and went up to Aphek, † to fight againſt Iſrael.

† Heb. to the warre with Iſrael.

27 And the children of Iſrael were [l] numbred, and ‡ were all preſent, and went againſt them: and the children of Iſrael pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids; but the Syrians filled the countrey.

l All they which were in the battel of the former yeare, verſe 15.
‡ Or, were victualed.

28 ¶ And there came a man of God, and ſpake unto the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, Becauſe the Syrians have ſaid, The LORD is God of the hills, but he is not God of the valleys: therefore will I deliver all this great multitude into thine hand, and ye ſhall [m] know that I am the LORD.

m Who am of like power in the valley, as I am on the hills: and can as well deſtroy a multitude with few, as with many.

29 And they pitched one over againſt the other ſeven dayes; and ſo it was, that in the ſeventh day the battel was joyned: and the children of Iſrael ſlew of the Syrians an hundred thouſand footmen in one day.

30 But the reſt fled to Aphek, into the citie; and there a wall fell upon twenty and ſeven thouſand of the men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled, and came into the citie ‡ † into an inner chamber.

‡ Or, from chamber to chamber.
† Heb. into a chamber within a chamber.

31 ¶ And his ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold now, we have heard that the kings of the houſe of Iſrael are mercifull kings: let us, I pray thee, put ſackcloth on our [n] loyns, and ropes upon our heads, and go out to the king of Iſrael: peradventure he will ſave thy life.

n In ſigne of ſubmiſſion, and that we have deſerved death, if he will puniſh us with rigour.

32 So they girded ſackcloth on their loyns, and put ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, thy ſervant Ben-hadad ſaith, I pray thee, let me live. And he ſaid, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

33 Now the men did diligently obſerve whether any thing would come from him, and did haſtily catch it: and they ſaid, [o] Thy brother Ben-hadad. Then he ſaid, Go ye, bring him: then Ben-hadad came forth to him: and he cauſed him to come up into the chariot.

o He is alive.

34 And Ben-hadad ſaid unto him, the cities which my father took from thy father, I will reſtore, and thou ſhalt make ſtreets for thee in [p] Damaſcus, as my father made in Samaria. Then ſaid Ahab, I will ſend thee away with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and ſent him away.

p Thou ſhalt appoint in my chief city what thou wilt, and I will obey thee.

35 ¶ And a certain man of the ſonnes of the prophets, ſaid unto his neighbour in the word of the LORD, [q] Smite me, I pray thee. And the man refuſed to ſmite him.

q By this external ſigne he would more lively touch the kings heart.

36 Then ſaid he unto him, Becauſe thou haſt not obeyed the voice of the LORD, behold, aſſoon as thou art departed from me, a lion ſhall [r] ſlay thee. And aſſoon as he was departed from him, a lion found him, and ſlew him.

r Becauſe thou haſt tranſgreſſed the commandement of the Lord.

37 Then he found another man, and ſaid, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man ſmote him, † ſo that in ſmiting he wounded him.

† Heb. ſmiting and wounding.

38 So the prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way, and diſguiſed himſelf with aſhes upon his face.

39 And as the king paſſed by, he cried unto the king: and he ſaid, [s] Thy ſervant went out into the midſt of the battel, and behold, a man turned aſide, and brought a man unto me, and ſaid, Keep this man: if by any means he be miſſing, then ſhall thy life be for his life, or elſe thou ſhalt † pay a talent of ſilver.

s By this parable he maketh Ahab condemn himſelf who made a covenant with Gods enemie, and let him eſcape, whom God had appointed to be ſlain.

40 And as thy ſervant was buſie here and there, † he was gone. And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto him, So ſhall thy judgement be, thy ſelf haſt decided it.

† Heb. he was not.

41 And he haſted, and took the aſhes away from his face, and the king of Iſrael diſcerned him that he was of the prophets.

42 And he ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, * Becauſe thou haſt let go out of thy hand, a man whom I appointed to utter deſtruction, therefore thy life ſhall go for his life, and thy people for his people.

* Chap. 2, 37.

43 And the king of Iſrael went to his houſe, heavie and diſpleaſed, and came to Samaria.

CHAP. XXI.

Ahab being denied Naboths vineyard, is grieved. 5 Jezebel writing letters againſt Naboth, he is condemned of blaſphemie. 15 Ahab taketh poſſeſſion of the vineyard. 17 Elijah denounceth judgements againſt Ahab and Jezebel. 25 Wicked Ahab repenting, God deferreth the judgement.

AND it came to paſſe after theſe things, that Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard, which which was in Jezreel, hard by the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 And Ahab ſpake unto Naboth, ſaying, a Though Ahabs tyrannie be condemned by the holy Spirit, yet he was not ſo rigorous that he would take from another man his right without full recompence.
† Heb. be good in thine eyes.
a Give me thy vineyard, that I may have it for a garden of herbs, becauſe it is neare unto my houſe, and I will give thee for it a better vineyard than it: or if it † ſeem good to thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth ſaid to Ahab, The LORD forbid it me, that I ſhould give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

4 And Ahab came into his houſe, heavie and diſpleaſed, becauſe of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had ſpoken to him: for he had ſaid, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers: and he laid him down upon his b bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.

5 ¶ But Jezebel his wife came to him, and ſaid unto him, Why is thy ſpirit ſo ſad, that thou eateſt no bread?

6 And he ſaid unto her, Becauſe I ſpake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, and ſaid unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money; or elſe if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he anſwered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 And Jezebel his wife ſaid unto him, c As though ſhe ſaid, thou knoweſt not what it is to reigne, command and entreat not.
c Doſt thou now govern the kingdome of Iſrael? ariſe, and eat bread, and let thine heart be merry: I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8 So ſhe wrote letters in Ahabs name, and ſealed them with his ſeal, and ſent the letters unto the elders and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling with Naboth.

9 And ſhe wrote in the letters, ſaying,

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth on high among the people.

13 And there came in two men, children of Belial, and ſat before him: and the men of Belial witneſſed againſt him, even againſt Naboth, in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Naboth did blaſpheme God and the king. Then they carried him forth out of the citie, and ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died.

14 Then they ſent to Jezebel, ſaying, Naboth is ſtoned, and is dead.

15 ¶ And it came to paſſe when Jezebel heard that Naboth was ſtoned, and was dead, that Jezebel ſaid to Ahab, f Ariſe, take poſſeſſion of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refuſed to give thee for money: Naboth it not alive, but dead.

16 And it came to paſſe when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, that Ahab roſe up to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 ¶ And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying, 18 Ariſe, go down to meet Ahab king of Iſrael, which is in Samaria: behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone down to poſſeſſe it.

19 And thou ſhalt ſpeak unto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, g Haſt thou killed, and alſo taken poſſeſſion? And thou ſhalt ſpeak unto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, In the h place where dogs licked the bloud of Naboth, ſhall dogs lick thy bloud, even thine.
g Doeſt thou think to have any advantage by murthering of an innocent?
h This was fulfilled in Joram his ſonne, as 2 King 9, 25, 26.

20 And Ahab ſaid to Elijah, Haſt thou found me, O mine enemy? And he anſwered, I have found thee: becauſe thou haſt ſold thy ſelf to work evil in the ſight of the LORD.

25 ¶ But there was none like unto Ahab, which did i ſell himſelf to work wickedneſſe in the ſight of the LORD, whom Jezebel his wife ‡ ſtirred up.
i By the wicked counſel of his wife, he became a vile idolater and cruell murtherer, as one that gave himſelf wholy to ſerve ſinne.
‡ Or, incited,

26 And he did very abominably in following idols, according to all things as did the Amorites, whom the LORD caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

27 And it came to paſſe when Ahab heard thoſe words, that he rent his clothes, and put ſackcloth upon his fleſh, and faſted, and lay in ſackcloth, and went k ſoftly.
k In token of mourning, or as ſome read, barefooted.

28 And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tiſhbite, ſaying,

29 Seeſt thou how Ahab humbleth himſelf before me? becauſe he humbleth himſelf before me, I will not bring the evil in his dayes: but in his l ſonnes dayes will I bring the evil upon his houſe,

1 Ahab ſeduced by falſe prophets, according to the word of Micaiah, is ſlain at Ramoth-gilead. 37 The dogs lick up his bloud, and Ahaziah ſucceedeth him. 41 Jehoshaphats good reigne, 45 his acts. 50 Jeroboam ſucceedeth him. 51 Ahaziahs evil reigne.

AND they continued a three yeares without warre between Syria and Iſrael.
a Ben-hadad, the King of Syria and Ahab made a peace, which endured three years.

2 And it came to paſſe in the third yeare, that that * Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah [b] came down to the king of Iſrael.

3 (And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto his ſervants, Know ye that [c] Ramoth in Gilead is ours, and we be † ſtill, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria?)

4 And he ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battel to Ramoth-gilead? And Jehoſhaphat ſaid to the king of Iſrael, * [d] I am as thou art, my people as thy people, my horſes as thy horſes.

5 And Jehoſhaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, [e] Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the LORD to day.

6 Then the king of Iſrael gathered the [f] prophets together about foure hundred men, and ſaid unto him, Shall I go againſt Ramoth-gilead to battel, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid, Go up; for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

7 And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD [g] beſides, that we might enquire of him:

8 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, There is yet one man (Micaiah the ſonne of Imlah) by whom we may enquire of the LORD; but [h] I hate him, for he doth not propheſie good concerning me, but evil. And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

9 Then the king of Iſrael called an ‡ [i] officer, and ſaid, Haſten hither Micaiah the ſonne of Imlah.

10 And the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah ſat each on his throne, having put on their [k] robes, in a † void place in the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets propheſied before them, 11 And Zedekiah the ſonne of Chenaanah made him [l] horns of iron: and he ſaid, Thus ſaith the LORD, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh the Syrians, untill thou haſt conſumed them.

12 And all the prophets propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper: for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the kings hand.

13 And the meſſenger that was gone to call Micaiah, ſpake unto him, ſaying, Behold now, the words of the prophets declare good unto the king with [m] one mouth: let thy word, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and ſpeak that which is good.

14 And Micaiah ſaid, As the LORD liveth, what the LORD ſaith unto me, that will I ſpeak.

15 ¶ So he came to the king, and the king ſaid unto him, Micaiah ſhall we go againſt Ramoth-gilead to battel, or ſhall we forbear? And he anſwered him, [n] Go, and proſper: for the LORD ſhall deliver it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king ſaid unto him, How many times ſhall I adjure thee, that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the LORD?

17 And he ſaid, I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered upon the hills, as ſheep that have not a ſhepherd. And the LORD ſaid, [o] Theſe have no maſter, let them return every man to his houſe in peace.

18 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would propheſie no good concerning me, but evil?

19 And he ſaid, Heare thou therefore the word of the LORD: I ſaw the LORD ſitting on his throne, & all the [p] hoſt of heaven ſtanding by him, on his right hand and on his left.

20 And the LORD ſaid, Who ſhall ‡ perſwade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one ſaid on this manner, and another ſaid on that manner.

21 And there came forth a ſpirit, and [q] ſtood before the LORD, and ſaid, I will perſwade him.

22 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Wherewith? And he ſaid, I will go forth, and I will be [r] a lying ſpirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he ſaid, Thou ſhalt perſwade him, and prevail alſo: go forth, and do ſo.

23 Now therefore behold, the LORD hath put a lying ſpirit in the mouth of all [s] theſe thy prophets, and the LORD hath ſpoken evil concerning thee.

24 But Zedekiah the ſonne of Chenaanah went neare, and ſmote Micaiah on the cheek, and ſaid, * [t] Which way went the ſpirit of the LORD from me to ſpeak unto thee?

25 And Micaiah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee in that day, when thou ſhalt go ‡ † into an inner chamber to hide thy ſelf.

26 And the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take Micaiah, and carry him back unto Amon the governour of the city, and to Joaſh the kings ſonne:

27 And ſay, Thus ſaith the king, Put this fellow in the priſon, and feed him with [t] bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, untill I come in peace.

28 And Micaiah ſaid, If thou return at all in peace, the LORD hath not ſpoken by me. And he ſaid, [u] Hearken, O people, every one of you.

29 So the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah, went up to Ramoth-gilead.

30 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, ‡ I will diſguiſe my ſelf, and enter into the battel, but put thou on thy robes. And the king of Iſrael diſguiſed himſelf, and went into the battel.

31 But the king of Syria commanded his thirty and two captains that had rule over his chariots, ſaying, Fight neither with ſmall nor great, ſave onely with the king of Iſrael.

32 And it came to paſſe, when the captains of the chariots ſaw Jehoſhaphat, that they ſaid, Surely it is the king of Iſrael. And they turned aſide to fight againſt him: and Jehoſhaphat [x] cried out.

33 And it came to paſſe, when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Iſrael, that they turned back from purſuing him.

43 And a certain man drew a bow † at a venture, and ſmote the king of Iſrael between the † joynts of the harneſſe: wherefore he ſaid unto the driver of his chariot, Turn thine hand, m This is the common argument of the wicked, who think that none ſhould ſpeak againſt a king, if the greater part approve it, be they never ſo ungodly.

n He ſpeaketh this in deriſion, becauſe the king attributed ſo much to the falſe prophets, meaning, that by experience he ſhould trie that they were but flatterers.

43 And he walked in all the wayes of Asa his father, he turned not aside from it, doing that which was right in the eyes of the LORD: nevertheless, [a] the high places were not taken away: for the people offered and burnt incense yet in the high places.

50 ¶ And Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of David his father: and Jehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

51 ¶ Ahaziah the sonne of Ahab began to reigne over Israel in Samaria the seventeenth yeare of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned two yeares over Israel.

52 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, who made Israel to sinne.

53 For he served Baal, and worshipped him, and provoked to anger the LORD God of Israel, according to all that his father had done.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE KINGS,

Commonly called,

The fourth book of the KINGS.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis second book containeth the acts of the kings of Judah and Israel: to wit, of Israel from the death of Ahab unto the last king Hoshea, who was imprisoned by the king of Assyria, and his city Samaria taken, and the ten tribes by the just plague of God for their idolatry and disobedience to God led into captivitie. And also of Judah, from the reigne of Jehoram son of Iehoshaphat unto Zedechiah, who for contemning the Lords commandment by his Prophets, and neglecting his sundry admonitions by famine and other meanes, was taken by enemies, saw his sonnes most cruelly slain before his face, and his own eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his prophet Ieremie: and also by the just vengeance of God for contempt of his word, Ierusalem was destroyed, the temple burnt, and he and all his people were led away captives into Babylon. In this book are notable examples of Gods favour towards those rulers and people which obey his prophets, and imbrace his word: and contrariwise, of his plagues toward those common-weals which neglect his ministers, and do not obey his commandments.

CHAP. I.

1 Moab, rebelleth. 2 Ahaziah sending to Baal-zebub, hath his judgement by Elijah. 5 Elijah twice bringeth fire from heaven upon them whom Ahaziah sent to apprehend him. 13 He pitieth the third captain, and encouraged by an angel, telleth the king of his death. 17 Jehoram succeedeth Ahaziah.

THen Moab rebelled against Israel, * after the death of Ahab.

2 And [a] Ahaziah fell down through a latteſſe in his upper chamber that was in Samaria, and was ſick: and he ſent meſſengers, and ſaid unto them, Go, enquire of [b] Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, whether I ſhall recover of this diſeaſe.

3 But the angel of the LORD ſaid to Elijah the Tiſhbite, Ariſe, go up to meet the meſſengers of the king of Samaria, and ſay unto them, [c] Is it not becauſe there is not a God in Iſrael, that ye go to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron?

4 Now therefore thus ſaith the LORD, † Thou ſhalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die. And Elijah departed.

5 ¶ And when the meſſengers turned back unto him, he ſaid unto them, Why are ye now turned back?

6 And they ſaid unto him, There came a man up to meet us, and ſaid unto us, Go, turn again unto the king that ſent you, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, [d] Is it not becauſe there is not a God in Iſrael, that thou ſendeſt to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron? therefore thou ſhalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die.

7 And he ſaid unto them, † What manner of man was he which came up to meet you, and told you theſe words?

8 And they anſwered him, He was an [e] hairie man, and girt with a girdle of leather about his loyns. And he ſaid, It is Elijah the Tiſhbite.

9 Then the king ſent unto him a captain of fifty, with his fifty: and he went up to him, (and behold, he ſat on the top of an [f] hill) and he ſpake unto him, Thou man of God, the king hath ſaid, Come down.

10 And Elijah anſwered and ſaid to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and conſume thee and thy fifty. And there came down [g] fire from heaven, and conſumed him and his fifty.

11 Again alſo he ſent unto him another captain of fifty, with his fifty: and he anſwered and ſaid unto him, [h] O man of God, thus hath the king ſaid, Come down quickly.

12 And Elijah anſwered and ſaid unto them, [i] If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and conſume thee and thy fifty. And the fire of God came down from heaven, and conſumed him and his fifty.

13 ¶ And he ſent again a captain of the third fifty, with his fifty: and the third captain of fifty went up, and came and † fell on his knees before Elijah, and [k] beſought him, and ſaid unto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life, and the life of theſe fifty thy ſervants be [l] precious in thy ſight.

14 Behold, there came fire down from heaven, and burnt up the two captains of the former fifties, with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy ſight.

15 And the angel of the LORD ſaid unto Elijah, [m] Go down with him, be not afraid of him. And he aroſe, and went down with him unto the king.

16 And he ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Foraſmuch as thou haſt ſent meſſengers to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron (is it not becauſe there is no God in Iſrael to enquire of his word?) therefore thou ſhalt not come down off that bed on which thou art gone up, but ſhalt ſurely die.

17 ¶ So he died, according to the word of the LORD which Elijah had ſpoken: and Jehoram reigned in his ſtead, in the ſecond yeare of [n] Jehoram the ſonne of Jehoſhaphat king of Judah; becauſe he had no ſonne.

18 Now the reſt of the acts of Ahaziah which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

CHAP. II.

1 Elijah, taking his leave of Elisha, with his mantle divideth Jordan, 9 and granting Elisha his request, is taken up by a fierie chariot into heaven. 12 Elisha dividing Jordan with Elijahs mantle, is acknowledged his successour. 16 The young prophets, hardly obtaining leave to seek Elijah, could not finde him. 19 Elisha with salt healeth the unwholesome waters. 23 Bears destroy the children that mocked Elisha.

AND it came to paſſe when the LORD would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwinde, that Elijah went with Eliſha from [a] Gilgal.

2 And Elijah ſaid unto Eliſha, Tarry here, I pray thee: for the LORD hath ſent me to Beth-el. And Eliſha ſaid unto him, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went down to Beth-el.

3 And the [b] ſonnes of the prophets that were at Beth-el, came forth to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the LORD will take away thy maſter from thy [c] head to day? And he ſaid, Yea, I [d] know it, hold you your peace.

4 And Elijah ſaid unto him, Eliſha, tarry here, I pray thee: for the LORD hath ſent me to Jericho. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho.

5 And the ſonnes of the prophets that were at [e] Jericho, came to Eliſha, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the LORD will take away thy maſter from thy head to day? And he anſwered, Yea, I know it, hold you your peace.

6 And Elijah ſaid unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here: for the LORD hath ſent me to Jordan. And he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on.

7 And fifty men of the ſonnes of the prophets went, and ſtood † to view afarre off: and they two ſtood by Jordan.

b The Philiſtines which dwelt at Ekron, worſhipped this idol, which ſignifieth the god of flies, thinking that he could preſerve them from the biting of flies: or els he was ſo called, becauſe flies were ingendred in great abundance of the bloud of the ſacrifices that were offered to that idol.

c He ſheweth that idolatres have not the true God, for els they would ſeek to none but to him alone.

f To wit, Carmel.

g He declareth what power Gods word hath in the mouth of his ſervants, when they threaten Gods judgements againſt the wicked.

h He ſpake this in mockery, and therefore provoked Gods wrath ſo much the more.

i Meaning, that God would ſhew by effect, whether he was a true Prophet or not.

k Which humble my ſelf before God and his ſervant.

l That is, ſpare my life, and let me not die as the other two.

m Thus the Lord giveth boldneſſe to his, that they fear not the threatning of tyrants, which otherwiſe of themſelves are afraid to doe Gods meſſage.

n Jehoſhaphat going to battel againſt the Syrians, made his ſon Jehoram king in the 17 year of his reigne, and in the 18 year, which was the 2 year of his ſonne, Jehoram the ſonne of Ahab reigned in Iſrael: and in the 5 year of this Jehoram, Jehoſhaphat dyed, and the kingdome of Judah was confirmed to his ſon.

a Which was that place where the children of Iſrael were circumciſed after they came over Jordan, and had been fourtie yeares in the wilderneſſe, as Joſh. 5, 9.

b So called, becauſe they are begotten, as it were, anew by the heavenly doctrine.

c That is, from being any more thine head: for to be as the head, is to be the maſter, as to be at the feet, is to be a ſcholler.

d For the Lord had revealed it unto him.

e Not onely at Beth-el, but at Jericho and other places were there prophets, which had ſchollers, whom they inſtructed, and brought up in the true fear of God.

† Heb. in ſight or over againſt.

8 And Elijah took his mantle, and wrapt it together, and smote the [f] waters, and they were divided hither and thither, so that they two went over on drie ground.

f To wit, of Jordan.

9 ¶ And it came to passe when they were gone over, that Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, let a [g] double portion of thy spirit be upon me.

g Let thy spirit have double force in me, because of these dangerous times: or let me have twise so much as the rest of the prophets: or thy spirit being divided into three parts, let me have two.

10 And he said, † Thou hast asked a hard thing: nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee; but if not, it shall not be so.

† Heb. thou hast dom hard in asking.

* Ecclus 48, 9. 1 Mac. 2, 58.

h Thus God hath left a testimony in all ages (both before the law, in the law, and in the time of the Gospel) of our resurrection.

12 ¶ And Elisha saw it, and he cried, * My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof: and he saw him no more; and he took hold of his own clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

* Chap. 13, 14.

13 He took up also the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and went back, and stood by the † bank of Jordan;

† Heb. lip.

14 And he took the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the LORD God of Elijah? and when he also had smitten the waters, they parted hither and thither: and Elisha went over.

15 And when the sonnes of the prophets which were * to view at Jericho, saw him, they said, The spirit of [i] Elijah doth rest on Elisha: and they came to meet him, and bowed themselves to the ground before him:

* vers. 7.

i The spirit of prophecie is given to him, as it was to Elijah.

16 ¶ And they said unto him, Behold now, there be with thy servants fifty † strong men, let them go, we pray thee, and seek thy [k] master: lest peradventure the spirit of the LORD hath taken him up, and cast him upon † some mountain, or into some valley. And he said, [l] Ye shall not send.

k Meaning, Elijah: for they thought his body had been cast in some mountain.

l Because the fact was extraordinarie, they doubted where he was become, but Elisha was assured that he was taken up to God.

17 And when they urged him till he was ashamed, he said, Send. They sent therefore fiftie men, and they sought three dayes, but found him not.

18 And when they came again to him, (for he tarried at Jericho) he said unto them, Did I not say unto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the men of the citie said unto Elisha, Behold, I pray thee, the situation of this citie is pleasant, as my lord seeth: but the water is naught, and the ground † barren.

† Heb. causing to miscarry.

20 And he said, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went forth unto the spring of the waters, and cast the [m] salt in there, and said, Thus saith the LORD, I have healed these waters; there shall not be from thence any more death, or barren land.

m Thus God gave him power even contrary to nature, to make that water profitable for mans use, which before was hurtfull.

22 So the waters were healed unto this day, according to the saying of Elisha which he spake.

23 ¶ And he went up from thence unto Beth-el: and as he was going up by the way, there came forth little children out of the citie, and mocked him, and said unto him, Go up thou bald-head, go up thou bald-head.

24 And he turned back, and looked on them, and [n] cursed them in the name of the LORD: and there came forth two she-bears out of the wood, and tare fourtie and two children of them.

n Perceiving their malicious heart against the Lord, and his word, he desireth God to take vengeance of that injury done unto him.

25 And he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 Jehorams reigne. 4 Mesha rebelleth. 16 Jehoram, with Jehoshaphat, and the king of Edom, being distressed for want of water, by Elisha obtaineth water, and promise of victorie. 21 The Moabites deceived by the colour of the water, coming to spoil, are overcome. 26 The king of Moab, by sacrificing the king of Edoms sonne, raiseth the siege.

NOw Jehoram the sonne of Ahab began to reigne over Israel in Samaria, the [a] eighteenth yeare of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned twelve yeares.

c This was done after that David had made the Moabites tributaries to his successours.

5 But it came to passe when * Ahab was dead, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

d Reade 1 King. 22, 4.

8 And he said, Which way shall we go up? And he answered, The way through the wilderness of Edom.

9 So the king of Israel went, and the king of Judah, and the [e] king of Edom: and they fetcht a compasse of seven dayes journey, and there was no water for the host, and for the cattel † that followed them.

10 And the king of Israel said, Alas, that the LORD hath called these three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Moab.

11 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD, that we may enquire of the LORD by him? And one of the king of Israels servants answered and said, Here is Elisha the sonne of Shaphat, which [f] poured water on the hands of Elijah.

f That is, who was his servant.

12 And Jehoshaphat said, the [g] word of the LORD is with him. So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat, and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Elisha said unto the king of Israel, [h] What have I to do with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father, and to the prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel said unto him, [i] Nay: for the LORD hath called these three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Moab.

14 And Elisha said, As the LORD of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, [k] I would not look toward thee, nor see thee.

15 But now bring me a minstrel. And it came to passe when the [l] minstrel played, that the hand of the LORD came upon him.

16 And he said, Thus saith the LORD, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus saith the LORD, Ye shall not see winde, neither shall ye see rain; yet that valley shal be filled with water, that ye may drink, both ye, and your cattel, and your beasts.

18 And this is but a [m] light thing in the sight of the LORD, he will deliver the Moabites also into your hand.

19 And ye shall smite every fenced citie, and every choice citie, and shall fell every good tree, and stop all wells of water, and † [n] marre every good piece of land with stones.

20 And it came to passe in the morning when the meat-offering was offered, that behold, there came water by the way of Edom, and the countrey was filled with water.

21 ¶ And when all the Moabites heard that the kings were come up to fight against them, they † gathered all that were able to † put on armour, and upward, and stood in the border.

22 And they rose up early in the morning, and the sunne shone upon the water, and the Moabites saw the water on the other side as red as bloud:

23 And they said, [o] This is bloud: the kings are surely † slain, and they have smitten one another: now therefore Moab to the spoil.

24 And when they came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose up and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them: but ‡ they [p] went forward smiting the Moabites, even in their countrey.

25 And they beat down the cities, and on every good piece of land cast every man his stone, and filled it, and they stopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees: † onely in [q] Kir-haraseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit the slingers went about it, and smote it.

26 ¶ And when the king of Moab saw that the battel was too sore for him, he took with him seven hundred men that drew swords, to break through even unto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his [r] eldest sonne that should have reigned in his stead, and offered him for a burnt-offering upon the wall: and there was great indignation against Israel: and they departed from him, and returned to their own land.

h He knew that this wicked king would have but used his counsel to serve his turn, and therefore he disdained to answer him.
i The wicked esteem not the servants of God, but when they are driven by very necessitie and fear of the present danger.
k God suffereth his word to be declared to the wicked, because of the godly, that are among them.
l He sang songs to Gods glory, and so stirred up the prophets heart to prophesie.
m He will not only miraculously give you waters but your enemies also into your hand.

r Some referre it to the king of Edoms son, whom they say he had taken in that skirmish: but rather it seemed to be his own son, whom he offered to his gods to pacifie them, which barbarous crueltie moved the Israelites hearts of pitie to depart.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Elisha multiplieth the widows oyl. 8 He giveth a sonne to the good Shunammite. 18 He raiseth again her dead sonne. 38 At Gilgal he healeth the deadly pottage. 42 He satisfieth an hundred men with twentie loaves.

NOw there cried a [a] certain woman of the wives of the sonnes of the prophets unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead, and thou knowest that thy servant did [b] fear the LORD: and the creditour is come to take unto him my two sonnes to be [c] bondmen.

2 And Elisha said unto her, What shall I do for thee? tell me, what hast thou in the house? And she said, Thine hand-maid hath not any thing in the house, save a [d] pot of oyl.

3 Then he said, Go borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, even emptie vessels, ‡ borrow not few.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the doore upon thee, and upon thy sonnes, and shalt poure out into [e] all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full.

5 So she went from him, and shut the doore upon her, and upon her sonnes, who brought the vessels to her, and she poured out.

6 And it came to passe when the vessels were full, that she said unto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is not a vessel more. And the oyl [f] stayed.

7 Then she came and told the man of God: and he said, Go, sell the oyl, and pay thy † debt, and live thou and thy children of the [g] rest.

8 ¶ And † it fell on a day, that Elisha passed to Shunem, where was a great woman; and she † constrained him to eat bread. And so it was, that as oft as he passed by, he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And she said unto her husband, Behold now, I perceive that this is an holy man of God, which passeth by us continually.

10 Let us make a little [h] chamber, I pray thee, on the wall, and let us set for him there a bed, and a table, and a stool, and a candlestick: and it shall be when he cometh to us, that he shall turn in thither.

11 And it fell on a day that he came thither, and he turned into the chamber, and lay there.

12 And he said to Gehazi his servant, Call this Shunammite. And when he had called her, she stood before him.

13 And he said unto him, Say now unto her, Behold, thou hast been carefull for us with all this care; [i] what is to be done for thee? wouldest thou be spoken for to the king, or to the captain of the host? And she answered, I dwell among [k] mine own people.

14 And he said, What then is to be done for her? And Gehazi answered, Verily she hath [l] no childe, and her husband is old.

15 And he said, Call her. And when he had called her, she stood in the doore.

16 And he said, * About this † season, according cording to the time of life, thou ſhalt embrace a ſonne. And ſhe ſaid, Nay, my lord, thou man of God, do not lie unto thine hand-maid.

17 And the woman conceived, and bare a ſonne at that ſeaſon that Eliſha had ſaid unto her, according to the time of life.

18 ¶ And when the childe was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father to the reapers.

m His head aked ſore, and therefore he cryed thus.

19 And he ſaid unto his father, [m] My head, my head. And he ſaid to a lad, Carry him to his mother.

20 And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he ſat on her knees till noon, and then died.

21 And ſhe went up, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and ſhut the doore upon him, and went out.

22 And ſhe called unto her husband, and ſaid, Send me, I pray thee, one of the young men, and one of the aſſes, that I may runne to the man of God, and come again.

n For at ſuch times the people were wont to reſort to the prophets for doctrine and conſolation.

23 And he ſaid, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is neither [n] new moon, nor ſabbath. And ſhe ſaid, It ſhall be † well.

24 Then ſhe ſadled an aſſe, and ſaid to her ſervant, Drive, and go forward; † ſlack not thy riding for me, except I bid thee.

† Heb. reſtrain not for me to ride.

25 So ſhe went, and came unto the man of God to mount Carmel: and it came to paſſe when the man of God ſaw her afarre off, that he ſaid to Gehazi his ſervant, Behold, yonder is that Shunammite:

26 Runne now, I pray thee, to meet her, and ſay unto her, Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the childe? and ſhe anſwered, It is well.

28 Then ſhe ſaid, Did I deſire a ſonne of my lord? did I not ſay, Do not deceive me?

29 Then he ſaid to Gehazi, Gird up thy loyns, and take my ſtaff in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou meet any man, [p] ſalute him not: and if any ſalute thee, anſwer him not again: and lay my ſtaff upon the face of the childe.

p Make ſuch ſpeed that nothing may let thee in the way, Luke 10, 4.

30 And the mother of the childe ſaid, As the LORD liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. And he aroſe, and followed her.

31 And Gehazi paſſed on before them, and laid the ſtaff upon the face of the childe, but there was neither voice, nor † hearing: wherefore he went again to meet him, and told him, ſaying, The childe is not awaked.

32 And when Eliſha was come into the houſe, behold, the childe was dead, and laid upon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and ſhut the doore upon them twain, and prayed unto the LORD

34 And he went up, and [q] lay upon the childe, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands, and he ſtretched himſelf upon the childe, and the fleſh of the childe waxed warm.

q The like did Elijah to the widowes ſonne at Sarephta, 1 Kings 17, 21, and S. Paul, Act. 20, 10. ſignifying the care that ought to be in them that preach the word of God, and are diſtributers of the ſpirituall life.

36 And he called Gehazi, and ſaid, Call this Shunammite. So he called her: and when ſhe was come in unto him, he ſaid, Take up thy ſonne.

37 Then ſhe went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed her ſelf to the ground, and took up her ſonne, and went out.

38 ¶ And Eliſha came again to Gilgal, and there was a dearth in the [s] land, and the ſonnes of the prophets were ſitting before him: and he ſaid unto his ſervant, Set on the great pot, and ſeethe pottage for the ſonnes of the prophets.

s That is, in the land of Iſrael.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wilde vine, and gathered thereof [t] wilde gourds his lap-full, and came and ſhred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew them not.

t Which the Apothecaries call Coloquintida, and is moſt vehement and dangerous in purging.

40 So they poured out for the men to eat: and it came to paſſe as they were eating of the pottage, that they cried out, and ſaid, O thou man of God, there is [u] death in the pot: and they could not eat thereof.

u They feared that they were poyſoned, becauſe of the bitterneſſe.

41 But he ſaid, Then bring meal: and he caſt it into the pot; and he ſaid, Poure out for the people, that they may eat: and there was no † harm in the pot.

† Heb. evil thing.

42 ¶ And there came a man from Baal-ſhaliſha, and brought the man of God bread of the firſt-fruits, twenty loaves of barley, and full eares of corn † in the huſk thereof: and he ſaid, Give unto the people, that they may eat.

‡ Or, in his ſcrip or garment.

44 So he ſet it before them, and they did eat, and [x] left thereof, according to the word of the LORD.

CHAP. V.

1 Naaman, by the report of a captive maid, is ſent to Samaria to be cured of his leproſie. 8 Eliſha ſending him to Jordan, cureth him. 15 He refuſing Naamans gifts, granteth him ſome of the earth. 20 Gehazi, abuſing his maſters name unto Naaman, is ſmitten with leproſie.

NOw Naaman captain of the hoſt of the king of Syria, was a great man † with his maſter, and ‡ † honourable, becauſe by him the LORD had given † [a] deliverance unto Syria: he was alſo a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper.

a Here appeareth that among the infidels God hath his, and alſo that the infidels have them in eſtimation, which do good to their countrey.

2 And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Iſrael a little maid, and ſhe † waited on Naamans wife.

4 And [c] one went in, and told his lord, ſaying, Thus and thus ſaid the maid that is of the land of Iſrael.

c That is, Naaman told it to the king of Syria.

5 And the king of Syria ſaid, Go to, go, and I will ſend a letter unto the king of Iſrael. And he departed, and [d] took † with him ten talents of ſilver, and ſix thouſand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment.

d To give this as a preſent to the prophet.
† Heb. in his hand.

6 And he brought the letter to the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith ſent Naaman my ſervant to thee, that thou mayeſt recover him of his leproſie.

7 And it came to paſſe when the king of Iſrael had read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and ſaid, Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth ſend unto me to recover a man of his leproſie? wherefore conſider I pray you, and ſee how he ſeeketh a quarrel againſt me.

8 ¶ And it was ſo when Eliſha the man of God had heard that the king of Iſrael had rent his clothes, that he ſent to the king, ſaying, [e] Wherefore haſt thou rent thy clothes? let him come now to me, and he ſhall know there is a prophet in Iſrael.

e The prophet rebuketh the king, becauſe he did not conſider that God was true in his promiſe, and therefore would not leave his church deſtitute of a prophet, whoſe prayers he would heare, and to whom others ſhould have recourſe for comfort.

9 So Naaman came with his horſes, and with his chariot, and ſtood at the doore of the houſe of Eliſha.

10 And Eliſha ſent a meſſenger unto him, ſaying, Go and waſh in Jordan ſeven times, and thy fleſh ſhall come again uuto thee, and thou ſhalt be clean.

11 But Naaman was [f] wroth, and went away, and ſaid, Behold, † ‡ I thought, He will ſurely come out to me, and ſtand, and call on the name of the LORD his God, and † ſtrike his hand over the place, and recover the leper.

f Mans reaſon murmureth, when it conſidereth only the ſignes and outward things, and hath not regard to the word of God, which is therein contained.
† Heb. I ſaid.
‡ Or, I ſaid with my ſelf, He will ſurely come out, &c.
† Heb. move up and down.

12 Are not ‡ Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damaſcus, better than all the waters of Iſrael? may I not waſh in them and be clean? So he turned, and went away in a rage.

‡ Or, Amana.

13 And his ſervants came neare, and ſpake unto him, and ſaid, My [g] father, if the prophet had bid thee do ſome great thing, wouldeſt thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he ſaith to thee, Waſh and be clean?

g This declareth that ſervants ought to reverence and love their maſters, as children their fathers, and likewiſe maſters toward their ſervants, muſt be affectioned as toward their children.

14 Then went he down, and dipped himſelf ſeven times in Jordan, according to the ſaying of the man of God: and his fleſh came again like unto the fleſh of a little childe, and * he was clean.

* Luke 4. 27.

15 ¶ And he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came, and ſtood before him: and he ſaid, Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, but in Iſrael: now therefore, I pray thee, take a bleſſing of thy ſervant.

16 But he ſaid, As the LORD liveth, before whom I ſtand, I will receive none. And he urged him to take it, but [h] he refuſed.

h So the Lord commandeth that they that receive freely, ſhould give alſo freely.

17 And Naaman ſaid, Shall there not then, I pray thee, be given to thy ſervant two mules burden of earth? for thy ſervant will hence forth offer neither burnt-offering, nor ſacrifice unto other gods, but unto the LORD.

18 In this thing the LORD [i] pardon thy ſervant, that when my maſter goeth into the houſe of Rimmon to worſhip there, and he leaneth on my hand, and I bowe my ſelf in the houſe of Rimmon: when I bowe down my ſelf in the houſe of Rimmon, the LORD pardon thy ſervant in this thing.

i He feeleth his conſcience wounded in being preſent at idol ſervice, and therefore deſireth God to forgive him, leaſt others, by his example might fall to idolatrie: for as for his own part he confeſſeth, that he will never ſerve any but the true God.

19 And he ſaid unto him, [k] Go in peace. So he departed from him † a little way.

k The prophet did not approve his act, but after the common manner of ſpeech he biddeth him farewell.
† Heb. a little piece of ground.

20 ¶ But Gehazi the ſervant of Eliſha the man of God ſaid, Behold, my maſter hath ſpared Naaman this Syrian, in not receiving at his hands that which he brought: but as the LORD liveth, I will run after him, and take ſomewhat of him.

21 So Gehazi followed after Naaman: and when Naaman ſaw him running after him, he [l] lighted down from the chariot to meet him, and ſaid, † Is all well?

l Declaring thereby what honour and affection he bare to the prophet his maſter.
† Heb. Is there peace.

22 And he ſaid, All is well: my maſter hath ſent me, ſaying, Behold, even now there be come to me from mount Ephraim two young men of the ſonnes of the prophets: give them, I pray thee, a talent of ſilver, and two changes of garments.

23 And Naaman ſaid, Be content, take two talents; and he urged him, and bound two talents of ſilver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and laid them upon two of his ſervants, and they bare them before him.

24 And when he came to the ‡ tower, he took them from their hand, and beſtowed them in the houſe; and he let the men go, and [m] they departed.

25 But he went in, and ſtood before his maſter: and Eliſha ſaid unto him, Whence comeſt thou, Gehazi? And he ſaid, Thy ſervant went † no whither.

† Heb. not hither or thither.

26 And he ſaid unto him, [n] Went not mine heart with thee, when the man turned again from his chariot to meet thee? is it a time to receive [o] money, and to receive garments, and oliveyards, and vineyards, and ſheep, and oxen, and men-ſervants, and maid-ſervants?

n Was not I preſent with thee in ſpirit?
o That is, money to buy poſſeſſions with, meaning, that it is deteſtable in the ſervants of God to have covetous mindes.

27 The leproſie therefore of Naaman ſhall cleave unto thee, and thy [p] ſeed for ever. And he went out from his preſence a leper as white as ſnow.

CHAP. VI.

1 Eliſha giving leave to the young prophets to enlarge their dwellings, cauſeth iron to ſwim. 8 He diſcloſeth the king of Syria his counſel. 13 The army which was ſent to Dothan to apprehend Eliſha, is ſmitten with blindneſſe. 19 Being brought into Samaria, they are diſmiſſed in peace. 24 The famine in Samaria cauſeth women to eat their own children. 30 The king ſendeth to ſlay Eliſha.

AND the ſonnes of the prophets ſaid unto Eliſha, Behold now, the place where we dwell with thee is too ſtrait for us.

2 Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a [a] beam, and let us make us a place there where we may dwell. And he anſwered, Go ye.

3 And one ſaid, Be content, I pray thee, and go with thy ſervants. And he anſwered, I will go.

4 So he went with them: and when they came to Jordan, they cut down wood.

5 But as one was felling a beam, the † axhead fell into the water: and he cried, and ſaid, Alas maſter, for it was borrowed.

6 And the man of God ſaid, Where fell it? and he ſhewed him the place: and he cut down a ſtick, and caſt it in thither, and the iron did [b] ſwim.

7 Therefore ſaid he, Take it up to thee. And he put out his hand, and took it.

8 ¶ Then the king of Syria warred againſt Iſrael, and took counſel with his ſervants, ſaying, In [c] ſuch and ſuch a place ſhall be my ‡ camp.

9 And the man of God ſent unto the king of Iſrael, ſaying, Beware that thou paſſe not ſuch a place; for thither the Syrians are come down.

10 And the king of Iſrael ſent to the place which the man of God told him, and warned him of, and [d] ſaved himſelf there, not once nor twice.

11 Therefore the heart of the king of Syria was ſore troubled for this thing, and he called his ſervants, and ſaid unto them, Will ye not ſhew me which of us is for the king of Iſrael?

12 And one of his ſervants ſaid, † None, my lord O king: but Eliſha the prophet, that is in Iſrael, telleth the king of Iſrael the words that thou ſpeakeſt in thy [e] bed-chamber.

13 ¶ And he ſaid, Go, and ſpie where he is that I may ſend and fetch him. And it was told him, ſaying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 Therefore ſent he thither horſes, and chariots, and a † [f] great hoſt: and they came by night, and compaſſed the city about.

15 And when the † ſervant of the man of God was riſen early and gone forth, behold, an hoſt compaſſed the city, both with horſes and chariots: and his ſervant ſaid unto him, Alas my maſter, how ſhall we do?

16 And he anſwered, [g] Fear not: for * they that be with us, are mo than they that be with them.

17 And Eliſha prayed, and ſaid, LORD, I pray thee open his eyes that he may [h] ſee. And the LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he ſaw: and behold, the mountain was full of horſes, and chariots of fire round about Eliſha.

18 And when [i] they came down to him, Eliſha prayed unto the LORD, and ſaid, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindneſſe. And he ſmote them with blindneſſe, according to the word of Eliſha.

19 ¶ And Eliſha ſaid unto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: † follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye ſeek: [k] but he led them to Samaria.

20 And it came to paſſe when they were come into Samaria, that Eliſha ſaid, LORD open the eyes of theſe men that they may ſee. And the LORD opened their eyes, and they ſaw, and behold, they were in the midſt of Samaria.

21 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Eliſha, when he ſaw them, [l] My father, ſhall I ſmite them? ſhall I ſmite them?

22 And he anſwered, Thou ſhalt not ſmite them: wouldeſt thou ſmite thoſe whom thou haſt taken captive with thy ſword, and with thy bow? ſet bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their maſter.

23 And he prepared great proviſion for them, and when they had eaten and drunk, he ſent them away, and they went to their maſter: ſo the bands of Syria came [m] no more into the land of Iſrael.

24 ¶ And it came to paſſe after this, that Ben-hadad king of Syria gathered all his hoſt, and went up, and beſieged Samaria.

25 And there was a great famine in Samaria: and behold, they beſieged it, untill an aſſes head was ſold for foureſcore pieces of ſilver, and the fourth part of a [n] kab of doves dung for five pieces of ſilver.

26 And as the king of Iſrael was paſſing by unto the wall, there cried a woman unto him, ſaying, Help, my lord O king.

27 And he ſaid, ‡ If the LORD do not help thee, whence ſhall I help thee? out of the [o] barn-floore, or out of the wine-preſſe?

28 And the king ſaid unto her, What aileth thee? And ſhe anſwered, This woman ſaid unto me, Give thy ſonne, that we may eat him to day, and we will eat my ſonne to morrow.

29 So * we boiled my ſonne, and did eat him: and I ſaid unto her on the † next day, Give thy ſonne, that we may eat him: and ſhe hath hid her ſonne.

30 ¶ And it came to paſſe when the king heard the words of the woman, that he rent his clothes, and he paſſed by upon the wall, and the people looked, and behold, he had [p] ſackcloth within, upon his fleſh.

31 Then he ſaid, God do ſo and more alſo to me, if the head of Eliſha the ſonne of Shaphat, ſhall ſtand on him this day.

32 But Eliſha ſat in his houſe, (and the elders ſat with him) and the king ſent a man from before him: but ere the meſſenger came to him, he ſaid to the elders, See ye how this [q] ſonne of a murderer hath ſent to take away mine head? look when the meſſenger cometh, ſhut the doore, and hold him faſt at the doore: is not the ſound of his maſters feet behinde him?

33 And while he yet talked with them, behold, the meſſenger came down unto him: and he ſaid, Behold, this evil is of the LORD, [r] what ſhould I wait for the LORD any longer?

CHAP. VII.

1 Elisha propheſieth incredible plenty in Samaria. 3 Foure lepers venturing on the hoſt of the Syrians, bring tidings of their flight. 12 The king finding by ſpies the news to be true, ſpoileth the tents of the Syrians. 17 The lord who would not beleeve the propheſie of plentie, having the charge of the gate, is troden to death in the preſſe.

THen Eliſha ſaid, Heare ye the word of the LORD, Thus ſaith the LORD, [a] To morrow about this time ſhall a meaſure of fine floure be ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then † a lord on whoſe hand the king [b] leaned, anſwered the man of God and ſaid, behold, if the LORD would make [c] windows in heaven, might this thing be? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt [d] not eat thereof.

3 ¶ And there were foure leprous men at the [e] entring in of the gate: and they ſaid one to another, Why ſit we here untill we die?

4 If we ſay we will enter into the citie, then the famine is in the city, and we ſhall die there: and if we ſit ſtill here, we die alſo. Now therefore come, and let us fall unto the hoſt of the Syrians: if they ſave us alive, we ſhall live; and if they kill us, we ſhall but die.

5 And they roſe up in the twilight, to go unto the camp of the Syrians: and when they were come to the uttermoſt part of the camp of Syria, behold, there was no man there.

6 For the LORD had made the hoſt of the Syrians to heare a [f] noiſe of chariots, and a noiſe of horſes, even the noiſe of a great hoſt: and they ſaid one to another, Lo, the king of Iſrael hath hired againſt us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come upon us.

7 Wherefore they aroſe and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horſes, and their aſſes, even the camp as it was, and [g] fled for their life.

8 And when theſe lepers came to the uttermoſt part of the camp, they went into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence ſilver and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it; and came again, and entred into another tent, and carried thence alſo, and went and hid it.

9 Then they ſaid one to another, We do not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace: if we tarry till the morning light, † ſome miſchief will come upon us: now therefore come, that we may go and tell the kings houſhold.

10 So they came, and called unto the porter of the citie: and they told them, ſaying, We came to the camp of the Syrians, and behold, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horſes tied, and aſſes tied, and the tents as they were.

11 And he called the porters, and they told it to the kings houſe within.

12 ¶ And the king aroſe in the night, and ſaid unto his ſervants, [h] I will now ſhew you what the Syrians have done to us: they know that we be hungry, therefore are they gone out of the camp, to hide themſelves in the field, ſaying, When they come out of the citie, we ſhall catch them alive, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his ſervants anſwered and ſaid, Let ſome take, I pray thee, five of the horſes that remain, which are left † in the city, (behold, they are as all the [i] multitude of Iſrael that are left in it: behold, I ſay, they are even as all the multitude of the Iſraelites that are conſumed) and let us ſend and ſee.

14 They took therefore two chariot-horſes, and the king ſent after the hoſt of the Syrians, ſaying, Go and ſee.

15 And they went after them unto Jordan, and lo, all the way was full of garments and veſſels, which the Syrians had caſt away in their haſte: and the meſſengers returned and told the king.

16 And the people went out, and ſpoiled the tents of the Syrians. So a meaſure of fine floure was ſold for a ſhekel, and two meaſures of barley for a [k] ſhekel, according to the word of the LORD.

17 ¶ And the king appointed the lord on whoſe hand he leaned, to have the charge of the gate: and the people [l] trode upon him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had ſaid, who ſpake when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to paſſe as the man of God had ſpoken to the king, ſaying, Two meaſures of barley for a ſhekel, and a meaſure of fine floure for a ſhekel, ſhall be to morrow about this time in the gate of Samaria:

19 And that lord anſwered the man of God and ſaid, Now behold, if the LORD ſhould make windows in heaven, might ſuch a thing be? And he ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee it with thine eyes, but ſhalt not eat thereof.

20 And ſo it fell out unto him: for the people trode upon him in the gate, and he died.

14 So he departed from Eliſha, and came to his maſter, who ſaid to him, What ſaid Eliſha to thee? And he anſwered, He told me that thou ſhouldeſt ſurely recover.

2 Eliſha ſendeth a young prophet with inſtructions to anoint Jehu at Ramoth-gilead. 4 The prophet having done his meſſage, fleeth. 11 Jehu being made king by the ſouldiers, killeth Joram in the field of Naboth. 27 Ahaziah is ſlain at Gur, and buried at Jeruſalem. 30 Proud Jezebel is thrown down out of a window, and eaten by dogs.

5 And when he came, behold, the captains of the hoſt were ſitting; and he ſaid, I have an errand to thee, O captain: and Jehu ſaid, Unto which of all us? And he ſaid, To thee, O captain.

6 And he aroſe, and went into the houſe, and he poured the oyl on his head, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, I have [b] anointed thee king over the people of the LORD, even over Iſrael.

7 And thou ſhalt ſmite the houſe of Ahab thy maſter, that I may avenge the bloud of my ſervants the prophets, and the bloud of all the ſervants of the LORD, * at the hand of Jezebel.

8 For the whole houſe of Ahab ſhall periſh, and * I will cut off from Ahab, him that piſſeth againſt the wall, and him that is ſhut up and left in Iſrael.

10 And the dogs ſhall eat Jezebel in the portion of Jezreel, and there ſhall be none to bury her. And he opened the doore, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Jehu came forth to the [c] ſervants of his lord, and one ſaid unto him, Is all well? wherefore came this [d] mad fellow to thee? And he ſaid unto them, Ye know the man and his communication.

12 And they ſaid, It is falſe, tell us now: and he ſaid, Thus and thus ſpake he to me, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, I have anointed thee king over Iſrael.

13 Then they haſted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the ſtairs, and blew with trumpets, ſaying, Jehu † is king.

14 So Jehu the ſonne of Jehoſhaphat, the ſonne of Nimſhi, conſpired againſt Joram: (now Joram had kept Ramoth-gilead, he and all Iſrael, becauſe of Hazael king of Syria:

16 So Jehu rode in a chariot, and went to Jezreel, (for Joram lay there) and [e] Ahaziah king of Judah was come down to ſee Joram.

17 And there ſtood a watchman on the tower in Jezreel, and he ſpied the company of Jehu as he came, and ſaid, I ſee a companie. And Joram ſaid, Take an horſeman, and ſend to meet them, and let him ſay, Is it peace?

19 Then he ſent out a ſecond on horſeback, which came to them, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu anſwered, What haſt thou to do with peace? turn thee behinde me.

23 And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and ſaid to Ahaziah, There is treachery, O Ahaziah.

24 And Jehu † drew a bow with his full ſtrength, and ſmote Jehoram between his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he † ſunk down in his chariot.

25 Then ſaid Jehu to Bidkar his captain, Take up, and caſt him in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember, how that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the * LORD laid this burden upon him.

(now the kings ſonnes being ſeventy perſons, were with the great men of the city, which brought them up)

7 And it came to paſſe when the letter came to them, that they took the kings ſonnes, and ſlew ſeventy perſons, and put their heads in baskets, and ſent him them to Jezreel.

d Ye cannot juſtly condemn me for the kings death, ſeeing ye have done the like to his poſterity: for the Lord commanded me, and moved you to execute this his judgement. 8 ¶ And there came a meſſenger, and told him, ſaying, They have brought the heads of the kings ſonnes. And he ſaid, Lay ye them in two heaps at the entring in of the gate, untill the morning.

9 And it came to paſſe in the morning, that he went out, and ſtood, and ſaid to all the people, d Ye be righteous: behold, I conſpired againſt my maſter, and ſlew him: but who ſlew all theſe?

10 Know now, that there ſhall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the LORD, which the LORD ſpake concerning the houſe of Ahab: for the LORD hath done that which he ſpake * † by his ſervant Elijah.

* 1 Kings 21, 29. † Heb. by the hand of.

11 So Jehu ſlew all that remained of the houſe of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his great men, and his ‡ kinſfolks, and his e prieſts, untill he left him none remaining.

‡ Or, acquaintance. e Meaning, which were the idolatrous prieſts. † Heb. houſe of ſhepherds binding ſheep. 12 ¶ And he aroſe and departed, and came to Samaria: and as he was at the † ſhearing-houſe in the way, † Heb. found. 13 Jehu † met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Judah, and ſaid, Who are ye? And they anſwered, We are the brethren of Ahaziah, and we go down † to ſalute the children of the king, and the children of the queen.

† Heb. to the peace of, &c. 14 And he ſaid, Take them alive. And they took them alive, and ſlew them at the pit of the ſhearing-houſe, even two and fourty men; neither f left he any of them.

f Thus Gods vengeance is upon them that have any part of familiarity with the wicked. † Heb. found. † Heb. bleſſed. g For he feared God, and lamented the wickedneſſe of thoſe times: therefore Jehu was glad to joyn with him: of Rechab reade Jer. 35, 2. 15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he † lighted on Jehonadab the ſonne of Rechab, coming to meet him, and he † g ſaluted him, and ſaid to him, Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jehonadab anſwered, It is. If it be, give me thine hand: and he gave him his hand, and he took him up to him into the chariot.

16 And he ſaid, Come with me, and ſee my zeal for the LORD: ſo they made him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he ſlew all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria, till he had deſtroyed him, according to the ſaying of the LORD, which he ſpake to Elijah.

h Here Baal is taken for Aſhtaroth the idol of the Zidonians, which Jezebel cauſed to be worſhipped, as is alſo uſed, 1 Kings 16, 32, and 22, 53. 18 ¶ And Jehu gathered all the people together, and ſaid unto them, Ahab ſerved h Baal a little, but Jehu ſhall ſerve him much.

19 Now therefore call unto me all the prophets of Baal, all his ſervants, and all his prieſts, let none be wanting: for I have a great ſacrifice to do to Baal; whoſoever ſhall be wanting, he ſhall not live. But Jehu did it in ſubtilty, to the intent that he might deſtroy the worſhippers of Baal.

† Heb. ſanctifie. 20 And Jehu ſaid, † Proclaim a ſolemn aſſembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

‡ Or, ſo full that they ſtood mouth to mouth. 21 And Jehu ſent through all Iſrael, and all the worſhippers of Baal came, ſo that there was not a man left that came not: and they came into the houſe of Baal; and the houſe of Baal was ‡ full from one end to another.

22 And he ſaid unto him that was over the veſtry, Bring forth veſtments for all the worſhippers of Baal. And he brought them forth veſtments.

i Thus God would have his ſervants preſerved, and idolaters deſtroyed: as in his law he giveth expreſſe commandment, Deut. 13. 23 And Jehu went, and Jehonadab the ſonne of Rechab into the houſe of Baal, and ſaid unto the worſhippers of Baal, Search, and look that there be here with you none of the i ſervants of the LORD, but the worſhippers of Baal only.

24 And when they went in to offer ſacrifices, and burnt-offerings, Jehu appointed foure-

312 score men without, and said, If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands, escape, he that letteth him go, his life shall be for the life of him.

25 And it came to passe assoon as he had made an end of offering the burnt-offering, that Jehu said to the guard, and to the captains, Go in, and slay them, let none come forth. And they smote them with † the edge of the sword, and the guard and the captains cast them out, and went to the [k] city of the house of Baal.

† Heb. the mouth.

k Which city was neare to Samaria.

† Heb. statues.

26 And they brought forth the † images out of the house of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they brake down the image of Baal, and brake down the house of Baal, and made it a draught-house unto this day.

28 Thus Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 ¶ Howbeit from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, who made Israel to sinne, Jehu departed not from after them, to wit, the golden calves that were in Beth-el, and that were in Dan.

30 And the LORD said unto Jehu, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall [l] sit on the throne of Israel.

l Thus God approveth and rewardeth his zeal, in executing Gods judgement, albeit his wickednes was afterward punished.

31 But Jehu † took no heed to walk in the law of the LORD God of Israel, with all his heart: for he departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

† Heb. observed not.

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehu, and all that he did, and all his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

35 And Jehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Jehoahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 And the captains over the hundreds did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest commanded: and they took every man his men that were to come in [i] on the sabbath, with them that should go out on the sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest.

i Read vers. 5. and 7.

10 [k] And to the captains over hundreds, did the priest give king Davids spears and shields that were in the temple.

14 And when she looked, behold, the king stood by a [n] pillar, as the manner was, and the princes, and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land rejoyced, and blew with trumpets: and Athaliah rent her clothes, and cried, Treason, treason.

15 But Jehoiada the priest commanded the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the host, and said unto them, Have her forth without the ranges; and him that [o] followeth her, kill with the sword: for the priest had said, Let her not be slain in the house of the LORD.

o To take her part.

16 And they laid hands on her, and she went by the way by the which the horses came into the kings house, and there was she slain.

17 ¶ And Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD, and the king, and the people, that

CHAP. XII.

1 Jehoash reigned well all the dayes of Jehoiada. 4 He giveth order for the repair of the temple. 17 Hazael is diverted from Jerusalem by a present of the hallowed treasures. 19 Jehoash being slain by his servants, Amaziah succeedeth him.

* 2 Chron. 24, 1. IN * the seventh yeare of Jehu, Jehoash began to reigne; and fourtie yeares reigned he in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Jehoash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD all his dayes, wherein [a] Jehoiada the priest instructed him.

3 [b] But the high places were not taken away: the people still sacrificed, and burnt incense in the high places.

4 ¶ And Jehoash said to the priests, All the money of the ‡ † dedicated things that is brought into the house of the LORD, even the money of every one that passeth the account, † [c] the money that every one is set at, and all the money that † cometh into any mans heart to bring into the house of the LORD,

5 Let the priests take it to them, every man of his acquaintance, and let them repair the [d] breaches of the house, whersoever any breach shall be found.

6 But it was so, that † in the three and twentieth yeare of king Jehoash, the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house.

7 Then king Jehoash called for Jehoiada the priest and the other priests, and said unto them, Why repair ye not the breaches of the house? now therefore [e] receive no more money of your acquaintance, but deliver it for the breaches of the house.

8 And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, neither to repair the breaches of the house.

9 But Jehoiada the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the [f] right side, as one cometh into the house of the LORD: and the priests that kept the † doore, put therein all that money that was brought into the house of the LORD.

10 And it was so, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the kings † scribe, and the high priest came up, and they † put up in bags, and told the money that was found in the house of the LORD.

11 And they gave the money, being told, into the hands of them that [g] did the work, that had the oversight of the house of the LORD: and they † laid it out to the carpenters and builders, that wrought upon the house of the LORD.

12 And to masons, and hewers of stone, and to buy timber, and hewed stone to repair the breaches of the house of the LORD, and for all that † was laid out for the house to repair it.

13 Howbeit, there were [h] not made for the house of the LORD, bowls of silver, snuffers, basons, trumpets, any vessels of gold, or vessels of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of the LORD:

14 But they gave that to the workmen, and repaired therewith the house of the LORD.

15 Moreover, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hand they delivered the money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The trespasse-money, and sinne-money was not brought into the house of the LORD; it was the priests.

17 ¶ Then Hazael king of Syria went up, and fought against Gath, and took it: and Hazael set his face to go up to Jerusalem.

18 And Jehoash king of Judah took all the [i] hallowed things that Jehoshaphat, and Jehoram, and Ahaziah his fathers, kings of Judah had dedicate, and his own hallowed things, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the LORD, and in the kings house, and sent it to Hazael king of Syria, and he † went away from Jerusalem.

19 ¶ And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 And his servants arose, and made a conspiracie, and [k] slew Joash in ‡ the house of [l] Millo, which goeth down to Silla.

21 For Jozachar the sonne of Shimeath, and Jehozabad the sonne of Shomer, his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

† Heb. the twentieth yeare and third yeare. IN † the three and twentieth yeare of Joash the sonne of Ahaziah king of Judah, Jehoahaz the sonne of Jehu began to reigne over Israel in Samaria, and reigned seventeen yeares.

b While Jehoahaz lived.

4 And Jehoahaz besought the LORD, and the LORD hearkened unto him: for he saw the oppression of Israel, because the king of Syria oppressed them.

e Wherein they did commit their idolatry, and which the Lord had commanded to be destroyed, Deut. 16, 21.

7 Neither did he leave of the people to Jehoahaz, but fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen; for the king of [f] Syria had destroyed them, and had made them like the dust by threshing.

f That is, Hazael and Ben-hadad his sonne, as verse 3. Reade of Hazael, chap. 8, 12.

8 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

9 And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joash his sonne reigned in his stead.

10 ¶ In the thirty and seventh yeare of Joash king of [g] Judah, began Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz to reigne over Israel in Samaria, and reigned sixteen yeares.

g His chief purpose is to describe the kingdome of Judah, and how God performed his promise made to the house of David: but by the way he sheweth how Israel was afflicted and punished for their great idolatry, who though they had now degenerated, yet God both by sending them sundry prophets and divers punishments, did call them unto him again.

11 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD; he departed not from all the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, who made Israel sinne: but he walked therein.

12 And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, and his might wherewith he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his throne: and Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ Now Elisha was fallen sick, of his sickness whereof he died, and Joash the king of Israel came down unto him, and wept over his face, and said, O my [h] father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof.

h Thus they used to call the prophets and servants of God, by whom God blessed his people, as chap. 2, 12. meaning, that by their prayers they did more prosper in their countrey, than by force of armes.

15 And Elisha said unto him, Take bow and arrows: and he took unto him bow and arrows.

16 And he said to the king of Israel, † Put thine hand upon the bow: and he put his hand upon it: and Elisha put his hands upon the kings hands.
† Heb. make thine hand to ride.

17 And he said, Open the window [i] eastward: and he opened it. Then Elisha said, Shoot: and he shot. And he said, the arrow of the LORDS deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria: for thou shalt smite the Syrians in Aphek, till thou hast consumed them.

i That is, toward Syria, so that he did not onely prophesie with words, but also confirmed him by these signs that he should have the victory.

18 And he said, Take the arrows: and he took them. And he said unto the king of Israel, Smite upon the ground: and he smote thrice, and stayed,

19 And the man of God was [k] wroth with him, and said, Thou shouldest have smitten five or six times, then hadst thou smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed it: whereas now thou shalt smite Syria but thrice.

k Because he seemed content to have victory against theenemies of God for twise or thrise and had not a zeal to overcome them continually, and to destroy them utterly.

20 ¶ And Elisha died, and they buried him: and the bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the coming in of the yeare.

21 And it came to passe as they were burying a man, that behold, they spied a band of men, and they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha: and when the man † was let down, and touched the bones of Elisha, * he [l] revived, and stood upon his feet.

† Heb. went down.
* Eccius 48, 14.
l By this miracle God confirmed the authoritie of Elisha whose doctrine in his life they contemned, that at his sight they might return and embrace the same doctrine.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Syria oppressed Israel all the dayes of Jehoahaz.

23 And the LORD was gracious unto them and had compassion on them, and had respect unto them, because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from his † presence as [m] yet.

m That is, untill their sinnes were come to a full measure, and there was no more hope of amendement.

24 So Hazael king of Syria died, and Ben-hadad his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 And Jehoash the sonne of Jehoahaz † took again out of the hand of Ben-hadad the sonne of Hazael, the cities which he had taken out of the hand of Jehoahaz his father by warre: three times did Joash beat him, and recovered the cities of Israel.
† Heb. returned and took.

1 Amaziah his good reigne. 5 His justice on the murderers of his father. 7 His victory over Edom. 8 Amaziah provoking Jehoash, is overcome and spoiled. 16 Jeroboam succeedeth Jehoash. 17 Amaziah slain by a conspiracie. 21 Azariah succeedeth him. 23 Jeroboams wicked reigne. 28 Zachariah succeedeth him.

IN the second yeare of Joash sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel, reigned * Amaziah the sonne of Joash king of Judah.
* 2 Chron. 25, 1.

2 He was twentie and five yeares old when he began to reigne, and reigned twentie and nine yeares in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

3 And he did that which was [a] right in the sight of the LORD, yet not like David his father: he did according to all things as Joash his father did.

a In the beginning of his reign he seemed to have an outward shew of Godlines, but afterward he became an idolater, and worshipped the idols of the Idumeans.

4 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away: as yet the people did sacrifice, and burnt incense on the high places.

5 ¶ And it came to passe assoon as the kingdome was confirmed in his hand, that he slew his servants * which had slain the king his father.
* Chap. 12, 20.

6 But the children of the murderers he [b] slew not: according unto that which is written in the book of the law of Moses, wherein the LORD commanded, saying, * The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man shall be put to death for his own sinne.

b Because they neither consented, nor were partakers with their fathers in that act.

7 He

7 He ſlew of [c] Edom in the valley of ſalt, ten thouſand, and took ‡ Selah by warre, and called the name of it Joktheel, unto this day.

8 ¶ Then Amaziah ſent meſſengers to Jehoaſh the ſonne of Jehoahaz, ſonne of Jehu king of Iſrael, ſaying, Come, [d] let us look one another in the face.

9 And Jehoaſh the king of Iſrael ſent to Amaziah king of Judah, ſaying, The thiſtle that was in Lebanon, ſent to the [e] cedar that was in Lebanon, ſaying, Give thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: and there paſſed by a wilde beaſt that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thiſtle.

10 Thou haſt indeed ſmitten Edom, and thine heart hath lifted thee up: [f] glory of this, and tarrie † at home: for why ſhouldeſt thou meddle to thy hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

11 But Amaziah would not heare: therefore Jehoaſh king of Iſrael went up, and he and Amaziah king of Judah looked one another in the face at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belongeth to Judah.

12 And Judah † was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled every man to their tents.

13 And Jehoaſh king of Iſrael took Amaziah king of Judah, the ſonne of Jehoaſh the ſonne of Ahaziah at Beth-ſhemeſh, and came to Jeruſalem, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem, from the gate of Ephraim, unto the corner-gate, foure hundred cubits.

14 And he took all the gold and ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of the LORD, and in the treaſures of the kings houſe, and [g] hoſtages, and returned to Samaria.

15 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoaſh which he did, and his might, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

16 And Jehoaſh ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Iſrael, and Jeroboam his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

17 ¶ And Amaziah the ſonne of Joaſh king of Judah, lived after the death of Jehoaſh ſonne of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael, fifteen yeares.

18 And the reſt of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

19 Now * they made a conſpiracie againſt him in Jeruſalem: and he fled to [h] Lachiſh, but they ſent after him to Lachiſh, and ſlew him there.

20 And they brought him on horſes; and he was buried at Jeruſalem with his fathers in the citie of David.

21 ¶ And all the people of Judah took [i] Azariah, (which was ſixteen yeares old) and made him king in ſtead of his father Amaziah.

22 He built [k] Elath, and reſtored it to Judah, after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fifteenth yeare of Amaziah, the ſonne of Joaſh king of Judah, Jeroboam the ſonne of Joaſh king of Iſrael began to reigne in Samaria, and reigned fourtie and one yeares.

24 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD: he departed not from all the [l] ſinnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſinne.

25 He reſtored the coaſt of Iſrael from the entring of Hamath, unto the ſea of the plain, according to the word of the LORD God of Iſrael, which he ſpake by the hands of his ſervant * Jonah, the ſonne of Amittai, the prophet, which was of Gath-hepher.

26 For the LORD ſaw the affliction of Iſrael, that it was very bitter: for there was not any [m] ſhut up, nor any left, nor any helper for Iſrael.

27 And the LORD ſaid not that he would blot out the name of Iſrael from under heaven: but he ſaved them by the hand of Jeroboam the ſonne of Joaſh.

28 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his might, how he warred, and how he recovered Damaſcus, and [n] Hamath, which belonged to Judah, for Iſrael, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

29 And Jeroboam ſlept with his fathers, even with the kings of Iſrael; and Zachariah his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XV.

1 Azariah his good reigne. 5 He dying a leper, Jotham ſucceedeth. 8 Zachariah, the laſt of Jehu his generation, reigning ill, is ſlain by Shallum. 13 Shallum reigning a moneth, is ſlain by Menahem. 16 Menahem ſtrengthened himſelf by Pul. 21 Pekahiah ſucceedeth him. 23 Pekahiah is ſlain by Pekah. 27 Pekah is oppreſſed by Tiglath-pileſer, and ſlain by Hoshea. 32 Jothams good reigne. 36 Ahaz ſucceedeth him.

IN the twenty and ſeventh yeare of Ieroboam king of Iſrael, began Azariah ſonne of Amaziah king of Iudah to reigne.

2 Sixteen yeares old was he when he began to reigne, and he reigned two and fiftie yeares in Ieruſalem, and his mothers name was Iecholiah of Ieruſalem.

3 And he did that which was [a] right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah had done;

4 Save that the high places were not removed: the people ſacrificed, and burnt incenſe ſtill on the high places.

5 ¶ And the LORD [b] ſmote the king, ſo that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a ſeverall houſe, and Jotham the kings ſonne was over the houſe, [c] judging the people of the land.

6 And the reſt of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

7 So Azariah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of David, and Jotham his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

8 ¶ In the thirty and eighth yeare of Azariah king of Iudah, did Zachariah the ſonne of Ieroboam reigne over Iſrael in Samaria [d] ſix moneths.

15 And the reſt of the acts of Shallum, and the conſpiracie which he made, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

16 ¶ Then Menahem ſmote [f] Tiphſah, and all that were therein, and the coaſts thereof from Tirzah: becauſe they opened not to him, therefore he ſmote it, and all the women therein that were with childe, he ript up.

f Which was a citie of Iſrael, that would not receive him to be king.

17 In the nine and thirtieth yeare of Azariah king of Judah, began Menahem the ſonne of Gadi to reigne over Iſrael, and reigned ten yeares in Samaria.

18 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD: he departed not all his dayes from the ſinnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſinne.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth yeare of Azariah king of Judah, Pekahiah the ſonne of Menahem began to reigne over Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned two yeares.

24 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, he departed not from the ſinnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſinne.

25 But Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah, a captain of his, conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him in Samaria, in the palace of the kings houſe, with [i] Argob, and Arieh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: and he killed him, and reigned in his room.

i Which were of the ſame conſpiracie.

26 And the reſt of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth yeare of Azariah king of Judah, Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah began to reigne over Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned twenty yeares.

28 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, he departed not from the ſinnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſinne.

29 In the dayes of Pekah king of Iſrael, came [k] Tiglath-pileſer king of Aſſyria, and took Ijon, and Abel-beth-maachah, and Janoah, and Kedeſh, and Hazor, and Gilead, and Galilee; all the land of Naphtali, and carried them captive to Aſſyria.

k For God ſtirred up Pul, and Tiglath-pileſer againſt Iſrael for their ſinnes, 1 Chron. 5, 26.

30 And Hoſhea the ſonne of Elah made a conſpiracie againſt Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah, and ſmote him, and ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead, in the twentieth year of Jotham the ſonne of Uzziah.

31 And the reſt of the acts of Pekah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael.

32 ¶ In the ſecond yeare of Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah king of Iſrael, began * Jotham the ſonne of Uzziah king of Judah to reigne.

* 2 Chron. 27, 1

33 Five and twenty yeares old was he when he began to reigne, and he reigned ſixteen yeares in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Jeruſha, the daughter of Zadok.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Ahaz his wicked reigne. 5 Ahaz aſſailed by Rezin and Pekah, hireth Tiglath-pileſer againſt them. 10 Ahaz ſending a patern of an altar from Damaſcus to Urijah, diverteth the braſen altar to his own devotion. 17 He ſpoileth the temple. 19 Hezekiah ſucceedeth him.

IN * the ſeventeenth yeare of Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah, [a] Ahaz the ſonne of Jotham king of Judah began to reigne.

* 2 Chron. 28, 1.
a This was a wicked ſonne of a godly father, as of him again came Godly Ezekiah, and of him wicked Manaſſeh, ſave that God in the end ſhewed him mercie. Thus we ſee how uncertain it is to depend on the dignity of our fathers.

2 Twenty yeares old was Ahaz when he began to reigne, and reigned ſixteen yeares in Jeruſalem, and did not that which was right in the the sight of the LORD his God, like David his father.

3 But he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his sonne to [b] passe through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Israel.

b That is, offred him to Molech, or made him to passe between two fires, as the manner of the Gentiles was Levit. 18, 21. Deut. 18, 10.

4 And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 ¶ * Then Rezin king of Syria, and Pekah sonne of Remaliah king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to warre: and they besieged Ahaz, but could [c] not overcome him.

* Isa. 7, 1.

c For the Lord preserved the citie, and his people for his promise sake made to David.

6 At that time Rezin king of Syria, recovered [d] Elath to Syria, and drave the Jews from Elath: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt there unto this day.

d Which citie Azariah had taken from the Aramites, and fortified it, Chap. 14, 22.

7 So Ahaz sent [e] messengers to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, saying, I am thy servant and thy sonne: come up, and save me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, which rise up against me.

e Contrary to the admonition of the prophet, Isa. 7, 4.

8 And Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the [f] house of the LORD, and in the treasures of the kings house, and sent it for a present to the king of Assyria.

f Thus he spared not to spoil the temple of God to have succour of men, and would not once lift up his heart toward God to desire his help, nor yet heare his prophets counsell.

9 And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against † Damascus, and took it, and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Rezin.

† Heb. Dammesek.

10 ¶ And king Ahaz went to Damascus, to meet Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, and saw an altar that was at Damascus: and king Ahaz sent to Urijah the priest the fashion of the altar, and the pattern of it, according to all the workmanship thereof.

11 And Urijah the priest built an altar according to [g] all that king Ahaz had sent from Damascus: so Uriah the priest made it, against king Ahaz came from Damascus.

g Wee see that there is no prince so wicked, but he shall finde flatterers, and false ministers to serve his turn.

12 And when the king was come from Damascus, the king saw the altar: and the king approached to the altar, and offered [h] thereon.

h Either offerings for peace or prosperitie, or of thanksgiving, as Levit. 3, 1, or else meaning the morning and evening offering, Exod. 29, 38. Num. 28, 3, and thus he contemned the means and the altar which God had commanded by Solomon, to serve God after his own fantasie.

13 And he burnt his burnt-offering, and his meat-offering, and poured his drink-offering, and sprinkled the bloud of † his peace-offerings upon the altar.

† Heb. which were his.

14 And he brought also the brasen altar which was before the LORD, from the forefront of the house, from between the altar and the house of the LORD, and put it on the [i] north-side of the altar.

i That is, at the right hand, as men went into the temple.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Urijah the priest, saying, Upon the great altar burn the morning burnt-offering, and the evening meat-offering, and the kings burnt-sacrifice, and his meat-offering, with the burnt-offering of all the people of the land, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offerings, and sprinkle upon it all the bloud of the burnt-offering, and all the bloud of the sacrifice: and the [k] brasen altar shall be for me to enquire by.

k Here he establisheth by commandement his own wicked proceedings, and doeth abolish the commandment and ordinance of God.

16 Thus did Urijah the priest, according to all that king Ahaz commanded.

17 ¶ And king Ahaz cut off the borders of the bases, and removed the laver from off them, and took down the sea from off the brasen oxen that were under it, and put it upon a pavement of stones.

18 And the [l] covert for the sabbath that they had built in the house, and the kings entry without, turned he from the house of the LORD, [m] for the king of Assyria.

l Or, tent, wherein they lay on the sabbath, which had served their week in the temple, and so departed home.

m Either to flatter the king of Assyria, when he should thus see him change the ordinance of God, or else that the temple might be a refuge for him if the king should suddenly assail his house.

19 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Ahaz, which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David, and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Hoshea his wicked reigne. 3 Being subdued by Shalmaneser, he conspireth against him with So king of Egypt. 5 Samaria for their sinnes, is captivated. 24 The strange nations which were transplanted in Samaria, being plagued with lions, make a mixture of religions.

IN the twelfth yeare of Ahaz king of Judah, began Hoshea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria, over Israel nine yeares.

2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, [a] but not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

a Though he invented no new idolatry or impiety as others did, yet he sought for help at the Egyptians, which God had forbidden.

3 ¶ Against him came up Shalmaneser king of Assyria, and Hoshea became his servant, and † gave him ‡ presents.

4 And the king of Assyria found conspiracie in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present to the king of Assyria, [b] as he had done yeare by yeare: therefore the king of Assyria shut him up, and bound him in prison.

b For he had paid tribute for the space of eight yeares.

5 ¶ Then the king of Assyria came up throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it three yeares.

6 ¶ * In the ninth yeare of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria, and carried Israel away into Assyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the [c] Medes.

* Chap. 18, 10.

c For at this time the Medes and Persians were subject to the Assyrians.

7 For so it was, that the children of Israel had [d] sinned against the LORD their God, which had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared others gods, d He setteth forth at length the cause of this great plague and perpetuall captivity, to admonish all people and nations to cleave to the Lord God, and onely worship him for fear of like judgements.

8 And walked in the statutes of the heathen, (whom the LORD cast out from before the children of Israel) and of the kings of Israel, which they had made.

9 And the children of Israel did secretly those things that were not right, against the LORD their God, and they built them high places in all their cities, [e] from the tower of the watchman, to the fenced city.

e Meaning, throughout all their borders.

10 And they set them up † images and groves in every high hill, and under every green tree:

† Heb. statues.

11 And there they burnt incense in all the high places, as did the heathen whom the LORD carried away before them; and wrought wicked things to provoke the LORD to anger.

12 For they ſerved idols, whereof the LORD had ſaid unto them, * Ye ſhall not do this thing.

* Deut. 4, 19.

13 Yet the LORD teſtified againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, † by all the prophets, and by all the ſeers, ſaying, * Turn ye from your evil wayes, and keep my commandments and my ſtatutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I ſent to you by my ſervants the prophets.

† Heb. by the hand of all.
* Jer. 18, 11, and 25, 5, and 35, 15.

14 Notwithſtanding, they would not heare, but * hardened their necks, like to the neck of their [f] fathers, that did not beleeve in the LORD their God.

* Deut. 31, 27.
f So that to alledge the authority of our fathers or great antiquity, except we can prove that they were godly, is but to declare that we are the children of the wicked.

15 And they rejected his ſtatutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his teſtimonies which he teſtified againſt them, and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the LORD had charged them, that they ſhould not do like them.

16 And they left all the commandments of the LORD their God, and * made them molten images, even two calves, and made a grove, and worſhipped all the [g] hoſt of heaven, and ſerved Baal.

* Exod. 32, 8. 1 Kings 12, 28.
g That is, the ſunne, the moone and ſtars, Deut. 4, 19.

17 And they cauſed their ſonnes and their daughters to [h] paſſe through the fire, and uſed divination and inchantments, and [i] ſold themſelves to do evil in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

h Read chap. 16, 3.
i Reade of this phraſe, 1 Kings 21, 20, and 25.

18 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Iſrael, and removed them out of his ſight, there was none left but the tribe of Judah [k] onely.

k No whole tribe was left but Judah: and they of Benjamin and Levi, which remained, were counted with Judah.

19 Alſo Judah kept not the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the ſtatutes of Iſrael which they made.

20 And the LORD rejected all the ſeed of Iſrael, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of ſpoilers, untill he had caſt them out of his [l] ſight.

l Out of the land where he ſhewed the greateſt tokens of his preſence and favour.

21 [m] For he rent Iſrael from the houſe of David, and they made Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat king, and Jeroboam drave Iſrael from following the LORD, and made them ſinne a great ſinne.

m That is, God cut off the ten tribes. 1 Kings 12, 16, 20.

22 For the children of Iſrael walked in all the ſinnes of Jeroboam which he did, they departed not from them:

23 Untill the LORD removed Iſrael out of his ſight, as he had ſaid by all his ſervants the prophets: ſo was Iſrael carried away out of their own land to Aſſyria, unto this day.

24 ¶ And the king of Aſſyria brought men from Babylon, and from [n] Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria, in ſtead of the children of Iſrael; and they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

n Of theſe people came the Samaritanes, whereof mention is ſo much made in the Goſpel, and with whom the Jewes would have nothing to doe, John 4, 9.

25 And ſo it was at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared [o] not the LORD; therefore the LORD ſent lions among them, which ſlew ſome of them.

o That is, they ſerved him not: therefore, leſt they ſhould blaſpheme him, as though there were no God, becauſe he chaſtiſed the Iſraelites, he ſheweth his mighty power among them by this ſtrange puniſhment.

26 Wherefore they ſpake to the king of Aſſyria, ſaying, The nation which thou haſt removed, and placed in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath ſent lions among them, and behold, they ſlay them, becauſe they know not the manner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Aſſyria commanded, ſaying, Carry thither one of the prieſts whom ye brought from thence, and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the manner of the God of the [p] land.

p That is, how to worſhip him: thus the wicked rather than to loſe their commodities, will change to all religions.

28 Then one of the prieſts whom they had carried away from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they ſhould fear the LORD.

29 Howbeit, every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the houſes of the high places which the Samaritanes had made, every nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

30 And the men of Babylon made [q] Succoth-benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Aſhima, q Meaning, that every countrey ſerved that idol, which was moſt eſteemed in that place whence they came.

31 And the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burnt their children in fire to Adrammelech, and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

32 So they feared the LORD, and made unto themſelves of the loweſt of them prieſts of the high places, which ſacrified for them in the houſes of the high places.

33 * They [r] feared the LORD, and ſerved their own gods, after the manner of the nations, [ſ] whom they carried away from thence.

* Zeph. 1, 5.
r That is, they had a certain knowledge of God and feared him becauſe of the puniſhment; but they continued ſtill idolaters, as doe the Papiſts which worſhip both God and idols: but this is not to fear God as appeareth verſe 34.
ſ Or, who carried them away from thence.

34 Unto this day they do after the former manners: they fear not the LORD, neither do they after [ſ] their ſtatutes, or after their ordinances, or after the law and commandment which the LORD commanded the children of Jacob, * whom he named Iſrael;

ſ He meaneth this by the Iſraelites, to whom god had given his commandments.
* Gen. 32, 28. 1 Kings 18, 31. * Judge 6, 10.

35 With whom the LORD had made a covenant, and charged them, ſaying, * Ye ſhall not fear other gods, nor bowe your ſelves to them, nor ſerve them, nor ſacrifice to them:

36 But the LORD, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and a ſtretched out arm, him ſhall ye fear, and him ſhall ye worſhip, and to him ſhall ye do ſacrifice.

37 And the ſtatutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment which he wrote for you ye ſhall obſerve to do for evermore, and ye ſhall not fear other gods.

38 And the covenant that I have made with you, ye ſhall not forget, neither ſhall ye fear other gods.

39 But the LORD your God ye ſhall fear, and he ſhall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit, they did not hearken, but they did after their former manner.

41 So [t] theſe nations feared the LORD, and ſerved their graven images, both their children, dren, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, ſo do they unto this day.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Hezekiah his good reigne. 4 He deſtroyeth idolatry, and proſpereth. 9 Samaria is carried captive for their ſinnes. 13 Sennacherib invading Judah, is pacified by a tribute. 17 Rab-ſhakeh ſent by Sennacherib again, revileth Hezekiah, and by blaſphemous perſwaſions, ſolliciteth the people to revolt.

NOw it came to paſſe in the third yeare of Hoſhea ſonne of Elah king of Iſrael, that * Hezekiah the ſonne of Ahaz king of Judah began to reigne.

2 Twenty and five yeares old was he when he began to reigne, and he reigned twenty and nine yeares in Jeruſalem: his mothers name alſo was Abi, the daughter of Zachariah.

3 And he did that which was [a] right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that David his father did.

4 He removed the high places, and brake the † images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the * braſen ſerpent that Moſes had made: for unto thoſe dayes the children of Iſrael did burn incenſe to it: and he called it [b] Nehuſhtan.

5 He truſted in the LORD God of Iſrael, ſo that after him was none like him among all the kings of Judah, nor any that were before him.

6 For he clave to the LORD, and departed not † from following him, but kept his commandments, which the LORD commanded Moſes.

7 And the LORD was with him, and he proſpered whitherſoever he went forth: and he rebelled againſt the king of Aſſyria, and ſerved him not.

8 He ſmote the Philiſtines even unto † Gaza, and the borders thereof, from the tower of the [c] watchmen to the fenced city.

9 And * it came to paſſe in the fourth yeare of king Hezekiah, (which was the ſeventh yeare of Hoſhea ſonne of Elah king of Iſrael) that Shalmaneſer king of Aſſyria came up againſt Samaria, and beſieged it.

10 And at the end of three yeares they took it, even in the ſixth yeare of Hezekiah (that is * the ninth yeare of Hoſhea king of Iſrael) Samaria was taken.

11 And the king of Aſſyria did carry away Iſrael unto Aſſyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Becauſe they obeyed not the voice of the LORD their God, but tranſgreſſed his covenant and all that Moſes the ſervant of the LORD commanded, and would not heare them, nor do them.

13 Now * in the fourteenth yeare of king Hezekiah, did † Sennacherib king of Aſſyria come up againſt all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them,

14 And Hezekiah king of Judah ſent to the king of Aſſyria to Lachiſh, ſaying, [d] I have offended, return from me: that which thou puttеſt on me, I will bear. And the king of Aſſyria appointed unto Hezekiah king of Judah, three hundred talents of ſilver, and thirty talents of gold.

15 And Hezekiah gave him all the ſilver that was found in the houſe of the LORD, and in the treaſures of the kings houſe.

16 At that time did Hezekiah cut off the gold from the doores of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars which Hezekiah of Judah had overlaid, and gave † it to the king of Aſſyria.

17 And the king of Aſſyria ſent [e] Tartan, and Rab-ſaris, and Rab-ſhakeh from Lachiſh, to king Hezekiah with a † great hoſt againſt Jeruſalem: and they went up and came to Jeruſalem: & when they were come up, they came and ſtood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is in the high-way of the fullers field.

18 And when they had called to the king, there came out to them Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ‡ ſcribe, and Joah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder.

19 And Rab-ſhakeh ſaid unto them, Speak ye now to Hezekiah, thus ſaith the great king, the king of Aſſyria, What confidence is this wherein thou truſteſt?

20 Thou ‡ ſayeſt, (but they are but † vain words) ‡ I have [f] counſel and ſtrength for the warre: now on whom doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

21 Now behold, thou † truſteſt upon the ſtaff of this bruiſed reed, even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and [g] pierce it: ſo is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that truſt on him.

22 But if ye ſay unto me, We truſt in the LORD our God: is [h] not that he whoſe high places, and whoſe altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath ſaid to Judah and Jeruſalem, Ye ſhall worſhip before this altar in Jeruſalem?

23 Now therefore, I pray thee, give ‡ [i] pledges to my lord the king of Aſſyria, and I will deliver thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders upon them.

24 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the leaſt of my maſters ſervants, and put thy truſt on Egypt for chariots and for horſemen?

25 Am I now come up without the [k] LORD againſt this place to deſtroy it? the LORD ſaid to me, Go up againſt this land, and deſtroy it.

26 Then ſaid Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah, and Shebna, and Joah, unto Rab-ſhakeh, Speak, I pray thee, to thy ſervants in the Syrian language, (for we underſtand it) and talk not with us in the Jews language in the eares of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rab-ſhakeh ſaid unto them, Hath my maſter ſent me to thy maſter, and to thee, to ſpeak theſe words? hath he not ſent me to the men which ſit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink † their own piſſe with you?

28 Then Rabſhakeh ſtood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and ſpake, ſaying, Heare the word of the great king, the king of Aſſyria.

29 Thus ſaith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he ſhall not be able to deliver you out of his hands:

‡ Or, deceiveth.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered at all his land out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

34 Where are the gods of Hamath, and of Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah? have they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the countreys, that have delivered their countrey out of mine hand, that the [m] LORD ſhould deliver Jeruſalem out of mine hand?

m This is an execrable blaſphemy againſt the true God, to make him equall with the idols of other nations: therefore God did moſt ſharpely puniſh it.

36 But the people held their peace, and anſwered him not a word: for the kings commandment was, ſaying, Anſwer him not.

37 Then came Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rab-ſhakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Hezekiah mourning, ſendeth to Iſaiah to pray for them. 6 Iſaiah conforteth them. 8 Sennacherib going to encounter Tirhakah, ſendeth a blaſphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiah his prayer. 20 Iſaiah his propheſie of the pride and deſtruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 35 An angel ſlayeth the Aſſyrians. 36 Sennacherib is ſlain at Niniveh by his own ſonnes.

* Iſa. 37, 1.

AND * it came to paſſe when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himſelf with ſackcloth, and went into the houſe of the LORD.

2 And he ſent Eliakim, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and the elders of the prieſts, covered with ſackcloth, to  Iſaiah the prophet the ſonne of Amoz.

* Luke 3, 4. called Eſaias. a To heare ſome new propheſie, and to have comfort of him. ‡ Or, provocation. b The dangers are ſo great that we can neither avenge this blaſphemie, nor help our ſelves, no more than a woman in her travail.

3 And they ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke and ‡ blaſphemie: for the children are come to the [b] birth, and there is not ſtrength to bring forth.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will heare all the words of Rab-ſhakeh, whom the king of Aſſyria his maſter hath ſent to reproch the living God; and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the [c] remnant that are † left.

c Meaning, for Jeruſalem, which onely remained of all the cities of Judah. † Heb. found.

5 So the ſervants of king Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

6 ¶ And Iſaiah ſaid unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to your maſter, Thus ſaith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words which thou haſt heard, with which the ſervants of the king of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

d The Lord can with one blaſt blow away all the ſtrength of man, and turn it into duſt.

7 Behold, I will ſend a [d] blaſt upon him, and he ſhall heare a rumour, and ſhall return to his own land, and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rab-ſhakeh returned, and found the king of Aſſyria warring againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

e That is, Sennacherib. f For the kings of Ethiopia, and Egypt joyned together againſt the king of Aſſyria, because of his oppreſſion of other countries. g The more neer that the wicked are to their deſtruction, the more they blaſpheme.

9 And when [e] he heard ſay of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, [f] Behold, he is come out to fight againſt thee: he ſent meſſengers again unto Hezekiah, ſaying, 10 Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to Hezekiah king of Judah, ſaying, Let not [g] thy God in whom thou truſteſt, deceive thee, ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

11 Behold, thou haſt heard what the kings of Aſſyria have done to all lands, by deſtroying them utterly: and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have deſtroyed; as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Thelaſar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the citie of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the houſe of the LORD, and ſpread it before the [h] LORD.

h Before the ark of the covenant. i He ſheweth what is the true refuge and ſuccour in all dangers, to wit, to flee to the Lord by earneſt prayer.

15 And Hezekiah [i] prayed before the LORD, and ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdomes of the earth, thou haſt made heaven and earth.

k Shew by effect that thou wilt not ſuffer thy name to be blaſphemed.

16 LORD, [k] bowe down thine eare, and heare: open, LORD, thine eyes, and ſee: and heare the words of Sennacherib, which hath ſent him to reproach the [l] living God.

l By this title he diſcerneth God from all idols and falſe gods.

17 Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Aſſyria, have deſtroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And have † caſt their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and ſtone: therefore they have deſtroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beſeech thee, ſave thou us out of his hand, that all the [m] kingdomes of the earth may know that thou art the LORD God, even thou onely.

m He ſheweth for what end the faithfull deſire of God to be delivered: to wit, that he may be glorified by their deliverance.

20 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſent to Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, That which thou haſt prayed to me againſt Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, I have heard.

21 This

21 This is the word that the LORD hath spoken concerning him, The [n] virgin, the daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn, the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

22 Whom hast thou reproached, and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lift up thine eyes on high? even [o] against the holy one of Israel.

23 † By thy messengers thou hast reproached the LORD, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut down † the tall cedar-trees thereof, and the choice firre-trees thereof: and I will enter into the [p] lodgings of his borders, and into ‡ the forrest of his Carmel.

24 I have digged and drunk strange waters, and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of ‡ besieged places.

25 ‡ Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? [q] now have I brought it to passe that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps.

26 [r] Therefore their inhabitants were † of small power, they were dismaid & confounded, they were as the grasse of the field, and as the green herb, as the grasse on the house tops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.

27 But I know thy ‡ abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

28 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult is come up into mine eares, therefore I will put my [s] hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

29 And this shall be [t] a signe unto thee, Ye shall eat this yeare such things as grow of themselves, and in the second yeare that which springeth of the same, and in the third yeare sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And † the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall yet again take [u] root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and † they that escape out of mount Zion: the [x] zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

32 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this citie, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a bank against it.

33 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the LORD.

34 For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake.

35 ¶ And * it came to passe that night, that the angel of the LORD went out, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians, an hundred fourescore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

37 And it came to passe as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer * his sonnes [y] smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of † Armenia, and Esarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XX.

1 Hezekiah having received a message of death, by prayer hath his life lengthened. 8 The sunne goeth ten degrees backward, for a signe of that promise. 12 Berodach-baladan sending to visit Hezekiah, because of the wonder, hath notice of his treasures. 14 Isaiah understanding thereof, foretelleth the Babylonian captivity. 20 Manasseh succeedeth Hezekiah.

IN * those dayes was Hezekiah sick unto death: and the prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, † Set thine house in order, for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then he turned his face to the [a] wall, and prayed unto the LORD, saying,

3 I beseech thee, O LORD, remember now, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with [b] a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah [c] wept † sore.

4 And it came to passe afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle ‡ court, that the word of the LORD came to him, saying,

5 Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard [d] thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee; on the third day thou shalt go up unto the [e] house of the LORD.

6 And I will adde unto thy dayes fifteen yeares, and I will deliver thee, and this city, out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city for mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake.

7 And Isaiah said, Take a [f] lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boyl, and he recovered.

8 ¶ And Hezekiah said unto Isaiah, What shall be the signe that the LORD will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the LORD the third day.

9 And Isaiah said, This signe shalt thou have of the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing that he hath spoken: shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but [g] let the shadow return backward ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the prophet cried unto the LORD, and * he brought the shadow ten degrees backward, by which it had gone down in the † [h] diall of Ahaz.

19 ¶ Amon was twenty and two yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned two yeares in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Meſhullemeth, the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20 And

20 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as his father Manaſſeh did.

21 And he walked in all the way that his father walked in, and ſerved the idols that his father ſerved, and worſhipped them:

22 And he forſook the LORD God of his fathers, and walked not in the [g] way of the LORD.

g That is, according to his commandments.

23 ¶ And the ſervants of Amon conſpired againſt him, and ſlew the king in his own houſe.

24 And the people of the land ſlew all them that had conſpired againſt king Amon, and the people of the land made Joſiah his ſonne king in his ſtead.

25 Now the reſt of the acts of Amon which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

26 And he was buried in his ſepulchre, in the garden of Uzzah, and * Joſiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

* Mat. 1, 10. called Joſias.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Joſiah his good reigne. 3 He taketh care for the repair of the temple. 8 Hilkiah having found a book of the law, Joſiah ſendeth to Huldah to enquire of the Lord. 15 Huldah propheſieth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, but reſpite thereof in Joſiahs time.

* 2 Chron. 34, 1. JOſiah * was eight yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned thirty and one yeares in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiah of Boſcath.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, and [a] walked in all the way of David his father, and turned not aſide to the right hand or to the left.

a His zeal was propheſied of, and his name mentioned by Jaddo the prophet, more than three hundred years before, 1 Kings 13, 2. and being but eight year old, he ſought the God of his father David, 2 Chron. 34, 3.

3 ¶ And it came to paſſe in the eighteenth yeare of king Joſiah, that the king ſent Shaphan the ſonne of Azaliah, the ſonne of Meſhullam the ſcribe, to the houſe of the LORD, ſaying,

4 Goup to Hilkiah the high prieſt, that he may ſumme the ſilver which is brought into the houſe of the LORD, which the keepers of the † [b] doore have gathered of the people.

b Certain of the prieſts were appointed to this office, as chap. 12, 9.

5 And let them [c] deliver it into the hand of the doers of the work, that have the overſight of the houſe of the LORD: and let them give it to the doers of the work, which is in the houſe of the LORD, to repair the breaches of the houſe.

c From the time of Joaſh for the ſpace of 224 years the temple remained without reparation through the negligence of the prieſts. This declareth, that they that have a charge, and execute it not, ought to have it taken from them.

6 Unto carpenters, and builders, and maſons, and to buy timber and hewen ſtone to repair the houſe:

7 Howbeit, there was no reckoning made with them of the money that was delivered into their hand, becauſe they [d] dealt faithfully.

d So God provided him of faithfull ſervants, ſeeing he went about ſo zealouſly to ſet forth the work of God.

8 ¶ And Hilkiah the high prieſt ſaid unto Shaphan the ſcribe, I have found the [e] book of the law in the houſe of the LORD: and Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

e This was the copie that Moſes left them, as appeareth, 2 Chron. 34, 14. which either by the negligence of the prieſts had been loſt, or elſe by the wickednes of idolatrous kings had been aboliſhed.

9 And Shaphan the ſcribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and ſaid, Thy ſervants have † gathered the money that was found in the houſe, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the overſight of the houſe of the LORD.

10 And Saphan the ſcribe ſhewed the king, ſaying, Hilkiah the prieſt hath delivered me a book: and Saphan read it before the king.

11 And it came to paſſe when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

12 And the king commanded Hilkiah the prieſt, and Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan, and Achbor the ſonne of Michaiah, and Shaphan the ſcribe, and Aſahiah a ſervant of the kings, ſaying, 13 Go ye, [f] enquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled againſt us, becauſe our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us.

f Meaning, to ſome prophet whom God revealeth the knowledge of things unto, as Jerem. 21, 1. though at other times they enquired of the Lord by Uriam and Thummim.

14 So Hilkiah the prieſt, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Aſahiah, went unto Huldah the propheteſſe, the wife of Shullum the ſonne of Tikvah, the ſon of Harhas, keeper of the † wardrobe, (now ſhe dwelt in Jeruſalem ‡ in the [g] colledge) and they communed with her.

† Heb. garments.
‡ Or, in the ſecond part.
g Or the houſe of doctrine which was neare to the temple, and where the learned aſſembled to entreat of the ſcriptures, and the doctrine of the prophets.

15 ¶ And ſhe ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Tell the man that ſent you to me,

16 Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the words of the book which the king of Judah hath read.

17 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have burnt incenſe unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the [h] works of their hands: therefore my wrath ſhall be kindled againſt this place, and ſhall not be quenched.

h The works of mans hand here ſignifie, all that man inventeth beſide the word of God, which are abominable in Gods ſervice.

18 But to the king of Judah which ſent you to enquire of the LORD, thus ſhall ye ſay to him, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, As touching the words which thou haſt heard;

19 Becauſe thine heart was [i] tender, and thou haſt humbled thy ſelf before the LORD, when thou heardeſt what I ſpake againſt this place, and againſt the inhabitants thereof, that they ſhould become a deſolation, and a curſe, and haſt rent thy clothes, and wept before me: I alſo have heard thee, ſaith the LORD.

i Meaning, that he did repent, as they that do not repent, are ſaid to harden their heart, Pſal. 95, 8.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be gathered into thy grave in [k] peace, and thine eyes ſhall not ſee all the evil which I will bring upon this place. And they brought the king word again.

k Whereupon we may gather that the anger of God is ready againſt the wicked, when God taketh his ſervants out of this world.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Joſiah cauſeth the book to be read in a ſolemn aſſembly. 3 He reneweth the covenant of the Lord. 4 He deſtroyeth idolatry. 15 He burnt dead mens bones upon the altar of Beth-el, as was fore-propheſied. 21 He kept a moſt ſolemn paſſe-over. 24 He put away witches, and all abomination. 26 Gods finall wrath againſt Iudah. 29 Joſiah provoking Pharaoh Nechoh, is ſlain at Megiddo. 31 Iehoahaz ſucceeding him, is impriſoned by Pharaoh Nechoh, who made Iehoiakim king. 36 Iehoiakim his wicked reigne.

* 2 Chron. 34, 30.

AND * the king [a] ſent, and they gathered unto him all the elders of Judah and of Jeruſalem.

a Becauſe he ſaw the great plagues of God that were threatned, he knew no more ſpeedy way to avoid them, than to turn to God by repentance, which cannot come but of faith, and faith by hearing of the word of God.

2 And

2 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people † both small and great: and he read in their eares all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the LORD.

3 ¶ And the king stood by a [b] pillar, & made a [c] covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant, that were written in this book: & all the people stood to the covenant.

b Where the king had his place, Chap. 11, 14.
c As Ioshua did, Iosh. 24. 22, 25.

4 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the [d] priests of the second order, and the keepers of the doore, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD, all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven: and he burnt them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried the [e] ashes of them unto Beth-el.

d Meaning, them which were next in dignitie to the high priest.
e In contempt of that altar which Jeroboam had there built to sacrifice to his calves.

5 And he † put down the † [f] idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense in the high places, in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem, them also that burnt incense unto Baal, to the sunne, and to the moon, and to the ‡ planets, and to all the host of heaven.

f Meaning, the priests of Baal, which were called Chemarims, either because they ware black garments: or els were smoked with burning incense to idols.
‡ Or, twelve signes, or constellations.

6 And he brought out the * [g] grove from the house of the LORD, without Jerusalem, unto the brook Kidron, and burnt it at the brook Kidron, and stampt it small to powder, and cast the powder thereof upon the [h] graves of the children of the people.

* Chap. 21, 7.
g He removed the grove which idolaters for devotion had planted neare unto the temple, contrary to the commandement of the Lord, Deut. 16, 21, or as some read, the similitude of a grove which was hanged in the temple.
h Both in contempt of the idols and reproch of them which had worshipped them in their lives.

7 And he brake down the houses of the sodomites that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove † hangings for the grove.

† Heb. houses.

8 And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burnt incense, from Geba to Beer-sheba, and brake down the high places of the gates that were in the entring in of the gate of Ioshua the governour of the city, which were on a mans left hand at the gate of the city.

i Because that those that had forsaken the Lord to serve idols were not meet to minister in the service of the Lord, for the instruction of others.

9 Nevertheless, the [i] priests of the high places came not up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they did eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled [k] Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man might make his sonne or his daughter to passe through the fire to Molech.

k Which was a valley neare to Jerusalem, and signifieth a tabret, because they smote on the tabret, while their children were burning, that their crie should not be heard, Levit. 18, 21, where after Iosiah commanded cations to be cast in contempt thereof.

11 And he took away the [l] horses that the kings of Judah had given to the sunne, at the entring in of the house of the LORD, by the chamber of Nathan-melech the ‡ chamberlain, which was in the suburbs, and burnt the chariots of the sunne with fire.

l The idolatrous kings had dedicated horses and chariots to the sun, either to carrie the image thereof about, as the heathen did, or else to sacrifice them, as a sacrifice most agreeable.
‡ Or, eunuch, or officer.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the upper chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which * Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, did the king beat down, and ‡ brake them down from thence, and cast the dust of them into the brook Kidron.

* Chap. 21, 5.
‡ Or, ran from thence.

13 And the high places that were before Jerusalem, which were on the right hand of "the [m] mount of corruption, which * Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon, did the king defile.

" That is, the mount of olives.
m That was the mount of olives, so called, because it was full of idols.
* 1 Kings 11, 7.

14 And he brake in pieces the † images, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

† Heb. statues.

15 ¶ Moreover, the [n] altar that was at Beth-el, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sinne, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down, and burnt the high place, and stampt it small to powder, and burnt the grove.

n Which Jeroboam had built in Israel, 1 King. 12. 28, 29.

16 And as Iosiah turned himself, he spied the sepulchres that were there in the mount, and sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burnt them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the * word of the LORD which the ° man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

* 1 Kings. 13, 2.
o According to the prophecie of Iaddo, 1 Kings 13, 2.

17 Then he said, What title is that that I see? And the men of the citie told him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Judah, and proclaimed these things that thou hast done against the altar of Beth-el.

18 And he said, Let him alone, let no man move his bones: so they let his bones † alone, with the bones of the [p] prophet that came out of Samaria.

† Heb. to escape.
p Meaning, the prophet which came after him, and caused him to eat contrary to the commandment of the Lord, which were both two buried in one grave, 1 King. 13, 31.

19 And all the houses also of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the LORD to anger, Iosiah took away, and did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Beth-el.

20 And he ‡ slew all the priests of the high places that were there, upon the altars, and burnt mens bones upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

‡ Or, sacrificed.

21 ¶ And the king commanded all the people, saying, * Keep the passeover unto the LORD, your God, * as it is written in this book of the covenant.

* 2 Chron. 35, 7. 1 Esd. 1, 1.
* Exod. 12, 3. Deut. 16, 2.

22 Surely there was not holden [q] such a passeover, from the dayes of the judges that judged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the kings of Israel, nor of the kings of Judah:

q For the multitude and zeal of the people, with the great preparation.

23 But in the eighteenth year of king Iosiah wherein this passeover was holden to the LORD in Jerusalem.

24 ¶ Moreover, the workers with familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the ‡ images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Judah, & in Jerusalem, did Iosiah put away, that he might perform the words of * the law, which were written in the book book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

25 And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the LORD with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

26 ¶ Notwithstanding, the LORD turned not from the [r] fierceness of his great wrath, wherewith his anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the [†] provocations that Manasseh had provoked him withall.

r Because of the wicked heart of the people, which would not turn unto him by repentance.

28 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written, in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

* 2 Chron. 35. 20.

29 ¶ * In his dayes Pharaoh Nechoh king of Egypt went up against the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates: and king Josiah [s] went against him, and he slew him at Megiddo, when he had seen him.

s Because he passed through his countrey, he feared lest he would have done him harm, and therefore would have stayed him, yet he consulted not with the Lord, and therefore was slain.

30 And his servants carried him in a chariot dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own sepulchre: and * the people of the land took Jehoahaz the sonne of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his fathers stead.

* 2 Chron. 36, 1.

31 ¶ Jehoahaz was twenty and three yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his [t] fathers had done.

t Meaning, the wicked kings before.

33 And Pharaoh Nechoh put him in bands at [u] Riblah, in the land of Hamath, [‡] that he might not reigne in Jerusalem, and [†] put the land to a tribute of an hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

34 And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim the sonne of Josiah king, in the room of Josiah his father, and turned his name to * Jehoiakim, and took Jehoahaz away: and he came to Egypt, and died there.

* Matt. 1, 11. called Jakim.

35 And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, but he taxed the land to give the money according to the commandment of Pharaoh: he exacted the silver and the gold of the people of the land, of every one according to his taxation, to give it unto Pharaoh Nechoh.

36 ¶ Jehoiakim was twenty and five yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yeares in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Zebudah, the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

IN his [a] dayes Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three yeares: then he turned and rebelled against him.

a In the end of the third yeare of his reigne, and in the beginning of the fourth, Dan. 1, 1.

2 And the LORD sent against him bands of the Caldees, and bands of the Syrians, and bands of the Moabites, and bands of the children of Ammon, and sent them against Judah to destroy it, * according to the word of the LORD, which he spake [†] by his servants the prophets.

* Chap. 20, 17. and 23, 27.
† Heb. by the hand of.

3 Surely at the [b] commandment of the LORD came this upon Judah, to remove them out of his sight, for the sinnes of Manasseh, according to all that he did:

b Though God used these wicked tyrants to execute his just judgement, yet they are not to be excused, because they proceeded of ambition and malice.

4 And also for the innocent bloud that he shed, (for he filled Jerusalem with innocent bloud) which the LORD would not pardon.

5 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

6 So Jehoiakim * slept with his fathers: and Jehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

c Not that he was buried with his fathers, but he died in the way, as they led him prisoner toward Babylon: read Jer. 22, 19.

7 And the king of Egypt came not again any more out of his land: for the king of Babylon had taken from the river of Egypt unto the river Euphrates, all that pertained to the king of Egypt.

8 ¶ Jehoiachin was eighteen yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Jerusalem three moneths: and his mothers name was Nehushta the daughter of Elnathan, of Jerusalem.

9 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.

14 And he carrred away all Jerusalem, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valour, even ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen, and smiths: none remained, save the poorest sort of the people of the land.

15 And * he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon, and the kings mother, and the kings wives, and his ‡ officers, and the mighty of the land, thoſe carried he into captivity, from Jeruſalem to Babylon.

16 And all the men of might, even ſeven thouſand, and craftſmen, and ſmiths a thouſand, all that were ſtrong and apt for warre, even them the king of Babylon brought captive to Babylon.

17 ¶ And * the king of Babylon made Mattaniah his fathers brother king in his ſtead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 * Zedekiah was twenty and one yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yeares in Jeruſalem; and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Jeruſalem is beſieged. 4 Zedekiah taken, his ſonnes ſlain, his eyes put out. 8 Nebuzar-adan defaceth the city, carrieth the remnant, except a few poore labourers, into captivity; 13 ſpoileth and carrieth away the treaſures. 18 The nobles are ſlain at Riblah. 22 Gedaliah, who was ſet over them that remained, being ſlain, the reſt flee into Egypt. 27 Evilmerodach advanceth Jehoiachin in his court.

AND it came to paſſe * in the [a] ninth yeare of his reigne, in the [b] tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his hoſt, againſt Jeruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and they built forts againſt it round about.

2 And the citie was beſieged unto the eleventh yeare of king Zedekiah.

3 And on the ninth day of the * fourth moneth, the famine [c] prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 ¶ And the city was broken up, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the way of the [d] gate, between two walls, which is by the kings garden, (now the Caldees were againſt the city round about) and the king went the way toward the plain.

5 And the army of the Caldees purſued after the king, & overtook him in the plains of Jericho: & all his army were ſcattered from him.

6 So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon, to Riblah, and they † gave [e] judgement upon him.

7 And they ſlew the ſonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes, and † put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of braſſe, and carried him to Babylon.

8 ¶ And in the fifth moneth, on the [f] ſeventh day of the moneth (which is the nineteenth yeare of king Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) came Nebuzar-adan ‡ captain of the guard, a ſervant of the king of Babylon, unto Jeruſalem:

9 And he burnt the houſe of the LORD, and the kings houſe, and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and every great mans houſe burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Caldees that were with the captain of the guard, brake down the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

11 Now the reſt of the people that were left in the city, and the † fugitives that † fell away to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poore of the land, to be vine-dreſſers, and huſbandmen.

13 And * the pillars of braſſe that were in the houſe of the LORD, and the baſes, and the braſen ſea that was in the houſe of the LORD, did the Caldees break in pieces, and carried the braſſe of them to Babylon.

14 And the [h] pots, and the ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſſe wherewith they miniſtred, took they away.

15 And the fire-pans, and the bowls, and ſuch things as were of gold, in gold, and of ſilver, in ſilver, the captain of the guard took away.

16 The two pillars, † one ſea, and the baſes which Solomon had made for the houſe of the LORD, the braſſe of all theſe veſſels was without weight.

17 * The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the chapiter upon it was braſſe: and the height of the chapiter three cubits: and the wreathen-work, and pomegranates upon the chapiter round about, all of braſſe: and like unto theſe had the ſecond pillar with wreathen-work.

18 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief prieſt, and Zephaniah the [i] ſecond prieſt, and the three keepers of the † doore.

19 And out of the city he took an ‡ officer, that was ſet over the men of warre, and [k] five men of them that † were in the kings preſence, which were found in the city, and the ‡ principall ſcribe of the hoſt, which muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the city.

20 And Nebuzar-adan captain of the guard took theſe, and brought them to the king of Babylon, to Riblah.

21 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and ſlew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath: ſo Judah was carried away out of their land.

22 ¶ * And as for the people that remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, even over them he made Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan, ruler.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Jewes comprehend both theſe books in one, which the Grecians, becauſe of the length, divide into two: and they are called Chronicles, becauſe they note briefly the hiſtories from Adam to the return from their captivitie in Babylon. But theſe are not thoſe books of Chronicles, which are ſo oft mentioned in the books of the kings of Judah and Iſrael, which did at large ſet forth the ſtorie of both the Kingdomes, and afterward periſhed in the captivitie: but an abridgment of the ſame, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Jewes write, after their return from Babylon. This firſt book containeth a brief rehearſall of the children of Adam unto Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob, and the twelve Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah, and of the reigne of David, becauſe Chriſt came of him according to the fleſh. And therefore it ſetteth forth more amply his acts, both concerning civill governement, and alſo the adminiſtration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good ſucceſſe whereof he rejoyceth, and giveth thanks to the Lord.

1 David by a generall consent is made king at Hebron. 4 He winneth the castle of Zion from the Jebusites, by Joabs valour. 10 A catalogue of Davids mighty men.

* 2 Sam. 5,1. a This was after the death of Ishbosheth Sauls son, when David had reigned over Judah seven yeares and six moneths in Hebron, 2 Sam. 5,5.
THen * all Israel [a] gathered themselves to David unto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh.

2 And Moreover † in time past, even when Saul was king, thou wast he that leddest out, and broughtest in Israel: and the LORD thy God said unto thee, Thou shalt ‡ feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be ruler over my people Israel.

3 Therefore came all the elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and David made a covenant with them in Hebron, before the LORD, and they anointed David king over Israel, according to the word of the LORD, † Heb. by the hand of. * 1 Sam. 16,13. * 2 Sam. 5,6.

† by * Samuel.

4 ¶ And David and all Israel * went to Jerusalem which is Jebus, where the Jebusites, were, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus said to David, Thou shalt not come hither. Nevertheless, David took the castle of Zion, which is the city of David.

† Heb. head.
6 And David said, whosoever smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be † chief and captain. So Joab the sonne of Zeruiah went first up, and was chief.

" That is, Zion, 2 Sam. 5,7.
7 And David dwelt in the castle, therefore they called " it, The citie of David.

† Heb. revived.
8 And he built the citie round about, even from Millo round about: and Joab † repaired the rest of the citie.

† Heb. went in going and increasing. * 2 Sam. 23,8.
9 So David † waxed greater and greater: for the LORD of hosts was with him.

‡ Or, hid strongly with him.
10 ¶ * These also are the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who ‡ strengthened themselves with him in his kingdome, and with all Israel to make him king according to the word of the LORD, concerning Israel.

‡ Or, sonne of Hachmoni. b Meaning, the most excellent and best esteemed for his valiantnes: some read, the chief of the princes.
11 And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had; Jashobeam ‡ an Hachmonite, the [b] chief of the captains, he lift up his spear against three hundred, slain by him at one time.

‡ Or, Ephes-dammim, 1 Sam. 17,1.
13 He was with David at ‡ Pas-dammim, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battel, where was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled from before the Philistines.

c This act is referred to Shammah, 2 Sam. 23, 11, which seemeth was the chiefest of these. ‡ Or, flood. ‡ Or, salvation. ‡ Or, three captains over the thirty. d That is, Eleazar and his two companions. * 2 Sam. 23,13.
14 And [c] they ‡ set themselves in the midst of that parcel, and delivered it, and slew the Philistines; and the LORD saved them by a great ‡ deliverance.

15 ¶ Now ‡ three of the [d] thirty captains * went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam, and the host of the Philistines encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And David was then in the hold, and the Philistines garison was then at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed and said, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, that is at the gate!

18 And the three brake through the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David: but David would not drink of it, but poured it out to the LORD,

19 And said, My God forbid it me, that I should do this thing: shall I drink the [e] bloud of these men † that have put their lives in jeopardy? for with the jeopardy of their lives they brought it: therefore he would not drink it. These things did these three mightiest.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Joab, he was chief of the three: for lifting up his spear against three hundred, he slew them, and had a name among the three.

* 2 Sam. 23,19. &c.
21 * Of the three, he was more honourable than the two, for he was their captain; howbeit, he attained not unto the first three.

24 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and had the name among the three mighties.

25 Behold, he was honourable among the thirty, but attained not to the [f] first three: and David set him over his guard.

f Meaning, those three which brought the water to David.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Judah, to the hold unto David.

CHAP. XIII.

1 David fetcheth the ark with great solemnitie from Kirjath-jearim. 9 Uzzah being smitten, the ark is left at the house of Obed-edom.

AND David consulted with the captains of thousands, and hundreds, and with every leader.

2 And David said unto all the congregation of Israel, If it seem good unto you, and that it be of the LORD our God, † let us send abroad unto our brethren every where, that are left in all the land of Israel, and with them also to the priests and Levites which are † in their cities and suburbs, that they may gather themselves unto us.

† Heb. in the cities of their suburbs.

3 And let us † bring again the [a] ark of our God to us: for we enquired not at it in the dayes of Saul.

† Heb. bring about.

a His first care was to restore religion, which had in Sauls dayes been corrupted and neglected.

4 And all the congregation said, that they would do so; for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

5 So * David gathered all Israel together, from Shihor of Egypt, even unto the entring of Hemath, to bring the ark of God from [b] Kirjath-jearim.

* 1 Sam. 7, 1. 2 Sam. 6, 2.

b That is, from Gibea, where the inhabitants of Kirjath-jearim had placed it in the house of Abinadab, 2 Sam. 6, 3. * Josh. 15, 9.

6 And David went up, and all Israel to * Baalah, that is, to Kirjath-jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up thence the ark of God the LORD, that dwelleth between the cherubims, whose name is called on it.

7 And they † carried the ark of God in a new cart, out of the house of Abinadab: and [c] Uzza and Ahio drave the cart.

† Heb. made the ark to ride.

c Both the sons of Abinadab.

8 And David and all Israel played [d] before God with all their might, and with † singing and with harps, and with psalteries, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

d That is, before the ark where God shewed himself: so that the signe is taken for the thing signified, which is comition to all sacraments both in the old and new Testament.

† Heb. sanges.

9 ¶ And when they came unto the threshing-floore of [e] Chidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the ark, for the oxen ‡ stumbled.

‡ Or, shook it

10 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzza, and he smote him * because he put his hand to the ark: and there he died [f] before God.

11 And David was displeased, because the LORD had made a breach upon Uzza; wherefore that place is called " Perez-uzza to this day.

" That is, breach of Uzza.

12 And David was afraid of God that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of God home to me?

13 So David † brought not the ark home to himself to the citie of David, but carried it aside into the house of [g] Obed-edom the Gittite.

2 And David perceived that the LORD had confirmed him king over Israel, for his kingdome was lift up on high, because of his people [a] Israel.

a Because of Gods promise made to the people of Israel.

3 ¶ And David took † more wives at Jerusalem: and David begat more sonnes and daughters.

4 Now theſe are the names of his children which he had in Jeruſalem; Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 And Ibhar, and Eliſhua, and [b] Elpalet,

6 And Noga, and Nepheg, and Japhia,

7 And Eliſhama, and ‡ Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 ¶ And when the Philiſtines heard that * David was anointed king over all Iſrael, all the Philiſtines went up to ſeek David: and David heard of it, and went out againſt them.

9 And the Philiſtines came and ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 And David enquired of God, ſaying, Shall I go up againſt the Philiſtines? and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD ſaid unto him, Go up, for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal-perazim, and David ſmote them there. Then David ſaid, God hath broken in upon mine enemies by mine hand, like the breaking forth of waters: therefore they called the name of that place, [c] Baal-perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burnt with fire.

13 And the Philiſtines yet again ſpread themſelves abroad in the valley, 14 Therefore David enquired again of God: and God ſaid unto him, Go not up after them, turn away from them, * and come upon them over againſt the mulberry-trees.

15 And it ſhall be, when thou ſhalt heare a ſound of going in the tops of the mulberry-trees, that then thou ſhalt go out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to ſmite the hoſt of the Philiſtines.

16 David therefore did as God commanded him: and they ſmote the hoſt of the Philiſtines from Gibeon even to Gazer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands, and the LORD brought the fear of him upon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 David having prepared a place for the ark, ordereth the prieſts and Levites to bring it from Obed-edom. 25 He performeth the ſolemnity thereof with great joy. 29 Michal deſpiſeth him.

AND David made him houſes in the [a] city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David ſaid, † None ought to carry the * ark of God, but the Levites: for them hath the LORD choſen to carry the ark of God, and to miniſter unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Iſrael together to Jeruſalem, to bring up the [b] ark of the LORD unto his place, which he had prepared for it.

4 And David aſſembled the children of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the ſonnes of Kohath: Uriel the chief, and his ‡ brethren an hundred and twenty.

6 Of the ſonnes of Merari: Aſaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twenty.

7 Of the ſonnes of Gerſhom, Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirty.

8 Of the ſonnes of [c] Elizaphan: Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the ſonnes of [d] Hebron: Eliel the chief, and his brethren foureſcore.

10 Of the ſonnes of Uzziel: Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelve.

11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the prieſts, and for the Levites, for Uriel, Aſaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab, 12 And ſaid unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Levites: [e] ſanctifie your ſelves both ye and your brethren, that you may bring up the ark of the LORD God of Iſrael, unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For becauſe ye did it not at the firſt, the LORD our God made a breach upon us, for that we ſought him not after the due [f] order.

14 So the prieſts and the Levites ſanctified themſelves to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Iſrael.

15 And the children of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their ſhoulders, with the ſtaves thereon, as * Moſes commanded, according to the word of the LORD.

16 And David ſpake to the chief of the Levites, to appoint their brethren to be the ſingers with [g] inſtruments of muſick, pſalteries, and harps, and cymbals, ſounding, by lifting up the voice with joy.

17 So the Levites appointed * Heman the ſonne of Joel: and of his brethren, * Aſaph the ſonne of Berechiah: and of the ſonnes of Merari their brethren, * Ethan the ſonne of Kuſhaiah.

18 And with them their brethren of the [h] ſecond degree, Zachariah, Ben, and Jaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaſiah, and Mattithiah, and Eliphaleh, and Mikniah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, the porters.

19 So the ſingers, Heman, Aſaph, and Ethan, were appointed to ſound with cymbals of braſſe;

20 And Zachariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaſiah, and Benaiah, with pſalteries on [i] Alamoth;

21 And Mattithiah, and Eliphaleh, and Mikniah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, and Azzaziah, with harps ‡ on the [k] Sheminith to excell.

22 And Chenaniah [l] chief of the Levites ‡ was for † ſong: he inſtructed about the ſong, becauſe he was skilfull.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were doore-keepers for the ark.

24 And Shebaniah, and Jehoſhaphat, and Nathaneel, and Amaſhai, and Zachariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the prieſts, did blow with the trumpets before the ark of God: and [m] Obed-edom and Jehiah were doore-keepers for the ark.

28 Give unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and ſtrength.

29 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering and come before him, worſhip the LORD in the beauty of holineſſe.

30 [n] Fear before him all the earth: the world alſo ſhall be ſtable, that it be not moved.

n Humble your ſelves under the mighty hand of God.

31 Let the [o] heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoyce: and let men ſay among the nations, The LORD reigneth.

o He exhorteth the dum creatures to rejoyce with him in conſidering the greatneſſe of the grace of God.

32 Let the ſea roar, and the fulneſſe thereof: let the fields rejoyce, and all that is therein.

33 Then ſhall the trees of the wood ſing out at the preſence of the LORD, becauſe he cometh to [p] judge the earth.

34 * O give thanks to the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

* Pſal. 107, 1. and 118, 1. and 136, 1.

35 And ſay ye, Save us, O God of our ſalvation, and gather us together, and deliver us from the heathen, that we may give thanks to thy holy name, and [q] glory in thy praiſe.

q He eſteemeth this to be the chiefeſt felicity of man.

36 Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael for ever and ever: and all * the people ſaid, [r] Amen, and praiſed the LORD.

* Deut. 27, 15.

r He willeth all the people both in heart and mouth to conſent to theſe praiſes.

37 ¶ So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, Aſaph and his brethren, to miniſter before the ark continually, as every dayes work required:

38 And Obed-edom, with their brethren, threeſcore and eight: Obed-edom alſo the ſonne of Jeduthun, and Hoſah to be porters:

39 And Zadok the prieſt and his brethren the prieſts, before the tabernacle of the LORD, in the high place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt-offerings unto the LORD, upon the altar of the burnt-offerings continually † morning and evening, and to do according to all that is written in the law of the LORD, which he commanded Iſrael:

† Heb. in the morning, and in the evening.

41 And with ſ them Heman and Jeduthun, and the reſt that were choſen, who were expreſſed by name, to give thanks to the LORD, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever:

ſ With Zadok and the reſt of the prieſts.

42 And with them Heman and Jeduthun with trumpets and cymbals for thoſe that ſhould make a ſound, and with muſicall inſtruments of God: and the ſonnes of Jeduthun were † porters.

† Heb. for the gate.

43 And all the people departed every man to his houſe, and David returned to t bleſſe his houſe.

t Declaring that after our duty to God, we are chiefly bound to our own houſe, for the which, as for all other things, we ought to pray unto God, and inſtruct our families to praiſe his name.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Nathan firſt approving the purpoſe of David, to build God an houſe, 3 after by the word of God forbiddeth him. 11 He promiſeth him bleſſings and benefits in his ſeed. 16 Davids prayer and thanksgiving.

NOw * it came to paſſe, as David ſat in his houſe, that David ſaid to Nathan the prophet, Lo, I dwell in an houſe of a cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD remaineth under b curtains.

*2 Sam.7,1. &c.

a Well built and fair.

b That is, in tents covered with skins.

2 Then Nathan ſaid uuto David, c Do all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee.

c As yet God had not revealed to the prophet, what he purpoſed concerning David: therefore ſeeing God favoured David, he ſpake what he thought.

3 ¶ And it came to paſſe the d ſame night, that the word of God came to Nathan, ſaying, d After that Nathan had ſpoken to David.

4 Go and tell David my ſervant, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thou ſhalt not build me an houſe to dwell in.

5 For I have not dwelt in an houſe ſince the day that I brought up Iſrael, unto this day, but † have gone from e tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

† Heb. have been.

e That is, in a tent which removed to and fro.

6 Whereſoever I have f walked with all Iſrael, ſpake I a word to any of the judges of Iſrael, (whom I commanded to feed my people) ſaying, Why have ye not built me an houſe of cedars?

f Meaning, whereſoever his ark went, which was a ſigne of his preſence.

7 Now therefore thus ſhalt thou ſay unto my ſervant David, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I took thee from the ſheep-cote, even † from following the † ſheep, that thou ſhouldeſt be ruler over my people Iſrael:

† Heb. from after.

g Of a ſhepherd of ſheep, I made thee a ſhepherd of men, ſo that thou cameſt not to this dignity through thine own merits, but by my pure grace.

8 And I have been with thee whitherſoever thou haſt walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee, and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 Alſo I will ordain a place for my people Iſrael, and will h plant them, and they ſhall dwell in their place, and ſhall be moved no more; neither ſhall the children of wickedneſſe waſte them any more: (as at the beginning, h Make them ſure that they ſhall not remove.

10 And ſince that time that I commanded judges to be over my people Iſrael) moreover, I will ſubdue all thine enemies. Furthermore, I tell thee, that the LORD will i build thee an houſe.

i Will give thee great poſterity.

11 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe, when thy dayes be expired, that thou muſt go to be with thy fathers, that I will raiſe up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall be of thy ſonnes, and I will eſtabliſh his kingdome.

12 He ſhall build me an houſe, and I will ſtabliſh his throne for k ever, k That is, unto the coming of Chriſt for then theſe figures ſhould ceaſe.

13 * I will be his father, and he ſhall be my ſonne, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I took it from him that was before l thee.

* 1 Sam. 7, 14.

l Which was Saul.

14 But I will ſettle him in mine houſe, and in my kingdome for ever, and his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed for evermore.

15 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak unto David.

16 ¶ And David the king m came, and ſat before the LORD, and ſaid, Who am I, O LORD God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt brought me n hitherto?

m He went into the tent where the ark was, ſhewing what we ought to do when we receive any benefits of the Lord.

n Meaning, to this kingly eſtate.

17 And yet this was a ſmall thing in thine eyes, O God, for thou haſt alſo ſpoken of thy ſervants houſe for a great while to come, and haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of o high degree, O LORD God.

o Thou haſt promiſed a kingdome that ſhall continue to me and my poſterity, and that Chriſt ſhall proceed of me.

18 What can David ſpeak more to thee for the honour of thy ſervant? for thou knoweſt thy ſervant.

19 O LORD, for thy ſervants ſake, and according to thine p own heart haſt thou done all this greatneſſe, in making known all theſe † great things.

p Freely, and according to the purpoſe of thy will without any deſerving.

20 O LORD, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beſides thee, according to all that we have heard with our eares.

21 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people Iſrael, whom God went to redeem to be his own people, to make thee a name of greatneſſe and terribleneſſe, and by driving nations from before thy people whom thou haſt redeemed out of Egypt?

22 For thy people Iſrael didſt thou make thine own people for ever, and thou LORD, becameſt their God.

23 Therefore now LORD, let the thing that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſervant, and concerning his houſe, be eſtabliſhed for ever, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

24 Let it even be eſtabliſhed, that thy name may be magnified for ever, ſaying, The LORD of hoſts is the God of q Iſrael, even a God to Iſrael: and let the houſe of David thy ſervant be eſtabliſhed before thee.

q That is, he ſheweth himſelf indeed to be their God, by delivering them from dangers, and preſerving them.

25 For thou, O my God, † r haſt told thy ſervant, that thou wilt build him an houſe: therefore thy ſervant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

† Heb. haſt revealed the eare of thy ſervant.

r Thou haſt declared unto me by Nathan the propher.

26 And now, LORD, (thou art ſ God, and haſt promiſed this goodneſſe unto thy ſervant) ſ And canſt not breake promiſe.

27 Now therefore t let it pleaſe thee to bleſſe the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may be before thee for ever: for thou bleſſeſt, O LORD, and it ſhall be bleſſed for ever.

t Or, it hath pleaſed thee.

CHAP.

Chap. XVIII.

1 David subdueth the Philistines and the Moabites. 3 He smiteth Hadarezer and the Syrians. 9 Tou sendeth Hadoram with presents to blesse David. 11 The presents and the spoil, David dedicateth to God. 13 He putteth garisons in Edom. 14 Davids officers.

NOw after this, it came to passe, that David smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and took [a] Gath and her towns out of the hand of the Philistines.

a Which 2 Sam. 8, 1, is called the bridle of bondage, because it was a strong town, and kept the country round about in subjection.

2 And he smote Moab; and the Moabites became Davids servants, and brought gifts.

3 And David smote ‡ Hadarezer king of Zobah unto Hamath, as he went to stablish his dominion by the river Euphrates.

‡ Or, Hadadezer, in Sam.

4 And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: David also houghed all the chariot-horses, but reserved of them an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syrians of † Damascus came to help Hadarezer king of Zobah, David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men.

† Heb. Darmesek.

6 Then David put garisons in Syria Damascus, and the Syrians became Davids servants, and brought gifts. Thus the Lord [b] preserved David whithersoever he went.

b That is, in all things that he enterprised.

7 And David took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 Like wise from [c] Tibhath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought David very much brasse, wherewith * Solomon made the brasen sea, and the pillars, and the vessels of brasse.

c Which, 2 Sam. 8, 8, are called Berah and Berothai.
* 1 Kings 7, 23. 2 Chron. 4, 15.

9 ¶ Now when ‡ Tou king of Hamath heard how David had smitten all the host of Hadarezer king of Zobah:

‡ Or, Toi, 2 Sam. 8, 9.

10 He sent [d] Hadoram his sonne to king David, ‡ to enquire of his welfare, and † to congratulate him, because he had fought against Hadarezer, and smitten him, (for Hadarezer † had warred with Tou) and with him all manner of vessels of gold, and silver, and brasse.

d Called also Joram, 2 Sam. 8, 10.
‡ Or, to salute.
† Heb. to blesse.

† Heb. was the man of warres.

11 ¶ Them also king David dedicated unto the Lord, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all these nations: from [e] Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

e Because the Edomites and the Syrians joyned their power together, it is said, 2 Sam. 8, 12. that the Aramites were spoiled.

12 Moreover, Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah slew of the Edomites in the valley of salt, [f] eighteen thousand.

f Which is understood that Joab slew twelve thousand, as is in the title of the 60 Psalm and Abishai the rest.

13 ¶ And he put garisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became Davids servants. Thus the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went.

14 So David reigned over all Israel, and executed judgement and justice among all his people.

15 And Joab the sonne of Zeruiah was over the host, and Jehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud, ‡ recorder.

‡ Or, remembrancer.

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and ‡ Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar, were the priests, and ‡ Shavsha was scribe.

‡ Called Abimelech in Sam.
‡ Called Seraiah in Sam and Shisa, 1 Kings 4, 3.

17 And Benaia the sonne of Jehoiada was over the [g] Cherethites, and the Pelethites: and the sonnes of David were † chief about the king.

Chap. XIX.

1 Davids messengers sent to comfort Hanun the sonne of Nahash, are villanously entreated. 6 The Ammonites strengthened by the Syrians, are overcome by Joab and Abishai. 16 Shophach making a new supply of the Syrians, is slain by David.

NOw * it came to passe after this, that Nahash the king of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

* 2 Sam. 10, 1, &c.

2 And David said, I will shew kindnesse unto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his [a] father shewed kindnesse to me. And David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father: so the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanun, to comfort him.

a Because Nahash received David and his company, when Saul persecuted him, he would now shew pleasure his son for the same.

3 But the princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanun, † Thinkest thou that David doth honour thy father that he hath sent comforters unto thee? are not his servants come unto thee for to [b] search, and to overthrow, and to spie out the land?

† Heb. in thine eyes doth David, &c.

b Thus the malicious ever interpret the purpose of the godly in the worst sence.

4 Wherefore Hanun took Davids servants, and [c] shaved them, and cut [d] off their garments in the midst hard by their buttocks, and sent them away.

c They shaved off the half of their beards, 2 Sam. 10, 4.
d To put them to shame and villany, whereas the ambassadors ought to have been honoured: and because the Jews used to wear side garments and beards, they thus disfigured them, to make them odious to others.

5 Then there went certain, and told David how the men were served, and he sent to meet them (for the men were greatly ashamed) and the king said, Tarry at Jericho untill your beards be grown, and then return.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon saw that they had made themselves † odious to David, Hanun and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire them chariots and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria-maachah, and out of [e] Zobah.

† Heb. to stink.
e Which were five in all.

7 So they hired thirty and two thousand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people, who came and pitched before [f] Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to battel.

f Which was a city of the tribe of Reuben beyond Jordan.

8 And when David heard of it, he sent Joab, and all the host of the mighty men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battel in aray before the gate of the citie: and the kings that were come, were by themselves in the field.

10 Now when Joab saw that † the battel was set against him, before and behinde, he chose out of all the ‡ choice of Israel, and put them in aray against the Syrians.

† Heb. the face of the battel was.
‡ Or, young men.

11 And the rest of the people he delivered unto the hand of † Abishai his brother, and they set themselves in aray against the children of Ammon.

† Heb. Abishai.

12 And he said, If the Syrians be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, then I will help thee.

13 Be of good courage, and let us behave our ſelves valianrly for our [g] people, and for the cities of our God: and let the LORD do that which is good in his ſight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him, drew nigh before the Syrians, unto the battel; and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Syrians were fled, they likewiſe fled before Abiſhai his brother, and entred into the citie. Then Joab came to Jeruſalem.

16 ¶ And when the Syrians ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they ſent meſſengers, and drew forth the Syrians that were beyond the [h] river: and ‡ Shophach the captain of the hoſt of Hadarezer, went before them.

17 And it was told David, and he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſed over Jordan, and came upon them, and ſet the battel in aray againſt them: ſo when David had put the battel in aray againſt the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled before Iſrael, and David ſlew of the Syrians [i] ſeven thouſand men, which fought in chariots, and fourty thouſand footmen, and killed Shophach the captain of the hoſt.

19 And when the ſervants of Hadarezer ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they made peace with David, and became his ſervants: neither would the Syrians help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah is beſieged by Joab, ſpoiled by David, and the people thereof tortured. 4 Three giants are ſlain in three ſeverall overthrows of the Philiſtines.

AND* it came to paſſe, that † after the yeare was expired, at the time that kings go out to battel, Joab led forth the powers of the army, and waſted the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and beſieged [a] Rabbah (but David tarried at Jeruſalem) and Joab ſmote Rabbah, and deſtroyed it.

2 And David * took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it † to weigh a [b] talent of gold, and there were precious ſtones in it, and it was ſet upon Davids head; and he brought alſo exceeding much ſpoil out of the city.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and cut them with ſaws and with harrows of iron, and with axes: even ſo dealt David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jeruſalem.

4 And it came to paſſe after this, * that there ‡ † aroſe warre at ‡ Gezer with the Philiſtines, at which time Sibbechai the Huſhathite, ſlew Sippai that was of the children of ‡ the giant, and they were ſubdued.

5 And there was warre again with the Philiſtines, and Elhanan the ſonne of [“] Jair, ſlew [c] Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whoſe ſpear-ſtaff was like a weavers beam.

6 And yet again * there was warre at Gath, where was † a man of great ſtature, whoſe fingers and toes were foure and twenty, ſix on each hand, and ſix on each foot: and he alſo was † the ſonne of the giant.

7 But when he ‡ defied Iſrael, Jonathan the ſonne of [“] Shimea, Davids brother, ſlew him.

8 Theſe were born unto the giant in Gath, and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his ſervants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 David tempted by Satan, forceth Joab to number the people. 4 The number of the people being brought, David repenteth of it. 9 David having three plagues propounded by Gad, chooſeth the peſtilence. 14 After the death of ſeventy thouſand, David by repentance preventeth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem. 18 David, by Gads direction, purchaſeth Ornans threshing-floore, where having built an altar, God giveth a ſigne of his favour by fire, and ſtayeth the plague. 28 David ſacrificeth there, being reſtrained from Gibeon by fear of the angel.

AND* [a] Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number Iſrael.

2 And David ſaid to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Iſrael from [b] Beerſheba even to Dan; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it.

3 And Joab anſwered, The LORD make his people an hundred times ſo many mo as they be: but my lord the king, are they not all my lords ſervants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cauſe of [c] treſpaſſe to Iſrael?

4 Nevertheleſſe, the kings word prevailed againſt Joab: wherefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Iſrael, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ And Joab gave the ſumme of the number of the people unto David: and all they of Iſrael were a thouſand thouſand and an [d] hundred thouſand men that drew ſword: and Judah was [e] foure hundred threeſcore and ten thouſand men that drew ſword.

6 But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Joab.

7 † And God was diſpleaſed with this thing, therefore he ſmote Iſrael.

8 And David ſaid unto God,* I have ſinned greatly, becauſe I have done this thing: but now, I beſeech thee, do away the iniquity of thy ſervant, for I have done very fooliſhly.

9 And the LORD ſpake unto Gad, Davids ſeer, ſaying,

10 Go and tell David, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, I † offer thee three things, chooſe thee one of them that I may do it unto thee.

11 So Gad came to David, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, † Chooſe thee

12 Either three yeares famine, or three moneths to be deſtroyed before thy foes, (while that the ſword of thine enemies overtaketh thee) or elſe three dayes the ſword of the LORD, even the peſtilence in the land, and the angel of the LORD deſtroying throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael: now therefore adviſe thy ſelf, what word I ſhall bring again to him that ſent me.

d Joab partly for grief, and partly through negligence gathered not the whole ſum, as it is here declared.

14 ¶ So the LORD sent pestilence upon Israel: and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 And God sent an * angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it: and † as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and he § repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshing-floore of ‡ Ornan the Jebusite.

§ When God draweth back his plagues, he seemeth to repent, read Gen. 6, 6.

16 And David lift up his eyes, and saw the angel of the LORD stand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem: then David and the elders of Israel, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And David said unto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbred? even I it is that have sinned and done evil indeed; but as for these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O LORD my God, be on me, and on my fathers house, but not on h thy people, that they should be plagued.

h Thus he both sheweth a true repentance, and a fatherly care toward his people, which desireth God to spare them and so punish him and his.

18 ¶ Then the * angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David, that David should go up and set up an altar unto the LORD, in the threshing-floore of Ornan the Jebusite.

* 2 Chron. 3, 1.

19 And David went up at the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the LORD.

20 ‡ And Ornan turned back, and saw the angel; and his foure sonnes with him i hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat.

‡ Or, when Ornan turned back and saw the angel, then he and his foure sonnes with him hid themselves.

i If a man hide himself at the sight of an angel which is a creature, how much lesse is a sinner able to appeare before the face of God.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and went out of the threshing-floore, and bowed himself to David with his face to the ground.

22 Then David said to Ornan, † Grant me the place of this threshing-floore, that I may build an k altar therein unto the LORD: thou shalt grant it me for the full price, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

k Thus he did by the commandment of God, as verse 18, for else it had been abominable, except he had either Gods word, or revelation.

23 And Ornan said unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen also for burnt-offerings, and the threshing-instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat-offering, I give it all.

24 And king David said to Ornan, Nay, but I will verily buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is thine for the LORD, nor offer burnt-offerings without l cost.

l That is, as much as it is worth: for having enough of his own, and yet to have taken of another mans goods to offer unto the Lord, it had been theft, and not acceptable to God.

25 So David gave to Ornan for the place, m six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

m Read 2 Sam. 24, 25.

26 And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and called upon the LORD, and he n answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt-offering.

n God declared that he heard his request, in that he sent down fire from heaven, for else they might use no fire in sacrifice, but of that which was reserved still upon the altar, Levit. 6, 13. and came down from heaven, Levit. 9, 24. as appeared by the punishment of Nadab and Abihu, Levit. 10, 1.

27 And the LORD commanded the angel, and he put up his sword again into the sheath thereof.

28 ¶ At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him in the threshing-floore of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.

2 And David commanded to gather together the b strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew wrought stones to build the house of God.

b Meaning, cunning men of other nations, which dwelt among the Jews.

3 And David prepared iron in c abundance for the nails for the doores of the gates, and for the joynings, and brasse in abundance without weight.

c To wit, which weighed fiftie shekels of gold, 2 Chron. 3, 9.

4 Also cedar-trees in abundance: for the Zidonians, and they of Tyre, brought much cedar-wood to David.

5 And David said, * Solomon my sonne is young and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the LORD, must be exceeding magnificall, of fame, and of glory throughout all countreys: I will therefore now make preparation for it. So David prepared abundantly before his death.

* Chap. 29, 1.

6 ¶ Then he called for Solomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the LORD God of Israel.

7 And David said to Solomon, My sonne, as for me, it was in my minde to build an house unto the name of the LORD my God:

8 But the word of the LORD came to me, saying, * d Thou hast shed bloud abundantly, and hast made great warres: thou shalt not build an house unto my name, because thou hast shed much bloud upon the earth in my sight.

* Chap. 28, 3.

d This declareth how greatly God detesteth the shedding of bloud, seeing David for this cause is stayed to build the temple of the Lord, albeit he enterprised no warre, but by Gods commandment, and against his enemies.

9 Behold, a sonne shall be born to thee, who shall be a man of rest, and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name shall be " Solomon, and I will give peace and quietnesse unto Israel in his dayes.

" That is, peaceable.

10 * He shall build an house for my name, and he shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdome over Israel for ever.

* 2 Sam. 7, 13.

11 Now my sonne, the LORD be with thee, and e prosper thou, and build the house of the LORD thy God, as he hath said of thee.

e He sheweth that there can be no prosperitie but when the Lord is with us.

12 Onely the LORD give thee f wisdome and understanding, and give thee charge concerning Israel, that thou mayest keep the law of the LORD thy God.

f These are only the means whereby kings govern their subiects aright, and whereby the realms do prosper and flourish.

13 Then shalt thou prosper if thou takest heed

346 heed to fulfill the ſtatutes and judgements which the LORD charged Moſes with, concerning Iſrael: be ſtrong, and of good courage, dread not, nor be diſmayed.

‡ Or, in my poverty. g For David was poore in reſpect of Solomon.

14 Now behold, ‡ g in my trouble I have prepared for the houſe of the LORD an hundred thouſand talents of gold, and a thouſand thouſand talents of ſilver, and of braſſe, and iron, without * weight: (for it is in abundance) timber alſo and ſtone have I prepared, and thou mayeſt adde thereto.

* As verſe 3.

15 Moreover, there are workmen with thee in abundance, hewers, and " workers of ſtone and timber, and all manner of cunning men, for every manner of work.

" That is, maſons and carpenters.

16 Of the gold, the ſilver, and the braſſe, and the iron, there is no number. h Ariſe therefore, and be doing, and the LORD be with thee.

h That is, goe about it quickly.

17 ¶ David alſo commanded all the princes of Iſrael to help Solomon his ſonne, ſaying, 18 Is not the LORD your God with you? and hath he not given you reſt on every ſide? for he hath given the i inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is ſubdued before the LORD, and before his people.

i The nations round about.

19 Now k ſet your heart and your ſoul to ſeek the LORD your God, ariſe therefore, and build ye the ſanctuary of the LORD God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and the holy veſſels of God, into the houſe that is to be built to the name of the LORD.

k For els he knew that God would plague them, and not proſper their labours, except they ſought with all their hearts to ſet forth his glory.

b They were but of the order of the Levites, and not of the prieſts, as Aarons ſons.

15 * The ſonnes of Moſes were, Gerſhom and Eliezer.

16 Of the ſonnes of Gerſhom, Shebuel was the chief.

* Exod. 2, 22. and 18, 3, 4.

23 The ſonnes of Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three.

24 ¶ Theſe were the ſonnes of * Levi after the houſe of their fathers; even the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD, from the age of * e twenty yeares and upward.

3 And David diſtributed them, both Zadok of the ſonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the ſonnes of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ſervice.

4 And there were more chief men found of the ſonnes of Eleazar, than of the ſonnes of Ithamar; and thus were they diuided: among the ſonnes of Eleazar there were ſixteen chief men of the houſe of their fathers, and eight among the ſonnes of Ithamar according to the houſe of their fathers.

5 Thus were they diuided by lot, one ſort with another; for the gouernours of the ſanctuary, and gouernours of the houſe of God, were of the ſonnes of Eleazar, and of the ſonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the ſonne of Nathanael the ſcribe, one of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, and Zadok the prieſt, and Ahimelech the ſonne of Abiathar, and before the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites: one † principall houſhold being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

Chap. XXVIII.

1 David in a ſolemne aſſembly, having declared Gods favour to him, and promiſe to his ſonne Solomon, exhorteth them to fear God. 9, 20 He encourageth Solomon to build the temple. 11 He giveth him patterns for the form, and gold and ſilver for the materials.

AND David aſſembled all the princes of Iſrael, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies that miniſtred to the king by courſe, and the captains over the thouſands, and captains over the hundreds, and the ſtewards over all the ſubſtance and ‡ poſſeſſion of the king, and of his ſonnes, with the officers, and with the mighty men, and with all the valiant men unto Jeruſalem.

2 Then David the king ſtood up upon his feet, and ſaid, Heare me, my brethren, and my people, As for me, I had in mine heart to build an houſe of [a] reſt for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footſtool of our God, and had made ready for the building:

a Wherein the ark ſhould remain and remove no more to and fro. * 2 Sam. 7. 5, 13. 1 Kings 5, 5. Chap. 22, 8.

d To wit, of Canaan. e He declareth that nothing can ſeparate them from the commoditie of this land, both for themſelves and their poſteritie, but their ſins and iniquitie.

9 ¶ And thou, Solomon my ſonne, know thou the God of thy father, and ſerve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing minde: for * the LORD ſearcheth all hearts, and underſtandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou ſeek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forſake him, he will caſt thee off for ever.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 David by his example and intreaty 6 cauſeth the princes and people to offer willingly. 10 Davids thanksgiving and prayer. 20 The people having bleſſed God, and ſacrificed, make Solomon king. 26 Davids reigne and death.

FUrthermore, David the king ſaid unto all the congregation, Solomon my ſonne, whom alone God hath choſen, is yet * young and tender, and the work is great: for the palace is not for man, but for the [a] LORD God.

2 Now I have prepared with all my might for the houſe of my God, the gold for things to be made of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and the braſſe for things of braſſe, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; onyx ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet; gliſtring ſtones, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious ſtones, and marble-ſtones in abundance.

3 Moreover, becauſe I have ſet my [b] affection to the houſe of my God, I have of mine own proper good, of gold and ſilver, which I have given to the houſe of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy houſe, 4 Even [c] three thouſand talents of gold, of the gold of * Ophir, and ſeven thouſand talents of refined ſilver, to overlay the walls of the houſe withall.

5 The gold for things of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and for all manner of work to be made by the hands of artificers. And who then is [d] willing † to conſecrate his ſervice this day unto the LORD?

6 ¶ Then the chief of the fathers and princes of the tribes of Iſrael, and the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, with the rulers over the kings work offered willingly,

7 And gave for the ſervice of the houſe of God, of gold, five thouſand talents, and ten thouſand drams; and of ſilver, ten thouſand talents; and of braſſe eighteen thouſand talents; and one hundred thouſand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious ſtones were [e] found, gave them to the treaſure of the houſe of the LORD, by the hand of Jehiel the Gerſhonite.

9 Then the people rejoyced, for that they offered willingly, becauſe with [f] perfect heart they offered willingly to the LORD: and David the king alſo rejoyced with great joy.

10 ¶ Wherefore David bleſſed the LORD before all the congregation: and David ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, LORD God of [g] Iſrael our father, for ever and ever.

11 * Thine, O LORD, is the greatneſſe, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majeſty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth, is thine; thine is the kingdome, O LORD, and thou art exalted as head above all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reigneſt over all, and in thine hand is power and might, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give ſtrength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praiſe thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we ſhould † be able to offer ſo willingly after this ſort? for all things come of [h] thee, and † of thine own have we given thee.

15 For * we are [i] ſtrangers before thee, and ſojourners, as were all our fathers: * our dayes on the earth are as a ſhadow, and there is none † abiding.

16 O LORD our God, all this ſtore that we have prepared to build thee an houſe for thine holy name, cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own.

17 I know alſo, my God, that thou * trieſt the heart, and haſt pleaſure in uprightneſſe. As for me, in the uprightneſſe of mine heart I have willingly offered all theſe things: & now have I ſeen with joy, thy people which are † preſent here, to offer willingly unto thee.

18 O LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael our fathers, keep this for ever in the [k] imagination of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and † prepare their heart unto thee.

19 And give unto Solomon my ſonne a perfect heart to keep thy commandments, thy teſtimonies and thy ſtatutes, and to do all theſe things, and to build the palace, for the which I have made proviſion.

20 ¶ And David ſaid to all the congregation, Now bleſſe the LORD your God. And all the congregation bleſſed the LORD God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worſhipped the LORD and the [l] king.

21 And they ſacrificed ſacrifices unto the LORD, and offered burnt-offerings unto the LORD on the morrow after that day, even a thouſand bullocks, a thouſand rammes, and a thouſand lambes, with their [m] drink-offerings, and ſacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael:

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis ſecond book containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two books of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Solomon to the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the carrying away of the people captive into Babylon. In this ſtory are certain things declared and ſet forth more copiouſly than in the books of the kings, and therefore ſerve greatly to the underſtanding of the prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be conſidered. Firſt, that the godly kings, when they ſaw the plagues of God prepared againſt their countrey for ſin, had recourſe to the Lord, and by earneſt prayer were heard, and the plagues removed. The ſecond, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that ſuch as fear him and profeſſe his religion, ſhould joyn in amity with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers ever loved the prophets of God, and were very zealous to ſet forth his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwiſe the wicked hated his miniſters, depoſed them, and for the true religion and word of God, ſet up idolatrie, and ſerved God according to the fantaſie of men. Thus have we hitherto the chief acts from the beginning of the world to the building again of Jeruſalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeare of Darius, and contain in the whole, three thouſand, five hundred, threeſcore and eighteen yeares, and ſix moneths.

CHAP. I.

1 The ſolemn offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 7 Solomons choice of wiſdome is bleſſed by God. 13 Solomons ſtrength and wealth.

* 1 Kings 2, 46.

AND * Solomon the ſonne of David was ſtrengthened in his kingdome, and the LORD his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

a That is, he proclaimed a ſolemn ſacrifice, and commanded that all ſhould be at the ſame.

2 Then Solomon a ſpake unto all Iſrael, to the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governour in all Iſrael, the chief of the fathers.

3 So Solomon and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at b * Gibeon, for there was the tabernacle of the c congregation of God, which Moſes the ſervant of the LORD had made in the wilderneſſe.

b Reade 1 Kings 3, 4.

* 1 Chron. 16, 39. and 21, 29.

c So called, becauſe that God thereby ſhewed certain ſignes to the congregation of his preſence.

4 * But the ark of God had David brought up from Kirjath-jearim, to the place which David had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it at Jeruſalem.

* 2 Sam. 6. 2, 17.

5 Moreover, * d the braſen altar that Bezaleel the ſonne of Uri, the ſonne of Hur, had made, ‡ he put before the tabernacle of the LORD: and Solomon and the congregation ſought unto it.

* Exod. 38, 1.

d Which was for the burnt-offerings, Exod. 27, 1.

‡ Or, was there.

6 And Solomon went up thither to the braſen altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thouſand burnt-offerings upon it.

7 ¶ In that night did God appear unto Solomon, and ſaid unto him, Aſk what I ſhall give thee.

8 And Solomon ſaid unto God, Thou haſt ſhewed great mercy unto David my father, and haſt made me * to reigne in his ſtead:

* 1 Chron. 28, 5.

e Perform thy promiſe made to my father concerning me.

9 Now, O LORD God, let thy promiſe unto David my father be e eſtabliſhed: * for thou haſt made me king over a people, † like the duſt of the earth in multitude.

* 1 King 3, 7.

† Heb. much as the duſt of the earth.

10 * Give

10 * Give me now wiſdome and knowledge, that I may * f go out and come in before this people: for who can judge this thy people that is ſo great?

11 And God ſaid to Solomon, Becauſe this was in thine heart, and thou haſt not asked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the g life of thine enemies, neither yet haſt asked long life; but haſt asked wiſdome and knowledge for thy ſelf, that thou mayeſt judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

12 Wiſdome and knowledge is granted unto thee, and I will give thee riches, and wealth, and honour, ſuch as * none of the kings have had, that have been before thee, neither ſhall there any after thee have the like.

13 ¶ Then Solomon came from his journey to the high place that was at Gibeon, to Jeruſalem, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, and reigned over Iſrael.

14 * And Solomon gathered chariots and horſemen: and he had a thouſand and foure hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen, which he placed in the h chariot-cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

15 * And the king † made ſilver and gold at Jeruſalem as plenteous as i ſtones, and cedar-trees made he as the ſycomore-trees that are in the vale for abundance.

16 And † Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and linnen yarn: the kings k merchants received the linnen yarn at a price.

17 And they fetcht up, and brought forth out of Egypt a chariot for ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and an horſe for an hundred and fifty: and ſo brought they out horſes for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the king of Syria, † by their means.

Chap. II.

1,17 Solomons labourers for the building of the temple. 3 His embaſſage to Huram for workmen and proviſion of ſtuff. 11 Huram ſendeth him a kinde anſwer.

AND Solomon determined to build an houſe for the name of the LORD, and an houſe for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon told out threeſcore and ten thouſand men to bear burdens, and foureſcore thouſand to hew in the mountain, and three thouſand and * ſix hundred to overſee them.

3 ¶ And Solomon ſent to ‡ Huram the king of Tyre, ſaying, As thou didſt deal with David my father, and didſt ſend him cedars to build him an houſe to dwell therein, even ſo deal with me.

4 Behold, I build an houſe to the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him † ſweet incenſe, and for the continuall ſhew-bread, and for the burnt-offerings morning and evening, on the ſabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the ſolemn feaſts of the LORD our God. This is an ordinance for ever to Iſrael.

5 And the houſe which I build is great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 * But who † is able to build him an houſe, ſeeing the heaven, and heaven of heavens cannot contain him? who am I then that I ſhould build him an houſe, ſave only to b burn ſacrifice before him?

7 Send me now therefore a man, cunning to work in gold, and in ſilver, and in braſſe, and in iron, and in purple, and crimſon, and blue, and that can skill † to grave with the cunning men, that are with me in Judah and in Jeruſalem, whom David my father, did provide.

8 Send me alſo cedar-trees, firre-trees, and ‡ c algum-trees out of Lebanon: (for I know that thy ſervants can skill to cut timber in Lebanon) and behold, my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants.

9 Even to prepare me timber in abundance: for the houſe which I am about to build, ſhall be † wonderfull great.

10 And behold, I will give to thy ſervants, the hewers that cut timber, twenty thouſand meaſures of beaten wheat, and twenty thouſand meaſures of barley, and twenty thouſand baths of wine, and twenty d thouſand baths of oyl.

11 ¶ Then Huram the king of Tyre anſwered in writing, which he ſent to Solomon, Becauſe the LORD hath loved his people, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Huram ſaid moreover, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael that made heaven and earth, who hath given to David the king a e wiſe ſonne, † endued with prudence and underſtanding, that might build an houſe for the LORD, and an houſe for his kingdome.

13 And now I have ſent a cunning man (endued with underſtanding) of Huram my fathers;

14 The ſonne of a woman of the f daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, ſkilfull to work in gold and in ſilver, in braſſe, in iron, in ſtone and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linnen, and in crimſon: alſo to grave any manner of graving, and to finde out every device which ſhall be put to him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat, and the barley, the oyl, and the wine which my lord hath ſpoken of, let him ſend unto his ſervants:

16 And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, † as much as thou ſhalt need, and we will bring it to thee in flotes by ſea to † Joppa, and thou ſhalt carry it up to Jeruſalem.

17 ¶ * And Solomon numbred all † the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſrael, after the numbring wherewith David his father had numbred them; and they were found an hundred and fifty thouſand and three thouſand and ſix hundred.

18 And he ſet * threeſcore and ten thouſand of them to be bearers of burdens, and foureſcore thouſand to be hewers in the mountain, and three thouſand and ſix hundred overſeers to ſet the people a work.

Chap. III.

1 The place and time of building the temple. 3 The measure and ornaments of the house. 11 The cherubims. 14 The vail and pillars.

THen * Solomon began to build the house of the LORD at Jerusalem in mount Moriah, ‡ where the LORD appeared unto David his father, in the place that David had prepared in the threshing-floore of * ‡ Ornan the Jebusite.

2 And he began to build in the second day of the second moneth, in the fourth yeare of his reigne.

3 ¶ Now these are the things * wherein Solomon was † instructed for the building of the house of God. The length by cubits after the first [b] measure, was threescore cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

4 And the * porch that was in the front of the house, the length of it was according to the [c] breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the height was an [d] hundred and twenty: and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater house he cieled with firretree, which he overlaid with fine gold, and set thereon palm-trees and chains.

6 And he † garnished the house with precious stones for beauty, and the gold was gold of [e] Parvaim.

7 He overlaid also the house, the beams, the posts, and the walls thereof, and the doores thereof with gold, and graved cherubims on the walls.

8 And he made the most holy house, the length whereof was according to the breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with fine gold amounting to six hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold: and he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

10 And in the most holy house he made two cherubims ‡ of image-work, and overlaid them with gold.

11 ¶ And the wings of the cherubims were twenty cubits long: one wing of the one cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

13 The wings of these cherubims spread themselves forth twenty cubits: & they stood on their feet, and their faces were ‡ inward.

14 ¶ And he made the * [f] vail of blue, and purple, and crimson, and fine linnen, and † wrought cherubims thereon.

16 And he made chains, as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an [h] hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

17 And he * reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the name of that on the right hand, [i] Jachin, and the name of that on the left, [k] Boaz.

Chap. IIII.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The molten sea upon twelve oxen. 6 The ten lavers, candlesticks, and tables. 9 The courts and the instruments of brasse. 19 The instruments of gold.

MOreover, he made an altar of brasse, twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and ten cubits the height thereof.

2 ¶ * Also he made a molten [a] sea of ten cubits, † from brim to brim, round in compasse, and five cubits the height thereof, and a line of thirty cubits did compasse it round about.

3 * And [b] under it was the similitude of oxen, which did compasse it round about: [c] ten in a cubit compassing the sea round about. Two rows of oxen were cast, when it was cast.

4 It stood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east: and the sea was set above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickneſse of it was an hand-breadth, and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, ‡ with flowers of lilies; and it received and held [d] three thousand baths.

6 ¶ He made also ten lavers, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them: † such things as they offered for the burnt-offering, they washed in them; but the sea was for the priests to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlesticks of gold according to their [e] form, and set them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 He made also ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right side, and five on the left: and he made an hundred ‡ basons of gold.

9 ¶ Furthermore, he made the court of the priests, and the great [f] court, and doores for the court, and overlaid the doores of them with brasse.

10 And he set the sea on the right side of the east-end, over against the south.

11 And Huram made the pots, and the shovels, and the ‡ basons, and Huram † finished the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the house of God:

1 The dedicated treaſures. 2 The ſolemn induction of the ark into the oracle. 11 God being praiſed, giveth a viſible ſigne of his favour.

THus all the work that Solomon made for the houſe of the LORD, was finiſhed: * and Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated; and the ſilver, and the gold, and all the inſtruments, put he among the treaſures of the houſe of God.

2 ¶ * Then Solomon aſſembled the elders of Iſrael, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Iſrael unto Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD, out of the [a] citie of David, which is Zion.

3 Wherefore all the men of Iſrael aſſembled themſelves unto the king in the [b] feaſt, which was in the ſeventh [c] moneth.

4 And all the elders of Iſrael came, and the Levites took up the ark.

5 And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy veſſels, that were in the tabernacle, theſe did the prieſts and the Levites bring up.

6 Alſo king Solomon and all the congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled unto him before the ark, ſacrificed ſheep and oxen, which could not be told nor numbred for multitude.

7 And the prieſts brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD unto his place, to the oracle of the houſe into the moſt holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

8 For the cherubims ſpread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the ſtaves thereof, above.

13 It came even to paſſe, as the trumpeters and ſingers were as [f] one, to make one ſound to be heard in praiſing and thanking the LORD; and when they lift up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals, and inſtruments of muſick, and praiſed the LORD, ſaying, [g] For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: that then the houſe was filled with a cloud, even the houſe of the LORD.

2 But I have built an houſe of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed the whole congregation of Iſrael, (and all the congregation of Iſrael ſtood)

4 And he ſaid, Bleſſed be the LORD God of Iſrael, who hath with his hands fulfilled that which he ſpake with his mouth to my father David, ſaying,

5 Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Egypt, I choſe no city among all the tribes of Iſrael to build an houſe in, that my name might be there, neither choſe I any man to be a ruler over my people Iſrael:

6 But I have choſen Jeruſalem, that my name might be there, and have choſen David to be over my people Iſrael.

7 Now * it was in the heart of David my father to build an houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

out of the loyns, he ſhall build the houſe for my name.

10 The LORD therefore hath performed his word that he hath ſpoken: for I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and am ſet on the throne of Iſrael, as the LORD promiſed, and have built the houſe for the name of the LORD God of Iſrael.

11 And in it have I put the ark, wherein is the [b] covenant of the LORD, that he made with the children of Iſrael.

12 ¶ And he [c] ſtood before the altar of the LORD, in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands;

13 (For Solomon had made a braſen ſcaffold, of five cubits ‡ long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had ſet it in the midſt of the court, and upon it he ſtood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the congregation of Iſrael, and [d] ſpread forth his hands towards heaven)

14 And ſaid, O LORD God of Iſrael, * there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; which keepeſt covenant and ſheweſt mercy unto thy ſervants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

15 Thou which haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him; and ſpakeſt with thy mouth, and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is this day.

16 Now therefore, O LORD God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, * † There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael; * yet ſo, that thy children take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou haſt walked before me.

17 Now then, O LORD God of Iſrael, let thy word be verified, which thou haſt ſpoken unto thy ſervant David.

18 (But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? * behold, heaven, and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much leſſe this houſe which I have built?)

19 Have reſpect therefore to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to his ſupplication, O LORD my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth before thee:

20 That thine [e] eyes may be open upon this houſe day and night, upon the place whereof thou haſt ſaid, that thou wouldeſt put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth ‡ toward this place.

21 Hearken therefore unto the ſupplications of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, which they ſhall † make towards this place: heare thou from thy dwelling-place, even from heaven; and when thou heareſt, forgive.

22 ¶ If a man ſinne againſt his [f] neighbour, † and an oath be laid upon him, to make him ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe:

23 Then heare thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants by requiting the wicked, by recompenſing his way upon his [g] own head, and by juſtifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteouſneſſe.

24 ¶ And if thy people Iſrael ‡ be put to the worſe before the enemie, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and ſhall return and confeſſe thy name, and pray and make ſupplication before thee ‡ in this houſe:

25 Then heare thou from the heavens, and forgive the ſinne of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land which thou gaveſt to them, and to their fathers.

26 ¶ When the * heaven is ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; yet if they pray towards this place, and confeſſe thy name, and turn from their ſinne when thou doſt afflict them:

27 Then heare thou from heaven, and forgive the ſinne of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, when thou haſt tanght them the good way, wherein they ſhould walk, and ſend rain upon the land which thou haſt given unto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ If there * be dearth in the land, if there be peſtilence, if there be blaſting, or mildew, locuſts, or caterpillers; if their enemies beſiege them † in the cities of their land; whatſoever ſore, or whatſoever ſickneſſe there be:

29 Then what prayers, or what ſupplication ſoever ſhall be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſrael, when every one ſhall know his own ſore, and his own grief, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands ‡ in this houſe:

30 Then heare thou from heaven thy dwelling-place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his wayes, whoſe heart [h] thou knoweſt: (for thou onely * knoweſt the hearts of the children of men)

31 That they may fear thee, to walk in thy wayes † ſo long as they live † in the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreover, concerning the ſtranger, * which is not of thy people Iſrael, but is come from a farre countrey for thy great names ſake, and thy mighty hand, and thy ſtretched out arm; if they come and [i] pray in this houſe:

33 Then heare thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling-place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth to thee for; that all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, as doth thy people Iſrael, and may know that † this houſe which I have built, is called by thy name.

34 If thy people go out to warre againſt their enemies by the way that [k] thou ſhalt ſend them, and they pray unto thee toward this city which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built for thy name:

35 Then heare thou from the heavens their prayer and their ſupplication, and maintain their ‡ cauſe.

36 If they ſinne againſt thee, (for there is * no man which ſinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and † they carry them away captives unto a land farre off or neare;

[b] The feast of the Tabernacles which was kept in the seventh moneth.

* Josh. 13, 3.

9 And in the eighth day they made † [c] a solemn assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

† Heb. a restraint.

[c] They assembled to hear the word of God, after that they had remained seven dayes in the boothes or Tabernacles.

10 And on the [d] three and twentieth day of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodnesse that the LORD had shewed unto David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

[d] They had leave to depart the two and twentieth day, 1 Kings 8, 66. but they went not away till the next day.

11 Thus * Solomon finished the house of the LORD, and the kings house: and all that came into Solomons heart to make in the house of the LORD, and in his own house, he prosperously effected.

* 1 Kings 9, 1. &c.

12 ¶ And the LORD appeared to Solomon by night, and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, * and have chosen this place to my self for an house of sacrifice.

* Deut. 12, 5.

13 If I shut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locusts to devoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people:

14 If my people † which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked wayes: then will I heare from heaven, and will forgive their sinne, and will [e] heal their land.

† Heb. upon whom my name is called.

[e] I will cause the pestilence to cease, and destroy the beasts that hurt the fruits of the earth, and send rain in due season.

15 Now * mine eyes shall be open, and mine eares attent † unto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 For now have * I chosen, and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for ever, and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

* Chap. 6, 6.

17 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my statutes and my judgements:

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I have covenanted with David thy father, saying, * † There shall not fail thee a man to be ruler in Israel.

* Chap. 6, 16.

† Heb. there shall not be cut off to thee.

19 * But if ye turn away and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them:

* Levit. 26, 25. Deut. 28, 15,

20 Then will I pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this house which I have [f] sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a proverb, and a by-word among all nations.

[f] Which thing declareth that God had more respect to their salvation, than to the advancement of his own glory: and whereas men abuse those things, which God hath appointed to set forth his praise he doeth withdraw his graces thence.

21 And this house which is high, shall be an astonishment to every one that passeth by it; so that he shall say, * Why hath the LORD done thus unto this land, and unto this house?

* Deut. 29, 24. Jer. 22, 8, 9.

22 And it ſhall be anſwered, Becauſe they forſook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on other gods, and worſhipped them, and ſerved them: therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

1 Solomons buildings. 7 The Gentiles which were left, Solomon made tributaries, but the Iſraelites rulers. 11 Pharaohs daughter removeth to her houſe. 12 Solomons yearly ſolemn ſacrifices. 14 He appointeth the prieſts and Levites to their places. 17 The navie fetcheth gold from Ophir.

* 1 Kings 9, 10. &c.

AND * it came to paſſe (at the end of [a] twentie yeares, wherein Solomon had built the houſe of the LORD, and his own houſe)

2 That the cities which Huram had [b] reſtored to Solomon, Solomon built them, and cauſed the children of Iſrael to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed againſt it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderneſſe, & all the [c] ſtore-cities, which he built in Hamath.

5 Alſo he built [d] Beth-horon the upper, and Beth-horon the nether, fenced cities, with walls, gates, and barres:

6 And Baalath, and all the ſtore-cities that Solomon had, and all the chariot-cities, and the cities of the horſemen, and † all that Solomon deſired to build in Jeruſalem, and in [e] Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 ¶ As for all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebuſites which were not of Iſrael;

8 But of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Iſrael conſumed not; them did Solomon make to pay tribute, untill this day.

9 But of the children of Iſrael did Solomon make no ſervants for his work: but they were men of warre, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots and horſemen.

10 And theſe were the chief of king Solomons officers, even [f] two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ And Solomon * brought up the daughter of Pharaoh, out of the citie of David, unto the houſe that he had built for her: for he ſaid, My wife ſhall not dwell in the houſe of David king of Iſrael, becauſe the places are † holy, whereunto the ark of the LORD hath come.

12 ¶ Then Solomon offered burnt-offerings unto the LORD on the altar of the LORD, which he had built before the porch:

13 Even after a certain rate every * day offering according to the commandment of Moſes, on the ſabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the ſolemn feaſts, * [g] three times in the yeare, even in the feaſt of unleavened bread, and in the feaſt of weeks, and in the feaſt of tabernacles.

14 ¶ And he appointed, according to the order of David his father, the * courſes of the prieſts to their ſervice, and the Levites to their charges, to praiſe and miniſter before the prieſts, as the dutie of every day required: the * porters alſo by their courſes, at every gate: for † ſo had David the man of God commanded.

15 And they departed not from the commandment of the king unto the prieſts and Levites, concerning any matter, or concerning the treaſures.

16 Now all the work of Solomon was [h] prepared unto the day of the foundation of the houſe of the LORD, and untill it was finiſhed: ſo the houſe of God was perfected.

17 ¶ Then went Solomon to Ezion-geber, & to ‡ Eloth, at the [i] ſea-ſide in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram ſent him by the hands of his ſervants, ſhips, and ſervants that had knowledge of the ſea; and they went with the ſervants of Solomon to Ophir, and took thence [k] foure hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

1 The queen of Sheba admireth the wiſdome of Solomon. 13 Solomons gold. 15 His targets. 17 The throne of ivory. 20 His veſſels. 23 His preſents. 25 His chariots and horſe. 26 His tributes. 29 His reigne and death.

AND * when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, ſhe came to [a] prove Solomon with hard queſtions at Jeruſalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare ſpices, and gold in abundance, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe communed with him of all that was in her heart.

* 1 Kings 10, 1. &c. Matt. 12, 42 Luke 11, 31.

2 And Solomon told her all her queſtions: and there was [b] nothing hid from Solomon which he told her not.

5 And ſhe ſaid to the king, It was a true † report which I heard in mine own land, of thine ‡ acts, and of thy wiſdome:

6 Howbeit, I beleeved not their words, untill I came, and mine eyes had ſeen it: and behold, the one half of the greatneſſe of thy wiſdome was not told me: for thou exceedeſt the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are theſe thy ſervants, which ſtand continually before thee, and heare thy wiſdome.

8 Bleſſed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee to ſet thee on his [c] throne, to be king for the LORD thy God: becauſe thy God loved Iſrael, to eſtabliſh them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgement and juſtice.

24 And they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and raiment, harneſſe, and ſpices, horſes, and mules, a rate yeare by yeare.

CHAP. X.

1 The Iſraelites aſſembled at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, by Jeroboam make a ſuit of relaxation unto him. 6 Rehoboam refuſing the old mens counſel, by the advice of young men, anſwereth them roughly. 16 Ten tribes revolting, kill Hadoram, and make Rehoboam to flee.

AND * Rehoboam [a] went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Iſrael come to make him king.

* 1 Kings 12, 1, &c. a After the death of Solomon.

2 And it came to paſſe when Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat (who was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the preſence of Solomon the king) heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

3 And they ſent and called him: ſo Jeroboam and all Iſrael came, and ſpake to Rehoboam, ſaying, 4 Thy father [b] made our yoke grievous, now therefore eaſe thou ſomewhat the grievous ſervitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

b That is, handled us rudely. It ſeemeth that God hardned their hearts, ſo that they thus murmured without cauſe: which declareth alſo the inconſtancie of the people.

5 And he ſaid unto them, Come again unto me after three dayes. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam took counſel with the old men that had ſtood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, ſaying, What counſel give ye me to return anſwer to this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou be kinde to this people, and pleaſe them, and ſpeak good words to them, they will be thy ſervants for ever.

8 But he forſook the counſel which the old men gave him, and took counſel with the young men that were brought up with him, that [c] ſtood before him.

c That is, which were of his counſel and ſecrets.

9 And he ſaid unto them, What advice give ye, that we may return anſwer to this people, which have ſpoken to me, ſaying, Eaſe ſomewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us.

10 And the young men that were brought up with him, ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou anſwer the people that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it ſomewhat lighter for us: thus thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, [d] My little finger ſhall be thicker than my fathers loins.

11 For whereas my father † put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, ſaying, Come again to me on the third day.

13 And the king anſwered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forſook the counſel of the old men.

14 And anſwered them after the advice of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will adde thereto: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

15 So the king hearkened not unto the people, for the [e] cauſe was of God, that the LORD might perform his word, which he ſpake by the * hand of Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the ſonne of Nebat.

16 ¶ And when all Iſrael ſaw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in David? and we have none inheritance in the ſonne of Jeſſe: every man to your tents, O Iſrael: and now David ſee to thine own houſe. So all Iſrael went to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Hadoram that was over the tribute, and the children of Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died: but king Rehoboam † made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 And Iſrael rebelled againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

CHAP. XI.

1 Rehoboam raiſing an army to ſubdue Iſrael, is forbidden by Shemaiah. 5 He ſtrengtheneth his kingdome with forts and proviſion. 13 The prieſts and Levites, and ſuch as feared God, forſaken by Jeroboam, ſtrengthen the kingdome of Judah. 18 The wives and children of Rehoboam.

AND * when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he gathered of the houſe of Judah and [a] Benjamin, an hundred and foureſcore thouſand choſen men which were warriours, to fight againſt [b] Iſrael, that he might bring the kingdome again to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God, ſaying,

3 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſonne of Solomon king of Judah, and to all Iſrael in Judah, and Benjamin, ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the LORD, Ye ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren: return every man to his houſe, for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the words of the LORD, and returned from going againſt Jeroboam.

5 ¶ And Rehoboam dwelt in Jeruſalem, and [c] built cities for defence in Judah.

6 He built even Beth-lehem, and Etham, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Mareſha, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Lachiſh, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aijalon, and Hebron, which are in Judah, and in Benjamin, fenced cities.

11 And he fortified the ſtrong holds, and put captains in them, and ſtore of victuall, and of oyl and wine.

12 And in every ſeverall city he put ſhields and ſpears, and made them exceeding ſtrong, having Judah and Benjamin on his ſide.

13 ¶ And the prieſts and the Levites that were in all Iſrael, † reſorted to him out of all their coaſts, 14 (For the Levites left their ſuburbs, and their poſſeſſion, and came to Judah and Jeruſalem: for * Jeroboam and his ſonnes had caſt them off from executing the prieſts office unto the LORD.

15 And he ordained him prieſts for the high places, and for the [d] devils, and for the calves which he had made)

16 And after them out of all the tribes of Iſrael, ſuch as [e] ſet their hearts to ſeek the LORD God of Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem, to ſacrifice unto the LORD God of their fathers.

17 So they ſtrengthened the kingdome of Judah, and made Rehoboam the ſonne of Solomon ſtrong, three yeares: for three yeares they [f] walked in the way of David and Solomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam took him Mahalath the daughter of Jeremoth the ſonne of David to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab, the ſonne of Jeſſe:

19 Which bare him children; Jeuſh, and Shamariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her, he took * Maachah the daughter of Abſalom, which bare him Abijah, and Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Abſalom, above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and threeſcore concubines, and begat twenty and eight ſonnes, and threeſcore daughters)

22 And Rehoboam made [g] Abijah the ſonne of Maachah the chief, to be ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 And he dealt wiſely, and diſperſed of all his children throughout all the countreys of Judah and Benjamin, unto every fenced city: and he gave them victuall in abundance: [h] and he deſired † many wives.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboam forſaking the LORD, is puniſhed by Shiſhak. 5 He and the princes repenting at the preaching of Shemaiah, are delivered from deſtruction, but not from ſpoil. 13 The reigne and death of Rehoboam.

AND it came to paſſe when Rehoboam had eſtabliſhed the kingdome, and had ſtrengthened himſelf, he forſook the law of the LORD, and [a] all Iſrael with him,

2 And it came to paſſe, that in the fifth yeare of Rehoboam, Shiſhak king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem, (* becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the LORD)

b Which were a people of Africa called the Troglodites, because they dwelt in holes.

4 And he took the fenced cities which pertained to Judah, and came to Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah that were gathered together to Jerusalem, because of Shishak, and said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Ye have forsaken me, and [c] therefore have I also left you in the hand of Shishak.

c Signifying, that no calamitie can come unto us, except we forsake God, and that he never leaveth us untill we have cast him off.
d And therefore doth justly punish us for your sins.

6 Whereupon the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselves, and they said, The LORD is [d] righteous.

7 And when the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, saying, they have humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will grant them ‡ some deliverance, and my wrath shall not be poured out upon Jerusalem, by the hand of Shishak.

‡ Or, a little while.

8 Nevertheless, they shall be his servants;

vice of the kingdomes of the countreys.

e He sheweth that Gods punishments are not to destroy his utterly, but to chastise them, to bring them to the knowledge of themselves, and to know how much better it is to serve God than tyrants.

9 So Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the kings house, he took all: he carried away also the shields of gold which Solomon had * made.

* Chap. 9, 15.

10 In stead of which, king Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that kept the entrance of the kings house.

11 And when the king entred into the house of the LORD, the guard came and fet them, and brought them again into the guardchamber.

wrath of the LORD turned from him, that he would not destroy him altogether: ‡ and also in Judah things went well.

13 ¶ So king Rehoboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem, and reigned: for * Rehoboam was one and fourty yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned [g] seventeen yeares in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: and his mothers name was

NOw * in the eighteenth yeare of king
Jeroboam, began Abijah to reigne over Judah.

* 1 Kings. 15. 1, &c.

2 He reigned three yeares in Jerusalem:
(his mothers name also was [b] Michaiah the daughter of [c] Uriel of Gibeah) and there was warre between Abijah and Jeroboam.

a He meaneth Judah and Benjamin.
b Or, Maacha, 1 Kings. 15, 2. c Called also Absalom, for Absalom was her grandfather.

3 And Abijah † set the battel in array with an army of valiant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men; Jeroboam also set the battel in array against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, being mighty men of valour.

† Heb. bound together.

4 ¶ And Abijah stood up upon mount [d] Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, Heare me thou Jeroboam, and all Israel,

d Which was one of the tops of mount Ephraim.

5 Ought you not to know, that the LORD
God of Israel gave the kingdome over Israel to [e] David for ever, even to him and to his sonnes by a covenant of [f] salt.

e And therefore whosoever doth usurp it or take it from that stock transgresseth the ordinance of the Lord: thus like an hypocrite he alledged the word of God for his advantage.
f That is, perpetuall, because the thing which is salted, is preserved from corruption: he meaneth also that it was made solemly, and confirmed by offering of sacrifices wherein they used salt according as was ordained, Num. 18. 19.

6 Yet Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the sonne of David, is risen up, and hath * rebelled against his LORD.

* 1 Kings. 11, 26.

7 And there are gathered unto him [g] vain men the children of Belial, and have strengthened themselves against Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon, when Rehoboam was [h] young & tender hearted, and could not withstand them.

g This word in the Caldee tongue is Racha, which our Saviour useth, Matth. 5, 22.
h Meaning, in heart and courage.

8 And now ye think to withstand the kingdome of the LORD, in the hand of the sonnes of David; and ye be a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves which Jeroboam * made you for gods.

* 1 Kings 12, 14.

9 * Have ye not cast out the priests of the LORD the sonnes of Aaron, and the Levites, and have made you priests after the manner of the nations of other lands? so that whosoever cometh † to consecrate himself with a [i] young bullock and seven rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods.

† Heb. to fill his hand.
i He sheweth the nature of idolaters which take no triall of the vocation, life and doctrine of their ministers, but think the most vile and greatest beasts sufficient to serve their turn.

10 But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him, and the priests which minister unto the LORD, are the sonnes of Aaron, and the Levites wait upon their businesse;

* Chap. 2, 4.

11 * And they burn unto the LORD every [k] morning and every evening, burnt-sacrifices and sweet incense: the * shew-bread also set they in order upon the pure table, and the candlestick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening, for we keep the charge of the LORD our God, but ye have forsaken him.

k As it was appointed in the law Exod. 29, 39.

* Lev. 24, 6.

12 And behold, [l] God himself is with us for our captain, and his priests with sounding trumpets to crie alarm against you: O children of Israel, fight ye not against the LORD God of your fathers, for you shall not prosper.

l Because their cause was good, and approved by the Lord, they doubted not of the successe and victory.

13 ¶ But Jeroboam caused an [m] ambushment to come about behinde them: so they were before Judah, and the ambushment was be-hinde them.

m Condemning the good counsel which came of the spirit of God, he thought to have overcome by deceit.

360 14 And when Judah looked back, behold, the battel was before and behinde: and they cried unto the LORD, and the prieſts ſounded with the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Judah gave a ſhout: and as the men of Judah ſhouted, it came to paſſe, that God ſmote Jeroboam and all Iſrael before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people ſlew them with a great ſlaughter: ſo there fell down ſlain of Iſrael, five hundred thouſand choſen men.

18 Thus the children of Iſrael were brought under at that time, and the children of Judah prevailed, [n] becauſe they relied upon the LORD God of their fathers.

n He sheweth that the ſtay of all kingdoms, and aſſurance of victories depend upon our truſt and confidence in the Lord.

19 And Abijah purſued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, Beth-el with the towns thereof, and Jeſhanah with the towns thereof, and Ephraim with the towns thereof.

20 Neither did Jeroboam recover ſtrength again in the dayes of Abijah: and the LORD ſtrook him, and he died.

21 ¶ But Abijah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two ſonnes, and ſixteen daughters.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Aſa ſucceeding deſtroyeth idolatrie. 6 Having peace, he ſtrengtheneth his kingdome with forts, and armies. 9 Calling on God, he overthroweth Zerah, and ſpoileth the Ethiopians.

SO Abijah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David, and * Aſa his ſonne reigned in his ſtead: in his dayes the land was quiet ten yeares.

* 1 Kings 15, 8. &c.

2 And Aſa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God.

3 For he took away the altars of the ſtrange gods, and the high places, and brake down the † images, and cut down the [a] groves:

a Wich were planted contrary to the law, Deut. 16, 21.

4 And commanded Judah to ſeek the LORD God of their fathers, and to do the law, and the commandment.

5 Alſo he took away out of all the cities of Judah, the high places and the † images: and the kingdome was [b] quiet before him.

b He sheweth that the reſt and quietneſſe of kingdoms ſtandeth in abolishing idolatry, and advancing true religion.

6 ¶ And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had reſt, and he had no warre in thoſe yeares; becauſe the LORD had given him reſt.

7 Therefore he ſaid unto Judah, Let us build theſe cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and barres, while the land is yet [c] before us; becauſe we have ſought the LORD our God, we have ſought him, and he hath given us reſt on every ſide: ſo they built, and proſpered.

c Whiles we have the full governement thereof.

8 And Aſa had an army of men that bare targets and ſpears, out of Judah three hundred thouſand, and out of Benjamin, that bare ſhields and drew bows, two hundred and foureſcore thouſand: all theſe were mighty men of valour.

9 ¶ * And there came out againſt them Zerah the [d] Ethiopian, with an hoſt of a thouſand thouſand, and three hundred chariots, and came unto [e] Mareſhah.

e Wich was a citie in Iudah, Josh. 15, 44. where Michajah the prophet was born.

10 Then Aſa went out againſt him, and they ſet the battell in array in the valley of Zephathah at Mareſhah.

11 And Aſa cried unto the LORD his God and ſaid, LORD, it is * nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us O LORD our God; for we reſt on thee, and in thy name we go againſt this multitude: O LORD, thou art our God, [f] let not ‡ man prevail againſt thee.

* 1 Sam. 14, 6.
f Thus the children of God neither truſt in in their own power or policie, neither fear the ſtrength and ſubtilitie of their enemies, but conſider the cauſe, and ſee whether their enterpriſe tend to Gods glory, and there upon aſſure themſelves of the victory by him, which is onely almighty, and can turn all flesh into duſt with the breath of his mouth.
‡ Or, mortal man.

12 So the LORD ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa, and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that were with him purſued them unto Gerar: and the Ethiopians were overthrown, that they could not recover themſelves, for they were † deſtroyed before the LORD and before his hoſt; and they carried away very much ſpoil.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerar, for the [g] fear of the LORD came upon them: and they ſpoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much ſpoil in them.

g The Lord had ſtriken them with feare.

15 They ſmote alſo the tents of cattel, and carried away ſheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 Aſa with Judah and many of Iſrael moved by the propheſie of Azariah the ſonne of Oded, make a ſolemne covenant with God. 16 He putteth down Maachah his mother for her idolatry. 18 He bringeth dedicate things into the houſe of God, and enjoyeth a long peace.

2 And he went out † to meet Aſa, and ſaid unto him, Heare ye me, Aſa, and all Judah and Benjamin, The LORD is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye ſeek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forſake him, he will forſake you.

3 Now for a long ſeaſon Iſrael hath been without the [b] true God, and without a teaching prieſt, and without law.

b For the ſpace of twelve years under Rehoboam, and three years under Abijah, religion was neglected and idolatry planted.

4 But when they in their trouble did turn unto the LORD God of Iſrael, and ſought him, he was [c] found of them.

c He sheweth, that notwithſtanding the wickedneſſe of tyrants and their rage, yet God hath his, whom he heareth in their tribulation, as he delivered his from Zerah king of the Ethiopians ch. 14, 9. 12 and out of all other dangers, when they called upon the Lord.

5 And in thoſe times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in: but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countreys.

6 And Nation was † deſtroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God did vex them with all adverſity.

out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim, and renewed the altar of the LORD that was before the porch of the LORD.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: (for they fell to him out of Israel in abundance, when they saw that the LORD his God was with him).

10 So they gathered themselves together at Jerusalem in the [e] third moneth, in the fifteenth yeare of the reigne of Asa.

11 And they offered unto the LORD † the same time, of the [f] spoil which they had brought, seven hundred oxen, and seven thousand sheep.

12 And they entred into a covenant to seek the LORD God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their soul;

13 That [g] whosoever would not seek the LORD God of Israel, should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.

14 And they sware unto the LORD with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Judah rejoyced at the oath: for they had sworn with all their heart, and sought him with their whole desire, and he was [h] found of them: and the LORD gave them rest round about.

16 ¶ And also concerning * Maachah the [i] mother of Asa the king, he removed her from being queen, because she had made an † idol in a grove: and Asa cut down her idol, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were [k] not taken away out of [l] Israel: nevertheless, the heart of Asa was [m] perfect all his dayes.

18 ¶ And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himself had dedicated, silver, and gold, and vessels.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Asa by the aid of the Syrians, diverteth Baasha from building of Ramah. 7 Being reproved thereof by Hanani, he putteth him in prison. 11 Among his other acts, in his disease he seeketh not to God, but to the physicians. 13 His death and burial.

IN the six and thirtieth yeare of the reigne of Asa, * [a] Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah, and built [b] Ramah, to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.

2 Then Asa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the LORD, and of the kings house, and sent to Ben-hadad king of Syria that dwelt at † Damascus, saying.

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee silver and gold; go [c] break thy league with Baasha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Asa, and sent the captains of † his armies against the cities of Israel; and they smote Ijon, and Dan and Abel-maim, and all the store-cities of Naphtali.

5 And it came to passe, when Baasha heard it, that he left off building of Ramah, and let his work cease.

6 Then Asa the king took all Judah, and they carried away the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha was a building, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said unto him, Because thou hast relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the LORD thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

8 Were not * the Ethiopians and the Lubims † a huge host, with very many chariots and horsemen? yet, because thou didst relie on the LORD, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them, whose heart is perfect towards him. Herein thou hast done foolishly; therefore from henceforth thou shalt have warres.

10 Then Asa was [d] wroth with the seer, and put him in a prison-house; for he was in a rage with him, because of this thing. And Asa * oppressed some of the people the same time.

11 ¶ And behold, the acts of Asa, first and last, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

12 And Asa, in the thirty and ninth yeare of his reigne, was diseased in his feet, untill his disease was [e] exceeding great: yet in his disease he sought not to the LORD, but to the physicians.

13 ¶ And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fourtieth yeare of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in his own sepulchres which he had † made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed, which was filled with sweet odours and divers kindes of spices prepared by the apothecaries art: and they made a very great burning for him.

1 Jehoshaphat joyned in affinity with Ahab, is perſwaded to go with him againſt Ramoth-Gilead. 4 Ahab ſeduced by falſe prophets, according to the word of Micaiah, is ſlain there.

NOw Jehoſhaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and joyned [a] affinity with Ahab.

2 * And † after certain [b] yeares, he went down to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab killed ſheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and perſwaded him to go up with him to [c] Ramoth-Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat king of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth-Gilead? And he anſwered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will be with thee in the warre.

4 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the [d] word of the LORD to day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered together of [e] prophets foure hundred men, and ſaid unto them, Shall we go to Ramoth-Gilead to battel, or ſhall I forbear? And they ſaid Go up; for God will deliver it into the kings hand.

6 But Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Is there not here a prophet of the LORD † beſides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may enquire of the LORD: but I [f] hate him, for he never propheſieth good unto me, but alwayes evill: the ſame is Micaiah the ſonne of Jimla. And Jehoſhaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay [g] ſo.

r Keep him ſtraightly in priſon, and let him feel hunger and thirſt.

27 And Micaiah ſaid, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the LORD ſpoken by me. And he ſaid, Hearken all ye people.

28 So the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-Gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, I will [s] diſguiſe my ſelf, and will go to the battel, but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Iſrael diſguiſed himſelf, and they went to the battel.

s Thus the wicked think by their own ſubtilitie to eſcape Gods judgements which he threatneth by his word.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him; ſaying, Fight ye not with ſmall or great, ſave onely with the king of Iſrael.

31 And it came to paſſe when the captains of the chariots ſaw Jehoſhaphat, that they ſaid, It is the king of Iſrael: therefore they compaſſed about him to fight: but Jehoſhaphat [t] cried out and the LORD helped him, and God moved them to depart from him.

t He cried to the Lord by acknowledging his fault, in going with this wicked king to warre, againſt the word of the Lord by his prophet, and alſo by deſiring mercie for the ſame.

32 For it came to paſſe, that when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Iſrael, they turned back again † from purſuing him.

† Heb. from after him.

33 And a certain man drew a bow † at a venture, and ſmote the king of Iſrael † between the joynts of the harneſſe: therefore he ſaid to his chariot-man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayeſt carry me out of the hoſt, for I am † wounded.

† Heb. in his ſimplicity. † Heb. between the joynts, and between the breaſt-plate.

34 And the battel increaſed that day: howbeit the king of Iſrael [v] ſtayed himſelf up in his chariot againſt the Syrians, untill the even: and about the time of the ſunne going down, he died.

† Heb. made ſick.

v He diſſembled his hurt, that his ſouldiers might fight more couragiouſly.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Iehoshaphat reproved by Iehu, visited his kingdome. 5 His instructions to the judges, 8 to the prieſts and Levites.

AND Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah returned to his houſe in peace to Jeruſalem.

2 And Jehu the ſonne of Hanani the ſeer went out to meet him, and ſaid to king Jehoſhaphat, Shouldeſt thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? [a] therefore is wrath upon thee from before the LORD.

a He declareth that the wrath and judgement of God is over all ſuch, that ſupport the wicked, and rather ſhew not indeed, that they are enemies to al ſuch as hate the Lord.

3 Neverthleſſe, there are * good things found in thee, in that thou haſt taken away the groves out of the land, and haſt prepared thine heart to ſeek God.

* Chap. 17, 4, 6.

4 And Jehoſhaphat dwelt at Jeruſalem: and † he went out again [b] through the people, from Beerſheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them back unto the LORD God of their fathers † Heb. he returned and went out.

b He viſited all his countrey and brought his people from idolatrie to the knowledge of the true God.

5 ¶ And he ſet judges in the land, throughout all the fenced cities of Judah, city by city,

6 And ſaid to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the LORD, who is [c] with you † in the judgement.

c Both to preſerve you, if you doe juſtly, or to punish you, if you doe the contrary.

† Heb. in the matter of judgement.

7 Wherefore now, let the fear of the LORD be upon you, take heed and do it: for there is [d] no iniquity with the LORD our God, nor * reſpect of perſons, nor taking of gifts.

d He will declare by the sharpneſſe of the punishment that he hateth all iniquitie, * Deut. 10, 17. Job 34, 19. Act. 10, 34. Rom. 2, 11. Epheſ. 6, 9. Col. 3, 25. 1 Pet. 1, 17.

8 ¶ Moreover, in Jeruſalem did Jehoſhaphat ſet of the Levites, and of the prieſts, and of the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, for the judgement of the LORD, and for controverſies, when they [e] returned to Jeruſalem.

e The prieſts and Levites, which ſhould judge matters according to the word of the Lord.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye do in the fear of the LORD faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 And what cauſe ſoever ſhall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between [f] bloud and bloud, between law and commandment, ſtatutes and judgements, ye ſhall even warn them that they treſpaſſe not againſt the LORD, and ſo [g] wrath come upon you, and upon your brethren: this do, and ye ſhall not treſpaſſe.

f That is, to trie whether the murther was done at unawars, or els on ſet purpoſe, Num. 35, 11. Deut. 4, 41.

g Meaning, that God would puniſh them moſt ſharply, if they would not execute juſtice aright.

11 And behold, Amariah the chief prieſt is over you in all matters of the LORD; and Zebadiah the ſonne of Iſhmael, the ruler of the houſe of Judah, for all the kings [h] matters: alſo the Levites ſhall be officers before you.

h Shall be chief overſeer of the publike affairs of the realm.

364 † Deal couragiously, and the LORD shall be with the [h] good.

† Heb. take courage and do.
k God will assist them that doe justice.

CHAP. XX.

1 Iehoshaphat in his fear proclaimeth a fast. 5 His prayer. 14 The prophesie of Iahaziel. 20 Iehoshaphat exhorteth the people, and setteth singers to praise the Lord. 22 The great overthrow of the enemies. 26 The people having blessed God at Berachah, return in triumph. 31 Iehoshaphats reign. 35 His convoy of ships which he made with Ahaziah, according to the prophesie of Eliezer, unhappily perished.

IT came to passe after this also, that the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them other beside the [a] Ammonites, came against Jehoshaphat to battel.

a That is, which counterfeited the Ammonites in language and apparel. The Hebrews think that they were the Amalekites, but as may appear by the tenth verse, they were the I- t means of mount Seir.

2 Then there came some that told Jehoshaphat, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the [b] sea on this side Syria, and behold, they be in Hazazontamar, which is in En-gedi.

b Called the dead Sea, where God destroyed the five cities for sinne.

3 And Jehoshaphat feared, and set † himself to [c] seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah.

c This declareth what the fear of the godly is, which is as a prick to stirre them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord, whereas it moveth the wicked either to seek after worldly means und policies, ot else to fall into despair.

4 And Judah gathered themselves together, to ask help of the LORD: even out of all the cities of Judah they came to seek the LORD.

5 ¶ And Jehoshaphat stood in the congregation of Judah and Jerusalem, in the house of the LORD before the new court,

6 And said, O LORD God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and rulest not thou over all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, so that none is able to withstand thee?

† Heb. thou.

7 Art not thou our God, † who didst drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and [d] gavest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for ever?

d He groundeth his prayer upon Gods power, whereby he is able to help, and also on his mercie, which he will continue toward his, forasmuch as he hath once chosen them, and begun to shew his graces toward them.

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a sanctuary therein for thy name, saying,

9 * If when evil cometh upon us, as the [e] sword, judgement, or pestilence, or famine, we stand before this house, and in thy presence, (for thy [f] name is in this house) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt heare and help.

* 1 Kings 8, 37. Chap. 6, 28.
e Meaning, war which commeth by Gods just judgement for our sinnes.
f That is, it is here called upon and thou declarest thy presence and favour.

10 And now behold, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and mount Seir, whom thou * wouldest not let Israel invade, when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them, and destroyed them not:

* Deut. 2, 9.

11 Behold, Isay, how they reward us, to come to cast us out of thy possession, which thou hast given us to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no might against this great company that cometh against us: neither know we what to do, [g] but our eyes are upon thee.

g We only put our trust in thee, and wait for our deliverance from heaven.

13 And all Judah stood before the [h] LORD, with their little ones, their wives and their children.

h That is before the ark of the covenant.

14 ¶ Then upon Jahaziel the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Jehiel, the sonne of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sonnes of Asaph, came [i] the spirit of the LORD in the midst of the congregation.

i Which was moved by the spirit of God to prophesie.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, and thou king Jehoshaphat, Thus saith the LORD unto you, Be not afraid, nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the [k] battel is not yours, but Gods.

k They fight against God and not against you: therefore he will fight for you 16 To morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the † cliff of Ziz, and ye shall finde them at the end of the ‡ brook, before the wilderneſſe of Jeruel.

† Heb. ascent.
‡ Or, valley.

17 Ye shall not need to fight in this battel; set your selves, stand ye still, and see the salvation of the LORD with you, O Judah and Jerusalem: fear not, nor be dismayed; to morrow go out against them, for the LORD will be with you.

18 And Jehoshaphat [l] bowed his head, with his face to the ground: and all Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the LORD, worshipping the LORD.

l Declaring his faith and obedience to the word of the Lord, and giving thanks for the deliverance promised 19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhithes, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20 ¶ And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderneſſe of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Heare me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, * Beleeve in the LORD your God, so shall you be established; [m] beleeve his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

* Isai 7, 9.
m Give credit to their words and doctrine.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the LORD, and † that should praise the beauty of holinesse, as they went out before the army, and to say, [n] Praise the LORD, for his mercy endureth for ever.

n This was a psalm of thanksgiving, which they used commonly to sing when they praised the Lord for his benefits, and was made by David. Psal. 136.

22 ¶ † And when they began † to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab and mount Seir, which were come against Judah, and ‡ they were smitten.

† Heb. and in the time that they, &c.
† Heb. in singing and praise.
‡ Or, they smote one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab, stood up against the inhabitants of [o] mount Seir, utterly to slay and destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped † to destroy [p] another.

o Meaning, the Idumeans, which dwelt in mount Seir.
† Heb. for the destruction.
p Thus the Lord according to Jehoshaphats prayer declared his power when he delivered his, by causing their enemies to kill one another.

24 And when Judah came toward the watch-tower in the wilderneſſe, they looked unto the multitude, and behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and † none escaped.

† Heb. there was not an escaping.

25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance, both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels (which they stript off for themselves) more than they could carry away: and they were three dayes in gathering of the spoil, it was so much.

q To give thanks to the Lord for the victory: and therefore the valley was called Berachah, that is, Blessing or Thanksgiving, which was also called the valley of Jehoshaphat, Joel 3, 2, 12. because the Lord judged the enemies according to Jehoshaphats prayer.

26 ¶ And on the fourth day they [q] assembled themselves in the valley of [r] Berachah; for there they blessed the LORD: therefore the name of the same place was called, the valley of Berachah unto this day.

r That is, blessing

27 Then they returned every man of Judah and Jerusalem, and Jehoshaphat in the † forefront

front of them, to go again to Jeruſalem with joy: for the LORD had made them to rejoyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jeruſalem with pſalteries, and harps, and trumpets, unto the houſe of the LORD.

29 And the [r] feare of God was on all the kingdomes of thoſe countreys, when they had heard that the LORD fought againſt the enemies of Iſrael.

[r] He declareth hereby, that the works of God bring ever comfort or deliverance to his, and feare or deſtruction to his enemies.

30 So the realm of Jehoſhaphat was quiet; for his God gave him reſt round about.

31 ¶ * And Jehoſhaphat reigned over Judah: he was thirty and fives yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned twenty and five yeares in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

* 1 Kings 22.41, &c.

32 And he walked in the [f] way of Aſa his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the ſight of the LORD:

[f] Meaning, in his vertues, and thoſe wayes wherein he followed God.

33 Howbeit, the high places were [t] not taken away, for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

[t] If the great care and diligence of this good king was not able utterly to abolish all ſuperſtition and idolatrie out of his people, but that they would ſtill retain their filth and idolatrie, how much leſſe are they able to reform evil, which either have little zeal, or not ſuch as he had: though herein he was not to be excuſed.

34 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoſhaphat, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the † book of Jehu the ſonne of Hanani, * who † is mentioned in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

† Heb. words.

* 1 Kings 16. 1.

† Heb. was made to aſcend.

35 ¶ And after this did Jehoſhaphat king of Judah joyn himſelf with Ahaziah king of Iſrael, who did very wickedly:

36 And he joyned himſelf with him to make ſhips to go to Tarſhiſh: and they made the ſhips in Ezion-geber.

37 Then Eliezer the ſonne of Dodavah of Mareſha, propheſied againſt Jehoſhaphat, ſaying. [u] Becauſe thou haſt joyned thy ſelf with Ahaziah, the LORD hath broken thy works: and the ſhips were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarſhiſh.

[u] Thus God would not have his to joyn in ſocietie with idolaters and wicked men.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Jehoram ſucceeding Jehoshaphat, ſlayeth his brethren. 5 His wicked reigne. 8 Edom and Libnah revolt. 12 The propheſie of Elijah againſt him in writing. 16 Philiſtines and Arabians oppreſſe him. 18 His incurable diſeaſe, infamous death and buriall.

* 1 Kings 22.50.

NOw * Jehoſhaphat ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of David: and Jehoram his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

2 And he had brethren the ſonnes of Jehoſhaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah: all theſe were the ſonnes of Jehoſhaphat king of [a] Iſrael.

[a] Read Chap. 15. 17. how by Iſrael is meant Judah.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of ſilver and of gold, and of precious things, with fenced cities in Judah: but the kingdome gave he to Jehoram, becauſe he was the firſtborn.

* 2 Kings 8. 16, 17.

4 Now * when Jehoram was riſen up to the kingdome of his father, he ſtrengthened himſelf, and ſlew all his [b] brethren with the ſword, and divers alſo of the princes [c] of Iſrael.

[b] Becauſe the wicked live ever in fear, and alſo are ambitious, they become cruell, and ſpare not to murther them, whom by nature they ought moſt to cherish and defend.

[c] Meaning, of Judah and Benjamin.

5 ¶ Jehoram was thirtie and two yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeares in Jeruſalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, like as did the houſe of Ahab: for he had the daughter of * Ahab to [d] wife: and he wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD.

* Chap. 22. 2.

[d] So that we ſee how it cannot be that we ſhould joyn with the wicked, and ſerve God.

7 Howbeit the LORD would not deſtroy the houſe of David, becauſe of the covenant that he had made with David, and as he promiſed to give a † light to him, and to his * ſonnes for ever.

† Heb. Lamp, or candle.

* 2 Sam 7. 12. 1 Kings 11. 36. 2 Kings 8. 19. Pſal. 132. 11. &c.

8 ¶ In his dayes the Edomites revolted † from under the dominion of Judah, and made themſelves a king.

† Heb. hand.

9 Then Jehoram * went forth with his princes and all his chariots with him: and he roſe up by night, and ſmote the Edomites which compaſſed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

* 2 King 8. 21.

10 So the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. The ſame time alſo did [e] Libnah revolt from under his hand; becauſe he had forſaken the LORD God of his fathers.

[e] Read 2 Kings 8. 22.

11 Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and cauſed the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit [f] fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

[f] Meaning idolatrie, becauſe that the idolater breaketh promiſe with God, as doth the adultereſſe to her husband.

12 ¶ And there came a writing to him from [g] Elijah the prophet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of David thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the wayes of Jehoſhaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Aſa king of Judah.

[g] Some thinke that this was Eliſha, ſo called, becauſe he had the ſpirit in abundance, as had Eliiah.

13 But haſt walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to go a whoring, like to the whoredomes of the houſe of Ahab, and alſo haſt ſlain thy brethren of thy fathers houſe; which were better than thy ſelf:

14 Behold, with † a great plague will the LORD ſmite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods.

‡ Heb. a great ſtroke.

15 And thou ſhalt have great ſickneſſe by diſeaſe of thy bowels, untill thy [h] bowels fall out, by reaſon of the ſickneſſe day by day.

[h] Wee ſee this example daily practiſed upon them that fall away from God, and become idolaters and murtherers of their brethren.

16 ¶ Moreover, the LORD ſtirred up againſt Jehoram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians, that were neare the [i] Ethiopians.

[i] There were other Arabians in Africa ſouthward toward Egypt.

17 And they came up into Judah, and brake into it, and † carried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the kings houſe, and his ſonnes alſo and his wives; ſo that there was never a ſonne left him, ſave [k] Jehoahaz the youngeſt of his ſonnes.

‡ Heb. carried captive.

[k] Called alſo Ahaziah, as chap 22. 1. or Azariah, verſe 6. following.

18 ¶ And after all this the LORD ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And it came to paſſe that in proceſſe of time, after the end of two yeares, his bowels fell out by reaſon of his ſickneſſe: ſo he died of ſore diſeaſes: And his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

20 Thirty and two yeares old was he when 366 he began to reigne, and he reigned in Jerusalem eight yeares, and departed † without being [1] desired: howbeit they buried him in the city of David, but not in the sepulchres of the kings.

† Heb. without desire.
1 That is, as some write, he was not regarded, but deposed for his wickednesse and idolatrie: so that his sonne reigned 22 years (his father yet living) without honour, and after his fathers death he was confirmed to reigne still, as Chap. 22, 2.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Azahiah succeeding, reigneth wickedly. 5 In his confederacy with Ioram the sonne of Ahab, he is slain by Iehu. 10 Athaliah destroying all the seed royall, save Ioash, whom Iehoshabeath his aunt hid, usurpeth the kingdome.

AND the inhabitans of Jerusalem made * Ahaziah his youngest sonne, king in his stead: for the band of men that came with the [a] Arabians to the camp, had slain all the * eldest. So Ahaziah the sonne of Jehoram king of Judah reigned.

* 2 Kings 8, 24. &c. a Meaning, the Philistines.
* Chap. 21, 17.

2 Fourty and [b] two yeares old was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned [c] one yeare in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was * Athaliah the daughter of [d] Omri.

† Read Chap 21, 20.
c That is, after the death of his father.
† Chap. 21, 6.
d She was Ahabs daughter, who was the son of Omri.

3 He also walked in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother was his counseller to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the sight of the LORD, like the house of Ahab: for they were his [e] counsellers after the death of his father, to his destruction.

e He sheweth, that it must needs follow that the rulers are such as their counsellers be, and that there cannot be a good king, that sufferreth wicked counsellers.

5 ¶ He walked also after their counsel, and went with Jehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel, to warre against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-Gilead: and the Syrians smote Joram.

† Heb. wherewith they wounded him.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezreel, because of the wounds † which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And ‡ Azariah the sonne of Jehoram king of Judah, went down to see Jehoram the sonne of Ahab at Jezreel, because he was sick.

‡ Otherwise called Ahaziah vers. 1. and Jehoahaz, chap. 21. 17

† Heb. treading down.
f Hereby we see how nothing can come to any, but by Gods providence, and as he hath appointed, and therefore he causeth all means to serve to his will.
* 2 Kings 9, 7.

7 And the † destruction of Ahaziah was of God by coming to Joram: for when he was come, he went out with Jehoram against Jehu the sonne of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed * to cut off the house of Ahab.

8 And it came to passe that when Jehu was executing judgement upon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah, and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah, that ministred to Ahaziah, he slew them.

* 2 Kings 9, 27.

9 * And he sought Ahaziah: and they caught him, (for he was hid in Samaria) and brought him to Jehu: and when they had slain him, they buried him, because (said they) he is the sonne of [g] Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah had no power to keep still the kingdome.

g This was the just plague of God, because he joyned himself with Gods enemies: yet God to declare the worthinesse of Jehoshaphat his grand-father, moved them to give him the honour of burial.

10 ¶ * But when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her sonne was dead, she arose, and [h] destroyed all the seed royall of the house of Iudah.

* 2 Kings 11, 1.
h To the intent that there should be none to make title to the crown, and so she might usurp the government.

11 But Jehoshabeath the daughter of the king, took Joash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the kings sonnes that were slain, and put him and his nurse in a bedchamber. So Jehoshabeath the daughter of king Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiadah the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah, so that she slew him not.

i Meaning, in the chamber, where the priests and Levites slept, which kept their courses weekly in the temple.
k To wit, of Judah.

12 And he was with them hid in the [i] house of God six yeares, and Athaliah reigned over the [k] land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iehoiada having set things in order maketh Ioash king. 12 Athaliah is slain. 16 Iehoiada restoreth the worship of God.

AND * [a] in the seventh yeare Jehoiada strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the sonne of Jeroham, and Ishmael the sonne of Jehohanan, and Azariah the sonne of Obed, and Maasiah the sonne of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the sonne of Zichri, into covenant with him.

* 2 Kings 11, 4, &c. a Of the reigne of Athaliah, or after the death of Ahaziah.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief of the [b] fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

b Meaning, of Iudah and Benjamin: reade why they are called Israel, Chap. 15, 17.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God: and he said unto them, Behold, the kings sonne shall reigne, as the LORD hath * said of the sonnes of David.

* 2 Sam. 7, 12, 1 Kings 2, 4, and 9. 5 Chap. 6, 16, and 7, 18.

4 This is the thing that ye shall do, A third part of you entring on the sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be porters of the † doores,

5 And a third part shall be at the kings house, and a third part at the [c] gate of the foundation: and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD.

c Which was the chief gate of the temple toward the east.

6 But let none come into the house of the LORD, save the priests, and they that ministers of the Levites, they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD.

7 And the Levites shall compasse the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand, and whosoever else cometh into the [d] house, he shall be put to death: but be you with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

d Meaning, to make any tumult or to hinder their enterprise.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did accoring to all things that Jehoiada the priest had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the sabbath, with [e] them that were to go out on the sabbath: for Jehoiada the priest dismissed not the courses.

e Which had finished their course on the sabbath, and so the other part entred to keep their turn.

9 Moreover, Jehoiada the priest delivered to the captains of hundreds, spears and bucklers, and shields, that had been king Davids, which were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people (every man having his weapon in his hand) from the right † side of the † temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the [f] temple, by the king round about.

of the people running & praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And she looked, and behold, the king stood at his pillar, at the entring in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king: and all the people of the land rejoyced, and sounded with trumpets, also the singers with instruments of musick; and such as taught to sing praise. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, † [h] Treason, treason.

h Declaring her vile impudencie, which having unjustly, and by murther usurped the crown, would still have defeated the true possessour, and therefore called true obedience, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds that were set over the host, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and [i] whoso followeth her, let him be slain with the sword. For the priest said, Slay her not in the house of the LORD.

i To joyne with her party, and to maintain her authoritie.

15 So they laid hands on her; and when she was come to the entring of the horse-gate, by the kings house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Jehoiada made a [k] covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they should be the LORDS people.

k That they would onely serve him, and renounce all idolatrie.

17 Then all the people went to the house of Baal, and [l] brake it down, and brake his altars, and his images in pieces, and slew [m] Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

l According to their covenant made to the Lord.
m As the Lord commanded in his law, both for the person and also the citie, Deut. 13, 9 and 15.

18 Also Jehoiada appointed the offices of the house of the LORD by the hand of the priests the Levites, whom David had * distributed in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt-offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the * law of Moses, with rejoycing and with singing, as it was ordained † by David.

19 And he set the * porters at the gates of the house of the LORD, that none which was unclean in any thing, should enter in.

* 1 Chron. 26, 1. &c.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governours of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of the LORD: and they came through the [n] high gate into the kings house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdome.

n Which was the principall gate, that the king might be seen of all the people.

21 And all the people of the land rejoyced: and the city was quiet, [o] after that they had slain Athaliah with the sword.

o For where a tyrant and an idolater reigneth, there can be no quietnes: for the plagues of God are ever among such people.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Ioash reigneth well all the dayes of Iehoiada. 4 He giveth order for the repair of the temple. 15 Iehoiada his death and honourable buriall. 17 Ioash falling to idolatrie, slayeth Zechariah the sonne of Iehoiada. 23 Ioash is spoiled by the Syrians, and slain by Zabad and Iehozabad. 27 Amaziah succeedeth him.

* 2 Kings 12, 1. &c,

IOash * was seven yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourty yeares in Jerusalem: his mothers name also was Zibeah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Joash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, all the dayes of [a] Jehoiada the priest.

a Who was a faithfull counseller, and governed him by the word of God.

3 And Jehoiada took for him two wives, and he begat sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And it came to passe after this, that Joash was minded † to repair the house of the LORD.

† Heb. to renew.

5 And he gathered together the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out unto the cities of Judah, and gather of [b] all Israel money to repair the house of your God from yeare to yeare, and see that ye haste the matter: howbeit the Levites hastened it not.

b He meaneth not the ten tribes, but onely the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin.

6 And the king called for Jehoiada the [c] chief, and said unto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring, in out of Judah and out of Jerusalem, the collection, according to the commandement of * Moses the servant of the LORD, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witnesse?

c For he was the high priest.
* Exod. 30, 12, 13, 14.

7 For the sonnes of Athaliah that [d] wicked woman, had broken up the house of God, and also all the dedicate things of the house of the LORD did they bestow upon Baalim.

d The scripture doeth term her thus, because she was a cruell murtheresse, and a blasphemous idolatresse.

8 And at the kings commandment they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the LORD.

9 And they made † a proclamation through Judah and Jerusalem, to bring in to the LORD, the collection that Moses the servant of God laid upon Israel in the wildernesse.

10 And all the princes, and all the people rejoyced and brought in, and cast into the chest, untill they had made an end.

11 Now it came to passe, that at what time the chest was [e] brought unto the kings office, by the hand of the Levites; and when they saw that there was much money: the kings scribe, and the high priests officer came and emptied the chest, and took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

e Such as were faithfull men, whom the king had appointed for that matter.

12 And the king and [f] Jehoiada gave it to such as did the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also such as wrought iron and brasse to mend the house of the LORD.

f Signifying, that this thing was done by advise and counsel, and not by any one mans affection.

13 So the workmen wrought, and † the work was perfected by them, and they set the house of God in his state, and strengthened it.

† Heb. the healing went up upon the work.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jehoiada, whereof were made [g] vessels for the house of the LORD, even vessels to minister, and ‡ to offer withall, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver: and they offered burnt-offerings in the house of the LORD continually, all the dayes of Jehoiada.

g For the wicked kings his predecessours, and Athaliah had destroyed the vessels of the temple, or turned them to the use of their idols.
‡ Or, pestils.

15 ¶ But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of dayes when he died; an hundred and thirty yeares old was he when he died.

h Signifying, that they could not honour him too much, who had so exellently served in the work of the Lord, and in the affairs of the commonwealth.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the [h] kings, because he had done good in Israel, both towards God, and towards his house.

17 Now after the death of Jehoiada, came the [i] princes of Judah, and made obeisance to the king: then the king hearkened unto them.

i Which were flatterers, and knew now that the king was destitute of him who did watch over him as a father, and therefore brought him to most vile idolatrie.

18 And they left the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served groves and idols:

368 idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jeruſalem for this their treſpaſſe.

19 Yet he ſent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the LORD, and they [k] teſtified againſt them: but they would not give eare.

20 And the ſpirit of God † came upon Zechariah the ſonne of Jehoiada the prieſt, which ſtood [l] above the people, and ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith God, Why tranſgreſſe ye the commandments of the LORD, that ye cannot proſper? becauſe ye have forſaken the LORD, he hath alſo forſaken you.

21 And they conſpired againſt him, and ſtoned him with ſtones at the [m] commandment of the king, in the court of the houſe of the LORD.

22 Thus Joaſh the king remembred not the kindneſſe which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but ſlew his ſonne: and when he died, he ſaid, The LORD [n] look upon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And it came to paſſe † at the end of the yeare, that the hoſt of Syria came up againſt him: and they came to Judah and Jeruſalem, and deſtroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and ſent all the ſpoil of them unto the king of † Damaſcus.

24 For the army of the Syrians came with a ſmall company of men, and the LORD delivered a very great hoſt into their hand, becauſe they had forſaken the LORD God of their fathers: ſo they [o] executed judgement againſt Joaſh.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diſeaſes) his own ſervants conſpired againſt him, for the bloud of the [p] ſonnes of Jehoiada the prieſt, and ſlew him on his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the ſepulchres of the kings:

26 And theſe are they that conſpired againſt him; ‡ Zabad the ſonne of Shimeath an Ammoniteſſe, and Jehozabad the ſonne of ‡ Shimrith a Moabiteſſe.

27 ¶ Now concerning his ſonnes, and the greatneſſe of the burdens laid upon him, and the † repairing of the houſe of God, behold, they are written in the ‡ ſtory of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

k They took heaven and earth and all creatures to witneſſe, that except they returned to the Lord, he would moſt grievouſly puniſh their infidelity and rebellion Nehe. 9, 26.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Amaziah beginneth to reigne well. 3 He executeth juſtice on the traitours. 5 Having hired an army of Iſraelites againſt the Edomites, at the word of a prophet he loſeth the hundred talents and diſmiſſeth them. 11 He overthroweth the Edomites. 10,13 The Iſraelites diſcontented with their diſmiſſion, ſpoil as they return home. 14 Amaziah proud of his victory, ſerveth the gods of Edom, and deſpiſeth the admonitions of the prophet. 17 He provoketh Ioash to his overthrow. 25 His reigne. 27 He is ſlain by conſpiracy.

* 2 Kings 14, 1, &c.

AMaziah * was twenty and five years old when he began to reigne, and he reigned twenty and nine yeares in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Jehoadan of Jeruſalem.

a Meaning in reſpect of his predeceſſours, albeit he had his imperfections.

2 And he did that which was [a] right in the ſight of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart.

3 ¶ Now it came to paſſe, when the kingdome was † eſtabliſhed to him, that he ſlew his ſervants that had killed the king his father.

† Heb. confirmed upon him.

4 But he ſlew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moſes, where the LORD commanded, ſaying, * The fathers ſhall not die for the [b] children, neither ſhall the children die for the fathers, but every man ſhall die for his own ſinne.

* Deut. 24, 16. 2 Kings. 14, 6. Jer. 31, 30. Ezek. 18, 20.

b That is, for that fault, wherefore the childe is puniſhed, except he be culpable of the ſame.

5 ¶ Moreover, Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thouſands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbred them from [c] twenty yeares old and above, and found them three hundred thouſand choice men, able to go forth to warre, that could handle ſpear and ſhield.

c So many as were able men to beare weapons, and go to the warre.

6 He hired alſo an hundred thouſand mighty men of valour out of [d] Iſrael, for an hundred talents of ſilver.

d That is, out of the ten tribes, which had ſeparated themſelves before, both from God and their true King.

7 But there came a man of God to him, ſaying, O king, let not the army of Iſrael go with thee; for the LORD is [e] not with Iſrael, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

e And therefore to think to have help of them, whom the Lord favoureth not, is to caſt of the help of the Lord.

8 But if thou wilt [f] go, do it, be ſtrong for the battel: God ſhall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to caſt down.

f If thou wilt not give credit to my words.

9 And Amaziah ſaid to the man of God, But what ſhall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the † army of Iſrael? And the man of God anſwered, The LORD is [g] able to give thee much more than this.

g He sheweth that if we depend onely upon God, we ſhall not need to be troubled with theſe worldly reſpects: for he will give at all times that which ſhall be neceſſary, if we obey his word.

10 Then Amaziah ſeparated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go † home again: wherefore their anger was greatly kindled againſt Judah, and they returned home † in great anger.

† Heb. to their place.

† Heb. in heat of anger.

11 ¶ And Amaziah ſtrengthened himſelf, and led forth his people, and went to the valley of ſalt, and ſmote of the children of [h] Seir, ten thouſand.

h For the Idumeans whom David had brought to ſubjection, rebelled under Jehoram, Jehoshaphats ſon.

12 And other ten thouſand left alive, did the children of Judah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the [i] rock, and caſt them down from the top of the rock, that they were broken all in pieces.

i In the 2 King. 14, 7. this rock is called the citie Sela.

13 ¶ But † the ſouldiers of the [k] army which Amaziah ſent back, that they ſhould not go with him to battel, fell upon the cities of Judah, from Samaria even unto Beth-horon, and ſmote three thouſand of them, and took much ſpoil.

† Heb. the ſonnes of the band.

k That is, the hundred thouſand of Iſrael.

14 ¶ Now it came to paſſe, after that Amaziah was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and ſet them up to be his gods, and [l] bowed down himſelf before them, and burned incenſe unto them.

l Thus where he ſhould have given the praiſe to God for his benefits and great victory, he fell from God, and did moſt vilely diſhonour him.

15 Wherefore the anger of the LORD was kindled againſt Amaziah, and he ſent unto him him a prophet, which ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou ſought after the gods of the people, which could [m] not deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And it came to paſſe as he talked with him, that the [n] king ſaid unto him, Art thou made of the kings counſel? forbear; why ſhouldeſt thou be [o] ſmitten? Then the prophet forbare, and ſaid, I know that God hath † determined to deſtroy thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not hearkened unto my counſel.

17 ¶ Then * Amaziah king of Judah took advice, and ſent to Joaſh the ſonne of Jehoahaz, the ſonne of Jehu king of Iſrael, ſaying, Come, let us [p] ſee one another in the face.

18 And Joaſh king of Iſrael ſent to Amaziah king of Judah, ſaying, The ‡ thiſtle that was in Lebanon, ſent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, ſaying, Give thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: and there paſſed by † a wilde beaſt that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thiſtle.

19 Thou ſayeſt, Lo, thou haſt ſmitten the Edomites, and thine heart lifteth thee up to boaſt: abide now at home, why ſhouldeſt thou meddle to thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare, for it came of [q] God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, becauſe they ſought after the gods of Edom.

21 So Joaſh the king of Iſrael went up, and they ſaw one another in the face, both he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belongeth to Judah.

22 And Judah was † put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled every man to his tent.

23 And Joaſh the king of Iſrael took Amaziah king of Judah the ſonne of Joaſh, the ſonne of Jehoahaz, at Beth-ſhemeſh, and brought him to Jeruſalem, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem, from the gate of Ephraim to † the corner-gate, foure hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold and the ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of God with [r] Obed-Edom; and the treaſures of the kings houſe, the hoſtages alſo, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the ſonne of Joaſh king of Judah, lived after the death of Joaſh ſonne of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael, fifteen yeares.

26 Now the reſt of the acts of Amaziah, firſt and laſt, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael?

27 ¶ Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away † from following the LORD, they † made a conſpiracy againſt him in Jeruſalem, and he fled to Lachiſh: but they ſent to Lachiſh after him, and ſlew him there.

28 And they brought him upon horſes, and buried him with his fathers in the city of [“] Judah.

[m] He proveth, that whatſoever cannot ſave himſelfe, nor his worſhippers, is no god, but an idol:
[n] Heb. he meaning the king.
[o] So hard it is for the carnall man to be admonished of his fault, that he contemneth, mocketh, and threatneth him, that warneth him: yea, impriſoneth him and putteth him to death, as Chap. 16, 18, 26, and 24, 21.

1 Uzziah ſucceeding, and reigning well in the dayes of Zechariah, proſpereth. 16 Waxing proud, he invadeth the prieſts office, and is ſmitten with leproſie. 22 He dieth, and Iotham ſucceedeth him.

THen all the people of Judah took * [a] Uzziah: who was ſixteen yeares old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.

2 He built [b] Eloth, and reſtored it to Judah, after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

3 Sixteen yeares old was Uzziah, when he began to reigne, and he reigned fifty and two yeares in Jeruſalem: his mothers name alſo was Jecoliah of Jeruſalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he ſought God in the dayes of [c] Zechariah, who had underſtanding † in the viſions of God: and as long as he [d] ſought the LORD, God made him to proſper.

6 And he went forth and warred againſt the Philiſtines, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Aſhdod, and built cities ‡ about Aſhdod, and among the Philiſtines.

7 And God helped him againſt the Philiſtines, and againſt the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and the Mehunims.

8 And the Ammonites gave [e] gifts to Uzziah, and his name † ſpread abroad even to the entring in of Egypt, for he ſtrengthened himſelf exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Uzziah built towers in Jeruſalem at the [f] corner-gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, and ‡ fortified them.

10 Alſo he built towers in the deſert, and ‡ digged many wells, for he had much cattell both in the low-countrey, and in the plains: husbandmen alſo, and vine-dreſſers in the mountains, and in [g] Carmel: for he loved † husbandry.

11 Moreover, Uzziah had an hoſt of fighting men, that went out to warre by bands, according to the number of their account, by the hand of Jeiel the ſcribe, and Maaſiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captains.

12 The whole [h] number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour, were two thouſand and ſix hundred.

13 And under their hand was † an army, three hundred thouſand and ſeven thouſand and five hundred, that made warre with mighty power, to help the king againſt the enemy.

14 And Uzziah prepared for them throughout all the hoſt, ſhields, and ſpears, and helmets, and habergeons, and bows, and † ſlings to caſt ſtones.

15 And he made in Jeruſalem † engines invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and upon the bulwarks, to ſhoot arrows and great ſtones withall: and his name † ſpread farre

16 ¶ But when he was ſtrong, his heart was [i] lifted up to his deſtruction: for he tranſgeſſed againſt the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD, to burn incenſe upon the altar of incenſe.

i Thus proſperitie cauſeth men to truſt in themſelves, and by forgetting him, which is the author thereof, procure their own perdition.

17 And Azariah the prieſt went in after him, and with him foureſcore prieſts of the LORD, that were valiant men:

18 And they withſtood Uzziah the king, and ſaid unto him, It * appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incenſe unto the LORD, but to the * prieſts the ſonnes of Aaron, that are conſecrated to burn incenſe: [k] go out of the ſanctuary, for thou haſt treſpaſſed, neither ſhall it be for thine honour from the LORD God.

k Though his zeal ſeemed to be good, and alſo his intention, yet becauſe they were not governed by the word of God, he did wickedly, and was therefore both juſtly reſiſted and alſo punished.

a To wit, to offer incenſe againſt the word of God: which thing is ſpoken in the commendation of Jotham.
b They were not clean purged from idolatrie.

3 He built the [c] high gate of the houſe of the LORD, and on the wall of ‡ Ophel he built much.

4 Moreover, he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the forreſts he built caſtles and towers.

5 ¶ He fought alſo with the king of the Ammonites, and prevaled againſt them. 9 ¶ And Jotham ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Ahaz his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Ahaz reigning very wickedly, is greatly afflicted by the Syrians. 6 Judah being captivated by the Iſraelites, is ſent home by the counſel of Oded the prophet. 16 Ahaz ſending for aid to Aſſyria, is not helped thereby. 22 In his diſtreſſe he groweth more idolatrous. 26 He dying, Hezekiah ſucceedeth him.

AHaz * was twenty yeares old when he began to reigne: and he reigned ſixteen yeares in Jeruſalem: but he did not that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, like David his father.

3 Moreover, he ‡ burnt incenſe in the valley of the ſonne of Hinnom, and burnt ‡ his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the LORD had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

‡ Or, offered, ſacrifice.
‡ Or, made them paſſe through the fire, as Chap. 33, 6. Levit. 18, 21.

4 He ſacrificed alſo, and burnt incenſe in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 Wherefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria, and they ſmote him, and carried away a great multitude of them captives, and brought them to † Damaſcus: and he was alſo delivered into the hand of the king of Iſrael, who ſmote him with a great ſlaughter.

† Heb. Darmeſek.

6 ¶ For [c] Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah ſlew in Judah an hundred and twenty thouſand in one day, which were all † valiant men; becauſe they had forſaken the LORD God of their fathers.

c Who was king of Iſrael.
† Heb. ſonnes of valour.

7 And Zichri a mighty man of Ephraim, ſlew Maaſeiah the kings ſonne, and Azrikam the governour of the houſe, and Elkanah that was † next to the king.

† Heb. the ſecond to the king.

8 And the children of Iſrael carried away captive of their brethren, [d] two hundred thouſand women, ſonnes and daughters, and took alſo away much ſpoil from them, and brought the ſpoil to Samaria.

d Thus by the juſt judgement of God, Iſrael deſtroyed Iudah.
e For they thought they had overcome them by their own valiantneſſe, and did not conſider that God had delivered them into their hands, becauſe Iudah had offended him.

9 But a prophet of the LORD was there, whoſe name was Oded: & he went out before the hoſt that came to Samaria, and ſaid unto them, Behold, [e] becauſe the LORD God of your fathers was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered vered them into your hand, and ye have ſlain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And now ye purpoſe to keep under the children of Judah and Jeruſalem for bondmen, and bond-women unto you: [f] but are there not with you, even with you, ſinnes againſt the LORD your God?

f May not God as well punish you for your ſins, as he hath done theſe men for theirs, ſeeing yours are greater?

11 Now heare me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of God is upon you.

12 Then certain of the heads of the children of [g] Ephraim, Azariah the ſonne of Johanan, Berechiah the ſonne of Meſhillemoth, and Jehizkiah the ſonne of Shallum, and Amaſa the ſonne of Hadlai, ſtood up againſt them that came from the warre, g Which tribe was now greateſt, and had moſt authority.

13 And ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall not bring in the captives hither: [h] for whereas we have offended againſt the LORD already, ye intend to adde more to our ſinnes and to our treſpaſſe: for our treſpaſſe is great, and there is fierce wrath againſt Iſrael.

h God will not ſuffer this ſin which we commit againſt him, to be unpuniſhed.

14 So the armed men left the captives and the ſpoil, before the princes and all the congregation.

15 And the men which were [i] expreſſed by name, roſe up, and took the captives, and with the ſpoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and ſhod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and [k] anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them upon aſſes, and brought them to Jericho, * the city of palm-trees, to their [l] brethren: then they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz ſend unto the kings of [m] Aſſyria to help him.

17 For again the Edomites had comẽ and ſmitten Judah, and carried away † captives.

18 The Philiſtines alſo had invaded the cities of the low-countrey, and of the ſouth of Judah, and had taken Beth-ſhemeſh, and Aialon, and Gederoth, and Shocho with the villages thereof, and Timnah with the villages thereof, Gimzo alſo and the villages thereof: and they dwelt there.

19 For the LORD brought Judah low, becauſe of Ahaz king of [n] Iſrael; for he made Judah naked, and tranſgreſſed ſore againſt the LORD.

n He meaneth Judah becauſe Ahaz forſook the Lord, and ſought help of the infidels. Reade of Iſrael taken for Judah, Chap. 15, 17.

20 And Tilgath-pilnezer king of Aſſyria came unto him, and diſtreſſed him, but ſtrengthened him not.

21 For Ahaz took away a portion out of the houſe of the LORD, and out of the houſe of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Aſſyria: but he helped him not.

22 And in the time of this diſtreſſe did he treſpaſſe yet more againſt the LORD: this is that king Ahaz.

† Heb. Darmeſek.

o As he falſly ſuppoſed.

p Thus the wicked meaſure Gods favour by proſperitie, and adverſity: for if idolaters proſper, they make their idols gods, not conſidering that God puniſheth them oftimes whom he loveth, and giveth his enimies good ſucceſſe for a time, whom afterward he will deſtroy.

23 For he ſacrificed unto the gods of † Damaſcus, which [o] ſmote him: and he ſaid, Becauſe the gods of the kings of Syria help them, therefore will I ſacrifice to them, that they may [p] help me: but they were the ruine of him and of all Iſrael.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the veſſels of the houſe of God, and cut in pieces the veſſels of the houſe of God, and ſhut up the doores of the houſe of the LORD, and he made him altars in every corner of Jeruſalem.

25 And in every ſeverall citie of Judah he made high places ‡ to burn incenſe unto other gods, and provoked to anger the LORD God of his fathers.

‡ Or, to offer.

26 ¶ Now the reſt of his acts, and of all his wayes, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie, even in Jeruſalem: but they brought him not into the [q] ſepulchres of the kings of Iſrael: and Hezekiah his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

q They buried him not in the citie of David, where were the ſepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Hezekiah his good reigne. 3 He reſtoreth religion. 5 He exhorteth the Levites. 12 They ſanctifie themſelves, & cleanſe the houſe of God. 20. Hezekiah offereth ſolemne ſacrifices. wherein the Levites were more forward than the prieſts.

HEzekiah * began to reigne when he was five and twenty yeares old, and he reigned nine and twenty yeares in Jeruſalem: and his mothers name was Abijah the daughter of Zechariah.

* 2 Kings 18, 1, 2.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3 ¶ He, in the [a] firſt yeare of his reigne, in the firſt moneth, [b] opened the doores of the houſe of the LORD, and repaired them.

a This is a notable example for all princes, firſt to eſtabliſh the pure religion of God, and to procure that the Lord may be honoured and ſerved aright.

b Which Ahaz had ſhut up, chap. 28, 24.

4 And he brought in the prieſts, and the Levites, and gathered them together into the eaſt-ſtreet,

5 And ſaid unto them, Heare me, ye Levites, ſanctifie now your ſelves, and ſanctifie the houſe of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry forth the [c] filthineſſe out of the holy place.

c Meaning, all the idols, altars, groves, and whatſoever was occupied in their ſervice, and wherewith the temple was polluted.

6 For our fathers have treſpaſſed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forſaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD, and † turned their backs.

† Heb. given the neck.

7 Alſo they have ſhut up the doores of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incenſe, nor offered burnt-offerings in the holy place, unto the God of Iſrael.

8 [d] Wherefore the wrath of the LORD was upon Judah and Jeruſalem, and he hath delivered them to † trouble, to aſtoniſhment, and to hiſſing, as ye ſee with your eyes.

d He ſheweth that the contempt of religion is the cauſe of all Gods plagues.

9 For lo, our fathers have fallen by the ſword, and our ſonnes, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Iſrael, that his [e] fierce wrath may turn away from us.

e He proveth by the judgements of God upon thoſe that have contemned his word, that there is no way to avoid his plagues, but by conforming themſelves to his will.

11 My ſonnes † be not now negligent: for the LORD hath * choſen you to ſtand before him, to ſerve him, and that you ſhould miniſter unto him, and ‡ burn incenſe.

† Or, be not now deceived.

* Num. 8. 14. and 18, 2, 6.

‡ Or, offer ſacrifice.

12 ¶ Then the Levites aroſe, Mahath the ſonne of Amaſai, and Joel the ſonne of Aza-

372 riah of the ſonnes of the Kohathites: and of the ſonnes of Merari; Kiſh the ſonne of Abdi, and Azariah the ſonne of Jahalelel: and of the Gerſhonites; Joah the ſonne of Zimmah, and Eden the ſonne of Joah:

13 And of the ſonnes of Elizaphan; Shimri, and Jehiel: and of the ſonnes of Aſaph; Zechariah, and Mattaniah.

14 And of the ſonnes of Heman; Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the ſonnes of Jeduthun; Shemaiah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and ſanctified themſelves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, ‡ by the words of the LORD, to cleanſe the houſe of the LORD.

‡ Or, in the inſineſſe of the LORD.

16 And the prieſts went into the inner part of the houſe of the LORD, to [f] cleanſe it, and brought out all the uncleanneſſe that they found in the temple of the LORD, into the court of the houſe of the LORD. And the Levites took it, to carry it out abroad into the brook Kidron.

[f] From the pollutions and filth that Ahaz had brought in.

17 Now they began on the firſt day of the [g] firſt moneth to ſanctifie, and on the eighth day of the moneth came they to the porch of the LORD: ſo they ſanctified the houſe of the LORD in eight dayes, and in the ſixteenth day of the firſt moneth they made an end.

[g] Which contained part of March and part of April.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and ſaid, We have cleanſed all the houſe of the LORD, and the altar of burnt-offering, with all the veſſels thereof, and the ſhew-bread table, with all the veſſels thereof.

19 Moreover, all the veſſels which king Ahaz in his reigne did caſt away in his tranſgreſſion, have we prepared and ſanctified, and behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.

[h] By this manner of ſpeech the Hebrews mean a certain diligence and ſpeed to do a thing, and when there is no delay.

20 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king roſe [h] early, and gathered the rulers of the citie, and went up to the houſe of the LORD.

21 And they brought ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rammes, and ſeven lambes, and ſeven he-goats, for a * ſinne-offering for the kingdome, and for the ſanctuary, and for Judah: and he commanded the prieſts the ſonnes of Aaron to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

* Levit. 4, 14.

[i] For without ſprinkling of bloud nothing could be ſanctified, Heb. 9, 21. Exod. 24, 8. Levit. 8, 14, 15.

23 And they brought ‡ forth the he-goats for the ſinne-offering, before the king and the congregation, and [k] they laid their * hands upon them:

[k] That is, the king and the elders, as Levit. 4, 15. for they that offered a ſin-offering muſt lay their hands upon it, to ſignifie that they had deſerved that death, and alſo that they did conſecrate it to God to be thereby ſanctified. Exod. 29, 10.

24 And the prieſts killed them, and they made reconciliation with their bloud upon the altar, to make an atonement for all Iſrael: for the king commanded that the burnt-offering and the ſinne-offering ſhould be made for all Iſrael.

* Levit. 4, 15. * 1 Chron. 16, 4. and 25, 6.

25 * And he ſet the Levites in the houſe of the LORD with cymbals, with pſalteries, and with harps, according to the [l] commandment of David, and of Gad the kings ſeer, and Nathan the prophet: for ſo was the commandment † of the LORD † by his prophets.

[l] This thing was not appointed of man, but it was the commandment of God.

† Heb. by the hand of the LORD.

26 And the Levites ſtood with the inſtruments of David, & the prieſts with the trumpets.

† Heb. by the hand of.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt-offering upon the altar: and † when the burnt-offering began, the ſong of the [m] LORD began alſo with the trumpets, & with the ‡ inſtruments ordained by [n] David king of Iſrael.

28 And all the congregation worſhipped, and the ‡ ſingers ſang, and the trumpeters ſounded: and all this continued untill the burnt-offering was finiſhed.

† Heb. hands of inſtruments.

[n] Which David had appointed to praiſe the Lord with.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king & all that were † preſent with him, bowed themſelves and worſhipped.

30 Moreover, Hezekiah the king, and the princes commanded the Levites to ſing praiſe unto the LORD, with the [o] words of David, & of Aſaph the ſeer, and they ſang praiſes with gladneſſe, and they bowed their heads and worſhipped.

[o] With that pſalm whereof mention in made 1 Chron. 16. 8.

31 Then Hezekiah anſwered & ſaid, Now ye have ‡ conſecrated your ſelves unto the LORD, come neare and bring ſacrifices, and thank-offerings unto the houſe of the LORD. And the congregation brought in ſacrifices, and thank-offerings, and as many as were of a free heart, burnt-offerings.

‡ Or, filled your hand.

32 And the number for the burnt-offerings which the congregation brought, was three-ſcore and ten bullocks, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambes: all theſe were for a burnt-offering to the LORD.

33 And the [p] conſecrated things were ſix hundred oxen, and three thouſand ſheep.

[p] That is, for the holy offerings.

34 But the prieſts were too few, ſo that they could not ſlay all the burnt-offerings: wherefore their brethren the Levites † did help them till the work was ended, and untill the other prieſts had ſanctified themſelves: for the Levites were [q] more upright in heart, to ſanctifie themſelves, than the prieſts.

† Heb. ſtrengthened them.

[q] Meaning, were more zealous to ſet forward the true religion.

35 And alſo the burnt-offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace-offerings, and the drink-offerings for every burnt-offering. So the ſervice of the houſe of the LORD was ſet in order.

36 And Hezekiah rejoyced, and all the people, that [r] God had prepared the people: for the thing was done ſuddenly.

[r] He ſheweth that religion cannot proceed, except God touch the heart of the people.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hezekiah proclaimeth a ſolemn paſſeover on the ſecond moneth for Judah and Iſrael. 13 The aſſembly having deſtroyed the altars of idolatry, keep the feaſt fourteen dayes. 27 The prieſts and Levites bleſſe the people.

AND Hezekiah ſent to all Iſrael & Judah, and wrote letters alſo to [a] Ephraim and Manaſſeh, that they ſhould come to the houſe of the LORD at Jeruſalem, to keep the paſſeover unto the LORD God of Iſrael.

[a] Meaning, all Iſrael, whom Tiglathpilnezer had not taken away into the captivity. 2 Kings. 15, 29.

2 For the king had taken counſel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jeruſalem, to keep the paſſeover in the [b] ſecond moneth.

[b] Though they ought to have done it in the firſt moneth, as Exod. 12, 18. Num. 9. 3. yet if any were not clean or elſe had a long journey they might defer it unto the ſecond moneth, as Num. 9, 10, 11.

3 For

3 For they could not keep it at that time, becauſe the prieſts had not ſanctified themſelves ſufficiently, neither had the people gathered themſelves together to Jeruſalem.

† Heb. was right in the eyes of the king.

4 And the thing † pleaſed the king, and all the congregation.

5 So they eſtabliſhed a decree, to make proclamation throughout all Iſrael, from [c] Beerſheba even to Dan, that they ſhould come to keep the paſſeover unto the LORD God of Iſrael at Jeruſalem: for they had not done it of a long time in ſuch ſort [d] as it was written.

[c] From one end of the land to the other. North and South.

[d] In ſuch ſort and perfection, as God had appointed.

6 So the poſts went with the letters † from the king and his princes throughout all Iſrael and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, ſaying, Ye children of Iſrael, turn again unto the LORD God of Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael, and [e] he will return to the remnant of you, that are eſcaped out of the hand of the kings of Aſſyria.

† Heb. from the hand.

[e] He will have compaſſion on them, and preſerve them,

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which treſpaſſed againſt the LORD God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to deſolation, as ye ſee.

8 Now † be ye not ſtiff-necked as your fathers were, but † [f] yeeld your ſelves unto the LORD, and enter into his ſanctuary, which he hath ſanctified for ever: and ſerve the LORD your God, that the fierceneſſe of his wrath may turn away from you.

† Heb. harden not your necks.
† Heb. give the hand.
[f] Submit your ſelves to the Lord, and rebell no more.

9 For if ye turn again unto the LORD, your brethren and your children ſhall finde compaſſion before them that led them captive, ſo that they ſhall [g] come again into this land: for the LORD your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

[g] God will not only preſerve you, but through your repentance reſtore your brethren, which for their ſins he gave into the hands of the enemies.

10 So the poſts paſſed from city to city, through the countrey of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, even unto Zebulun: but they [h] laughed them to ſcorn, and mocked them.

* Exod. 34, 6.
[h] Though the wicked mock at the ſervants of God by whom he calleth them to repentance, as Gen 19, 14. yet the word ceaſeth not to fructifie in the hearts of Gods elect.

11 Nevertheleſſe, divers of Aſher and Manaſſeh, and of Zebulun humbled themſelves, and came to Jeruſalem.

12 Alſo in Judah, the hand of God was to give them [i] one heart to do the commandment of the king and of the princes, by the word of the LORD.

[i] He sheweth the cauſe why ſome obey, and ſome mock at Gods calling, to wit, becauſe his ſpirit is with the one ſort, and moveth their heart, and the other are left to themſelves.

13 ¶ And there aſſembled at Jeruſalem much people, to keep the feaſt of unleavened bread in the ſecond moneth, a very great congregation.

14 And they aroſe, and took away the *[k] altars that were in Jeruſalem, and all the altars for incenſe took they away, and caſt them into the brook Kidron.

* Chap. 28, 24.
[k] Which declareth that we muſt put away thoſe things wherewith God is offended, before we can ſerve him aright.

15 Then they killed the paſſeover on the fourteenth day of the ſecond moneth: and the prieſts and the Levites were [l] aſhamed, and ſanctified themſelves, and brought in the burnt-offerings into the houſe of the LORD.

[l] Seeing their own negligence (who ſhould have been moſt prompt) and the readineſſe of the people, chap. 29, 36.

16 And they ſtood in † their place after their manner, according to the law of Moſes the man of God: the prieſts ſprinkled the [m] bloud, which they received of the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not ſanctified: therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the paſſeover, for every one that was not clean, to ſanctifie them unto the LORD.

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar, and Zebulun, had not cleanſed themſelves; yet did they eat the paſſeover otherwiſe than it was written: but Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, [n] The good LORD pardon every one

[n] He knew, that faith and ſincerity of heart was more agreeable to God, than the obſervation of theſe ceremonies, and therefore he prayed unto God to pardon this fault unto the people which did not offend of malice, but of ignorance.

19 That prepareth his heart to ſeek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

20 And the LORD hearkened to Hezekiah, and [o] healed the people.

[o] That is, did accept them as purified.

21 And the children of Iſrael that were † preſent at Jeruſalem, kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven dayes with great gladneſſe: and the Levites, and the prieſts praiſed the LORD day by day, ſinging with † loud inſtruments unto the LORD.

† Heb. inſtruments of ſtrength.

22 And Hezekiah ſpake † comfortably unto all the Levites, that taught the good knowledge of the LORD: and they did eat throughout the feaſt, ſeven dayes, offering peace-offerings, and making confeſſion to the LORD God of their fathers.

† Heb. to the heart of all. &c.

23 And the whole aſſembly took counſel to keep other ſeven dayes: and they kept other ſeven dayes with gladneſſe.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah † did give to the congregation a thouſand bullocks, and ſeven thouſand ſheep; and the princes gave to the congregation a [p] thouſand bullocks, and ten thouſand ſheep: and a great number of prieſts ſanctified themſelves.

† Heb. lifted up or offered.
[p] This great liberalitie declareth how kings, princes, and all they to whom God hath given wherewith, ought to be moſt ready to beſtow it in ſetting forth of Gods glory.

25 And all the congregation of Judah, with the prieſts and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Judah, rejoyced.

26 So there was great joy in Jeruſalem: for ſince the time of Solomon the ſonne of David king of Iſrael, there was not the like in Jeruſalem.

27 ¶ Then the prieſts the Levites aroſe, and [q] bleſſed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to † his holy dwelling-place, even unto heaven.

[q] According to that which is written, Num. 6, 23. when they ſhould diſmiſſe the people.
† Heb. the habitation of his holineſſe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people is forward in deſtroying idolatry. 2 Hezekiah ordereth the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, and provideth for their work and maintenance. 5 The peoples forwardneſſe in offerings and tithes. 11 Hezekiah appointeth officers to diſpoſe of the tithes. 20 The ſincerity of Hezekiah.

NOw when all this was finiſhed, all Iſrael that were † preſent, went out to the cities of Judah, and *[a] brake the † images in pieces, and cut down the groves, & threw down the high places and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, in Ephraim alſo & Manaſſeh, † until they had utterly deſtroyed them all. 2 ¶ And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites after their courses, every man according to his service, the priests and Levites for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, to minister and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents [c] of the LORD.

[c] That is, in the temple where they assembled as in a tent.

3 He appointed also the kings portion of his substance, for the burnt-offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt-offerings, and the burnt-offerings for the sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the set feasts, as it is written in the * law of the LORD.

4 Moreover, he commanded the people that dwelt in Jerusalem, to give the [d] portion of the priests, and the Levites, that they might be [e] encouraged in the law of the LORD.

[e] That their mindes might not be entangled with provision of worldly things, but that they might wholly and cheerfully serve the Lord.

[g] For the relief of the priests, Levites, widows, pupils, fatherlesse, strangers, and such as were in necessitie.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 And when Hezekiah, and the princes came and saw the heaps, they [h] blessed the LORD and his people Israel.

[h] They praised the Lord, and prayed for all prosperitie to his people.

9 Then Hezekiah questioned with the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief priest of the house of Zadok, answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the LORD, we have had enough to eat, and have [i] left plenty: for the LORD hath blessed his people; and that which is left, is this great store.

[i] He sheweth that this plenteous liberality is expedient for the maintenance of the ministers, and that God therefore prospereth his people, and increaseth by his blessing that which is given.

11 ¶ Then Hezekiah commanded to prepare ‡ chambers in the house of the LORD; and they prepared them, 12 And brought in the offerings and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: over which Kononiah the Levite was ruler, and Shimei his brother was the next.

CHAP. XXXII.

[1] Sennacherib invading Iudah, Hezekiah fortifieth himself, and encourageth his people. 9 Against the blasphemies of Sennacherib by message and letters, Hezekiah and Isaiah pray. 21 An angel destroyeth the host of the Assyrians, to the glory of Hezekiah. 24 Hezekiah praying in his sickneſſe, God giveth him a signe of recovery. 24 He waxing proud, is humbled by God. 27 His wealth and works. 31 His errour in the embassage of Babylon. 32 He dying, Manasseh succeedeth him.

AFter * these things and the establishment thereof, Sennacherib king of Assyria came, and entred into Judah, and encamped against the fenced cities, and thought † to winne them for himself.

5 Also he strengthened himself, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired [a] Millo in the [b] city of David, and made [c] darts and shields in abundance.

[a] He made a double wall.

7 Be ſtrong and couragious, be not afraid nor diſmayed for the king of Aſſyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be mo with us, than with him.

8 With him is an * [d] arm of fleſh, but with us is the [e] LORD our God, to help us, and to fight our battels. And the people ‡ reſted themſelves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 ¶ * After this did Sennacherib king of Aſſyria ſend his ſervants to Jeruſalem (but he himſelf laid ſiege againſt [f] Lachiſh, and all his † power with him) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah, that were at Jeruſalem, ſaying.

10 Thus ſaith Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, Whereon do ye truſt, that ye abide ‡ in the ſiege in Jeruſalem?

11 Doth not Hezekiah perſwade you to give over your ſelves to die by famine and by thirſt, ſaying, The LORD our God ſhall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

12 Hath not the ſame Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his [g] altars, and commanded Judah and Jeruſalem, ſaying, Ye ſhall worſhip before one altar, and burn incenſe upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of thoſe lands any wayes able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who was there among all the [h] gods of thoſe nations, that my fathers utterly deſtroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor perſwade you on this manner, neither yet beleeve him: for no god of any nation or kingdome was able to [i] deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much leſſe ſhall your God deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his ſervants ſpake yet more againſt the LORD God, and againſt his ſervant [k] Hezekiah.

17 He wrote alſo letters to rail on the LORD God of Iſrael, and to ſpeak againſt him, ſaying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand? ſo ſhall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they [l] cried with a loud voice in the Jews ſpeech unto the people of Jeruſalem that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them, that they might take the city.

19 And thy ſpake againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth which were the [m] work of the hands of man.

20 For this cauſe Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz, [n] prayed and cried to heaven.

21 ¶ And the LORD ſent an angel which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and [o] captains in the camp of the king of Aſſyria: ſo he returned with ſhame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the houſe of his God, they that came forth of his own [p] bowels, † ſlew him there with the ſword.

22 Thus the LORD ſaved Hezekiah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, and from the hand of all other, and guided them on every ſide.

23 And many brought gifts unto the LORD to Jeruſalem, and † preſents to Hezekiah king of Judah: ſo that he was [q] magnified in the ſight of all nations, from thenceforth.

24 ¶ * In thoſe dayes Hezekiah was ſick to the death, and prayed unto the LORD: and he ſpake unto him, and he ‡ gave him a [r] ſigne.

25 But Hezekiah rendred not again, according to the benefit done unto him: for his heart was [s] lifted up; therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jeruſalem.

26 Notwithſtanding, Hezekiah humbled himſelf for † the pride of his heart (both he and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem) ſo that the wrath of the LORD came not upon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 ¶ And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour: and he made himſelf treaſuries for ſilver, and for gold, and for precious ſtones, and for ſpices, and for ſhields, and for all manner of † pleaſant jewels;

28 Store-houſes alſo for the increaſe of corn, and wine, and oyl; and ſtalls for all manner of beaſts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover, he provided him cities, and poſſeſſions of flocks, and herds in abundance: for God had given him ſubſtance very much.

30 This ſame Hezekiah alſo ſtopped the upper water-courſe of [t] Gihon, and brought it ſtraight down to the weſt-ſide of the citie of David. And Hezekiah proſpered in all his works.

31 ¶ Howbeit, in the buſineſſe of the † embaſſadours of the princes of Babylon, who * ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to * try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Hezekiah, and his † goodneſſe, behold, they are written in the viſion of Iſaiah the prophet, the ſonne of Amoz, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33 And Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the ‡ chiefeſt of the ſepulchres of the ſonnes of David: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem did him honour at his death: and Manaſſeh his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

Chap. XXXIII.

1 Manaſſeh his wicked reigne. 3 He ſetteth up idolatry, and would not be admoniſhed. 11 He is carried into Babylon. 12 Upon his prayer to God he is releaſed, and putteth down idolatry. 18 His acts. 20 He dying, Amon ſucceedeth him. 21 Amon reigning wickedly, is ſlain by his ſervants. 25 The murderers being ſlain, Joſiah ſucceedeth him.

* 2 Kings 21, 1. &c. MAnaſſeh * was twelve yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiftie and five yeares in Jeruſalem.

2 But did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, like unto the * abominations of the heathen, whom the LORD had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

* Deut. 18, 9,

† Heb. he returned and built.
* 2 Kings 18, 4.

3 ¶ For † he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had * broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

* Deut. 12, 11. 1 kings 8, 29. and 9, 3. Chap. 6, 6. and 7, 16.

4 Alſo he built altars in the houſe of the LORD, whereof the LORD had ſaid, * in Jeruſalem ſhall my name be for ever.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven, in the two courts of the houſe of the LORD.

a Read 2 Kings 16, 3.

6 [a] And he cauſed his children to paſſe through the fire in the valley of the ſonne of Hinnom: alſo he obſerved times, and uſed enchantments, and uſed witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar ſpirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the ſight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he ſet a carved image (the idol which he had made) in the houſe of God, of which God had ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſonne, In * this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen before all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever.

12 And when he was in affliction, he beſought the LORD his God, and humbled himſelf greatly before the God of his fathers.

d Thus affliction giveth underſtanding, for he that hated God in his proſperity, now in his miſery he ſeeketh unto him.

13 And prayed unto him, and he was [d] entreated of him, and heard his ſupplication, and brought him again to Jeruſalem unto his kingdome. Then Manaſſeh knew that the LORD he was God.

14 Now after this, he built a wall without the city of David, on the weſt-ſide of [e] Gihon, in the valley, even to the entring in at the fiſh-gate, and compaſſed about ‡ [f] Ophel, and raiſed it up a very great height, and put captains of warre in all the fenced cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the ſtrange gods, and the idol out of the houſe of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the houſe of the LORD, and in Jeruſalem, and caſt them out of the city.

16 And he [g] repaired the altar of the LORD, and ſacrificed thereon peace-offerings, and thank-offerings, and commanded Judah to ſerve the LORD God of Iſrael.

g Which Solomon had cauſed to be made.

17 Neverthleſſe, the people did ſacrifice ſtill in the high places, yet unto the LORD their God [h] onely.

h Thus by ignorance they were decieved, thinking it nothing to keep the altar, ſo that they worſhipped God: but it is idolatrie to worſhip God any otherwiſe then he hath appointed.

18 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh, and his [i] prayer unto his God, and the words of the ſeers that ſpake to him in the name of the LORD God of Iſrael, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

k Becauſe he had ſo horribly offended againſt the Lord, they did not bury him in the ſepulchres of the kings, but in the garden of the kings houſe.

21 ¶ * Amon was two and twenty yeares old when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeares in Jeruſalem.

* 2 Kings 21, 19. &c.

22 But he did that which was evil in the ſight of the LORD, as did Manaſſeh his father: for Amon ſacrificed unto all the carved images, which Manaſſeh his father had made, and ſerved them;

23 And humbled not himſelf before the LORD, as Manaſſeh his father had humbled himſelf; but Amon † treſpaſſed more and more.

Chap. XXXIIII.

1 Joſiah his good reigne. 3 He deſtroyeth idolatry. 8 He taketh order for the repair of the temple. 14 Hilkiah having found a book of the law, Joſiah ſendeth to Huldah to enquire of the Lord. 23 Huldah propheſieth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, but reſpite thereof in Joſiahs time. 29 Joſiah cauſing it to be read in a ſolemn aſſembly, reneweth the covenant with God.

* 2 Kings 22, 1. &c. IOſiah * was eight yeares old when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Jeruſalem one and thirty yeares.

a He followed David in all points that he followed the Lord.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the LORD, and walked in the wayes of [a] David his father, and declined neither to the right hand nor to the left.

b When he was but ſixteen yeares old, he ſhewed himſelf zealous of Gods glory: and at twenty yeares old he abolished idolatry, and reſtored the true religion.

3 ¶ For in the eighth yeare of his reigne, while he was yet [b] young, he began to ſeek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth yeare yeare he began to * purge Judahand Jeruſalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 * And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his [c] preſence; and the ‡ images that were on high above them, he cut down, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images he brake in pieces, and made duſt of them, and ſtrowed it upon the † graves of them that had ſacrificed unto them.

5 And he burnt the [d] bones of the prieſts upon their altars, and cleanſed Judah and Jeruſalem.

6 And ſo did he in the cities of Manaſſeh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their ‡ mattocks, round about.

7 And when he had [e] broken down the altars, and the groves, and had beaten the graven images † into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Iſrael, he returned to Jeruſalem.

8 ¶ Now in the eighteenth yeare of his reigne, when he had purged the land, and the houſe, he ſent Shaphan the ſonne of Azaliah, and Maaſiah the governour of the city, and Joah the ſonne of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the houſe of the LORD his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high prieſt, they delivered the money that was brought into the houſe of God, which the Levites that kept the doores, had gathered of the hand of Manaſſeh and Ephraim, and of all the remnant of Iſrael, and of all Judah, and Benjamin, and they returned to Jeruſalem.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen, that had the overſight of the houſe of the LORD, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the houſe of the LORD, to repair and mend the houſe:

11 Even to the artificers and builders gave they it, to buy hewen ſtone, and timber for couplings, and ‡ to floore the [f] houſes, which the kings of Judah had deſtroyed.

12 And the men did the work [g] faithfully: and the overſeers of them were Jahath, and Obadiah, the Levites, of the ſonnes of Merari; and Zechariah, and Meſhullam, of the ſonnes of the Kohathites, to ſet it forward; and other of the Levites, all that could skill of inſtruments of muſick.

13 Alſo they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overſeers of all that wrought the work in any manner of ſervice: and of the Levites there were ſcribes, and officers, and porters,

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the houſe of the LORD, Hilkiah the prieſt * found a [h] book of the law of the LORD, given † by Moſes.

15 And Hilkiah anſwered and ſaid to Shaphan the ſcribe, I have found the book of the law in the houſe of the LORD. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan:

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the [i] king, and brought the king word back again, ſaying, All that was committed † to thy ſervants, they do it.

17 And they have † gathered together the money that was found in the houſe of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hand of the overſeers, and to the hand of the workmen.

18 Then Shaphan the ſcribe told the king, ſaying, Hilkiah the prieſt hath given me a book. And Shaphan read † it before the king.

19 And it came to paſſe when the king had heard the words of the law, that he [k] rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan, and ‡ Abdon the ſonne of Micah, and Shaphan the ſcribe, and Aſaiah a ſervant of the kings, ſaying.

21 Go, enquire of the LORD for me, and for them that are left in Iſrael, and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out upon us, becauſe our [l] fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 And Hilkiah, & they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the propheteſſe, the wife of Shallum the ſonne of Tikvath, the ſonne of ‡ Haſrah, keeper of the † [m] wardrobe; (now ſhe dwelt in Jeruſalem ‡ in the [n] colledge) and they ſpake to her to that effect.

23 ¶ And ſhe anſwered them, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Tell ye the [o] man that ſent you to me.

24 Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curſes that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have burned incenſe unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their [p] hands; therefore my wrath ſhall be poured out upon this place, and ſhall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Judah, who ſent you to enquire of the LORD, ſo ſhall ye ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael concerning the words which thou haſt heard, 27 Becauſe thine heart was [q] tender, and thou didſt humble thy ſelf before God, when thou heardeſt his words againſt this place, and againſt the inhabitants thereof, and humbledſt thy ſelf before me, and didſt rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee alſo, ſaith the LORD.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, neither ſhall thine eyes ſee all the evil that I wil bring upon this [r] place, and upon the inhabitants of the ſame. So they brought the king word again.

5 And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of † the families of the fathers of your brethren † the people, and after the division of the families of the Levites.

† Heb. the house of the fathers.
† the sonnes of the people.

6 So kill the passeover, and sanctifie your selves, and ᵈ prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the LORD, by the hand of Moses.

d Exhort every one to examine themselves, that they be not unmeet to eat of the passeover.

7 And Josiah † gave to the people, of the flock, lambes and kids, all for the passeover-offerings, for all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the kings substance.

† Heb. offered.

8 And his princes † gave willingly unto the people, to the priests and to the Levites: Hilkiah, and Zachariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave unto the priests for the passeover-offerings, two thousand and six hundred small cattel, and three hundred oxen.

† Heb. offered.

9 ᶜ Conaniah also, and Shemaiah, and Nethaneel, his brethren; and Hashabiah, and Jehiel, and Jozabad chief of the Levites † gave unto the Levites for passeover-offerings, five thousand small cattel, and five hundred oxen.

c So that every one, and of all sorts gave of that they had, a liberall portion to the service of God.
† Heb. offered.

10 So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their courses, according to the kings commandment.

11 And they killed the passeover, and the priests ᶠ sprinkled the bloud from their hands, and the Levites † flayed them.

f Meaning of the lambe, which was called the passeover: for onely the priests might sprinkle, and in necessitie the Levites might kill the sacrifice.
† See chap. 29, 34.

12 And they removed the ᵍ burnt-offerings, that they might give according to the divisions of the families of the people, to offer unto the LORD, as it is written in the book of Moses: and so did they with the oxen.

g They reserved for the people that which was not expedient to be offered, that every man might offer peace-offerings and so have his portion.
* Exod. 22. 8, 9.

13 And they * rosted the passeover with fire, according to the ordinance: but the other holy offerings sod they in pots, and in caldrons, and in pannes, and † divided them speedily among all the people.

† Heb made them run.

14 And afterward they made ready for themselves, and for the priests: because the priests the sonnes of Aaron were busied in offering of burnt-offerings, and the fat untill night; therefore the Levites prepared for themselves and for the priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph, were in their † place, according to the * commandment of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the kings ʰ seer; and the porters * waited at every gate, they might not depart from their service; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the LORD was prepared the same day, to keep the passeover, and to offer burnt-offerings upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were † present, kept the passeover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no passeover like to that kept in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a passeover as Josiah kept, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the ⁱ eighteenth yeare of the reigne of Josiah, was this passeover kept.

i Which was in the six and twentieth yeare of his age.

23 And the archers shot at king Josiah; and the king said to his servants, Have me away, for I am sore † wounded.

† Heb. made sick.

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died, and was buried ‡ in one of the sepulchres of his fathers: and * all Judah and Jerusalem [m] mourned for Josiah.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his † goodnesse, according to that which was written in the law of the LORD.

i Which is not because God approveth him, which yet is the minister of his justice, but because God would by his just judgement punish this people: for this king was led with ambition and vain glory whereunto were joyned furie and cruelty: therefore his work was condemnable, notwithstanding it was just and holy on Gods part, who used this wicked instrument to declare his justice.

23 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdomes of the earth hath the LORD God of heaven given me, and he hath [n] charged me to build him an house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah: who is there among you of all his people? the LORD his God be with him, & let him go up.

EZRA.

EZRA.

AS the Lord is ever mercifull unto his church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their own miseries, and be exercised under the crosse, that they may contemn the world and aspire unto the heavens: so after that he had visited the Jews and kept them now in bondage seventy yeares in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembred his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them up a deliverer, and moved both the heart of the chief ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in servitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefit, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domestic all enemies, which endevour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the prophets they went forward by little and little till their work was finished. The authour of this book was Ezra, who was priest, and scribe of the law, as chap 7, 6. He returned to Jerusalem the sixt year of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fifty years after the return of the first under Zerubbabel when the the Temple was built. He brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the temple: and at his comming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1 The proclamation of Cyrus for the building of the temple. 5 The people provide for the return. 7 Cyrus restoreth the vessels of the temple to Sheshbazzar.

a After that he and Darius had wonne Babylon.

NOw in the [a] first yeare of Cyrus king of Persia, (that the word of the LORD *by the [b] mouth of Jeremiah, might be fulfilled) the LORD stirred up the [c] spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he † made a proclamation throughout all his kingdome, and put it also in writing, saying,

* 2 Chron. 36, 22. Ierem. 25, 12, and 29, 10.

b Who promised them deliverance after that 70 yeares were past.

c That is, moved him, and gave him heart.

† Heb. caused a voice to passe.

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The LORD God of heaven hath give me [d] all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hath * charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

d For he was chief Monarch, and had many nations under his dominion, which this heathen king confesseth to have received of the living God.

* Isa. 44, 28, and 45, 13.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel (he is the God) which is in Jerusalem.

† Heb. lift him up.

e If any through povertie were not able to return, the kings commission was, that he should be furnished with necessaries

4 And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place † [e] help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, & with beasts, besides the freewill-offering [f] for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.

f Which they themselves should send toward the reparation of the temple.

5 ¶ Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, with all them whose spirit God had raised to go up, to build the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem.

g The Babylonians and Chaldeans gave them these presents: thus rather than the childen of God should want for their necessities, he would stirre up the heart of the very infidels to help them.

6 And all [g] they that were about them, "strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, & with beasts, & with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

" That is, helped them.

7 ¶ Also Cyrus the king brought forth the vessels of the house of the LORD, * which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jerusalem, & had put them in the house of his gods.

* 2 Kings 24, 13. 2 Chron. 36, 7.

8 Even those did Cyrus king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer and numbred them unto * [h] Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah.

* See Chap 5, 14.

h So the Chaldeans called Zerubbabel, who was the chief governour, so that the preeminence still remained in the house of David.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thousand chargers of silver, nine and twenty [i] knives.

i Which served to kill the beasts that were offered in sacrifice.

10 Thirty basons of gold, silver basons of a second sort foure hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand.

k With the Iews that had been kept captives in Babylon.

† Heb. the transportation.

1 The altar is set up. 4 Offerings frequented. 7 Workmen prepared. 8 The foundations of the temple are laid in great joy and mourning.

AND when the [a] seventh moneth was come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together, as one man, to Jerusalem.

2 Then stood up † Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, & his brethren the priests, & "[b] Zerubbabel the sonne of * Shealtiel, & his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, as it is * written in the law of Moses the man of God.

3 And they set the altar upon his [c] bases (for fear was upon them, because of the people of those countreys) and they offered burnt-offerings thereon unto the LORD, even burnt-offerings morning and evening.

4 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, * as it is written, and * offered the daily burnt-offerings by number, according to the custome, † as the duty of every day required.

5 And afterward offered the [d] continuall burnt-offering, both of the new moons, & of all the set feasts of the LORD, that were consecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a free-will-offering unto the LORD.

6 From the first day of the seventh moneth began they to offer burnt-offerings unto the LORD: but † the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

7 They gave money also unto the masons, and to the ‡ carpenters; and meat, and drink, and oyl, unto them of Zidon, and to them of Tyre, to bring cedar-trees from Lebanon to the sea of * Joppa: according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

8 ¶ Now in the second yeare of their coming unto the house of God at Jerusalem in the second moneth, began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jerusalem; and appointed the Levites, from twenty yeares old and upward, to set forward the work of the house of the LORD.

9 Then [f] stood Jeshua, with his sonnes and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sonnes, the sonnes of ‡ Judah † together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God: the sonnes of Henadad, with their sonnes and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, they set the priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Asaph, with cymbals to praise the LORD, after the * ordinance of David king of Israel.

11 And they sung together by course, in praising and giving thanks unto the LORD; because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever towards Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD; because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12 But many of the priests and Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men that had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, [g] wept with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for joy:

13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard farre of.

Chap. IIII.

1 The adversaries being not accepted in the building of the temple with the Iews, endeavour to hinder it. 7 Their letter to Artaxerxes. 17 The decree of Artaxerxes. 23 The building is hindred.

NOW when the [a] adversaries of Judah and Benjamin, heard that † the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the LORD God of Israel:

2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you; for we seek your God, as ye do, and we do sacrifice unto him, since the dayes of Esar-haddon king of Assur, which brought us up hither.

3 But Zerubbabel and Jeshua, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Israel, said unto them, [b] You have nothing to do with us, to build an house unto our God, but we our selves together will build unto the LORD God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.

4 Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building,

5 And [c] hired counsellers against them, to frustrate their purpose, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, even untill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of † [d] Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reigne, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 ¶ And in the dayes of [e] Artaxerxes wrote Bishlam, Mithridath, Tabeel, and the rest of their † companions unto Artaxerxes king of Persia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue.

8 Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the ‡ scribe, wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king, in this sort:

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, & the rest of their † companions; the [f] Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Susanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites, 12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jerusalem, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have ‡ set up the walls thereof; and † joyned the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that if this city be builded, and the walls set up again, then will they not † pay toll, tribute, and [k] custome, and so thou shalt endamage the ‡ revenue of the kings.

16 We certifie the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up, by this means thou shalt have no portion on this side the river.

1 Zerubbabel and Ieshua, incited by Haggai and Zechariah, set forward the buildmg of the temple. 3 Tatnai and Shethar-boznai could not hinder the Iews. 6 Their letter to Darius against the Iews.

THen the prophets, * Haggai the prophet, and * Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, prophesied unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jerusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, even unto them.

* Haggai 1: 1.
* Zech. 1: 1.

2 Then rose up Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and began to build the house of God, which is at Jerusalem: and with them were the prophets of God [a] helping them.

a Which incouraged them to go forward, and accused them that they were more carefull to build their own houses, than zealous to build the temple of God.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, governour on this side the river, and Shethar-boznai, and their companions, and said thus unto them, Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make up this wall?

4 [b] Then said we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men † that make this building;

b That is, the enemies asked this as verse 10.

† Cald. stones of rolling.

9 Then asked we those elders, and said unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this house, and to make up these walls?

10 We asked their names also, to certifie thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us answer, saying. We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, & build the house that was builded these many yeares ago, which a [d] great king of Israel builded, * and set up.

‡ Or, deputy.

15 And said unto him, Take these vessels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jerusalem. And since that time even untill now, hath it been in building, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let there be search made in the kings [g] treasure-house, which is there at Babylon, whether it be so that a decree was made of Cyrus the king, to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

4 With three rows of great stones, and a row of new timber: and let the expenses be given out of the kings house.

5 And also let the golden and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jerusalem, and brought unto Babylon, be restored, and † [b] brought again unto the temple which is at Jerusalem, every one to his place, and place them in the house of God.

c Meddle not with them, neither hinder them.

7 Let the work of this house of God alone, let the governour of the Jews, and the elders of the Jews, build this house of God in his place.

8 Moreover, † I make a decree, what ye shall do to the elders of these Jews, for the building of this house of God: that of the kings goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expenses be given unto these men, that they be not † [d] hindred.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rammes, and lambes, for the burnt-offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oyl, according to the appointment of the priests which are at Jerusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer sacrifices † of sweet savours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his sonnes.

† Cald. of rest.

11 Also I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his house, and being set up, † let him be hanged thereon, and let his house be made a dunghill for this.

† Cald. let him be destroyed.

12 And the God that hath caused his name to [e] dwell there, destroy all kings and people that shall put to their hand, to alter and to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem: I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with speed, e Who hath appointed that place to have his name called upon there.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai, governour on this side the river, Shethar-boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had sent, so they did speedily.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they prospered through the prophesying of [f] Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo; and they builded, and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the † commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

† Cald. the sonnes of the transportation.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God, an hundred bullocks, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes; and for a sinne-offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem; † * as it is written in the book of Moses.

† Cald. according to the writing.
* Num. 3. 6. & 8, 9.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the passeover, upon the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 For the priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the passeover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

21 And the children of Israel, which were come again out of captivity, and all such as had [i] separated themselves unto them, from the filthinesse of the heathen of the land, to seek the LORD God of Israel, did eat, i Which were of the heathen, and forsooke their idolatry to worship the true God.

22 And kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes with joy: for the LORD had made them joyfull, and turned the heart of the king of [k] Assyria unto them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

1 Ezra goeth up to Jeruſalem. 11 The gracious commiſſion of Artaxerxes to Ezra. 27 Ezra bleſſeth God for his favour.

NOw after theſe things, in the reigne of [a] Artaxerxes king of Perſia, Ezra the ſonne of Seraiah, the ſonne of Azariah, the ſonne of Hilkiah, a The Hebrews write that divers of the kings of Perſia were called by this name, as Pharaoh was a common name to the kings of Egypt, and Ceſar to the Romane Emperours.

2 The ſonne of Shallum, the ſonne of Zadok, the ſonne of Ahitub,

3 The ſonne of Amariah: the ſonne of Azariah, the ſonne of Meraioth,

4 The ſonne of Zeraiah, the ſonne of Uzzi, the ſonne of Bukki,

5 The ſonne of Abiſhua, the ſonne of Phinehas, the ſonne of Eleazar, the ſonne of [b] Aaron the chief prieſt:

b Ezra deduceth his kinred, till he cometh to Aaron, to prove that he came of him.

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon, and he was a ready [c] ſcribe in the law of Moſes, which the LORD God of Iſrael had given: and the king granted him all his requeſt, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

c He sheweth here what a ſcribe is, who had charge to write the law and to expound it, whom Mark called a ſcribe, Mark 12. 28. Matthew and Luke call him a lawyer, or doctour of the law, Matth. 22, 35. Luke 10, 25.

7 And there went up ſome of the children of Iſrael, and of the prieſts, and the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, unto Jeruſalem, in the ſeventh yeare of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he came to Jeruſalem in the [d] fifth moneth, which was in the ſeventh yeare of the [e] king.

d That containeth part of July, and part of Auguſt.

e Of king Darius.

9 For upon the firſt day of the firſt moneth † began he to go up from Babylon, and on the firſt day of the fifth moneth, came he to Jeruſalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

† Heb. was the foundation of the going up.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to ſeek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Iſrael ſtatutes and judgements.

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe, even a ſcribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his ſtatutes to Iſrael.

‡ Or, to Ezra the prieſt, a perfect ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, peace, &c.

12 Artazerxes king of kings, ‡ Unto Ezra the prieſt, a ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at [f] ſuch a time.

f Some take the word Cheeneth here, for the name of a people, ſome for the time or continuance, meaning that the king wished him long life.

13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Iſrael, and of his prieſts, and [g] Levites in my realm, which are minded of their own free-will to go up to Jeruſalem, go with thee.

g Which remained as yet in Babylon, and had not returned with Zerubbabel.

17 That thou mayeſt buy ſpeedily with this money, bullocks, rammes, lambes, with their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the houſe of your [k] God, which is in Jeruſalem.

k As ye know beſt may ſerve to Gods glory.

18 And whatſoever ſhall ſeem good to thee and to thy brethren, to do with the reſt of the ſilver and gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 The veſſels alſo that are given thee, for the ſervice of the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliver thou before the God of Jeruſalem.

20 And whatſoever more ſhall be needfull for the houſe of thy God, which thou ſhalt have occaſion to beſtow, beſtow it out of the kings treaſure-houſe.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treaſurers which are beyond the [l] river, that whatſoever Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, ſhall require of you, it be done ſpeedily;

23 † Whatſoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done, for the houſe of the God of heaven: for why ſhould there be wrath againſt the [n] realm of the king and his ſonnes?

† Heb. whatſoever is of the decree.

24 Alſo we certifie you, that touching any of the prieſts and Levites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, or miniſters of this houſe of God, it ſhall not be lawfull to impoſe toll, tribute, or cuſtome upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wiſdome of thy God, that is in thine hand, [o] ſet magiſtrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all ſuch as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

o He gave Ezra full authoritie to reſtore all things according to the word of God, and to punish them that reſiſted, and would not obey.

26 And whoſoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgement be executed ſpeedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or † to baniſhment, or to confiſcation of goods, or to impriſonment.

28 And hath extended mercy unto me, before the king, and his counſellers, and before all the kings mighty princes: & I was ſtrengthened as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Iſrael, chief men to go up with me.

8 And of the ſonnes of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the ſonne of Michael, and with him foureſcore males.

9 Of the ſonnes of Joab; Obadiah the ſonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

10 And of the ſonnes of Shelomith; the ſonne of Joſiphiah, and with him an hundred and threeſcore males.

11 And of the ſonnes of Bebai; Zechariah the ſonne of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight males.

12 And of the ſonnes of Azgad; Johanan, ‡ the ſonne of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

‡ Or, the youngeſt ſonne.

13 And of the [b] laſt ſonnes of Adonikam, whoſe names are theſe, Eliphelet, Jehiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threeſcore males.

b That came to go with Ezra.

14 Of the ſonnes alſo of Bigvai; Uthai, and ‡ Zabbud, and with them ſeventy males.

‡ Or, Zaccur as ſome read.

15 ¶ And I gathered them together to the [c] river that runneth to Ahava: and there ‡ abode we in tents three dayes: and I viewed the people, and the prieſts, and found there none of the ſonnes of Levi.

c To that place of Euphrates, where Ahavah the river entreth into it.
‡ Or, pitched.

16 Then ſent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, and for Elnathan, and for Jarib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meſhullam, chief men: alſo for Jarib, and for Elnathan, men of underſtanding.

17 And I ſent them with commandment unto Iddo the [d] chief, at the place Caſiphia, & † I told them what they ſhould ſay unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims, at the place Caſiphia, that they ſhould bring unto us miniſters for the houſe of our God.

d He was the chiefeſt that taught there the law of God unto the Levites.
†Heb. I put words in their mouth.

18 And by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of underſtanding, of the ſonnes of Mahli, the ſonne of Levi, the ſonne of Iſrael, and Sherebiah, with his ſonnes and his brethren, eighteen.

19 And Haſhabiah, and with him Jeſhaiah of the ſonnes of Merari, his brethren and their ſonnes, twenty.

e Read chap. 2, 43.

20 Alſo of the [e] Nethinims, whom David and the princes had appointed for the ſervice of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims: all of them were expreſſed by name.

21 ¶ Then I proclaimed a faſt there, at the river Ahava, that we might [f] afflict our ſelves before our God, to ſeek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our ſubſtance.

f He ſhewed that the end of faſting is to humble the body to the ſpirit, which muſt proceed of the heart lively touched, or elſe it is but hypocriſie.

22 For I was [g] aſhamed to require of the king a band of ſouldiers and horſemen, to help us againſt the enemy in the way: becauſe we had ſpoken unto the king, ſaying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good, that ſeek him, but his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

g He thought it better to commit himſelf to the protection of God, than by ſeeking theſe ordinary means, to give an occaſion to others to think that he did doubt of Gods power.

* 23 So we faſted and beſought our God for this, and he was entreated of us.

24 ¶ Then I ſeparated twelve of the chief of the prieſts, Sherebiah, Haſhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And weighed unto them the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, even the offering of the houſe of our God, which the king, and his counſellers, and his lords, and all Iſrael there preſent, had offered.

26 I even weighed unto their hand, ſix hundred and fifty [h] talents of ſilver, and ſilver veſſels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents:

h Read 1 Kings 9, 14.

27 Alſo twenty baſons of gold, of a thouſand [i] drammes, and two veſſels of † fine copper, † precious as gold.

i Read Chap. 8, 69.

28 And I ſaid unto them, Ye are holy unto the LORD, the veſſels are holy alſo, and the ſilver, and the gold are a free-will-offering unto the LORD God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, untill ye weigh them before the chief of the prieſts, and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Iſrael at Jeruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of the LORD.

30 So took the prieſts and the Levites, the weight of the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels, to bring them to Jeruſalem unto the houſe of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava, on the twelfth day of the firſt moneth, to go unto Jeruſalem; and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of ſuch as lay in [k] wait by the way.

k This declared that their journey was full of danger, and yet God delivered them according to their prayer.

32 And we came to Jeruſalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 ¶ Now on the fourth day was the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels weighed in the houſe of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the ſonne of Uriah the prieſt, and with him was Eleazar the ſonne of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabad the ſonne of Jeſhua, and Noadiah the ſonne of Binnui, [l] Levites:

l This was a token of a good conſcience, and of his integrity, that he would have witneſſes of his fidelitie.

34 By number and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time.

35 Alſo the children of thoſe that had been carried away which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Iſrael, twelve bullocks for all Iſrael, ninety and ſix rammes, ſeventy and ſeven lambes, twelve twelve he-goats for a ſinne-offering, all this was a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

36 ¶ And they delivered the kings commiſſions unto the kings lieutenants, and to the governours on this ſide the river, and they furthered the people, and the houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra mourneth for the affinity of the people with ſtrangers.
5 He prayeth unto God with confeſſion of ſinnes.

NOw when theſe things were done, the princes came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſrael, and the prieſts, and the Levites have not [a] ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebuſites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

a From the time they came home under Zerubbabel untill the coming of Ezra, they had degenerated contrary to the law of God and married where it was not lawfull, Deut. 7, 3.

2 For they have taken of their daughters for themſelves, and for their ſonnes: ſo that the holy ſeed have mingled themſelves with the people of thoſe lands: yea the hand of the [b] princes and rulers hath been chief in this treſpaſſe.

y That is, the governours are the chief beginners thereof.

3 And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and pluckt off the hair of my head, and of my beard, and ſat down [c] aſtonied.

c As one doubting whether God would continue his benefits towards us, or elſe deſtroy this which he had begun.

4 Then were aſſembled unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Iſrael, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of thoſe that had been carried away, and I ſat aſtonied untill the evening ſacrifice.

‡ Or, affliction.

5 ¶ And at the evening ſacrifice, I aroſe up from my ‡ heavineſſe, and having rent my garment, and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and ſpread out my hands unto the LORD my God,

6 And ſaid, O my God, I am aſhamed and bluſh to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increaſed over our [d] head, and our ‡ treſpaſſe is grown up unto the [e] heavens.

d That is, we are drowned in ſin.
‡ Or, guiltineſſe.
e They ſo exceed that they cannot grow greater.

7 Since the dayes of our fathers, have we been in a great treſpaſſe unto this day, and for our iniquities have we, our kings and our prieſts, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the ſword, to captivity, and to a ſpoil, and to confuſion of face, as it is this day.

8 And now for a † little ſpace grace hath been ſhewed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to eſcape, and to give us ‡ a "[f] nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.

‡ Or, a pinne.
" That is conſtant and ſure abode.
f In giving us a reſting place. It is a ſimilitude taken of them that remain ſtill in a place, which ſmite nails to hang things upon, Iſai, 22, 23.

9 For we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forſaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the ſight of the kings of Perſia, to give us a reviving to ſet up the houſe of our God, and † to repair the deſolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jeruſalem.

† Heb. to ſet up.

10 And now, O our God, what ſhall we ſay after this? for we have forſaken thy commandments.

† Heb. by the hand of thy ſervants.

11 Which thou haſt commanded † by thy ſervants the prophets, ſaying, The land unto which ye go to poſſeſſe it, is an unclean land with the filthineſſe of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it † from one end to another, with their uncleanneſſe.

† Heb. from mouth to mouth.

12 Now therefore * give not your daughters unto their ſonnes, neither take their daughters unto your ſonnes, nor ſeek their peace, or their wealth for ever: that ye may be ſtrong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

* Exod. 23, 32. Deut. 7, 3.

13 And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great treſpaſſe, ſeeing that thou our God † haſt puniſhed us leſſe than our [g] iniquities deſerve, and haſt given us ſuch deliverance as this:

† Heb. haſt withheld beneath our iniquities.
g Haſt not utterly caſt us down and deſtroyed us for our ſins, Deut. 28, 13.

14 Should we again break thy commandments, and joyn in affinity with the people of theſe abominations? wouldeſt not thou be angry with us till thou hadſt conſumed us, ſo that there ſhould be no remnant nor eſcaping?

15 O LORD God of Iſrael, thou art righteous, for we [h] remain yet eſcaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our treſpaſſes: for we cannot ſtand before thee, becauſe of this.

h He ſheweth that God is juſt in puniſhing his people, and yet mercifull in reſerving a reſidue to whom he ſheweth favour.

CHAP. X.

1 Shechaniah encourageth Ezra to reform the ſtrange marriages. 6 Ezra mourning, aſſembleth the people. 9 The people at the exhortation of Ezra, repent and promiſe amendment. 15 The care to perform it. 18 The names of them which had married ſtrange wives.

NOw when Ezra had prayed, and when he had [a] confeſſed, weeping and caſting himſelf down before the houſe of God, there aſſembled unto him out of Iſrael, a very great congregation of men, and women, and children: for the people † wept very ſore.

a He coſeſſed his ſins, and the ſins of the people.

2 And Shechaniah the ſonne of Jehiel, one of the ſonnes of Elam, anſwered and ſaid unto Ezra, We have treſpaſſed againſt our God, and have taken ſtrange wives, of the people of the land: yet now there is [b] hope in Iſrael concerning this thing.

b Meaning, that God would receive them to mercy.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God, † to put away all the [c] wives, and ſuch as are born of them according to the counſel of my lord, and of thoſe that tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the law.

† Heb. to bring forth.
c Which are ſtrangers and married contrary to the law of God.

4 Ariſe, for this matter belongeth unto thee, we alſo will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

d d Becauſe God hath given thee authority, and learning to perſwade the people therein, and to command them

5 Then aroſe Ezra, and made the chief prieſts, the Levites, and all Iſrael to ſwear, that they ſhould do according to this word: and they ſware.

6 ¶ Then Ezra roſe up from before the houſe of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the ſonne of Eliaſhib: and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned becauſe of the tranſ-

388 greſſion of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jeruſalem, unto all the children of the captivitie, that they ſhould gather themſelves together unto Jeruſalem;

8 And that whoſoever would not come within three dayes, according to the counſel of the princes and the elders, all his ſubſtance ſhould be † forfeited, and himſelf ſeparated from the congregation of thoſe that had been carried away.

† Heb. devoted.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin, gathered themſelves together unto Jeruſalem, within three dayes: it was the [e] ninth moneth, & the twentieth day of the moneth, and all the people ſat in the ſtreet of the houſe of God, trembling becauſe of this matter, and for † the great [f] rain.

e Which contained part of November and part of December.

f For the ſeaſon was given to rain, and ſo the weather was more ſharp and cold, and alſo their conſcience touched them.

10 And Ezra the prieſt ſtood up, and ſaid unto them, Ye have tranſgreſſed, and † have taken ſtrange wives to [g] increaſe the treſpaſſe of Iſrael.

† Heb. have cauſed to dwell, or, have brought back.

g Ye have laid one ſin upon another.

11 Now therefore make [h] confeſſion unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleaſure: and ſeparate your ſelves from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wives.

h Read Joſh. 7. 19.

12 Then all the congregation anſwered, and ſaid with a loud voice, As thou haſt ſaid, ſo muſt we do:

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to ſtand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for ‡ we are many that have tranſgreſſed in this thing.

‡ Or, we have greatly offended in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation [i] ſtand, and let all them which have taken ſtrange wives in our cities, come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, untill the fierce wrath of our God ‡ for this matter, be turned from us.

i Let them be appointed to examine this matter.

‡ Or, till this matter be diſpatched.

15 ¶ Onely Jonathan the ſonne of Aſahel, and Jahaziah the ſonne of Tikvah, † were employed about this matter: and Meſhullam, and Shabbethai the Levite helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did [k] ſo: and Ezra the prieſt with certain chief of the fathers, after the houſe of their fathers, & all of them by their names were ſeparated, and ſat down in the firſt day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

k They went to the chief cities to ſit on this matter which was three moneths in finiſhing.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken ſtrange wives, by the firſt day of the firſt moneth.

18 ¶ And among the ſonnes of the prieſts, there were found that had taken ſtrange wives: namely, of the ſonnes of Jeſhua the ſonne of Jozadak, and his brethren; Maaſiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their [l] hands, that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ramme of the flock for their treſpaſſe.

l As a token that they would keep promiſe and do it.

20 And of the ſonnes of Immer; Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the ſonnes of Harim; Maaſiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

26 And of the ſonnes of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel and Abdi, and Jerimoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the ſonnes of Zattu; Elioenai, Eliaſhib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Of the ſonnes alſo of Bebai; Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.

44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wives: and [n] ſome of them had wives by whom they had children.

n Which alſo were made illegitimate becauſe the marriage was unlawfull.

THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOd doth in allages and at all times set up worthy persons for the commoditie and profit of his church, as now within the compasse of seventie years he raised up divers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their return from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captain to bring them home, and provided that the temple was builded: the second reformed their manners and planted Religion: and the third builded up the walles, delivered the people from oppression, and provided that the law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man, and in great authoritie with the king, so that the king favoured him greatly, and gave him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This book is also called of the Latines the second book of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah understanding by Hanani, the misery of Jerusalem, mourneth, fasteth, and prayeth. 5 His prayer.

THe words of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. And it came to passe in the moneth [a] Chisleu, in the twentieth yeare, as I was in Shushan the palace, a Which containeth part of November, and part of December, and was their ninth moneth.

2 That Hanani, one of my [b] brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah, and I asked them concerning the Jews that had escaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

b A Iew, as I was.

3 And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the [c] province, are in great affliction and reproch: the wall of Jerusalem also * is broken down, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

c Meaning, in Judea.

* 2 Kings 25, 10.

4 ¶ And it came to passe when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain dayes, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

5 And said, I beseech thee, * O LORD God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him and observe his commandments:

* Dan. 9, 4.

6 Let thine eare now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest heare the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, and confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: both I, and my fathers house have sinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments nor the statutes nor the judgements which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.

8 Remember, I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying,

* Deut. 4, 25, &c. * If ye transgresse, I will scatter you abroad among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; * though there were of you cast out unto the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to set my name there.

* Deut. 30, 4.

10 Now these are thy servants, and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand.

11 O LORD, I beseech thee, let now thine eare be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to [d] fear thy name: and prosper, I pray thee, thy servant this day, and graunt him mercy in the sight of [e] this man. For I was the kings cup-bearer.

d That is, to worship thee.

e To wit, the king Artaxerxes.

CHAP II.

1 Artaxerxes understanding the cause of Nehemiahs sadnesse sendeth him with letters and commission to Ierusalem. 9 Nehemiah, to the grief of the enemies, cometh to Ierusalem. 12 He vieweth secretly the ruines of the walls. 17 He inciteth the Iews to build in despite of the enemies.

AND it came to passe in the moneth [a] Nisan, in the twentieth yeare of [b] Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king: Now I had not been before-time sad in his presence.

a Which was the first moneth of the year, and containeth part of March, and part of April.

b Who is also called Darius: read Ezra 7, 1. and was the sonne of Hystaspis.

2 Wherefore the king said unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart. Then I was very sore afraid,

3 And said unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie, the place of my fathers sepulchres lieth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

4 Then the king said unto me, for what dost thou make request? So I [c] prayed to the God of heaven.

c I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise.

5 And I said unto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant have found favour in thy sight, that thou wouldest send me unto Judah unto the citie of my fathers sepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king said unto me, (the † queen also sitting by him) For how long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleased the king to send me, and I set him a time.

† Heb. wife.

7 Moreover, I said unto the king, If it please

390 the king, let letters be given me to the governours beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah:

8 And a letter unto Aſaph the keeper of the kings forreſt, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the houſe, and for the wal of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into: and the king granted me, according to the [d] good hand of my God upon me.

d As God moved me to aſk, and as he gave me good ſucceſſe therein.

9 ¶ Then I came to the governours beyond the river, and gave them the kings letters, (now the king had ſent captains of the army, and horſemen with me)

10 When [e] Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to ſeek the welfare of the children of Iſrael.

e Theſe were great enemies to the Iews, and laboured alwayes both by force and ſubtiltie to overcome them, and Tobiah, becauſe his wife was a Ieweſſe, had advertiſement ever of their affaires, and ſo wrought them great trouble.

11 So I came to Jeruſalem, and was there three dayes.

12 ¶ And I aroſe in the night, I and ſome few men with me, neither told I any man what God had put in my heart to do at Jeruſalem: neither was there any beaſt with me, ſave the beaſt that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon-well, and to the dung-port, and viewed the walls of Jeruſalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were conſumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the kings pool: but there was no place for the beaſt that was under me to paſſe.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entred by the gate of the valley, and ſo returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went or what I did, neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the prieſts, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the reſt that did the work.

17 ¶ Then ſaid I unto them, Ye ſee the diſtreſſe that we are in, how Jeruſalem lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let us build up the wall of Jeruſalem, that we be no more a [f] reproach.

f That is, contemned of other nations, as though God had forſaken us, 18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as alſo the kings words that he had ſpoken unto me. And they ſaid, Let us riſe up & build. So they [g] ſtrengthened their hands for this good work.

g They were incouraged, & gave themſelves to do well, and to travail in this worthy enterprife.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the ſervant the Ammonite, and [h] Geſhem the Arabian heard it, they laughed us to ſcorn, and deſpiſed us, and ſaid, What is this thing that ye do? will ye [i] rebell againſt the king?

h Theſe were three chief governours under the King of Perſia beyond Euphrates.

i Thus the wicked when they will burthen the children of God, ever lay treaſon unto their charge, both becauſe it maketh them moſt odious to the world, and alſo ſtirreth the hatred of princes moſt againſt them.

20 Then anſwered I them, and ſaid unto them, The God of heaven, he will proſper us; therefore we his ſervants will ariſe and build: but you have no portion, nor right, nor [k] memoriall in Jeruſalem.

k Neither are ye of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this citie onely) neither did any of your Predeceſſours ever fear God.

Chap. III.

1 The names and order of them that builded the wall.

THen Eliaſhib the high prieſt roſe up with his brethren the prieſts, and they built the ſheep-gate, they [a] ſanctified it, and ſet up the doores of it; even unto the tower of Meah they ſanctified it, unto the tower of * Hananeel.

a That is, they finished it, and so dedicated it to the Lord by prayer, in desiring him to maintain it.

* Jer. 31, 38.

2 And † next unto him builded the men of Jericho: and next to them builded Zaccur the ſonne of Imri.

† Heb. at his hand.

3 But the fiſh-gate did the ſonnes of Haſſenaah build, who alſo laid the beams thereof, and ſet up the doores thereof, the locks thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Merimoth the ſonne of Urijah, the ſonne of Koz: & next unto them repaired Meſhullam the ſonne of Berechiah, the ſonne of Meſhezabeel: & next unto them repaired Zadok the ſonne of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their [b] nobles put not their necks to the work of their LORD.

b The rich and mighty would not obey them, which were appointed officers in this work, neither would they thelp thereunto.

6 Moreover, the old gate repaired Jehoiada the ſonne of Paſeah, and Meſhullam the ſonne of Beſodaiah; they layd the beams thereof, and ſet up the doores thereof, and the locks thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the [c] throne of the governour on this ſide the river.

CHAP. IIII.

1 While the enemies ſcoff, Nehemiah prayeth and continueth the work. 7 Underſtanding the wrath and ſecrets of the enemy, he ſetteth a watch. 13 He armeth the labourers, 19 and giveth military precepts.

BUt it came to paſſe, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he ſpake before his [a] brethren and the army of Samaria, and ſaid, What do theſe [b] feeble Jews? will they † fortifie themſelves? will they ſacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the ſtones out of the heaps of the rubbiſh, which are burnt?

[a] Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria.

[b] Thus the wicked, that conſider not that Gods power is ever in a readineſſe for the defence of his, mock them, as though they were weak and feeble.

† Heb. leave to themſelves.

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he ſaid, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he ſhall even break down their ſtone wall.

4 [c] Heare, O our God, for we are † deſpiſed: and turn their reproch upon their own head, and give them for a [d] prey in the land of captivity:

[c] This is the remedy that the children of God have againſt the deriſion and threatnings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.

† Heb. deſpite.

[d] Let them be ſpoiled and led away captive.

5 And cover not their [e] iniquity, and let not their ſinne be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

[e] Let thy plagues declare to the world that they ſet themſelves againſt thee, and againſt thy church: thus he prayeth onely having reſpect to Gods glory, and not for any private affection or grudge.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joyned together unto the half thereof: for the people had a minde to work.

7 ¶ But it came to paſſe that when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Aſhdodites, heard that the walls of Jeruſalem † were made up, and that the breaches began to be ſtopped, then they were very wroth, † Heb. aſcended.

8 And conſpired all of them together, to come and to fight againſt Jeruſalem, and † to hinder it.

† Heb. to make an errour to it.

9 Neverthleſſe, we made our prayer unto our God, and ſet a watch againſt them day and night, becauſe of them.

10 And Judah ſaid, The ſtrength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish, ſo that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adverſaries ſaid, They ſhall not know, neither ſee, till we come in the midſt among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the work to ceaſe.

[f] That is, oftentimes.

‡ Or, that from all places ye muſt return to us.

12 And it came to paſſe that when the Jews which dwelt by them, came, they ſaid unto us [f] ten times, ‡ [g] From all places, whence ye ſhall return unto us, they will be upon you.

[g] They which brought the tidings, ſaid thus, When you leave your work, and go either to eat or to reſt, your enemies will aſſail you.

13 ¶ Therefore ſet I † in the lower places behinde the wall, and on the higher places, I even ſet the people after their families with their ſwords, their ſpears, and their bows.

† Heb. from the lower parts of the place, &c.

14 And I looked, and roſe up and ſaid unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: [h] remember the LORD which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your ſonnes and your daughters, your wives and your houſes.

[h] Who is ever at hand to deliver his out of danger, and therefore ſeeing they ſhould fight for the maintenance of Gods glory, and for the preſervation of their own lives, & of others, he encourageth them to play the valiant men.

15 And it came to paſſe when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought 392 brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to passe from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were [i] behinde all the house of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had his sword girded † by his side, and so builded: and he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

19 ¶ And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, [k] resort ye thither unto us: our God shall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the spears, from the rising of the morning, till the starres appeared.

22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, ‡ saving that every one put them off for [l] washing.

i To oversee them, and to encourage them to their work.

k Meaning, to resist their enemies, if need required.

‡ Or, every one went with his weapon for water.

l That is, when they purified themselves, or else when they washed their clothes.

Chap. V.

1 Iews complain of their debt, morgage, and bondage. 6 Nehemiah rebuketh the usurers, and causeth them to make a covenant of restitution. 14 He forbeareth his own allowance, and keepeth hospitalitie.

AND there was a great crie of the people, and of their wives, [a] against their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that said, We, our sonnes, and our daughters are many: therefore we take up [b] corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

3 Some also there were that said, We have morgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might buy corn, because of the dearth.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the kings [c] tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our flesh is as the [d] flesh of our brethren, our children as their children: and lo, we bring into bondage our sonnes and our daughters, to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought unto bondage already, neither is it in our [e] power to redeem them: for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 ¶ And I was very angry when I heard their cry, and these words.

7 Then † I consulted with my self, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, You exact [f] usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great [g] assembly against them.

a Against the rich, which oppressed them.

b This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremitie they were brought unto.

c To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted yearely of us.

d By nature the rich is no better than the poore.

e We are not able to redeem them, but for povertie are constrained to hire them to others.

† Heb. my heart consulted in me.

f You presse them with usury, and seek how to bring all things into your hands.

g Both because they should be moved with pitie, seeing how many were by them oppreſt, and also heare the judgement of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren.

8 And I said unto them, We, after our ability, have * redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and will you even sell your brethren? or shall they be [h] sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to answer.

9 Also [i] I said, it is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, because of the [k] reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewise, and my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you let us leave off this usury.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine and the oyl, that ye [l] exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and † emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

14 ¶ Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governour in the land of Judah, from the twentieth yeare, even unto the two and thirtieth yeare of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve yeares, I and my brethren have not eaten the [m] bread of the governour.

15 But the former governours that had been before me, were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside fourty shekels of silver, yea even their servants bare rule over the people: but so did not I, because of the fear of God.

16 Yea, also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my servants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover, there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, besides those that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily, was one ox, and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten dayes, [n] store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governour, because the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 * Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

h Seeing God hath once delivered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaves?

i Meaning, Nehemiah.

k Who by this occasion will blaspheme the name of God, seeing that our acts are no better than theirs.

l Which ye take of them for the lone.

† Heb. empty or void.

m I received not that portion, and diet, which the governours that were before me, exacted: wherein he declareth that he rather sought the wealth of the people, than his own commoditie.

n Whereas at other times they had by measure, at this time they had most liberally.

Chap. VI.

1 Sanballat practiseth by craft, by rumours, by hired prophesies, to terrifie Nehemiah. 15 The work is finished to the terrour of the enemies. 17 Secret intelligence passeth between the enemies and the nobles of Iudah.

NOw it came to passe, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Gershem the Arabian, and the the reſt of our enemies heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no [a] breach left therein; (though at that time I had not ſet up the doores upon the gates)

2 That Sanballat, and Geſhem ſent unto me, ſaying, Come, let us meet together in ſome one of the villages in the plain of Ono: but they thought to do me miſchief.

3 And I ſent meſſengers unto them, ſaying, I am doing a great work, ſo that I cannot come down: [b] why ſhould the work ceaſe, whileſt I leave it and come down to you?

4 Yet they ſent unto me foure times after this ſort; and I anſwered them after the ſame manner.

5 Then ſent Sanballat his ſervant unto me, in like manner, the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand:

6 Wherein was written; It is reported among the heathen, and † Gaſhmu ſaith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebell: for which cauſe thou buildeſt the wall, that thou mayeſt be their king, according to theſe [c] words.

7 And thou haſt alſo appointed [d] prophets to preach of thee at Jeruſalem, ſaying, There is a king in Judah: and now ſhall it be reported to the king, according to theſe words. Come now therefore, and let us take counſel together.

8 Then I ſent unto him, ſaying, There are no ſuch things done as thou ſayeſt, but thou feigneſt them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, ſaying, Their hands ſhall be weakened from the work that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, ſtrengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the houſe of Shemaiah the ſonne of Delaiah, the ſonne of Mehetabel, who was [e] ſhut up? and he ſaid, Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, and let us ſhut the doores of the temple; for they will come to ſlay thee, yea in the night will they come to ſlay thee.

11 And I ſaid, [f] Should ſuch a man as I flee? and who is there, that being as I am, would go into the temple to ſave his life? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceived that God had not ſent him, but that he pronounced this prophecie againſt me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I ſhould be afraid, and do ſo, and ſinne, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat, according to theſe their works, and on the [g] propheteſſe Noadiah, and the reſt of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 ¶ So the wall was finiſhed, in the twenty and fifth day of the moneth [h] Elul, in [i] fifty and two dayes.

16 And it came to paſſe that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us ſaw theſe things, they were much caſt down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 ¶ Moreover, in thoſe dayes the nobles of Judah † ſent many [k] letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah ſworn unto him, becauſe he was the ſonne in law of Shechaniah the ſonne of Arah; and his ſonne Johanan had taken the daughter of Meſhullam, the ſonne of Berechiah.

19 Alſo they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my ‡ words to him: and Tobiah ſent letters to put me in fear.

Chap. VII.

1 Nehemiah committeth the charge of Jeruſalem to Hanani and Hananiah. 5 A regiſter of the genealogie of them which came at the firſt out of Babylon, 9 Of the people, 39 Of the Prieſts, 43 Of the Levites, 46 Of the Nethinims, 57 Of Solomons ſervants, 63 And of the Prieſts which could not finde their pedegree. 66 The whole number of them with their ſubſtance. 70 Their oblations.

NOw it came to paſſe when the wall was built, and I had ſet up the doores, and the porters and the ſingers, and the Levites were appointed,

2 That I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jeruſalem: (for he was a faithfull man, and feared God above many)

3 And I ſaid unto them, Let not the gates of Jeruſalem be opened, untill the ſunne be hot; and while they [a] ſtand by, let them ſhut the doores, and barre them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, every one in his watch, and every one to be over againſt his houſe.

4 Now the city was † large and great: but the people were few therein, and the houſes were not builded.

5 ¶ And my God put into mine heart, to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogie: and I found a regiſter of the genealogie of them which came up at the firſt, and found written therein,

6 * Theſe are the [b] children of the province, that went up out of the captivity, of thoſe that had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and came again to Jeruſalem, and to Judah, every one unto his city;

70 ¶ And † some of the chief of the fathers gave unto the work: the Tirshatha gave to the treasure, a thousand [h] drammes of gold, fifty basons, five hundred and thirty priests garments.

h Read Ezra 2. verse 69.

71 And some of the chief of the fathers gave to the treasure of the work, twenty thousand drammes of gold, and two thousand and two hundred pound of silver.

72 And that which the rest of the people gave, was twenty thousand drammes of gold, and two thousand pound of silver, and threescore and seven priests garments.

73 So the priests, and the Levites, and the porters, and the singers, and some of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities; and when the [i] seventh moneth came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

i Which containeth part of September, and part of October.

Chap. VIII.

1 The religious manner of reading and hearing the law. 9 They comfort the people. 13 The forwardnesse of them to heare, and be instructed. 16 They keep the feast of tabernacles

* Ezra 3: 1.

AND all * the people gathered themselves together as one man, into the street that was before the water-gate, and they spake unto Ezra the [a] scribe, to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all † [b] that could heare with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh moneth.

† Heb. that understood in hearing.
b Which had age and discretion to understand.

3 And he read therein before the street that was before the water-gate, † from the morning untill [c] mid-day, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the eares of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.

† Heb. from the light.
c This declareth the great zeale that the people had to hear the word of God.

4 And Ezra the scribe stood upon a † pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose, and beside him stood Mattithiah, & Shemah, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

† Heb. tower of wood.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the † sight of all the people: (for he was [d] above all the people) and when he opened it, all the people stood up.

† Heb. eyes.
d To the intent that his voice might be the better heard.

6 And Ezra blessed the LORD the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD, with their faces to the ground.

7 Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites caused the people to understand the law: and the people stood in their place.

8 So they read in the book, in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 ¶ And Nehemiah which is ‡ the Tirshatha, and Ezra the priest, the scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God, mourn not nor weep: for all the people [e] wept, when they heard the words of the law.

‡ Or, the governour.
e In considering their offences against the law: therefore the Levites doe not reprove them for mourning, but assure them of Gods mercies, forasmuch as they are repentant.

10 Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is [f] prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord neither be you sorry, for the [g] joy of the LORD is your strength.

f That is, remember the poor.
g Rejoyce in the Lord, and he will give you strength.

11 So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them.

13 ¶ And on the second day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the priests and the Levites, unto Ezra the scribe, even ‡ to understand the words of the law.

‡ Or, that they might instruct in the words of the law.

14 And they found written in the law which the LORD had commanded † by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in * booths, in the feast of the seventh moneth:

† Heb. by the hand of.
* Levit. 23: 34: Deut. 16: 13.

15 And that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive-branches, and pine-branches, and myrtle-branches, and palm-branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 ¶ So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themselves booths, every one upon the [h] roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street of the water-gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

h For their houses were made flat above, read Deut. 22: 8.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity, made booths, and sat under the booths: for since the dayes of [i] Jeshua the sonne of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Israel done so: and there was very great gladnesse.

i Which was almost a thousand years.

18 Also day by day, from the first day unto the last day, he read in the book of the law of God: and they kept the feast seven dayes, and on the eighth day was † a solemn assembly, according unto the manner.

† Heb. a restraint.

CHAP. IX.

1 A solemn fast. and repentance of the people. 4 The Levites make a religious confession of Gods goodnesse, and their wickednesse.

NOw in the twenty and fourth day of *[a] this moneth the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackclothes, and earth upon them.

2 And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all † strangers, and stood and confessed their sinnes, and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the LORD their God, one fourth parte of the day, and another fourth part they [b] confessed, and worshipped the LORD their God.

4 ¶ Then stood up upon the ‡ stairs, of the Levites, Jeshua and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, Stand up and blesse the LORD your God for ever and ever; and blessed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

6 Thou, even thou art LORD alone, * thou hast made heaven, the heavens of heaven with all their host, the earth and all things that are therein, the seas and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all, and the host of heaven worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art the LORD the God, who didst choose * Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Caldees, and gavest him the name of * Abraham:

8 And foundest his heart * faithfull before thee, and madest a * covenant with him, to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to give it, I say, to his seed, and hast performed thy words, for thou art righteous.

9 * And didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardest their cry by the Red sea:

10 And * shewedst signes and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: so didst thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 * And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the drie land, and their persecuters thou threwest into the deeps, as a stone into the * mighty waters.

12 Moreover, thou * leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go.

13 * Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgements, and † true laws, good statutes and commandments:

14 And madest known unto them thy holy sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, statutes, and laws, by the hand of Moses thy servant:

15 And * gavest them bread from heaven, for their hunger; and * broughtest forth water for them out of the rock, for their thirst; and promisedst them that they should * go in to possesse the land, † which thou hadst sworn to give them.

16 Bnt they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments,

17 And refused to obey, neither were mindfull of the wonders that thou didst among them: but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed * a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art † a God ready to pardon, gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse, and forsookest them not.

18 Yea, * when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is thy god that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations:

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies, forsookest them not in the wildernesse: the * pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way wherein they should go.

20 Thou gavest also thy * good spirit, to instruct them, and withheldest not thy * manna from their mouth, and gavest them * water for their thirst.

21 Yea fourty yeares didst thou sustain them in the wildernesse so that they lacked nothing: their * clothes waxes not old, and their feet [c] swelled not.

22 Moreover, thou gavest them kingdomes, and nations, and didst divide [d] them into corners: so they possessed the land of * Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 Their children also multipliedst thou as the starres of heaven, and broughtest them into the land, concerning which thou hadst promised to their fathers, that they should go in to possesse it.

24 So the children went in and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them † as they would.

25 And they took strong cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, ‡ wells digged, vineyards and olive-yards, and † fruit-trees in abundance: so they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themselves in thy great goodnesse.

26 Nevertheless they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behinde their backs, and slew thy * prophets which which testified against them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredst them into the hand of their [e] enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies, thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had [f] rest, † they did evil again before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned and cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven, and many times didst thou deliver them, according to thy mercies:

29 And testifiedst against them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgements (which if a man do, he shall live in them) and † [g] withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not [h] heare.

30 Yet many yeares didst thou † forbear them, and testifiedst * against them by the spirit † in thy prophets: yet would they not give eare, therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheless, for thy great mercies sake, thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them; for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest * covenant and mercy; let not all the † trouble seem little before thee, † that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since the time of the kings of [i] Assyria, unto this day.

33 Howbeit, thou art just in all that is brought upon us, for thou hast done [k] right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our priests, nor our fathers kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments, and thy testimonies wherewith thou didst [l] testifie against them.

35 For they have not served thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land which thou gavest before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold, we are servants this day, and for the land that thou gavest unto our fathers, to eat the [m] fruit thereof, and the good thereof, behold, we are servants in it.

37 And it yeeldeth much increase unto the kings whom thou hast set over us, because of our sinnes: also they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattel, at their pleasure, and we are in great distresse.

38 And because of all this, we make a [n] sure covenant, and write it, and our princes, Levites, and priests † seal unto it.

e Taking heaven and earth to witnesse: that God would destroy them, except they returned, as 2 Chron. 24: 19.

10 ¶ And Jeshua begat Joiakim, Joiakim alſo begat Eliashib, and Eliashib begat Joiada, 12 And in the dayes of Joiakim, were prieſts, the chief of the fathers: of [e] Seraiah, Meraiah: of Jeremiah, Hananiah:

g That is, one after another, and every one in his courſe.

25 Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward, at the ‡ threſholds of the gates.

‡ Or, treaſuries. Or, aſſemblies.

26 Theſe were in the dayes of Joiakim the ſonne of Jeſhua, the ſonne of Jozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the governour, and of Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe.

27 ¶ And at the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem, they ſought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jeruſalem, to keep the dedication with gladneſſe, both with thankſgivings, and with ſinging with cymbals, pſalteries, aud with harps.

28 And the ſonnes of the ſingers gathered themſelves together, both out of the plain countrey round about Jeruſalem, and from the villages of [h] Netophathi, h Which were a certain family and had their poſſeſſions in the fields. 1 Chron. 2: 54.

29 Alſo from the houſe of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the ſingers had builded them villages round about Jeruſalem.

30 And the prieſts and the Levites purified themſelves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 Then [i] I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung-gate:

i Meaning, Nehemiah.

31 And after them went Hoſhaiah, and half of the princes of Judah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meſhullam, l Which was the going up to the mount Zion, which is called the citie of David.

37 And at the fountain-gate, which was over againſt them, they went up by the l ſtairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the houſe of David, even unto the water-gate eaſt-ward.

38 And the other company of them that gave thanks, went over againſt them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall:

39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fiſh-gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the ſheep-gate; and they ſtood ſtill in the priſon-gate.

40 So ſtood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the houſe of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me:

41 And the prieſts; Eliakim, Maaſeiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zachariah, and Hananiah with trumpets.

42 And Maaſeiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the ſingers † ſang loud, with Jezrahiah their overſeer.

Chap. XIII.

1 Vpon the reading of the law, ſeparation is made from the mixed multitude. 4 Nehemiah at his return cauſeth the chambers to be cleanſed. 10 He reformeth the offices in the houſe of God, 15 the violation of the ſabbath, 23 and the marriages with ſtrange wives.

† Heb. there was read.
† Heb. eares.

ON that day † they read in the book of Moſes in the † audience of the people; and therein was found written, * that the

* Deut. 23: 3.

Ammonite and the Moabite ſhould not come into the congregation of God for ever;

2 Becauſe they met not the children of Iſrael with bread and with water, but * hired Balaam againſt them, that he ſhould curſe them: howbeit our God turned the curſe into a bleſſing.

* Num 22: 5. Josh. 24: 9.

3 Now it came to paſſe when they had heard the law, that they ſeparated from Iſrael a all the mixed multitude.

a That is, all ſuch which had joyned in unlawfull marriage, and alſo thoſe with whom God had forbidden them to have ſociety.

4 ¶ And before b this, Eliaſhib the prieſt, † having the overſight of the chamber of the houſe of our God, was c allied unto Tobiah:

b That the ſeparation was made.
† Heb. being ſet over.
c He was joyned in affinitie with Tobiah the Ammonite, and enemie of the Jews.

5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where afore-time they laid the meat-offerings, the frankincenſe, and the veſſels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oyl († which was commanded to be given to the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the prieſts.

† Heb. the commandment of the Levites.

6 But in all this time was not I at Jeruſalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeare of d Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I unto the king, and † after certain dayes ‡ obtained I leave of the king:

d Called alſo Darius, Ezra 7: 1.
† Heb. at the end of dayes.
‡ Or, I earneſtly requeſted.

7 And I came to Jeruſalem, and underſtood of the e evil that Eliaſhib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the houſe of God.

e Thus wee ſee what inconveniences the people fall into; when they are deſtitute of one that hath the feare of God, ſeeing that their chief governour was but a while abſent, and yet they fell into ſuch great abſurdities: as appeareth alſo Exod. 32: 1.

8 And it grieved me ſore, therefore I caſt forth all the houſhold-ſtuff of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 Then I commanded, and they cleanſed the chambers; and thither brought I again the veſſels of the houſe of God, with the meat-offering and the frankincenſe.

10 ¶ And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them: for the Levites and the ſingers that did the work, were fled every one to his field.

11 Then contended I with the rulers, and ſaid, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? and I gathered them together, and ſet them in their † place.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn, and the new wine, and the oyl, unto the ‡ treaſures.

‡ Or, ſtore houſes.

13 And I made treaſurers over the treaſuries, Shelemiah the prieſt, and Zadok the ſcribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and † next to them was Hanan the ſonne of Zaccur, the ſonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and † their office was to diſtribute unto their brethren.

† Heb. at their hand.
† Heb. it was upon them.
* Verſe 22.

14 * Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my † f good deeds that I have done for the houſe of my God, and for the ‡ offices thereof.

† Heb. kindneſſes.
f He proteſteth that he did his duty with a good conſcience yet he doth not juſtifie himſelf herein, but deſireth God to favour him, and to be merciſull unto him for his own goodneſſe ſake, as ver. 22, & 31.
‡ Or, obſervations.

15 ¶ In thoſe dayes ſaw I in Judah, ſome treading wine-preſſes on the ſabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading aſſes, as alſo wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens which they brought into Jeruſalem on the ſabbath-day: and I g teſtified againſt them in the day wherein they ſold victuals.

g I declared unto them, that God would not ſuffer ſuch tranſgreſſours of his law to be unpunished.

16 There

16 There dwelt men of Tyre alſo therein, which brought fiſh, and all manner of ware, and ſold on the ſabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jeruſalem:

17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and ſaid unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the ſabbath-day?

h Was not this a great cauſe, why God plagued us in times paſt? meaning, that if they transgreſſed now in the ſame again, their plague ſhould be greater.

18 Did not your fathers [h] thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Iſrael by profaning the ſabbath.

i About the time that the ſun went down: for the ſabbath laſted from the ſun going down of the one day, to the ſun ſetting of the other.

19 And it came to paſſe, that when the gates of Jeruſalem began to be [i] dark before the ſabbath, I commanded that the gates ſhould be ſhut, and charged that they ſhould not be opened till after the ſabbath: and ſome of my ſervants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhould no burden be brought in on the ſabbath-day.

20 So the merchants, and ſellers of all kinde of ware, lodged without Jeruſalem once or twice.

† Heb. before the wall.

21 Then I teſtified againſt them, and ſaid unto them, Why lodge ye † about the wall? if ye do ſo again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the ſabbath.

22 And I commanded the Levites, that they ſhould cleanſe themſelves, and that they ſhould come and keep the [k] gates, to ſanctifie the ſabbath-day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this alſo, and ſpare me according to the ‡ greatneſſe of thy mercy.

k Meaning, of the temple, that none that was unclean, ſhould enter.

‡ Or, multitude.

23 ¶ In thoſe dayes alſo ſaw I Jews that † had married wives of [l] Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab:

† Heb had made to dwell with them.

l Which was a citie of the Philiſtines, and they had married wives thereof, and ſo had corrupted their ſpeech and religion.

24 And their children ſpake half in the ſpeech of Ashdod, and ‡ could not ſpeak in the Jews language, but according to the language † of each people.

† Heb. they diſcerned not to ſpeak.

‡ Heb. of people and people.

25 And I contended with them, and ‡ [m] curſed them, and ſmote certain of them, and pluckt off their hair, and made them ſwear by God, ſaying, Ye ſhall not give your daughters unto their ſonnes, nor take their daughters unto your ſonnes, or for your ſelves.

‡ Or, reviled them.

m That is, I did excommunicate them, and drive them out of the congregation.

26 Did not Solomon king of Iſrael ſinne by theſe things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Iſrael: * nevertheleſſe, even him did outlandiſh women cauſe to ſinne.

* 1 Kings 11. verſ. 1. &c.

27 Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to tranſgreſſe againſt our God, in marrying ſtrange wives?

28 And one of the ſonnes of Joiada, the ſonne of Eliashib the high prieſt, was ſonne in law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chaſed him from me.

† Heb. for the defilings.

29 Remember them, O my God, † becauſe they have [n] defiled the prieſthood, and the covenant of the prieſthood, and of the Levites.

n Punish them according to their fault and evil example, which they have given to the reſt of thy people, contrary to their vocation.

30 Thus cleanſed I them from all ſtrangers, and appointed the wards of the prieſts and the Levites, every one in his buſineſſe:

31 And for the wood-offering, at times appointed, and for the firſt-fruits. Remember me, O my God, [o] for good.

o That is, to ſhew mercy unto me.

THE BOOK OF ESTHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcauſe of the diverſitie of names, whereby they uſed to name their kings, and the ſupputation of yeares wherein the Hebrews, and the Grecians doe varie, divers Authors write diverſly as touching this Ahaſuerus, but it ſeemeth, Dan. 6. 1. and 9. 1. that he was Darius king of the Medes, and ſon of Aſtyages, called alſo Ahaſuerus, which was a name of honour, and ſignified great and chief, as chief head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his church: who never faileth them in their greateſt dangers; but when all hope of wordly help faileth, he ever ſtirreth up ſome, by whom he ſendeth comfort, and deliverance. Herein alſo is deſcribed the ambition, pride and cruelty of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their ſudden fall when they are at the higheſt: and how God preſerveth, and perferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and have a care and love toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

1 Ahaſuerus maketh royall feaſts. 10 Vashti ſent for, refuſeth to come. 13 Ahaſuerus by the counſel of Memucan, maketh the decree of mens ſovereignitie.

NOw it came to paſſe in the dayes of [a] Ahaſuerus, (this is Ahaſuerus which reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an [b] hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces) a Called alſo Darius, who was now the ſovereigne Monarch, and had the government of the Medes, Perſians and Caldeans: ſome think he was Darius Hyſtaſpis ſon, called alſo Artaxerxes.

b Daniel chap. 6: 1. maketh mention but of ſix-ſcore, leaving out the number that is unperfect, as the ſcripture in divers places uſeth.

2 That in thoſe dayes, when the king Ahaſuerus [c] ſat on the throne of his kingdome, which was in Shushan the palace, c That is, had reſt and quietneſſe.

3 In the third yeare of his reigne, he made a feaſt unto all his princes, and his ſervants; the power of Perſia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces being before him.

4 When he ſhewed the riches of his glorious kingdome, and the honour of his excellent majeſtie, many dayes, even an hundred and foureſcore dayes.

402

5 And when theſe dayes were expired, the king made a feaſt unto all the people that were † preſent in Shuſhan the palace, both unto great and ſmall, ſeven dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

† Heb. found.

6 Where were white, green, and ‡ blue hangings, faſtened with cords of fine linnen and purple, to ſilver rings, and pillars of marble: the [d] beds were of gold, and ſilver, upon a pavement ‡ of red, and blue, and white, and black marble.

‡ Or, violet.

d Which they uſed in thoſe countreys in ſtead of tables.

7 And they gave them drink in veſſels of gold, (the veſſels being diverſe one from another) and † royall wine in abundance, † according to the [e] ſtate of the king.

‡ Or, of porphyre, and marble, and alabaſter, and ſtone of blue colour.

† Heb. wine of the kingdome.

† Heb. according to the hand of the king.

e As was beſeeming for ſo magnificall a king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law, none did [f] compell: for ſo the king had appointed to all the officers of his houſe, that they ſhould do according to every mans pleaſure.

f None might be compelled to drink more than it pleaſed him.

9 Alſo Vaſhti the queen made a feaſt for the women, in the royall houſe which belonged to king Ahaſuerus.

10 ¶ On the [g] ſeventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the ſeven ‡ chamberlains that ſerved in the preſence of Ahaſuerus the king, g Which was the laſt day of the feaſt that the king made for the people, as verſe 5.

‡ Or, eunuchs.

11 To bring Vaſhti the queen before the king, with the crown royall, to ſhew the people and the princes her beauty: for ſhe was † fair to look on.

† Heb. good of countenance.

12 But the queen Vaſhti refuſed to come at the kings commandment † by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

† Heb. which was by the hand of his eunuchs.

13 ¶ Then the king ſaid to the wiſe men which knew the [h] times, (for ſo was the kings manner towards all that knew law and judgement:

h That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

14 And the next unto him was Carſhena, Shetar, Admatha, Tarſhish, Meres, Marſena, and Memucan, the * ſeven princes of Perſia and Media, which ſaw the kings [i] face, and which ſat the firſt in the kingdome)

* Ezra 7: 14.

i Which were his chief counſellers, that might have alwayes acceſſe to him.

15 † What ſhall we do unto the queen Vaſhti according to law, becauſe ſhe hath not performed the commandment of the king Ahaſuerus, by the chamberlains?

† Heb. what to do.

16 And Memucan anſwered before the king and the princes, Vaſhti the queen hath not done [k] wrong to the king onely, but alſo to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus.

k By her diſobedience ſhe hath given an example to all women to do the like to their husbands.

17 For this [l] deed of the queen ſhall come abroad unto all women, ſo that they ſhall deſpiſe their husbands in their eyes, when it ſhall be reported, The king Ahaſuerus commanded Vaſhti the queen to be brought in before him, but ſhe came not.

l That is, her diſobedience.

18 Likewiſe ſhall the [m] ladies of Perſia & Media ſay this day unto all the kings princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen. Thus ſhall there ariſe too much contempt & wrath.

m Meaning, that they would take firſt occaſion hereof to do the like, and that the reſt of women would by continuance do the ſame.

19 † If it pleaſe the king, let there go a royall commandment † from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Perſians and the Medes, † that it be not altered, that Vaſhti [n] come no more before king Ahaſuerus, and let the king give her royall eſtate † unto another that is better than she.

† Heb. if it be good with the king.

† Heb. from before him.

† Heb. that it paſſe not away.

n Let her be divorced, and another made queen.

† Heb. unto her companion.

20 And when the kings decree which he ſhall make, ſhall be published throughout all his empire, (for it is [o] great) all the wives ſhall give to their husbands honour, both to great and ſmall.

o For he had under him an hundred twenty and ſeven countreys.

21 And the ſaying † pleaſed the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan:

† Heb. was good in the eyes of the king.

22 For he ſent letters into all the kings provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man ſhould [p] bear rule in his own houſe, and † that it ſhould be published according to the language of every people.

p That is, that the wife ſhould be ſubject to the husband, and at his commandment.

† Heb. that one ſhould publiſh it according to the language of his people.

Chap. II.

1 Out of the choice of virgins, a queen is to be choſen. 5 Mordecai the nurſing father of Eſther. 8 Eſther is preferred by Hegai before the reſt. 12 The manner of purification, and going in to the king. 15 Eſther beſt pleaſing the king, is made queen. 21 Mordecai diſcovering a treaſon, is recorded in the chronicles.

AFter theſe things, when the wrath of king Ahaſuerus was appeaſed, he [a] remembred Vaſhti, and what ſhe had done, and what was [b] decreed againſt her.

a That is, he called the matter again into communication.

b By the ſeven wiſe men of his counſel.

2 Then ſaid the kings ſervants, that miniſtred unto him, Let there be fair young virgins ſought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdome, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the houſe of the women, † unto the cuſtody of ‡ Hege the kings chamberlain, [c] keeper of the women, and let their things for [d] purification be given them:

† Heb. unto the hand.

‡ Or, Hegai, verſe 8.

c The abuſe of theſe countreys was ſo great, that they invented many means to ſerve the luſts of princes, and therefore, as they ordained wicked laws that the king might have whoſe daughters he would, ſo they had divers houſes appointed; as one for them, whiles they were virgins, another when they were concubines, and for the queens another.

d Read what this purification was, verſe 12.

4 And let the maiden which pleaſeth the king, be queen in ſtead of Vaſhti. And the thing pleaſed the king, and he did ſo.

5 ¶ Now in Shushan the palace, there was a certain Jew, whoſe name was Mordecai, the ſonne of Jair, the ſonne of Shimei, the ſonne of Kish, a Benjamite:

6 * Who had been carried away from Jeruſalem, with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

* 2 Kings 24: 15. 2 Chron. 36: 10. Jerem 24: 1.

7 And he † brought up Hadaſſah (that is Eſther) his uncles daughter, for ſhe had neither father nor mother, and the maid was † fair and beautifull, whom Mordecai (when her father and mother were dead) took for his own daughter.

† Heb. fair of form and good of countenance.

8 ¶ So it came to paſſe, when the kings commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the cuſtody of Hegai, that Eſther was brought alſo unto the kings kings houſe, to the cuſtody of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleaſed him, and ſhe obtained kindneſſe of him, and he ſpeedily gave her things for purification, with † ſuch things as belonged to her, and ſeven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the kings houſe, and † he preferred her and her maids, unto the beſt place of the houſe of the women.

† Heb. her portions.

† Heb. he changed her.

10 Eſther had not ſhewed her people, nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that ſhe ſhould not ſhew it.

11 And Mordecai walked [e] every day before the court of the womens houſe, † to know how Eſther did, and what ſhould become of her.

[e] For though ſhe was taken away by a cruell law, yet he ceaſed not to have a fatherly care over her, and therefore did reſort oft times to heare of her.

† Heb. to know the peace.

12 ¶ Now when every maids turn was come, to go in to king Ahaſuerus, after that ſhe had been twelve moneths according to the manner of the women, (for ſo were the dayes of their purifications accompliſhed, to wit, ſix moneths with oyl of myrrhe, and ſix moneths with ſweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women)

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the king, whatſoever ſhe [f] deſired was given her, to go with her out of the houſe of the women, unto the kings houſe.

[f] What apparell ſhe asked of the eunuch, that was he bound to give her.

14 In the evening ſhe went, and on the morrow ſhe returned into the ſecond houſe of the women, to the cuſtody of Shaaſhgaz, the kings chamberlain, which kept the concubines: ſhe came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that ſhe were called by name.

15 ¶ Now when the turn of Eſther, the daughter of Abihail, the uncle of Mordecai (who had taken her for his daughter) was come to go in unto the king, ſhe required [g] nothing, but what Hegai the kings chamberlain, the keeper of the women appointed: and Eſther obtained favour in the ſight of all them that looked upon her.

[g] Wherein her modeſty appeared, becauſe ſhe ſought not apparell to commend her beauty, but ſtood to the eunuchs appointment.

16 So Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus, into his houſe royall, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth [h] Tebeth) in the ſeventh yeare of his reigne.

[h] Which contained part of December, and part of January.

17 And the king loved Eſther above all the women, and ſhe obtained grace and ‡ favour † in his ſight, more than all the virgins; ſo that he ſet the royall crown upon her head, and made her queen in ſtead of Vashti.

‡ Or, kindneſſe.

18 Then the king made a great feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants, even Eſthers [i] feaſt, and he made a † [k] releaſe to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the [l] ſtate of the king.

[i] That is, made for her ſake.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the [m] ſecond time, then Mordecai ſat in the kings gate.

[m] That is, at the marriage of Eſther, which was the ſecond marriage of the king.

20 Eſther had not yet ſhewed her kindred, nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Eſther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when ſhe was brought up with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe dayes (while Mordecai ſat in the kings gate) two of the kings chamberlains, ‡ Bigthan and Teresh, of thoſe which kept † the doore, were wroth, and ſought to lay [n] hand on the king Ahaſuerus:

‡ Or, Bigthana; chap. 6: 2.
† Heb. the threshold.
[n] Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Eſther the queen, and Eſther certified the king thereof, in Mordecai's name.

23 And when inquiſition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the [o] chronicles before the king.

[o] In the Chronicles of the Medes and Perſians as Chap. 10: 2.

Chap. III.

1 Haman advanced by the king, and deſpiſed by Mordecai, ſeeketh revenge upon all the Iews. 7 He caſteth lots. 8 He obtaineth by calumniation, a decree of the king to put the Iews to death.

AFter theſe things did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman the ſonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and ſet his ſeat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings ſervants that were in the kings gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman; for the king had ſo commanded concerning him: but Mordecai [a] bowed not, nor did him reverence.

[a] The Perſians manner was to kneel down and reverence their kings, and ſuch as he appointed in chief authority, which Mordecai would not do to this ambitious and proud man.

3 Then the kings ſervants, which were in the kings gate, ſaid unto Mordecai, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the kings commandment?

4 Now it came to paſſe, when they ſpake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they [b] told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai his matters would ſtand, for he had told them that he was a Jew.

[b] Thus we ſee that there is none ſo wicked, but they have their flatterers to accuſe the godly.

5 And when Haman ſaw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence: then was Haman full of wrath.

6 And he thought ſcorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone, for they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman ſought to deſtroy all the Jews, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahaſuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 ¶ In the firſt moneth (that is the moneth Niſan) in the twelfth yeare of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, [d] before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth [e] Adar.

[c] Which anſwereth to part of March and part of April.
[d] To know what moneth and day ſhould be good to enterpriſe this thing, that it might have good ſucceſſe: but God diſappointed their lots and expectation.
[e] Containing part of February, and part of March.

8 ¶ And Haman ſaid unto king Ahaſuerus, There is a certain people ſcattered abroad, and diſperſed among the people, in all the provinces of thy kingdome, and their laws are diverſe from all people, neither keep they the kings [f] laws; therefore it is not † for the kings profit to ſuffer them.

[f] Theſe be the two arguments which commonly the worldlings and the wicked uſe toward princes againſt the godly, that is, the contempt of their laws, and diminiſhing of their profite: without reſpect how God is either pleaſed or diſpleaſed.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the ſonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews ‡ enemy.

11 And the king ſaid unto Haman, The ſil-

‡ Or, ſecretaries. 12 Then were the kings ‡ ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt moneth, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the kings lieutenants, and to the governours that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahaſuerus was it written, and ſealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſts into all the kings provinces, to deſtroy, to kill, and to cauſe to periſh all Jews, both young and old, little children and women in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province, was publiſhed, unto all people, that they ſhould be ready againſt that day.

15 The poſts went out, being haſtened by the kings commandment, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace: and the king and Haman ſat down to drink, but the § city Shuſhan was perplexed.

§ To wit, the Jews that were in Shushan.

Chap. IIII.

1 The great mourning of Mordecai and the Iews. 4 Eſther underſtanding it, ſendeth to Mordecai, who sheweth the cauſe. and adviſeth her to undertake the ſuit. 10 She excuſing her ſelf, is threatned by Mordecai. 15 She appointing a faſt, undertaketh the ſuit.

WHen Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on ſackcloth with aſhes, and went out into the midſt of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter crie:

a Becauſe he would advertiſe Eſther of this cruel proclamation.

2 And came even before the kings [a] gate: for none might enter into the kings gate clothed with ſackcloth.

3 And in every province whitherſoever the kings commandment, and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and faſting, and weeping and wailing, and † many lay in ſackcloth and ashes.

† Heb. ſackcloth and ashes were laid under many.

4 ¶ So Eſthers maids, and her † chamberlains came and told it her: then was the queen exceedingly grieved, and she ſent raiment to cloath Mordecai, and to take away his ſackcloth from him: but he received it not.

† Heb. eunuchs.

5 Then called Eſther for Hatach, one of the kings chamberlains, † whom he had apppointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

† Heb. whom he had ſet before him.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai, unto the ſtreet of the city, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the ſumme of the money that Haman had promiſed to pay to the kings treaſuries for the Jews; to deſtroy them.

8 Alſo he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree, that was given at Shuſhan to deſtroy them, to ſhew it unto Eſther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that she ſhould go in unto the king, to make ſupplication unto him, and to make requeſt before him for the people.

9 And Hatach came and told Eſther the words of Mordecai.

10 ¶ Again Eſther ſpake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;

11 All the kings ſervants and the people of the kings provinces do know, that whoſoever, whether man or woman, ſhall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except ſuch to whom the king ſhall hold out the golden ſcepter, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king, theſe thirty dayes.

12 And they told to Mordecai Eſthers words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to anſwer Eſther, Think not with thy ſelf that thou ſhalt eſcape in the kings houſe, more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdeſt thy peace at this time, then ſhall there † [b] enlargement and deliverance ariſe to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy fathers houſe ſhall be deſtroyed: and who knoweth, [c] whether thou art come to the kingdome for ſuch a time as this?

b Thus Mordecai ſpake in the confidence of that faith, which all Gods children ought to have: which is, that God will deliver them, though all worldly means fail.

c For to deliver Gods church out of theſe preſent dangers.

15 ¶ Then Eſther bade them return Mordecai this anſwer, 16 Go, gather together all the Jews that are † preſent in Shushan, and faſt ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three dayes, night or day: I alſo and my maidens will faſt likewiſe, and ſo will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law; and if I perish, [d] I perish.

† Heb. found.

d I will put my life in danger, and referre the ſucceſſe to God, ſeeing it is for his glory, and the deliverance of his church.

17 So Mordecai † went his way, and did according to all that Eſther had commanded him.

† Heb. paſſed.

Chap. V.

1 Eſther adventuring on the kings favour, obtaineth the grace of the golden ſcepter, and inviteth the king and Haman to a banquet. 6 She being encouraged by the king in her ſuit, inviteth them to another banquet the next day. 9 Haman proud of his advancement, repineth at the contempt of Mordecai. 14 By the counſel of Zeresh, he builded for him a pair of gallows.

NOw it came to paſſe on the [a] third day that Eſther put on her royall apparel, and ſtood in the inner court of the kings houſe, over againſt the kings houſe: and the king ſat upon his royall throne in the royall houſe, over againſt the gate of the houſe.

a To wit, after that the Jews had begunne to faſt.

2 And it was ſo when the king ſaw Eſther the queen ſtanding in the court, that ſhe obtained favour in his ſight: and the king [b] held out to Eſther the golden ſcepter that was in his hand: ſo Eſther drew neare and touched the top of the ſcepter.

b Which was a ſigne that the coming was agreeable unto him, as chap. 4. verſe 11.

3 Then ſaid the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Eſther? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhall be even given thee, to the [c] half of the kingdome.

c Meaning hereby, that whatſoever she asked, should be graunted, as Mar. 6. 23.

4 And

4 And Esther answered, If it seem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said: so the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 ¶ And the king said unto Esther at the [d] banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdome it shall be performed.

7 Then answered Esther, and said, My petition, and my request is;

8 If I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and † to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morrow as the king hath [e] said.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth that day, joyfull, and with a glad heart: but when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation against Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless, Haman refrained himself, and when he came home, he sent and † called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had [f] promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that she had prepared, but my self; and to morrow am I invited unto her also with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the kings gate.

14 ¶ Then said Zeresh his wife, and all his friends unto him, Let a † gallows be made of [g] fifty cubits high, and to morrow speak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused the gallows to be made.

Chap. VI.

1 Ahasuerus reading in the chronicles of the good service done by Mordecai, taketh care for his reward. 4 Haman coming to sue that Mordecai might be hanged, unawares giveth counsel that he might do him honour. 12 Complaining of his misfortune, his friends tell him of his finall destinie.

ON that night † could not the king sleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.

2 And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of ‡ Bigthana and Teresh, two of the kings chamberlains, the keepers of the † doore, who sought to lay hand on the king Ahasuerus.

3 And the king said, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai [a] for this? Then said the kings servants that ministred unto him, There is nothing done for him.

4 ¶ And the king said, Who is in the court? (now Haman was come into the outward court of the kings house, to speak unto the king, to [b] hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him)

5 And the kings servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in: and the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man † whom the king delighteth to honour? (now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than to my self?)

7 And Haman answered the king, For the man † whom the king delighteth to honour.

8 † Let the royall apparel be brought † which the king useth to wear, and the [c] horse that the king rideth upon, and the crown royall which is set upon his head:

9 And let this apparel and horse be delivered to the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man withall whom the king delighteth to honour, and † bring him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

10 Then the king said unto Haman, Make haste, and take the apparel, and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the kings gate: † let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then took Haman the apparel and the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Mordecai came again to the kings gate, but Haman hasted to his house, mourning, and having his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife and all his friends, every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men, and Zeresh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely [d] fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlains, and hasted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

Chap. VII.

1 Esther entertaining the king and Haman, maketh suit for her own life and her peoples. 5 She accuseth Haman. 7 The king in his anger understanding of the gallows, which Haman had made for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon.

SO the king and Haman came † to banquet with Esther the queen.

2 And the king said again to Esther, on the second day, at the [a] banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Esther? and it shall be granted

8 Write ye alſo for the Jews, as it liketh you in the kings name, and ſeal it with the kings ring: for the writing which is written in the kings name, and ſealed with the kings ring, * may no man [e] reverſe.

2 The Jews gathered themſelves together in their cities, throughout all the ptovinces of the king Ahaſuerus, to lay hand on ſuch as ſought their hurt; and no man could withſtand them: for the fear of them fell upon all people.

† Heb. came.

12 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther the queen, The Jews have ſlain and deſtroyed five hundred men in Shuſhan the palace, and the ten ſonnes of Haman; what have they done in the reſt of the kings provinces? now what is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: or what is thy requeſt further? and it ſhall be done.

13 Then ſaid Eſther, If it pleaſe the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shuſhan, to do to [f] morrow alſo according unto this dayes decree, and † let Hamans ten ſonnes be hanged upon the gallows.

f This she requireth not for deſire of vengeance, but with zeal to ſee Gods judgements executed againſt his enemies.
† Heb. let men hang.

14 And the king commanded it ſo to be done; and the decree was given at Shuſhan, and they hanged Hamans ten ſonnes.

15 For the Jews that were in Shuſhan, gathered themſelves together on the fourteenth day alſo of the moneth Adar, and ſlew three hundred men at Shuſhan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Jews that were in the kings provinces, gathered themſelves together, and [g] ſtood for their lives, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of their [h] foes ſeventy and five thouſand; but they laid not their hands on the prey.

g Read. Chap. 8. verſe 11.
h Meaning, that they laid hands on none that were not the enemies of God.

17 On the [i] thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day † of the ſame, reſted they, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſſe.

i Meaning, in all places ſaving in Shushan.
† Heb. in it.

18 But the Jews that were at Shuſhan, aſſembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſſe.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwalled towns, made the [k] fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, a day of gladneſſe and feaſting, and a good day, and of ſending portions one to another.

k As the Jews do even to this day, calling it in the Perſians language purim, that is, the day of lots.

20 ¶ And Mordecai [l] wrote theſe things, and ſent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, both nigh and farre, l The Jews gather hereof, that Mordecai wrote this ſtory, but it ſeemeth that he wrote but onely theſe letters, and decrees that follow.

21 To ſtabliſh this among them, that they ſhould keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame yearly:

22 As the dayes wherein the Jews reſted from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned unto them from ſorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they ſhould make them dayes of feaſting and joy, and of [m] ſending portions one to another, and gifts to the poore.

m He ſetteth before our eyes the uſe of this feaſt, which was for the remembrance of Gods deliverance, the maintenance of mutuall friendship, and relief of the poore.

23 And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them.

24 Becauſe Haman the ſonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had deviſed againſt the Jews to deſtroy them, and had [n] caſt Pur (that is, the lot) to † conſume them, and to deſtroy them:

n Read, chap. 3: 7.
† Heb. cruſh.

25 But [o] when Eſther came before the king, he commanded by letters, that his [p] wicked device which he deviſed againſt the Jews, ſhould return upon his own head, and that he and his ſonnes ſhould be hanged on the gallows.

o To intreat for her people.
p Theſe are the words of the kings commandment to diſanull Hamans wicked enterpriſe.

26 Wherefore they called theſe dayes Purim, after the name of "Pur: therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had ſeen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them,

" That is, lot.

27 The Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their ſeed, and upon all ſuch as joyned themſelves unto them, ſo as it ſhould not † fail, that they would keep theſe [q] two dayes, according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every yeare:

q Meaning, the fourteenth and the fifteenth day of the moneth Adar.

28 And that theſe dayes ſhould be remembred, and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city, and that theſe dayes of Purim ſhould not † fail from among the Jews, nor the memoriall of them † periſh from their ſeed.

† Heb. paſſe.

† Heb. be ended.

29 Then Eſther the queen the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with † all authority, to confirm this ſecond letter of Purim.

† Heb. all ſtrength.

30 And he ſent the letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and ſeven provinces of the kingdome of Ahaſuerus, with [r] words of peace and truth:

[r] Which were letters declaring unto them quietneſſe, and aſſurance, and putting them out of doubt and fear.

31 To confirm theſe dayes of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Jew, and Eſther the queen had enjoyned them, and as they had decreed † for themſelves and for their ſeed, the matters of the [s] faſtings and their cry.

† Heb. for their ſouls.

[s] That they would obſerve this feaſt with faſting and earneſt prayer, which in Hebrew is ſignified by this word (their crie)

32 And the decree of Eſther confirmed theſe matters of Purim, and it was written in the book.

Chap. X.

1 Ahaſuerus his greatneſſe. 3 Mordecai's advancement.

AND the king Ahaſuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the iſles of the ſea.

2 And all the acts of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the greatneſſe of Mordecai, whereunto the king † advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Perſia?

† Heb. made him great.

[a] Theſe three points are here ſet forth as commendable and neceſſary for him that is in authority: to have the favour of the people, to procure their wealth, and to be gentle, and loving toward them.

3 For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahaſuerus, and great among the Jews, and [a] accepted of the multitude of his brethren, ſeeking the wealth of his people, and ſpeaking peace to all his ſeed.

THE BOOK OF JOB.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this hiſtory is ſet before our eyes the example of a ſingular patience. For this holy man Job was not onely extreamly afflicted in outward things and in his body, but alſo in his minde and conſcience, by the ſharp temptations of his wife, and chief friends: which by their vehement words, and ſubtil diſputations brought him almoſt to deſpair: for they ſet forth God as a ſevere Judge, and mortall enemy unto him, which had caſt him off, therefore in vain he ſhould ſeek unto him for ſuccour. Theſe friends came unto him under pretence of conſolation, and yet they tormented him more than did all his affliction. Notwithſtanding he did conſtantly reſiſt them, and at length had good ſucceſſe. In this ſtory we have to mark, that Job maintaineth a good cauſe, but handleth it evil: again, his adverſaries have an evil matter, but they defend it craftily. For Job held that God did not alway punish men according to their ſinnes, but that he hath ſecret judgements, whereof man knew not the cauſe, and therefore man could not reaſon againſt God therein, but he ſhould be convicted. Moreover, he was aſſured that God had not rejected him, yet through his great torments and affliction he burſteth forth into many inconveniences both of words and ſentences, and ſheweth himſelf as a deſperate man in many things, and as one that would reſiſt God: and this is his good cauſe which he doth not handle wel. Again, the adverſaries maintain with many goodly arguments, that God puniſheth continually according to the treſpaſſe, grounding upon Gods providence, his juſtice, and mans ſinnes, yet their intention is evil: for they laboured to bring Job into deſpair, and ſo they maintain an evil cauſe. Ezekiel commendeth Job as a juſt man, Ezek. 14, 14. and James ſetteth out his patience for an example, James 5, 11.

Chap. I.

1 The holineſſe, riches, and religious care of Iob for his children. 6 Satan appearing before God, by calumniation obtaineth leave to tempt Iob. 13 Vnderſtanding of the loſſe of his goods and children, in his mourning he bleſſeth God.

THere was a man in the land of [a] Uz, whoſe name was Job, and that man was * perfect and [b] upright, and one that [c] feared God, and eſchewed evil.

[a] That is, of the countrey of Idumea, as Lament. 4:21. or bordering thereupon: for the land was called by the name of Uz the ſon of Dishan the ſon of Seir. Gen. 36: 28.

* Chap. 2. 3.

[b] Foraſmuch as he was a Gentile, and not a Jew, and yet is pronounced upright and without hypocriſie, it declareth that amongſt the heathen God hath his.

2 And there were born unto him ſeven ſonnes, and three daughters.

3 His ‡ [d] ſubſtance alſo was ſeven thouſand ſheep, and three thouſand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred ſheaſſes, and a very great † houſhold; ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the † men of the [e] eaſt.

[c] Hereby is declared, what is meant by an upright and juſt man.

4 And his ſonnes went and feaſted in their houſes, every one his day, and ſent and called for their three ſiſters, to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was ſo, when the dayes of their feaſting were gone about, that Job ſent and [f] ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the morning, [g] & offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all: for Job ſaid, It may be that my ſonnes have ſinned, and [h] curſed God in their hearts. Thus did Job [i] continually.

[f] That is, commanded them to be ſanctified: meaning, that they ſhould conſider the faults that they had committed, and reconcile themſelves for the ſame.

[g] That is, he offered for every one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion toward God, and the care that he had toward his children.

of God came to preſent themſelves [1] before the LORD, and, † Satan [m] came alſo † among them.

7 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Whence [n] comeſt thou? Then Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, from * [o] going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, † Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil?

9 Then Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, Doth Job fear God for [p] nought?

10 Haſt not thou made an [q] hedge about him, and about his houſe, and about all that he hath on every ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the work of his hands, and his ‡ ſubſtance is increaſed in the land.

12 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy † [t] power, onely upon himſelf put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the [u] preſence of the LORD.

13 ¶ And there was a day, when his ſonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe:

14 And there came a meſſenger unto Job, and ſaid, The oxen were plowing, and the aſſes feeding beſide them:

15 And the [x] Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away, yea, they have ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, ‡ The [y] fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burnt up the ſheep, and the ſervants, and conſumed them, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, The Caldeans made out three bands, and † fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, [z] Thy ſonnes and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe:

19 And behold, there came a great winde † from the wilderneſſe, and ſmote the foure corners of the houſe, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job aroſe, and [a] rent his ‡ mantle, and ſhaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worſhipped, 21 And ſaid, * Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked ſhall I rerurn [b] thither: the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away, bleſſed be the name of the LORD.

22 In all this Job ſinned not, nor ‡ [c] charged God [d] fooliſhly.

1 Satan appearing again before God, obtaineth further leave to tempt Job. 7 He ſmiteth him with ſore boyls. 9 Job reproveth his wife, moving him to curſe God. 11 His three friends condole with him in ſilence.

AGain there was a day, when the [a] ſonnes of God came to preſent themſelves before the LORD, and [b] Satan came alſo among them to preſent himſelf before the LORD.

2 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, From whence comeſt thou? And * Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, * a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil? [c] and ſtill he holdeth faſt his integrity, although thou movedſt me againſt him, † to deſtroy him [d] without cauſe.

4 And Satan anſwered the LORD, and ſaid, [e] Skinne for skinne, yea all that a man hath will he give for his life.

5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his [f] bone and his fleſh, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

6 And the LORD ſaid unto Satan, Behold he is in thine hand, ‡ but [g] ſave his life.

7 ¶ So went Satan forth from the preſence of the LORD, and ſmote Job with ſore [h] boyls, from the ſole of his foot unto his crown.

8 And he took him a [i] potſherd to ſcrape himſelf withall; and he ſat down among the aſhes.

9 ¶ Then ſaid his [k] wife unto him, Doſt thou ſtill [l] retain thine integrity? [m] curſe God, and die.

10 But he ſaid unto her, Thou ſpeakeſt as one of the fooliſh women ſpeaketh; what? ſhall we receive good at the hand of God, and ſhall we not [n] receive evil? In all this did not Job ſinne with his [o] lips.

11 ¶ Now when Jobs three [p] friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place: Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite; for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him, and to comfort him.

12 And when they liſt up their eyes afarre off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept, and they rent every one his mantle, and ſprinkled [q] duſt upon their heads toward heaven.

13 So they ſat down with him upon the ground ſeven dayes and ſeven nights, and none ſpake a word unto him: for they ſaw that his grief was very [r] great.

g Thus Satan can go no further in punishing, than God hath limited him.
h This ſore was moſt vehement, wherewith alſo God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9: 9. and threatneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28: 27. So that this temptation was moſt grievous: for if Job had meaſured Gods favour by the vehemencie of his diſeaſe, he might have thought that God had caſt him off.
i As deſtitute of all otherr help and means, and wonderfully afflicted with the ſorrow of his diſeaſe.
k Satan uſeth the ſame inſtrument againſt Job, as he did againſt Adam.
l Meaning, what gaineſt thou to ſerve God, ſeeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he were thine enimie?
This is the moſt grievous temptation of the faithfull, when their faith is aſſailed, and when Satan goeth about to perſwade them, that they truſt in God in vain.

m For death was appointed to the blaſphemer, and ſo she meant, that he should be ſoon rid out of his pain. n That is, to be patient in adverſitie, as we rejoyce when he ſendeth proſperity, and ſo to acknowledge him to be both merciſull and juſt. o He ſo bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatiencie did not murmur againſt God. p Which were men of authority, wiſe and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they ſaw how he was viſited, they conceived an evil opinion of him, as though he had been but an hypocrite, and ſo juſtly plagued of God for his ſins. q This was alſo a ceremony, which they uſed in thoſe Countreys, as the renting of their clothes in ſigne of ſorrow, &c. r And therefore thought that he would not have hearkned to their counſel.

c This he concludeth that Job was but an hypocrite and had no true fear nor truſt in God.
d He concludeth that Job was reproved, ſeeing that God handled him ſo extremely which is the argument that carnall men make againſt the children of God.
* Prov. 22: 8. Hoſe. 10: 13.
e They that doe evil, cannot but receive evil.
f He ſheweth that God needeth no great preparation to deſtroy his enemies for he can do it with the blaſt of his mouth.
" That is, by his anger, as Iſa. 30: 33.
g Though men according to their office doe not puniſh tyrants, (whom for their cruelty he compareth to lions, and their children to their whelps) yet God both is able, and his juſtice will puniſh them.
† Heb. by ſtealth.
h A thing that I knew not before, was declared unto me by viſions, that is, that whoſoever thinketh himſelf juſt, ſhall be found a ſinner, when he cometh before God.
† Heb. met me.
† Heb. the multitude of my bones.
i In theſe viſions which God ſheweth to his creatures, there is ever a certain feat joyned, that the authoritie thereof might be had in greater reverence.
‡ Or, I heard a ſtil voice.
k When all things were quiet, or when the feat was ſomewhat aſſwaged, as God appeared to Elijah, 1 King. 19: 12.
l He proveth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more juſt than the Creator, which were a blaſphemie.
* Chap. 15: 15. 2 Pet. 2: 4.
‡ Or, nor in his angels in whom he put light.
m If God finde imperfection in his angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more ſhall he lay folly to mans charge, when he would juſtifie himſelf againſt God?
* 2 Cor. 5: 1.
n That is, in this mortall body, ſubject to corruption, 2 Corinth. 5: 1.
† Heb. beaten in pieces.
o They ſee death continually before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them.
p No man for all this doeth conſider it,
q That is, before that any of them were ſo wiſe as to think on death.

Chap. V.

1 The harm of inconsideration. 3 The end of the wicked in misery. 6 God is to be regarded in affliction. 17 The happy end of Gods correction.

CAll now, if there be any that will [a] answer thee, and to which of the saints wilt thou ‡ turn?

2 For [b] wrath killeth the foolish man, and ‡ envy slayeth the silly one.

3 I have seen the [c] foolish taking root: but suddenly I [d] cursed his habitation.

4 His [e] children are farre from safety, and they are crushed in the [f] gate, neither is there any to deliver them.

5 Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the [g] thorns, and the robber swalloweth up their substance.

6 Although ‡ affliction cometh not forth of the dust, neither doth trouble spring out of the [h] ground:

7 Yet man is born unto ‡ [i] trouble, as † the sparks flie upward.

8 I would seek unto [k] God, and unto God would I commit my cause:

9 * Which doth great [l] things † and unsearchable; marvellous things † without number.

10 Who [m] giveth rain upon the earth, and sendeth waters upon the † fields:

11 * To set up on high those that be low; that those which mourn way be exalted to safety.

12 * He disappointeth the devices of the crafty, so that their hands ‡ cannot perform their enterprise.

13 * He taketh the wise in their own craftinesse: and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong.

14 * They ‡ meet with [n] darkenesse in the day time, and [o] grope in the noon-day as in the night.

15 But he saveth the [p] poore from the sword, from their [q] mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.

16 * So the poore hath hope, and iniquity [r] stoppeth her mouth.

17 * Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty:

18 * For he maketh sore, and bindeth up: he woundeth, and his hands make whole.

19 * He shall deliver thee in † [f] six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee.

20 In famine he shall redeem thee from death: and in warre † from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue: neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

22 At destruction and famine thou shalt [r] laugh: neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the earth.

23 * For thou shalt be in league with the [u] stones of the field: and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know † that thy tabernacle shall be in peace; and thou shalt visit thy habitation, and shalt not ‡ [x] sinne.

25 Thou shalt know also that thy seed shall be ‡ great, and thine offspring as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt come to thy grave in a [y] full age, like as a shock of corn † cometh in, in his season.

27 Lo [z] this, we have searched it, so it is; heare it, and know thou it † for thy good.

a He willeth Job to consider the example of all them that have lived, or doe live godly, whether any of them be like unto him, in raging against God as he doth.
‡ Or, look.
b Murmuring against God in afflictions increaseth the pain, and uttereth mans folly.
‡ Or, indignation.
c That is, the sinner that hath not the feare of God.
d I was not moved with his prosperitie, but knew that God had cursed him, and his.
e Though God sometime suffer the fathers to passe in this world, yet his judgements will light upon their wicked children.
f By publick judgement they shall be condemned, and none shall pitie them.
g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him.
‡ Or, iniquity.
h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse and mans miserie, but his own sinne.
‡ Or, labour.
i Which declareth that sinne is ever in our corrupt nature, for before sinne it was not subject to pain and affliction.
† Heb. the sonnes of the burning coal lift up to fly.
k If I suffered as thou doest, I would seek unto God.
* Chap. 9: 10. Psal. 72: 18. Rom. 11: 33.
l He counselleth Job to humble himself unto God, to whom all creatures are subject, and whose works declare that man is inexcusable, except he glorifie God in all his works.

* 1 Cor. 3: 19.
* Deut. 28: 29.
† Or, runne into.
n In things plain, and evident, they shew themselves fools in stead of wise men.
o This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as he threatned Deut. 28: 29 p That is, he that humbleth himself before God.
q He compareth the slander of the wicked to sharp swords.

‡ Or, when the tongue scourgeth.
r Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to rejoyce.
* Hose 2: 18.
u When we are in Gods favour, all creatures shall serve us.
‡ Or, that peace is thy tabernacle.
‡ Or, erre.
x God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt have occasion to rejoyce in all things, and not to be offended.
‡ Or, much.
y Though the children of God have not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth recompense it otherwise to their advantage.

† Heb. ascendeth.
z We have learned these points by experience, that the innocent, that man cannot compare in justice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man sustaineth cometh for his own sin.
† Heb. for thy self.

Chap. VI.

1 Iob sheweth that his complaints are not causelesse. 8 He wisheth for death, wherein he is assured of comfort. 14 He reproveth his friends of unkindnesse.

BUt Job answered and said,

2 Oh that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity † laid in the [a] balances together!

3 For now it would be heavier than the sand of the sea, therefore ‡ my words are [b] swallowed up.

4 * For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poison whereof drinketh up my spirit: the terrours of God do [c] set themselves in array against me.

5 Doth the [d] wilde asse bray † when he hath grasse? or loweth the ox over his fodder?

6 Can that which is [e] unsavory be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 The things that my soul refused to touch, are as my sorrowfull meat.

8 O that I might have my [f] request! and that God would grant me † the thing that I long for!

9 Even that it would please God to destroy me, that he would let loose his hand and cut me off.

10 Then should I yet have comfort, yea I would harden my self in sorrow; let him not spare, [g] for I have not concealed the words of the holy One.

11 What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is mine [h] end, that I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh † of brasse?

13 Is not my [i] help in me? and is wisdome driven quite from me?

14 † To him that is afflicted pity should be shewed from his friend; but he forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.

15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a [k] brook, and as the stream of brooks they passe away:

16 Which are blackish by reason of the yce, and wherein the snow is hid:

† Heb. lifted.
a To know whether I complain without just cause.
‡ That is, I want words to expresse my grief.
b My grief is so great, that I lack words to expresse it.
* Psalm. 38: 2. c Which declareth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battel that the faithfull can have.
d Think you that I cry without cause, seeing the brute beasts do not complain when they have what they would?
† Heb. at grasse.
e Can a mans taste delight in that that hath no savour? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are unsavory to the mouth.
f Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing through impaciencie to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreable to his will.
† Heb. my expectation.
g That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impaciencie.
h He feared least he should be brought to inconveniences, if his sorrows should continue.
† Heb. brasen.
i Have I not sought to help my self as much as was possible?
† Heb. to him that melteth.
k He compareth those friends which comfort us not in misery, to a brook, which in summer, when wee need water, is dry; in winter, is hard frozen; and in the time of rain, when we have no need, overfloweth with water.

412

17 What time they wax warm, † they vaniſh: † when it is hot, they are † conſumed out of their place.

18 The paths of their way are turned aſide they go to nothing, and periſh.

19 The troups of [l] Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.

20 They were confounded becauſe they had hoped; they came thither, and were aſhamed.

21 ‡ For now ye are † [m] nothing; ye ſee my caſting down, and are afraid.

22 Did I ſay, Bring unto me; Or give a reward for me of your [n] ſubſtance?

23 Or deliver me from the enemies hand? or redeem me from the hand of the mighty?

24 Teach me, and I will [o] hold my tongue: and cauſe me to underſtand wherein I have erred.

25 How [p] forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to [q] reprove words, and the ſpeeches of one that is deſperate, which are as winde?

27 Yea, † ye overwhelm the fatherleſſe, and you dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content, [r] look upon me, for it is † evident unto you, if I lie.

29 Return I pray you, let it not be iniquity; yea, return again, my righteouſneſſe is "in it.

30 Is there iniquity in my tongue? cannot † my taſte diſcern perverſe things?

‡ Or, for now ye are like to them, † Heb. to it. Heb. not.

m That is, like to this brook, which deceiveth them that think to have water there in their need, as I looked for conſolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no neceſſitie will give part of their goods, and much more theſe men, which would not give him comfortable words.

o Shew me wherein I have erred, and I will confeſſe my fault.

p He that hath a good conſcience doeth not ſhrink at the ſharp words or reaſonings of others, except they be able to perſwade him by reaſon.

q Do you cavill at my words becauſe I ſhould be thought to ſpeak foolishy, which am now in miſery. † Heb. ye cauſe to fall upon. r Conſider whether I ſpeak as one that is driven to this impatiencie through very ſorrow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemn me. † Heb. before your face. " That is, in this matter. † Heb. my palate.

Chap. VII.

1 Iob excuſeth his deſire of death. 12 He complaineth of his own reſtleſneſſe, and Gods watchfulneſſe.

‡ Or, a warfare.

IS there not ‡ an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his dayes alſo like the dayes of an [a] hireling?

2 As a ſervant † earneſtly deſireth the ſhadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work:

3 So am I made to poſſeſſe [b] moneths of vanity, and wearisome nights are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I ſay, When ſhall I ariſe, and † the night be gone? and I am full of toſſings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My fleſh is [c] clothed with worms and clods of duſt, my skinne is broken, and become loath-ſome.

6 * My dayes are ſwifter than a [d] weavers ſhuttle, and are ſpent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is winde: mine eye † ſhall no more ‡ ſee good.

8 The eye of him that hath ſeen me ſhall ſee me no more: thine eyes are upon me and "I am not.

9 [e] As the cloud is conſumed, & vaniſheth away: ſo he that goeth down to the grave, ſhall come up [f] no more.

10 He ſhall return no more to his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not [g] refrain my mouth, I will ſpeak in the anguiſh of my ſpirit, I will complain in the bitterneſſe of my ſoul.

12 Am I a ſea, or a [h] whale, that thou ſetteſt a watch over me?

13 When I ſay, My bed ſhall comfort me, my couch ſhall eaſe my complaint:

14 Then thou [i] ſcareſt me with dreams, and terrifieſt me through viſions.

15 So that my ſoul [k] chooſeth ſtrangling, and death rather † than my life.

16 I loath it, I would not live alway: let me [l] alone, for my dayes are vanity.

17 * What is man, that thou ſhouldeſt [m] magnifie him? and that thou ſhouldeſt ſet thine heart upon him?

18 And that thou ſhouldeſt viſit him every morning, and try him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I ſwallow down my ſpitle?

20 I have [n] ſinned, what ſhall I do unto thee, O thou preſerver of men? why haſt thou ſet me as a mark againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden to my ſelf?

21 And why doſt thou not pardon my tranſgreſſion, and take away mine iniquitie? for now ſhall I ſleep in the duſt, and thou ſhalt ſeek me in the morning, but I ſhall [o] not be.

a Hath not an hired ſervant ſome reſt and eaſe? then in this my continuall torment I am worſe than a hireling.

† Heb. gapeth after.

b My ſorrow hath continued from moneth to moneth, and I have looked for hope in vain.

† Heb. the evening be meaſured.

d Thus he ſpeaketh in reſpect of the brevitie of mans life, which paſſeth without hope of returning, in conſideration whereof he deſireth God to have compaſſion on him.

† Heb. ſhall not return.

‡ To ſee, that is, to enjoy.

" That is, I can live no longer.

e If thou behold me in thine anger, I ſhall not be able to ſtand in thy preſence. f Shall no more enjoy this mortall life. g Seeing I can by no other means comfort my ſelf, I will declare my griefe by words; and thus he ſpeaketh as one overcome with griefe of minde.

h Am not I a poore wretch? what needeſt thou then to lay ſo much pain on me?

i So that I can have no reſt, night nor day.

k He ſpeaketh as one overcome with ſorrow, and not of judgement, or of the examination of his faith.

† Heb. than my bones.

l Seeing my term of life is ſo ſhort, let me have ſome reſt and eaſe.

* Pſal. 8: 4. and 144: 3. Heb. 2: 6.

m Seeing that man of himſelf is ſo vile, why doeſt thou give him that honour to contend againſt him? Job uſeth all kindes of perſwaſion with God, that he might ſtay his hand.

n After all temptations, faith burſteth forth, and leadeth Job to repentance? yet it was not in ſuch perfection, that he could bridle himſelf from reaſoning with God, becauſe that he ſtill tried his faith.

o That is, I ſhall be dead.

Chap. VIII.

1 Bildad ſheweth Gods juſtice, in dealing with men according to their works. 8 He alledgeth antiquity to prove the certain deſtruction of the hypocrite. 20 He applieth Gods juſt dealing to Iob.

THen anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, & ſaid,

2 How long wilt thou ſpeak theſe things? and how long ſhall the words of thy mouth be like a [a] ſtrong winde?

3 * Doth God pervert judgement? or doth the Almighty pervert juſtice?

4 If thy children have ſinned againſt him, and he have caſt them away † for their [b] tranſgreſſion.

5 * If thou wouldeſt [c] ſeek unto God betimes, and make thy ſupplication to the Almighty:

6 If thou wert pure and upright, ſurely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteouſneſſe proſperous.

7 Though thy beginning was [d] ſmall, yet thy latter end ſhould greatly increaſe.

8 * [e] For enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy ſelf to the ſearch of their fathers.

9 (For * we are but of [f] yeſterday, and know † nothing, becauſe our dayes upon earth are a ſhadow)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?

11 Can the [g] ruſh grow up without mire? can the flagge grow without water?

12 * Whileſt it is yet in his greenneſſe, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the * hypocrites hope ſhall periſh:

14 Whoſe hope ſhall be cut off, and whoſe truſt ſhall be † [h] a ſpiders web.

a He declareth that their words which would diminiſh any thing from the juſtice of God, is but as a puffe of winde that vaniſheth away.

* Deut. 32: 4. 2 Chron. 19: 7. Dan. 9: 14.

d Though the beginnings be not ſo pleaſant, as thou wouldeſt deſire, yet in the end thou ſhalt have ſufficient occaſion to content thy ſelf.

15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure, 16 He is green before the sunne, and his [i] branch shooteth forth in his garden.

17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and seeth the place of stones.

18 If he destroy him from his place, then it [k] shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee.

19 Behold, this is [l] the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow.

20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he † help the evil doers:

21 Till he fill thy mouth with [m] laughing, and thy lips with † rejoycing.

22 They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling place of the wicked † shall come to nought.

i He compareth the just to a tree, which although it be removed out of one place unto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profit.
k That is, so that there remain nothing there to prove whether the tree had growen there or no.
l To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleasure.
† Heb. take the ungodly by the hand.
m If thou be godly, he will give thee occasion to rejoyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase. † Heb. shouting for joy. † Heb. shall not be.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob acknowledging Gods justice, sheweth there is no contending with him. 22 Mans innocency is not to be condemned by afflictions.

THen Job answered and said,

2 I know it is so of a truth: but how should * man be [a] just ‡ with God?

3 If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a [b] thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered?

5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.

6 Which [c] shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.

7 Which commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: and sealeth up the starres.

8 * Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the † waves of the sea.

9 * Which maketh † [d] Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.

10 * Which doth great things past finding out, yea, and wonders without number.

11 Lo, he [e] goeth by me, and I see him not: he passeth on also, but I perceive him not.

12 * Behold, he taketh away, † [f] who can hinder him? who will say unto him, What doest thou?

13 If God [g] will not withdraw his anger, the † proud helpers do [h] stoop under him.

14 How much lesse shall I answer him, and choose out my [i] words to reason with him?

15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I [k] not answer, but I would make supplication to my judge.

16 If I had [l] called, and he had answered me; yet would I not beleeve that he had hearkened unto my voice.

17 For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds [m] without cause.

18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If I speak of strength, lo he is [n] strong: and if of judgement, who shall set me a time to plead?

20 If I justifie my self, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I say, I am [o] perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.

21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life.

22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, he destroyeth the [p] perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge [q] slay suddenly, he will [r] laugh at the triall of the innocent.

24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he [s] covered the faces of the judges thereof; if not, [t] where, and who is he?

25 Now my dayes are swifter than a post: they flee away, they see no good.

26 They are passed away as the †‡ swift ships: as the eagle that hasteth to the prey.

27 [u] If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heavinesse, and comfort my self:

28 I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then [x] labour I in vain?

30 [y] If I wash my self with snow-water, and make my hands never so clean;

31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own [z] clothes shall † abhorre me.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgement.

33 Neither is there † any † [a] dayes-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrifie me.

35 Then would I speak, and not fear him; † [b] but it is not so with me.

* Psal. 143: 2.
a Job here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching the justice of God, and his innocence, confessing God to be infinite in justice, and man to be nothing in respect.
‡ Or, before God.

k Meaning, in his own opinion, signifying that man will sometime flatter himself to be righteous, which before God is abomination.
l Whiles I am in my pangs, I cannot but burst forth into many inconveniences, although I know still that God is just.
m I am not able to feel my sins so great, as I feel the weight of his plagues: and this he speaketh to condemn his dulnesse, and to justifie God.
n After he hath accused his own weaknesse, he continueth to justifie God and his power.
o If I would stand in mine own defence, yet God hath just cause to condemn me, if he examine mine heart and conscience.
p If God punish according to his justice, he will destroy as well them that are counted perfect, as them that are wicked.
q To wit, the wicked.
r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he would say, If God destroy but the wicked, as Chap. 5: 3. why should he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them?
s That they cannot see to do justice.
t That can shew the contrary.
† Heb. ships of desire.
‡ Or, ships of Ebeh.
u I think not to fall into these affections, but my sorrows bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my conscience condemneth me.
x Why doth not God destroy me at once, thus he speaketh according to the infirmitie of the flesh.
y Though I seem never so pure in mine own eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.
z Whatsoever I would use to cover my filthinesse with, shall disclose me so much more.
‡ Or, make me to be abhorred. † Heb. one that should argue. ‡ Or, umpire.
a Which might make an accord between God and me, speaking of impatiencie, and yet confessing God to be just in punishing him. † Heb. but I am not so with my self.
b Signifying that Gods judgements keep him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Iob, taking liberty of complaint, expostulateth with God about his afflictions. 18 He complaineth of life, and craveth a little ease before death.

MY soul is † [a] weary of my life, I will leave my [b] complaint upon my self; I will speak in the bitternesse of my soul.

2 I will say unto God, Do not [c] condemn me; shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Is it good unto thee, that thou shouldest [d] oppresse? that thou shouldest despise † the work of [e] thine hands? and [f] shine upon the counsel of the wicked?

4 Hast thou eyes of [g] flesh? or seest thou as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as the [h] dayes of man? are thy yeares as mans dayes.

6 That thou enquirest after mine iniquitie, and searchest after my sinne?

‡ Or, cut off while I live.
a I am more like to a dead man than to one that liveth.
b I will make an ample declaration of my torments accusing my self and not God.
c He would not that God should proceed against him by his secret justice, but by the ordinarie means that he punisheth others.
d Is it agreeable to thy justice to do me wrong?
† Heb. the labour of thine hands.
e Wilt thou be without compassion? f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked and condemn me? g Doest thou this of ignorance?
h Art thou inconstant and changeable, as the times, to day a friend, to morrow an enemy?

414.

7 † Thou knowest that I am not [i] wicked, and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.

8 [k] Thine hands † have made me and fashioned me together round about; yet thou doest destroy me.

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the [l] clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?

10 * Hast thou not poured me out as milk, and cruddled me like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skinne and flesh, and hast † fenced me with bones and sinews.

12 Thou hast granted me life and [m] favour, and thy [n] visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 And these things hast thou hid in thine heart: I [o] know that this is with thee.

14 If I sinne, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, wo unto me, and if I be righteous, yet will I [p] not lift up my head: I am full of confusion, therefore see thou mine affliction:

16 For it increaseth: thou hunteſt me as a fierce lion: and again thou shewest thy self [q] marvellous upon me.

17 Thou renewest ‡ thy witnesses against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me; [r] changes and warre are against me.

18 * Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the wombe? Oh that I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me!

19 I should have been as though I had not been, I should have been carried from the wombe to the grave.

20 * Are not my dayes few? [s] cease then, and let me alone that I may take comfort a little:

21 Before I go whence I shall [t] not return, even to the land of darknesse, and the shadow of death;

22 A land of darknesse, as darknesse it self, and of the shadow of death, without any [u] order, and where the light is as darknesse.

† Heb. Is is upon thy knowledge.
i By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing evil, neither can any set me at libertie.
k In these 8 verses following he describeth the mercie of God in the wonderfull creation of man: and thereon groundeth that God should not shew himself rigorous against him.
† Heb. took paines about me.
l As brittle as a pot of clay.
* Psal. 139. 14, 15, 16.
m That is, reason and understanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.
n That is, thy fatherly care and providence, whereby thou preservest me, and without the which I should perish straightway.
o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse that it is so.
p I will alway walk in fear and humilitie, knowing that none is just before thee.
q Job being sore assaulted in this battel between the flesh and the spirit, bursteth out into these affections, wishing rather short dayes than long pain.
‡ That is, thy plagues.
r That is, diversitie of diseases and in great abundance: shewing that God hath infinite means to punish man.
* Chap. 3: 11.
* See Chap. 7, 6, and 8, 9.
s He wisheth that God would leave off his affliction, considering his great miserie, and the brevitie of his life.
t He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions and with the feeling of Gods judgements, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection.
u No distinction between light and darknesse, but where all is very darknesse it self.

Chap. XI.

1 Zophar reproveth Job for justifying himself. 5 Gods wisdome is unsearchable. 13 The assured blessing of repentance.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should † a man full of talk be [a] justified?

3 Should thy ‡ lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My [b] doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But, O that God would speak, and open his lips against thee, † Heb. a man of lips.

a Should he perswade by his great talk, that he is just?
‡ Or, devices.
b He chargeth Job with this, that he should say, that the thing which he spake was true, and that he was without sin in the sight of God.

6 And that he would shew thee the [c] secrets of wisdom, that they are double to that which is! know therefore that God exacteth of thee lesse than thine iniquitie deserveth.

7 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty unto perfection?

8 It is † as high as heaven, what canst thou do? [d] deeper than hell, what canst thou know?

9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.

10 If he ‡ cut off, and [e] shut up, or gather together, then † who can hinder him?

11 For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickednesse also, will he not then consider it?

12 For † vain man would be wise, though man be born like a [f] wilde asses colt.

13 If thou [g] prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands towards him;

14 If iniquitie be in thine [h] hand, put it farre away, and let not wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then shalt thou lift up thy [i] face without spot, yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear:

16 Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that passe away:

17 And thine age † shall be clearer than the noon-day; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be secure because there is hope, yea thou shalt dig about thee, and * thou shalt take thy rest in safetie.

19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; yea many shall † make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall [k] fail, and † they shall not escape, and * their hope shall be as ‡ the giving up of the ghost.

c Which is not to stand in justifying of thy self: he signifieth that man will never be overcome, whiles he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must break off the controversie, and stop mans mouth.
† Heb. the heights of heaven.
d That is, this perfection of God, and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heaven, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attain to the perfection of the Creatour?
‡ Or, make no change.
e If God should turn the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controll him?
† Heb. who can turn him away?
† Heb. emptie.
f That is, without understanding: so that whatsoever gifts he hath afterward, come of God and not of nature.
g If thou repent, pray unto him.
h Renounce thine own evil works, and see that they offend not God.
i He declareth what quietnesse of conscience and successe in all things such shall have, which turn to God by true repentance.
† Heb. shall arise above the noon-day.
* Levit. 26: 5.
† Heb. intreat thy face.
k He sheweth that contrary things shall come unto them that do not repent.
† Heb. flight shall perish from them.
* Chap. 8: 14. and 18: 14.
‡ Or, a puff of breath.

Chap. XII.

1 Job maintaineth himself against his friends that reprove him. 7 He acknowledgeth the generall doctrine of Gods omnipotency.

ANd Job answered and said,

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and [a] wisdome shall die with you.

3 But I have † understanding as well as you, † I am not inferiour to you: yea, † who knoweth not such things as these?

4 [b] I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, & [c] he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn.

5 [d] He that is ready to slip with his feet is as a lamp despised in the thought of him that is at ease.

6 The tabernacles of robbers prosper, and they that provoke God are secure; into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 But ask now the [e] beasts, and they shall a Because you feel not that which you speak, you think the whole standeth in words, and so flatter your selves, as though none knew any thing, or could know but you.

† Heb. an heart.
† Heb. I fall not lower than you.
† Heb. with whom are not such as these?
b He reproveth these his friends of two faults: the one that they thought they had better knowledge than indeed they had: and the other, that in stead of true consolation, they did deride, and despise their friend in his adversitie.
c The which neighbour being a mocker and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods favour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth.
d As the rich esteem not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that faileth from prosperitie, to adversitie.
e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdome is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts do daily teach.

teach

teach thee; and the fowls of the aire, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee; and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all these, that the hand of the LORD hath wrought this?

10 In whose hand is the ‡ soul of every living thing, and the breath of † all mankinde.

11 * Doth not the eare [f] try words? and the † mouth taste his meat?

12 With the [g] ancient is wisdome, and in length of dayes, understanding.

13 ‡ With him is wisdome and strength, he hath counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he * shutteth † up a man, and there can be no opening.

15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: also he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdome: the deceived and the [h] deceiver are his.

17 He leadeth counsellers away spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

18 [i] He looseth the [k] bond of kings, and girdeth their loyns with a girdle.

19 He leadeth princes away spoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 * He removeth away † the speech of the trustie, and taketh away the understanding of the aged.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and ‡ weakeneth the strength of the mighty.

22 He discovereth deep things out of darknesse, and bringeth out to light the shadow of death.

23 He [m] increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and † straiteneth them again.

24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wildernesse where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to † stagger like a drunken man.

‡ Or, life.
† Heb. all flesh of man.
* Chap. 34: 3.
f He exhorteth them to be wise in judging, and as well to know the right use why God hath given them eares, as he hath done a mouth.
† Heb. palate.
g Though men by age, and continuance of time attain to wisdome, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdome, nor able to comprehend his judgments, wherein he answereth to that, which was alledged, Chap. 8: 8.
‡ That is, with God.
* Isa. 22: 22. Apoc. 3: 7.
† Heb. upon.
h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will, and ordinance: for else he should not be almighty.
i He taketh wisedome from them.
k He abateth the honor of princes, and bringeth them into the subjection of others.
* Chap. 32: 9.
† Heb. the lip of the faithfull.
l He causeth that their words have no credit, which is when he will punish sinne.
‡ Or, looseth the girdle of the strong.
m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull works Job sheweth that whatsoever is done in this world both in the order and change of things, is by Gods will and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set forth his power in words, as they that reasoned against him, were.

‡ Heb. loadeth in. † Heb. wander.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob reproveth his friends of partialitie. 14 He professeth his confidence in God, 20 and intreateth to know his own sinnes, and Gods purpose in afflicting him.

LO, mine eye hath seen all this, mine eare hath heard and understood it.

2 What ye know, the same do I know also, I am not inferiour unto you.

3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to [a] reason with God.

4 But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all [b] physicians of no value.

5 O that you would altogether hold your peace, and it should be your wisdome.

6 Heare now my reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

a For although he knew that God had a justice, which was manifest in his ordinarie working, and another in his secret counsel, yet he would utter his affection to God, because he was not able to understand the cause why he did thus punish him.
b You doe not well apply your medicine to the disease.

7 Will you speak [c] wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?

8 Will ye accept his person? will ye contend for God.

9 Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mock him?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye doe secretly accept persons.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?

12 Your [d] remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 † Hold your peace, let me alone that I may speak, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore do I [e] take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?

15 Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will † maintain mine own wayes before him.

16 He also shall be my salvation: for an [f] hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my speech, and my declaration with your eares.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause, I know that I shall be [g] justified.

19 Who is he that will [h] plead with me? for now if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the [i] ghost.

20 Onely do not two things unto me: then will I not hide my self from thee.

21 [k] Withdraw thine hand farre from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine [l] iniquities and sinnes? make me to know my transgression and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and * makest me to possesse the iniquities of my [m] youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the [n] stocks, and † lookest narrowly unto all my paths; thou settest a print upon the † heels of my feet.

28 And he, as a rotten thing consumeth, as a garment that is moth-eaten.

c He condemneth their zeal, which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway grated on Gods justice, as though it was not evidently seen in Job, except they had undertaken the probation thereof.
d Your fame shall come to nothing.
† Heb. be silent, from me.
e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complain without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented, as though I should tear mine own flesh, and put my life in danger.
† Heb. prove or argue.
f Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite, as they charged him.
g That is, cleared and not cast off for my sinnes, as you reason.
h To prove that God doth thus punish me for my sinnes.
i If I defend not my cause, every man will condemn me.
k He sheweth what these two things are.
l His pangs thus move him to reason with God, not denying but that he had sinned, but he desired to understand what were his great sinnes that had deserved such rigour, wherein he offended, that he would know a cause of God why he did punish him.
* Psal. 25: 7.
m Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth.
n Thou makest me thy prisoner, and doest so presse me, that I cannot stir hand nor foot.
† Heb observest.
† Heb. roots.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Iob intreateth God for favour, by the shortnesse of life, and certainty of death 7 Though life once lost be irrecoverable, yet he waiteth for his change. 16 By sinne the creature is subject to corruption.

MAn [a] that is born of a woman, is † of few dayes, and full of trouble.

2 * He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an [b] one, and bringest me unto judgement with thee?

a Taking occasion of his adversaries words, he describeth the state of mans life from his birth to his death.
† Heb. short of dayes.
* Chap. 8: 9. Psal. 102: 11. and 103: 15. and 144: 4. b His meaning is, that seeing that man is so fraile a creature, God should not handle him so extremely: wherein Job sheweth the wickednesse of the flesh, when it is not subject to the Spirit.

4 † Who

416

4 † Who * can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

† Heb. who will give?
* Pſal. 51: 5.

5 * Seeing his dayes are determined, the number of his moneths are with thee, thou haſt appointed his bounds that he cannot paſſe.

† Heb. ceaſe.

6 Turn from him that he may † reſt, till he ſhall accompliſh, as an [c] hireling, his day.

c Untill the time that thou haſt appointed for him to die which he deſireth, as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labour to receive his wages.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not ceaſe.

8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the ſtock thereof in the ground:

9 Yet through the ſent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

d He ſpeaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortality, but as a man in extreme pain, when reaſon is overcome by affections and torments.
† Heb. is weakened, or cut off.

10 [d] But man dieth, and † waſteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghoſt, and where is he?

11 As the waters fail from the ſea, and the ſloud decayeth and dryeth up:

12 So man lieth down, and riſeth not till the heavens be no more, they ſhall not awake, nor be raiſed out of their ſleep.

13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the grave, that thou wouldeſt keep me ſecret, untill thy [e] wrath be paſt, that thou wouldeſt appoint me a ſet time, and [f] remember me.

e Hereby he declareth that the fear of Gods judgement was the cauſe why he deſired to die.
f That is, releaſe my pains, and take me to mercie.

14 If a man die, ſhall he live again? all the dayes of my appointed time will I wait, till my [g] change come.

g Meaning, unto the day of the reſurrection, when he ſhould be changed and renewed.

15 Thou ſhalt call, and I will [b] anſwer thee: thou wilt have a deſire to the work of thine hands.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the reſurrection I ſhall feel thy mercies, and anſwer when thou calleſt me.
* Pſal. 139. 2: 3.

16 * For now thou numbreſt my ſteps, doſt thou not watch over my ſinne?

i Thou layeſt them all together, and ſuffereſt none of my ſins unpuniſhed.

17 My tranſgreſſion is ſealed up in a [i] bag, and thou ſoweſt up mine iniquitie.

† Heb. fadeth.

18 And ſurely the mountain falling † cometh to nought: and the [k] rock is removed out of his place.

k He murmureth through the impatiencie of the fleſh againſt God as though he uſed as great ſeveritie againſt him, as againſt the hard rocks, or waters that overflow, ſo that hereby all the occaſion of his hope is taken away.

19 The waters wear the ſtones: thou † waſheſt away the things which grow out of the duſt of the earth, and thou deſtroyeſt the hope of man.

20 Thou prevaileſt for ever againſt him, and he paſſeth: thou changeſt his countenance, and ſendeſt him away.

21 His ſonnes come to honour, and he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.

l Yet whiles he liveth, he ſhall be in pain and miſerie.

22 But his [l] fleſh upon him ſhall have pain, and his ſoul within him ſhall mourn.

Chap. XV.

1 Eliphaz reproveth Job of impietie in juſtifying himſelf. 17 He proveth by tradition the unquietneſſe of wicked men.

THen anſwered Eliphaz the Temanite and ſaid, † Heb. knowledge of winde.

a That is, vain words and without conſolation?
b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as ſoon as they are uttered, as the eaſt-winde dryeth up the moiſture aſſoon as it falleth.

2 Should a wiſe man utter † [a] vain knowledge, and fill his belly with the [b] eaſt-winde?

3 Should he reaſon with unprofitable talk? or with ſpeeches wherewith he can do no good?

† Heb. thou makeſt void. c He chargeth Job as though his talk cauſed men to caſt off the feare of God and prayer. ‡ Or, ſpeech. † Heb. teacheth.

4 Yea, † thou caſteſt off [c] fear, and reſtraineſt ‡ prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth † uttereth thine iniquitie, and thou chooſeſt the [d] tongue of the crafty.

d Thou ſpeakeſt as doe the mockers and contemners of God.

6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips teſtifie againſt thee.

e That is, the moſt ancient, and ſo in reaſon the moſt wiſe?
* Rom. 11: 34.

7 Art thou the [e] firſt man that was born? or waſt thou made before the hils?

f Art thou onely wiſe?

8 * Haſt thou heard the ſecret of God? and doſt thou reſtrain wiſdome to [f] thy ſelf?

9 What knoweſt thou that we know not? what underſtandeſt thou, which is not in us?

10 With us are both the gray-headed, and very aged men, much elder than thy father.

g He accuſeth Jobs pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counſel.

11 Are the conſolations of God [g] ſmall with thee? is there any ſecret thing with thee?

h Why doeſt thou ſtand in thine own conceit?
* 1 Kings 8: 46. 2 Chron. 6: 36. Chap. 14: 4. Pſal. 14: 3. Prov. 20: 9. 1 John 1: 8.

12 Why doth thine heart [h] carry thee away? and what do thine eyes wink at,

13 That thou turneſt thy ſpirit againſt God, and letteſt ſuch words go out of thy mouth?

i His purpoſe is to prove that Job as an unjuſt man and an hypocrite is puniſhed for his ſins, like as he did before Chap. 4: 18.

14 * What is man, that he ſhould be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he ſhould be [i] righteous?

15 * Behold, he putteth no truſt in his ſaints; yea, the heavens are not clean in his ſight.

k Which had a deſire to ſinne, as he that is thirſty to drink.

16 How much more abominable and filthy is man, which [k] drinketh iniquity like water?

17 I will ſhew thee, heare me, and that which I have ſeen, I will declare,

18 Which wiſe men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:

l Who by their wiſedome ſo governed, that no ſtranger invaded them, and ſo the land ſeemed to be given to them alone.

19 Unto whom alone the earth was [l] given, and no ſtranger paſſed among them.

m The cruel man is ever in danger of death, and never quiet in conſcience.

20 The wicked man travelleth with pain all his dayes, and the number of [m] yeares is hidden to the oppreſſour.

† Heb. a ſound of feares.

21 † A dreadfull ſound is in his eares; in proſperity the deſtroyer ſhall come upon him.

n Out of that miſery where into he once falleth.

22 He beleeveth not that he ſhall return out of [n] darkneſſe, and he is waited for of the ſword.

o God doth not onely impoveriſh the wicked oftimes: but even in their proſperitie he puniſheth them with a greedineſſe evermore to gather; which is as a beggerie, 23 He [o] wandereth abroad for bread, ſaying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darkneſſe is ready at his hand.

p He ſheweth what weapons God uſeth againſt the wicked, which lift up themſelves againſt him, to wit, terrour of conſcience, and outward afflictions.

24 [p] Trouble and anguiſh ſhall make him afraid; they ſhall prevail againſt him, as a king ready to the battel.

q That is, he was ſo puft up with great proſperitie and abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, that Job in his felicitie, had not the true feare of God.

25 For he ſtretcheth out his hand againſt God, and ſtrengtheneth himſelf againſt the Almighty.

26 He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick boſſes of his bucklers:

27 Becauſe he covereth his face with his [q] fatneſſe and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.

r Though he build and repair ruinous places to get him fame, yet God ſhall bring all to nought, and turn his great proſperitie into extreme miſery.

28 And he dwelleth in [r] deſolate cities, and in houſes which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

s Meaning, that his ſumptuous buildings ſhould never come to perfection.

29 He ſhall not be rich, neither ſhall his ſubſtance continue, neither ſhall he prolong [s] the perfection thereof upon the earth.

t He ſtandeth ſo in his own conceit, that he will give no place to good counſel, therefore his own pride ſhall bring him to deſtruction. ‡ Or, caſt off.

30 He ſhall not depart out of darkneſſe; * the flame ſhall dry up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth ſhall he go away.

31 Let not him that is deceived, truſt in vaniy: for vanity ſhall be his [t] recompenſe.

32 It ſhall be ‡ accompliſhed before his time, and his branch ſhall not be green.

33 He shall shake off his unripe grape [u] as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and fire shall consume the tabernacles of [x] bribery.

35 * They [y] conceive mischief, and bring forth ‡ vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

Chap. XVI.

1 Iob reproveth his friends of unmercifulnesse. 7 He sheweth the pitifulnesse of his case. 17 He maintaineth his innocency.

THen Job answered and said,

2 I have heard many such things: ‡ * miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall † [a] vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou [b] answerest?

4 I also could speak as ye do: [c] if your soul were in my souls stead, I could heap up words against you, and [d] shake mine head at you.

5 But I would [e] strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should assuage your grief.

6 Though I speak, my grief is not [f] assuaged: and though I forbear, † what am I eased?

7 But now he hath made me [g] weary: thou hast made desolate all my [h] company.

8 And thou hast filled me with [i] wrinkles, which is a witnesse against me: and my leannesse rising up in me, beareth witnesse to my face.

9 He [k] teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy sharpeneth his eyes upon me.

10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth, they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully, they have gathered themselves together against me.

11 God † hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the [m] hands of the wicked.

12 I was at ease, but he hath broken me asunder: he hath also taken me by my neck, and shaken me to pieces, and set me up for his mark.

13 His [n] archers compasse me round about, he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my [o] gall upon the ground.

14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.

15 I have sowed sackcloth upon my skinne, and defiled my [p] horn in the dust.

16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eye-lids is the shadow of death:

17 Not for any injustice in [q] mine hands: also my prayer is [r] pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my [s] bloud, and let my crie have no place.

19 Also now, behold, my [t] witnesse is in heaven, and my record is † on high.

20 My friends † [u] scorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.

21 O that one might [x] plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his ‡ neighbour.

22 When ‡ a few yeares are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

Chap. XVII.

1 Iob appealeth from men to God. 6 The unmercifull dealing of men with the afflicted, may astonish, but not discourage the righteous. 11 His hope is not in life but in death.

MY ‡ breath is corrupt, my dayes are extinct, the graves are ready for me.

2 Are there not [a] mockers with me? and doth not mine eye † continue in their [b] provocation?

3 [c] Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee; who is he that will [d] strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from [e] understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

5 [f] He that speaketh flatterie to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath made me also a [g] by-word of the people, and ‡ afore-time I was as a [h] tabret.

7 Mine eye also is dimme by reason of sorrow, and all ‡ my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be [i] astonied at this, and the innocent shall stirre up himself against the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also shall [k] hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands † shall be stronger and stronger.

10 But as for you [l] all, do you return, and come now: for I cannot finde one wise man among you.

11 My dayes are past, my purposes are broken off, even † the thoughts of my heart.

12 They change the [m] night into day: the light is † short, because of darknesse.

13 If I wait, the [n] grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darknesse.

14 I have ‡ said to corruption, Thou art my [o] father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister.

15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 [p] They shall go down to the barres of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.

19 Because he hath † oppressed, and hath forsaken the poore; because he hath violently taken away an house which he builded not:

20 * Surely he shall not † feel quietnesse in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired

21 ‡ There shall none of his [k] meat be left, therefore shall no man look for his goods.

22 In the fulnesse of his sufficiency he shall be in straits: [l] every hand of the ‡ wicked shall come upon him.

23 When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall [m] rain it upon him while he is eating.

26 [o] All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places: [p] a fire not blown shall consume him; it shal go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle

27 The heaven shall reveal his iniquity: and the earth shall rise up against him.

e Meaning, that he shall carry nothing away with him, but his sin.
f As poison that is sweet in the mouth bringeth destruction when it cometh into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.
† Heb. in the midst of his palate.

Chap XXI.

1 Job sheweth that even in the judgement of man he hath reason to be grieved. 7 Sometimes the wicked do so prosper, as they despise God. 16 Sometime their destruction is manifest. 22 The happy and unhappy are alike in death 27 The judgement of the wicked is in another world.

BUt Job answered and said,

2 Heare diligently my speech, and let [a] this be your consolations.

3 Suffer me that I may speak, and after that I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, [b] is my complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be † troubled?

5 † Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your [c] mouth.

6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.

7 * Wherefore do the wicked [d] live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?

8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.

9 Their houses † are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendereth and faileth not, their cow calveth and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their little ones like a [e] flock, and their children dance.

12 They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoyce at the sound of the organ.

13 They spend their dayes ‡ in wealth, and in a [f] moment go down to the grave.

14 * Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us: for we desire not the [g] knowledge of thy wayes.

15 What is the Almightie, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have if we pray unto him?

16 Lo, their good is not in their [h] hand, the [i] counsel of the wicked is farre from me.

17 How oft is the ‡ candle of the wicked put out? and how oft cometh their destruction upon them? God distributeth sorrows in his anger.

18 They are as stubble before the winde, and as chaff that the storm † carrieth away.

19 God layeth up his "iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he shall know it.

20 [k] His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off in the midst?

22 Shall any teach [l] God knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high.

23 [m] One dieth † in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.

g They desire nothing more than to be exempt from all subjections that they should beare to God: thus Job sheweth his adversaries, that if they reason only by that which is seen by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt with all, than they that love him.

1 Eliphas ſheweth that mans goodneſſe profiteth not God. 5 He accuſeth Job of divers ſinnes. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance, with promiſes of mercy.

THen Eliphas the Temanite anſwered & ſaid.

2 [a] Can a man be profitable unto God, ‡ as he that is wiſe may be profitable unto himſelf?

3 Is it any pleaſure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makeſt thy wayes perfect?

4 Will he reprove thee for [h] fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgement?

5 Is not thy wickedneſſe great? and thine iniquities infinite?

6 For thou haſt taken a [c] pledge from thy brother for nought, and † ſtripped the naked of their clothing.

7 Thou haſt not given water to the weary to drink, and thou haſt withholden bread from the hungry.

8 But as for † the mighty man, he had the [d] earth, and the † honourable man dwelt in it.

15 Haſt thou marked the old way which wicked men have [k] troden?

1 Wickedneſſe goeth often unpunished. 17 There is a ſecret judgement for the wicked.

a The times of Gods judgements are ſo known to himſelf, as that he doth not ordinarily reveal the knowledge thereof, unto his deareſt children: therefore it is not poſſible that any certain rules can be preſcribed by any man touching it.

1 Job reproving the uncharitable ſpirit of Bildad, 5 acknowledgeth the power of God to be infinite and unſearchable.

a When I felt his favour.
b I was free from affliction.

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth, when the [c] ſecret of God was upon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me:

c That is, ſeemed by evident tokens to be more preſent with me.

6 When I waſhed my ſteps with [d] butter, and the rock poured † me out rivers of oyl:

d By theſe ſimilitudes he declareth the great proſperity that he was in, ſo that he had none occaſion to be ſuch a ſinner as they accuſed him.
† Heb. with me.

7 When I went out to the gate, through the city, when I prepared my ſeat in the ſtreet.

8 The young men ſaw me, and [e] hid themſelves: and the aged aroſe, and ſtood up.

e Being aſhamed of their lightneſſe, and afraid of my gravity.

9 The princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their [f] mouth, f Acknowledging my wiſdome.

10 † The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.

† Heb. the voice of the nobles was hid.

11 When the [g] eare heard me, then it bleſſed me; and when the eye ſaw me, it gave [h] witneſſe to me:

g All that heard me, praiſed me.
h Teſtifying, that I did good juſtice.

12 Becauſe I delivered the [i] poore that cried, and the fatherleſſe, and him that had none to help him.

i Becauſe his adverſaries did ſo much charge him with wickedneſſe, he is compelled to render account of his life

13 The [k] bleſſing of him that was ready to perish, came upon me: and I cauſed the widows heart to ſing for joy.

k That is, I did ſuccour him that was in diſtreſſe, and ſo he had cauſe to praiſe me.

14 I [l] put on righteouſneſſe, and it clothed me: my judgement was as a robe and a diadem.

l I delighted to do juſtice, as others did to weare coſtly apparell.

15 I was eyes to the blinde, and feet was I to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poore: and the cauſe which I knew not, I ſearched out.

17 And I brake † the jaws of the wicked, and † pluckt the ſpoil out of his teeth.

† Heb. the jaw-teeth. or, the [m] grinders.
† Heb. I caſt.
m That is at home in my bed without all trouble and unquietneſſe

18 Then I ſaid, I ſhall die in my [m] neſt, and ſhall multiply my dayes as the ſand.

† Heb. opened.

19 My root was † [n] ſpread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.

n My felicity doth increaſe.

20 My glory was † freſh in me, and my bow was † renewed in my hand.

† Heb. new.
† Heb. changed.

21 Unto me men gave eare, and waited, and kept ſilence at my counſel. 423

22 After my words they ſpake not again, and my ſpeech [o] dropped upon them.

o That is, was pleaſant unto them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the rain, and they opened their mouth wide as [p] for the latter rain.

p As the dry ground thirſteth for the rain.

24 If I [q] laughed on them, they beleeved it not, and the light of my countenance they [r] caſt not down.

q That is, they thought it not to be a jeſt, or they thought not that I would condeſcend unto them.
r They were affraid to offend me, and cauſe me to be angry.

25 I choſe out [r] their way, and ſat chief, and dwelt as a king in the army, as one that comforteth the mourners.

r I had them at command.

Chap. XXX.

1 Iobs honour is turned into extreme contempt; 15 his proſperity into calamity.

BUt now they that are † younger than I, have me in [a] deriſion, whoſe fathers I would have diſdained to have ſet with the [b] dogs of my flock.

† Heb. of fewer dayes than I.
a That is, mine eſtate is changed, and whereas before, the ancient men were glad to do me reverence, the young men now contemn me.
b Meaning, to be my ſhepherds, or to keep my dogs.

2 Yea, whereto might the ſtrength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was [c] periſhed?

c That is, their fathers died for famine before they came to age.

3 For want and famine they were ‡ ſolitary: fleeing into the wilderneſſe † in former time deſolate and waſte:

‡ Or, dark as the night.
† Heb. yeſternight.

4 Who cut up mallows by the buſhes, and juniper roots for their meat.

5 They were [d] driven forth from among men, (they cried after them, as after a thief)

d Job sheweth that theſe that mocked him in his affliction were like to their fathers wicked, and lewd fellows, ſuch as he here deſcribeth.

6 To dwell in the clifts of the valleys, in † caves of the earth, and in the rocks.

† Heb. holes.

7 Among the buſhes they brayed, under the nettles they were gathered together.

8 They were children of fools, yea, children of † baſe men: they were viler than the earth.

† Heb. men of no name.

9 * And now am I their [e] ſong, yea, I am their by-word.

* Pſal. 35: 15. and 69: 12.
e They make ſongs of me, and mock at my miſery.

10 They abhorre me, they flee farre from me, † and ſpare not to ſpit in my face.

† Heb. and withhold not ſpittle from my face.

11 Becauſe he hath looſed my [f] cord and afflicted me, they have alſo let [g] looſe the bridle before me.

f God hath taken from me the force, credit, and authority wherewith I kept them in ſubjection.
g He ſaid that the young men when they ſaw him, hid themſelves, as Chap. 29: 8. and now in his miſery they were impudent and licentious.

12 Upon my right hand riſe the youth, they puſh away my feet, and they raiſe up againſt me the [h] wayes of their deſtruction.

h That is, they ſought by all means how they might deſtroy me.

13 They marre my path, they ſet forward my calamity, they have no [i] helper:

i They need none to help them.

14 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the [k] deſolation they rolled themſelves upon me.

k By my calamitie they took an occaſion againſt me.

15 Terrours are turned upon me: they purſue † my ſoul as the winde: and my welfare paſſeth away as a cloud.

† Heb. my principall one.

16 And now my ſoul is [l] poured out upon me; the dayes of affliction have taken hold upon me.

l My life faileth me, and I am as half dead.

17 My bones are [m] pierced in me in the night ſeaſon: and my ſinews take no reſt.

m Meaning through ſorrow.

18 By the great force of my diſeaſe, is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

19 [n] He hath caſt me into the mire, and I am become like duſt and aſhes.

n That is, God hath brought me into contempt.

20 I cry unto thee, and thou doſt not heare me: I ſtand up, and thou regardeſt me not.

† Heb. turned to be cruel.
21 Thou art † become [o] cruel to me: with † thy ſtrong hand thou oppoſeſt thy ſelf againſt me.

o He ſpeaketh not thus to accuſe God, but to declare the vehemencie of his affliction, whereby he was carried beſide himſelf.

22 Thou lifteſt me up to the [p] winde: thou cauſeſt me to ride upon it, and diſſolveſt my ‡ ſubſtance.

† Heb. the ſtrength of thy hand.

23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the houſe appointed for all living.

p He compareth his afflictions to a tempeſt, or whirlewinde.

24 Howbeit [q] he will not ſtretch out his hand to the † grave, though they crie in his deſtruction.

‡ Or, wiſedome.

25 * Did not I weep † for him that was in trouble? was not my ſoul grieved for the poore?

q None can deliver me thence, though they lament at my death.

26 When I looked for good, then [r] evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkneſſe.

† Heb. heap.
* Pſal. 35: 13. Rom. 12: 15.
† Heb. for him that was hard of day.

27 My bowels boiled and reſted not: the dayes of affliction prevented me:

28 I went mourning [s] without the ſunne: I ſtood up, and I [t] cried in the congregation.

r In ſtead of comforting they mocked at me.

29 * I am a brother to [u] dragons, and a companion to ‡ owls.

s Not delighting in any wordly thing, no not ſo much as in the uſe of the ſunne t Lamenting them that were in affliction, and moving others to pitie them.

30 My skinne is black upon me, and my bones are burnt with [x] heat.

* Pſal. 102: 6.
u I am like the wilde beaſts that deſire moſt ſolitary places.

31 My harp alſo is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

‡ Or, oſtriches.
x With the heat of affliction.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Job maketh a ſolemn proteſtation of his integrity in ſeverall duties.

I Made a covenant with mine [a] eyes? why then ſhould I think upon a [a] maid.

a I kept mine eyes from all wanton looks.

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

b Would not God then have puniſhed me?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked? and a ſtrange puniſhment to the workers of iniquity?

4 * Doth not he [c] ſee my wayes, and count all my ſteps?

* 2 Chro. 16: 9. Chap. 34: 21. Prov. 5: 21, and 15: 3. c Job declareth that the feare of God was a bridle to ſtay him from all wickedneſſe.

5 If I walked with vanity, or if my foot hath haſted to deceit;

† Heb. let him weigh me in ballances of juſtice.

6 † Let me be weighed in an even ballance, that God may know mine [d] integrity.

b He ſheweth wherein his uprightnes ſtandeth, that is, inaſmuch as he was blameleſſe before men, & ſinned not againſt the ſecond table:

7 If my ſtep hath turned out of the way, and mine heart [e] walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to my hands:

e That is, hath accomplished the luſt of mine eye.

8 Then let me ſow, and let another [f] eat; yea, let my offſpring be rooted out.

f According to the curſe of the law, Deut. 28: 33.

9 If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbours doore:

g Let her be made a ſlave.

10 Then let my wife [g] grinde unto another, and let others bowe down upon her.

11 For this is an heinous crime, yea it is an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judges.

h He ſheweth, that albeit man neglect the puniſhment of adulterie, yet the wrath of God will never ceaſe till ſuch be deſtroyed.

12 For it is a fire that conſumeth to [h] deſtruction, and would root out all mine increaſe.

i When they thought themſelves evil intreated by me.

13 If I did deſpiſe the cauſe of my manſervant, or of my maid-ſervant, when they [i] contended with me:

14 What then ſhall I do when God [k] riſeth up? and when he viſiteth, what ſhall I anſwer him?

k If I had oppreſſed others, how ſhould I have eſcaped Gods judgement?

15 Did not he that made me in the wombe, [l] make him? and ‡ did not one faſhion us in the wombe?

l He was moved to ſhew pity unto ſervants, becauſe they were Gods creatures as he was.
‡ Or, did he not faſhion us in one wombe?

16 If I have withheld the poore from their deſire, or have cauſed the eyes of the widow to [m] fail:

m By long waiting for her requeſt.

17 Or have eaten my morſel my ſelf alone, and the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof:

18 (For from my youth he was brought up with me, as with [n] a father, and I have guided ‡ her from my mothers wombe)

n He nouriſhed the fatherleſſe, and maintained the widowes cauſe.
‡ That is, the widow.

19 If I have ſeen any periſh for want of cloathing, or any poore without covering:

20 If his loyns have not bleſſed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my ſheep;

21 If I have [o] lift up my hand againſt the fatherleſſe, when I ſaw my help in the gate:

o To oppreſſe him and doe him injurie.

22 Then let [p] mine arm fall from my ſhoulder-blade, and mine arm be broken from ‡ the bone.

p Let me rot in pieces.
‡ Or, the channel-bone.

23 For deſtruction from [q] God was a terrour to me, and by reaſon of his highneſſe I could not endure.

q I refrained not from ſinning for feare of men, but becauſe I feared God.

24 If I have made gold my hope, or have ſaid to fine gold, Thou art my confidence:

25 If I rejoyced becauſe my wealth was great, and becauſe mine hand had † gotten much:

† Heb. found much.

26 If I beheld † the [r] ſunne when it ſhined, or the moon walking † in brightneſſe:

† Heb. the light.
r If I was proud of my wordly proſperity and felicity, which is meant by the ſhining of the ſun and the brightneſſe of the moon.

27 And my heart hath been ſecretly enticed, or † my mouth hath [f] kiſſed my hand:

† Heb. bright.
† Heb. my hand hath kiſſed my mouth.

28 This alſo were an iniquity to be puniſhed by the judge: for I ſhould have [e] denied the God that is above.

f If mine own doings delighted me.

29 If I rejoyced at the deſtruction of him that hated me, or lift up my ſelf when evil found him:

t By putting confidence in any thing but in him alone.

30 (Neither have I ſuffered † my mouth to ſinne, by wiſhing a curſe to his ſoul) † Heb. my palate.

31 If the men of my [u] tabernacle ſaid not, Oh that we had of his fleſh! we cannot be ſatisfied.

u My ſervants moved me to be revenged of mine enemy, yet did I never wish him hurt.

32 The ſtranger did not lodge in the ſtreet: but I opened my doores ‡ to the traveller.

‡ Or, to the way.

33 If I [x] covered my tranſgreſſions, ‡ as Adam: by hiding mine iniquity in my boſome.

x And not confeſſed it freely: whereby it is evident that he juſtified himſelf before men and not before God.

34 Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families [y] terrifie me, that I [z] kept ſilence, and went not out of the doore?

‡ Or, after the manner of men.
y That is, I reverenced the moſt weak and contemned, and was afraid to offend them.

35 O that one would heare me! ‡ behold, my [a] deſire is, that the Almighty would anſwer me, and that mine adverſary had written a book.

z I ſuffered them to ſpeak evil of me, and went not out of my houſe to revenge it.

36 Surely I would take it upon my ſhoulder, and binde it as a [b] crown to me.

‡ Or, behold my ſigne is that the Almighty will anſwer me.
a This is a ſufficient token of my righteouſneſſe, that my deſire is to have God to witneſſe and to juſtifie my cauſe.

37 I would declare unto him the number of my ſteps, as a [c] prince would I go near unto him.

b Should not this book of his accuſations be a praiſe and commendation to me?

38 If my land [d] cry againſt me, or that the furrows likewiſe thereof † complain:

c I will make him account of all my life, without feare.
d As though I had withholden their wages that laboured in it.
† Heb. weep.

39 If

39 If I have eaten † the fruits thereof without money, or have † caused the owners thereof to [e] lose their life:

40 Let thistles grow in stead of wheat, and ‡ cockle in stead of barley. The [f] words of Job are ended.

† Heb. the strength thereof.
† Heb. caused the soul of the owners thereof to expire, or, breath out.
e Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner.
‡ Or, noisome weeds.
f That is, the talk which he had with his three friends.

Chap XXXII.

1 Elihu is angry with Job, and his three friends. 6 Because wisdome cometh not from age, he excuseth the boldnesse of his youth. 11 He reproveth them for not satisfying of Job. 16 His zeal to speak.

SO these three men ceased † to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.

2 Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the [a] Buzite, of the kindred of [b] Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified † himself [c] rather than God.

3 Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.

4 Now Elihu had † waited till Job had spoken, because [d] they were † elder than he.

5 When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.

6 And Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am † young, and ye are very old, wherefore I was afraid, and † durst not shew you mine opinion.

7 I said, [e] Dayes should speak, and multitude of yeares should teach wisdome.

8 But there is a spirit in man: and * the [f] inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

9 Great men are not alwayes wise: neither do the aged understand judgement.

10 Therefore I said, Hearken to me, I also will shew mine opinion.

11 Behold, I waited for your words; I gave eare to your † [g] reasons, whilest you searched out † what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you, and behold, there was none of you that convinced Job, or that answered his words:

13 Lest ye should say, We have [h] found out wisdome: God thrusteth him down, not man.

14 Now [i] he hath not ‡ directed his words against me: neither will I answer him with [k] your speeches.

15 They were amazed, they answered no more, † they left off speaking.

16 When I had waited, (for they spake not? but stood still and answered no more)

17 I said, I will answer also my part, I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am [l] full of † matter, † the spirit within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which † hath no vent, it is ready to burst like new bottles.

20 I will speak † that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips, and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, accept any mans person, neither let me [m] give flattering titles unto man.

22 For I know not to give [n] flattering titles, in so doing my maker would soon take me away.

Chap. XXXIII.

1 Elihu offereth himself in stead of God, with sincerity and meekenesse to reason with Job. 8 He excuseth God from giving man an account of his wayes, by his greatnesse. 14 God calleth man to repentance by visions, 19 by afflictions, 23 and by his ministery, 31 He inciteth Job to attention.

WHerefore Job, I pray thee, heare my speeches, and hearken to all my words.

2 Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken † in my mouth.

3 My words shall be of the uprightnesse of my heart: and my lips shall utter knowledge clearly.

4 The [a] spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

5 If thou canst answer me, set thy words in order before me, stand up.

6 * Behold, I am † according to thy wish in [b] Gods stead: I also am † formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terrour shall not make thee afraid, neither shall my hand be [c] heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou hast spoken † in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, saying,

9 I am [d] clean without transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquitie in me.

10 Behold, he findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy.

11 He putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths.

12 Behold, in this thou art not just: I will answer thee, that God is greater than man.

13 Why dost thou strive against him? for † he giveth [e] not account of any of his matters.

14 For God speaketh once, yea [f] twice, yet man perceiveth it not.

15 In a dream, in a [g] vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumbrings upon the bed?

16 Then † he openeth the ears of men, and [h] sealeth their instruction, 17 That he may withdraw man from his † purpose, and hide [i] pride from man.

18 He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life † from perishing by the sword.

19 He is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain.

20 * So that his [k] life abhorreth bread, and his soul † dainty meat.

21 His flesh is consumed away that it cannot be seen, and his bones that were not seen, stick out.

22 His soul draweth neare unto the grave, and his life to the [l] destroyers.

23 If there be a [m] messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a [n] thousand, to shew unto man his uprightnesse:

24 Then he is [o] gracious unto him, and saith, a I confesse the power of God, and am one of his, therefore thou oughtest to heare me.

b Because Job had wished to dispute his cause with God Chap. 16: 21. so that he might, do it without fear, Elihu saith, he will reason in Gods stead, whom he needeth not to fear, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me, hold thy peace, and I will ſpeak.

Chap. XXXIIII.

1 Elihu accuſeth Job for charging God with injuſtice. 10 God ommipotent cannot be unjuſt. 31 Man muſt humble himſelf unto God. 34 Elihu reproveth Job.

FUrthermore Elihu anſwered aud ſaid,

2 Heare my wotds, O ye [a] wiſe men, and give eare unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 * For the eare trieth words, as the † mouth taſteth meat.

4 Let us [b] chooſe to us judgement: let us know among our ſelves what is good.

5 For Job hath ſaid, I am righteous: and God hath [c] taken away my judgement.

6 Should [d] I lie againſt my right? † my wound is incurable [e] without tranſgreſſion.

7 What man is like Job, who drinketh up [f] ſcorning like water?

8 Which goeth in [g] company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.

9 For he hath ſaid, [h] It profiteth a man nothing, that he ſhould [i] delight himſelf with God.

10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye † men of underſtanding: * farre be it from God, that he ſhould do wickedneſſe, and from the Almighty, that he ſhould commit iniquity.

11 * For the work of a man ſhall he render unto him, and cauſe every man to finde according to his wayes.

12 Yea, ſurely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgement.

13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath diſpoſed † the whole world?

14 * If he [k] ſet his heart † upon man, if he gather unto himſelf his [l] ſpirit and his breath;

15 * All fleſh ſhall perish together, and man ſhall turn again unto duſt.

16 If now thou haſt underſtanding, heare this: hearken to the voice of my words.

17 Shall even he that hateth right † [m] govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is moſt juſt?

18 Is it fit to ſay to a [n] king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?

19 How much leſſe to him that * accepteth not the perſons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poore? for they all are the work of his hands.

20 In a [o] moment ſhall they die, and the people ſhall be troubled at midnight, and paſſe away: and † the mighty ſhall be [p] taken away without hand.

21 * For his eyes are upon the wayes of man, and he ſeeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkneſſe, nor ſhadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themſelves.

23 For he will not lay upon man more than right; that he ſhould † [q] enter into judgement with God.

24 He ſhall [r] break in pieces mighty men † without number, and ſet others in their ſtead.

25 Therefore he knoweth their [s] works, and he overturneth them in the [t] night, ſo that they are † deſtroyed.

26 He ſtriketh them as wicked men † in the [u] open ſight of others:

27 Becauſe they turned back † from him, and would not conſider any of his wayes.

28 So that they cauſe the crie of the poore to [x] come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted.

29 When he giveth quietneſſe, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done againſt a nation, or againſt a man onely:

30 That the [y] hypocrite reigne not, leſt the people be enſnared.

31 Surely it is meet to be ſaid unto God, I have born chaſtiſement, I will [z] not offend any more.

32 That which I ſee not, [a] teach thou me; if I have done iniquity, I will do no more.

33 † [b] Should it be according to thy minde? he will recompenſe it, whether [c] thou refuſe, or whether thou chooſe, and not I: therefore ſpeak what thou knoweſt.

33 Let men † of underſtanding tell me, and let a wiſe man hearken unto me.

34 Job hath ſpoken without knowledge, and his words were without wiſdome.

36 ‡ My deſire is that Job may be [d] tried unto the end, becauſe of his anſwers for wicked men

37 For he [e] addeth rebellion unto his ſinne, he clappeth his hands amongſt us, and multiplieth his words againſt God.

‡ Or, my father, let Job be tried. d That he may ſpeake as much as he can, that we may anſwer him and all the wicked that ſhall uſe ſuch arguments. e He ſtandeth ſtubbornly in the maintenance of his cauſe.

Chap. XXXV.

1 Compariſon is not to be made with God, becauſe our good or evil cannot extend unto him. 9 Many cry in their afflictions, but are not heard for want of faith.

6 If thou ſinneſt, [d] what doeſt thou againſt him? or if thy tranſgreſſions be multiplied, what doeſt thou unto him?

e The wicked may hurt man, and cauſe him to cry, who if he ſought to God, which ſendeth comfort, ſhould be delivered.

10 But none ſaith, Where is God my maker, who giveth ſongs in the night?

Chap. XXXVI.

1 Elihu ſheweth how God is juſt in his wayes, 16 how Jobs ſinnes hinder Gods bleſsings. 24 Gods works are to be magnified.

E Lihu alſo proceeded, and ſaid,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will ſhew thee, † that I have yet to ſpeak on Gods behalf.

† Heb. that there are yet words for God.

3 I will [a] fetch my knowledge from afarre, and will aſcribe righteouſneſſe to my maker.

a He ſheweth that when we ſpeak of God, we muſt lift up our ſpirits more high, than our naturall ſenſe is able to reach.

4 For truly, my words ſhall not be falſe: he that is [b] perfect in knowledge is with thee.

b Thou ſhalt perceive that I am a faithfull inſtructor, and that I ſpeak to thee in the name of God.

5 Behold, God is mighty, and deſpiſeth not any: he is [c] mighty in ſtrength and † wiſdome.

c Strong and conſtant, and of underſtanding: for theſe are the gifts of God, and he loveth them in man: but foraſmuch as God puniſheth now Job, it is a ſigne that theſe are not in him.

† Heb. heart.

6 [d] He preſerveth not the life of the wicked: but, giveth right to the ‡ poore.

d Therefore he will not preſerve the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart he will ſhew grace.

‡ Or, afflicted.

7 * He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with [e] kings are they on the throne, yea, he doth eſtabliſh them for ever, and they are exalted.

* Pſal. 34: 15.

e He preferreth the godly to honour.

8 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction:

† He will move their hearts to feel their ſinnes, that they may come to him by repentance, as he did Manaſſeh.

9 Then he ſheweth them their [f] work, and their tranſgreſſions that they have exceeded.

* Chap. 21: 13.

10 He openeth alſo their eare to diſcipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.

11 If they obey and ſerve him, they ſhall * ſpend their dayes in proſperity, and their yeares in pleaſures.

12 But if they obey not, † they ſhall periſh by the ſword & they ſhal die [g] without knowledge.

† Heb. they ſhall paſſe away by the ſword.
g That is in their folly or obſtinacy, and ſo ſhall be cauſe of their own deſtruction.

13 But the hypocrites in [h] heart heap up wrath: they [i] crie not when he bindeth them.

h Which are maliciouſly bent againſt God, and flatter themſelves in their vices.
i When they are in affliction, they ſeek not to God for ſuccour, as Aſa 2 Chron. 16: 12. Revel. 16: 11.

14 † They die in [k] youth, and their life is among the ‡ unclean.

† Heb. their ſoul dieth.
k They die of ſome vile death, and that before they come to age.

15 He delivereth the ‡ poore in his affliction, and openeth their eares in oppreſſion.

‡ Or, Sodomites.

16 Even ſo would he have removed thee out of the ſtrait into a broad place, where there is no ſtraitneſſe, and † that which ſhould be ſet on thy [l] table, ſhould be full of fatneſſe.

‡ Or, afflicted.
† Heb. the reſt of thy table.

17 But thou haſt [m] fulfilled the judgement of the wicked: ‡ judgement and juſtice take hold on thee.

l If thou hadſt been obedient to God, he would have brought thee to libertie and wealth.
m Thou art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou doeſt murmure againſt the juſtice of God.

18 Becauſe there is wrath, [n] beware leſt he take thee away with his ſtroke: then a great ranſome cannot ‡ deliver thee.

‡ Or, judgement and juſtice ſhould uphold thee.

19 Will he eſteem thy riches? no not gold, nor all the forces of ſtrength.

n God doth puniſh thee, leſt thou ſhouldeſt forget God in thy wealth and ſo periſh.

20 Deſire not the [o] night, when people are cut off in their place.

† Heb. turn thee aſide.

21 Take heed, regard not [p] iniquitie: for this haſt thou choſen rather than affliction.

o Be not thou curious in ſeeking the cauſe of Gods judgements, when he deſtroyeth any.
p And ſo murmure againſt God through impatiencie.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?

23 Who hath enjoyned him his way? or who can ſay, Thou haſt wrought iniquitie?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his work, which men behold.

25 Every man may ſee it, man may behold it [q] afarre off.

q The works of God are ſo manifeſt, that a man may ſee them afar off, and know God by the ſame.

26 Behold, God is great, and we know him [r] not, neither can the number of his yeares be ſearched out.

r Our infirmity hindereth us ſo, that we cannot attain to the perfit knowledge of God.

27 For he maketh ſmall the drops of water: they poure down rain [s] according to the vapour thereof:

s That is, the raincometh of thoſe drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.

28 Which the clouds do drop, and diſtill upon man abundantly.

29 Alſo can any underſtand the ſpreadings of the clouds, or the noiſe of his [t] tabernacle?

t Meaning, of the clouds, which he calleth the tabernacle of God.

30 Behold, he ſpreadeth his light upon [u] it, and covereth † [x] the bottom of the ſea.

u Upon the cloud.
† Heb. the roots.
x That men cannot come to the knowledge of the ſpringe thereof.

31 For by them judgeth he the [y] people, he giveth meat in abundance.

y He ſheweth that the rain hath double uſe: the one, 32 With clouds he covereth the light; and commandeth it not to ſhine, by the cloud that cometh [z] betwixt.

that it declareth Gods judgements, when it doth overflow any places: and the other, that it maketh the land fruitfull. z That is, one cloud to dash againſt another.

33 The [a] noiſe thereof ſheweth concerning it, the cattel alſo concerning † the vapour.

a The cold vapour ſheweth him: that is, the cloud of the hot exhalation, which being taken in the cold cloud, mounteth up toward the place where the fire is, and ſo anger is ingendred, that is, noiſe and thunder-claps. † Heb. that which goeth up.

Chap. XXXVII.

1 God is to be feared becauſe of his great works. 15 His wiſdome is unſearchable in them.

A T [a] this alſo my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.

a At the marvelling of the thunder and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithfull are lively touched with the majeſty of God, when they behold his works.

2 † Heare attentively the [b] noiſe of his voice, and the ſound that goeth out of his mouth.

† Heb. heare in hearing.

3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his † lightning unto the † ends of the earth.

b That is, the thunder, whereby he ſpeaketh to men to weaken their dulneſſe, and to bring them to the conſideration of his works. † Heb. light. † Heb. wings of the earth.

4 After it a voice roareth: he thundreth with the voice of his excellency, and he will not stay [c] them when his voice is heard.

5 God thundreth marvellously with his voice, great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.

6 For * he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth, † likewise to the [d] small rain, and to the great rain of his strength.

7 He [e] sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.

8 Then the beasts go into dens, and remain in their places.

9 † Out of the south cometh the whirlwinde: and cold out of the [f] north.

10 By the breath of God, frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is [g] straitned.

11 Also by watering he [h] wearieth the thick cloud: he scattereth † [i] his bright cloud.

12 And it is turned round about by his counsels: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.

13 He causeth it to come, [k] whether for † correction, or for his land, or for mercy.

14 Heaken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Dost thou know when God disposed them, & caused the [l] light of his cloud to shine?

16 Dost thou know the [m] balancing of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 How thy garments are [n] warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south-winde?

18 Hast thou with him spread out the skie, which is strong, and as a molten [o] looking-glasse?

19 Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of [p] darknesse.

20 Shall it be [q] told him that I speak? if a man [r] speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.

21 And now men see not the [s] bright light which is in the clouds: but the winde passeth and cleanseth them.

22 [t] Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgement, and in plenty of justice: he will [u] not afflict.

24 Men do therefore fear him: he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

† Heb. the cloud of his light.

i That is, the cloud that hath lightning in it.

† Heb. a rod.

o For their cleanesse.

p That is, our ignorance: signifying that Job was so presumptuous, that he would controll the works of God.

q Hath God need that any should tell him, when man murmureth against him?

r Against Gods administrations.

s The cloud stoppeth the shining of the sun, that man cannot see it till the winde have chased away the cloud: and if man be not able to attain to the knowledge of these things, how much lesse of Gods judgements?

t In Hebrew, Gold: meaning, Faire weather and cleare as gold.

u Meaning, without cause.

Chap. XXXVIII.

1 God challengeth Iob to answer. 4 God, by his mighty works, convinceth Iob of ignorance, 31 and of imbecillity.

THen the Lord answered Job out of the [a] whirlwinde, and said,

2 Who is this that [b] darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?

5 Once have I ſpoken, but I will not anſwer: yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

6 ¶ Then anſwered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwinde, and ſaid,

Of Gods great power in the leviathan.

CAnſt thou draw out [a] leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord † which thou letteſt down?

2 Canſt thou put an hook into his noſe? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?

5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? wilt thou binde him for thy maidens?

6 Shall the companions make a banquet of him? ſhall they part him among the merchants?

7 Canſt thou fill his skin with barbed irons? or his head with fish-ſpears?

8 Lay thine hand upon him, remember the [d] battel, do no more.

9 Behold, the [e] hope of him is in vain: ſhall not one be caſt down, even at the ſight of him?

10 None is ſo fierce that dare ſtirre him up: who then is able to [f] ſtand before me?

11 Who hath [g] prevented me that I ſhould repay him? * whatſoever is under the whole heaven is mine.

12 I will not [h] conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

13 Who can diſcover the face of his [i] garment? or who can come to him ‡ with his double bridle?

19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and ſparks of fire leap out.

20 Out of his noſtrils goeth ſmoke, as out of a ſeething pot or caldron.

21 His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.

22 In his neck remaineth ſtrength, and † ſorrow is turned into [n] joy before him.

23 † The flakes of his fleſh are joyned together: they are firm in themſelves, they cannot be moved.

24 His heart is as firm as a ſtone, yea as hard as a piece of the nether milſtone.

25 When he raiſeth up himſelf, the mighty are afraid: by reaſon of breakings they purifie themſelves.

26 The ſword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the ſpear, the dart, nor the ‡ habergeon.

27 He eſteemeth iron as ſtraw, and braſſe as rotten wood.

28 The arrow cannot make him flee: ſling ſtones are turned with him into ſtubble.

29 Darts are counted as ſtubble: he laugheth at the ſhaking of a ſpear.

30 † Sharp ſtones [o] are under him: he ſpreadeth ſharp-pointed things upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to [p] boil like a pot: he maketh the ſea like a pot of ointment.

32 He maketh a path to [q] ſhine after him; one would think the deep to be hoarie.

33 Upon earth there is not his like: ‡ who is made without fear.

THE BOOK OF
* PSALMES.

* Or, praiſes according to the Hebrews: and were chiefly inſtituted to praiſe and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the pſalmes or ſongs of David, becauſe the moſt part were made by him.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis book of Pſalmes is ſet forth unto us by the holy Ghoſt, to be eſteemed as a moſt precious treaſure, wherein all things are contained that appertain to true felicitie, aſwell in this life preſent, as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge and heavenly wiſdome are ſet open for us, to take thereof moſt abundantly. If we would know the great and high Majeſtie of God, here We may ſee the brightneſſe thereof ſhine moſt cleerely. If we would ſeek his incomprehenſible wiſdome, here is the ſchoole of the ſame profeſſion. If we would comprehend his ineſtimable bounty, and approach neare thereunto, and fill our hands with that treaſure, here we may have a moſt lively and moſt comfortable taſte thereof. If we would know wherein ſtandeth our ſalvation, and how to attain to life everlaſting, here is Chriſt our only Redeemer, and Mediatour moſt evidently deſcribed. The rich man may learn the true uſe of riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will rejoyce, ſhall know the true joy, and how to keep meaſure therein. They that are afflicted and oppreſſed, ſhall ſee wherein ſtandeth their comfort, and how they ought to praiſe God when he ſendeth them deliverance. The wicked and the perſecuters of the children of God ſhall ſee how the hand of God is ever againſt them, and though he ſuffer them to proſper for a while, yet he bridleth them, inſomuch as they cannot touch an hair of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their deſtruction is moſt miſerable. Briefly here we may have preſent remedies againſt all tentations, and troubles of minde and conſcience, ſo that, being well practiſed herein, we may be aſſured againſt all dangers in this life, live in the true feare and love of God, and at length attain to that incorruptible crown of glory, which is laid up for all them that love the coming of our Lord JESUS CHRIST.

PSAL. I.

1 The happineſſe of the godly. 4 The unhappineſſe of the ungodly.

BLeſſed * is the man that walketh not in the [a] counſel of the ‡ ungodly, nor ſtandeth in the way of ſinners, nor ſitteth in the ſeat of the ſcornfull.

1 Day. Morning prayer.
* Proverb. 4: 14.
a When a man hath once given place to evil counſel, or to his own concupiſcenſe, he beginneth to forget himſelf in his ſinne, and ſo falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the ſeat of the ſcorners.
‡ Or, wicked.

2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD, * and in his [b] law doth he meditate day and night.

* Joſh. 1: 8. Pſal. 119: 1.

* Jer. 17: 8.
† Heb. fade.
c Gods children are ſo moiſtened ever with his grace, that whatſoever cometh unto them tendeth to their ſalvation.

4 [d] The ungodly are not ſo: but are * like the chaff which the winde driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly shall not [e] stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the LORD [f] knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

e But tremble when they feel Gods wrath.

f Doth approve and prosper, like as not to know is to reprove and reject.

1 The kingdome of Christ. 10 Kings are exhorted to accept it.

WHy * do the [a] heathen ‡ rage, and the people † imagine a vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,

4 * He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 [c] Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and ‡ vex them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet have I † set my king † upon my holy hill of Sion.

7 I will declare ‡ the [d] decree: the LORD hath said unto me, * Thou art my sonne, [e] this day have I begotten thee.

8 * Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost [f] parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 * Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron, thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potters vessel.

10 [g] Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed ye judges of the earth.

11 Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoyce with trembling.

12 [h] Kisse the sonne lest he be angry, and ye [i] perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little: * blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

3 When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

† Heb. my enemies against the soul.

h For their crueltie cannot be satisfied but with my death.

10 They are inclosed in their own i fat: with their mouth they speak proudly.

i They are puft up with pride, as the stomack that is choked with fat.

11 They have now compassed us in our steps: they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth:

12 † Like as a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion † lurking in secret places.

† Heb. the likenesse of him (that is, of every one of them) is as a lion that desireth to ravin.

† Heb. sitting.

13 Arise, O Lord, † k disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, ‡ which is thy sword:

† Heb. prevent his face.

k Stop his rage

‡ Or, by thy sword.

14 ‖ From men which are thy hand, O Lord, from men of the world, which have their m portion in this life, and whose belly thou fillest with thy hid treasure: ‡ they are full of children, and leave the rest of their substance to their babes.

‖ Meaning, by thine heavenly power.

m And feel not the smart that Gods children oft times do.

‡ Or, from men by thine hand.

15 As for me, I will behold thy n face in righteousnesse: I shall be satisfied, when I o awake, with thy likenesse.

‡ Or, their children are full.

n This the full felicitie, comforting against all assaults, to have the face of God, and his favourable countenance opened unto us.

o And am delivered out of my great troubles.

Psal. XVIII.

David praiseth God for his manifold and marvellous blessings.

111 Day. Evening prayer.

To the chief musician, A psalme of David, the servant of the Lord, who spake unto the Lord the words of * this song in the day that the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: And he said.

* 2 Sam. 22.

I Will love thee, O Lord my strength.

2 a The Lord is my rock, and my fortresse, and my deliverer: my God, † my strength in whom I will trust, my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

a He useth this diversitie of names to shew that as the wicked have many means to hurt, so God hath many wayes to help.

† Heb. my rock.

3 I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be b praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

b For none can obtain their requests of God, that joyn not his glory with their petition.

4 * The c sorrows of death compassed me, and the flouds of † ungodly men made me afraid.

* Psal. 116: 3.

c He speaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies, from the which God had delivered him.

5 The ‡ sorows of hell compassed me about: the snares of death prevented me.

† Heb. Belial.

‡ Or, cords.

6 In my distresse I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his eares.

7 d Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was wroth, d A description of the wrath of God against his enemies, after he had heard his prayers.

8 There went up a smoke † out of his nostrils, and e fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

† Heb. by his.

e He sheweth how horrible Gods judgements shall be to the wicked.

9 He bowed the heavens also and came down: and f darknesse was under his feet.

f Darknesse signifieth the wrath of God, as the clear light signifieth Gods favour.

10 And he rode upon a g cherub, and did flie: yea, he did flie upon the wings of the winde.

g This is described at large, Psal. 104.

11 He made darknesse his h secret place: his pavilion round about him, were dark waters, and thick clouds of the skies.

h As a king angrie with the people, will not shew himself unto them.

12 At the brightnesse that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail-stones, and coals of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heavens, and the highest gave i his voice; hail-stones and coals of fire.

i Thundred, lightned, and hailed.

14 Yea, he sent out his k arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them.

k His lightnings.

15 Then the chanels of waters were seen, and the ‖ foundations of the world were discovered: at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

‖ That is, the deep bottomes were seen when the red sea was divided.

16 He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of ‡ m many waters.

‡ Or great waters.

17 He delivered me from my n strong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were o too strong for me.

m Out of sundry and great dangers.

n To wit, Saul.

o Therefore God sent me succour.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity; but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: p he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

p The cause of Gods deliverance is his only favour and love to us.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to q my righteousnesse, according to the cleannesse of my hands hath he recompensed me.

q David was sure of his righteous cause and good behaviour toward Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of Gods favour and deliverance.

21 For I have kept the wayes of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For

22 For all his judgements were before me, and I [r] did not put away his statutes from me.

23 I was also upright † before him: and I kept my self from [f] mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousnesse, according to the cleannesse of my hands † in his eye-sight.

25 [t] With the merciful thou wilt shew thy self mercifull, with an upright man thou wilt shew thy self upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thy self pure, and with the froward thou wilt [‡] shew thy self froward.

27 For thou wilt save the afflicted people: [u] but wilt bring down high looks.

28 For thou wilt light my [‡] candle: the LORD my God will enlighten my darknesse.

29 For by [x] thee I have † runne through a troup: and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: * the [y] word of the LORD is † tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.

31 * For who is God save the LORD? or who is a rock save our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my [z] way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hindes feet, and setteth me upon my [a] high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to warre, so that a bow of steel is broken by mine arms.

35 Thou hast also given me the [b] shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up: and † [c] thy gentlenesse hath made me great.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, that † my feet did not slip.

37 [d] I have pursued mine enemies, and over-taken them: neither did I turn again till they were consumed.

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to rise: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto battel: thou hast † subdued under me those that rose up against me.

40 Thou hast also given me the [e] necks of mine enemies: that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 [f] They cried, but there was none to save them: even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the winde: I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people: and thou hast made me the head of the [g] heathen: a people whom I have [h] not known shall serve me.

44 † Assoon as they heare of me, they shall obey me: the strangers shall † [i] submit themselves unto me.

45 The strangers shall [k] fade away, and be afraid out of their close places.

46 The LORD liveth, and blessed be my rock: and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

47 It is God that † avengeth me, and ‡ subdueth the people under me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea, thou liftest me up above those that rise up against me: thou hast delivered me from the † [l] violent man.

49 Therefore will I † [m] give thanks unto thee (O LORD) among the heathen: and sing praises unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king: and sheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his [n] seed for evermore.

PSAL. XIX.

1 The creatures shew Gods glory, 7 the word his grace. 12 David prayeth for grace.

To the chief musician, A psalme of David.

1 THe * [a] heavens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handie-work.

2 [b] Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor [c] language † where their voice is not heard.

4 * † Their [d] line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his [e] chamber, and rejoyceth as a strong man to run a race.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The † [f] law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.

8 The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoycing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightning the eyes.

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgements of the LORD are † [g] true and righteous [h] altogether.

10 More to be [i] desired are they than gold, * yea, than much fine gold: * sweeter also than honey, and † the honey-combe.

11 Moreover, by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great [k] reward.

12 Who can understand his [l] errours? cleanse thou me from secret faults.

13 Keep back thy servant also from [m] presumptuous sinnes, let them not have dominion over me: [n] then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from ‡ the great transgression.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the [o] meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD † my strength and my redeemer.

To the chief musician, A psalme of David.

THE king shall [a] joy in thy strength, O LORD, and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoyce!
2 Thou hast given him his hearts desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips. Selah.
3 For thou [b] preventest him with the blessings of goodnesse: thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head.
4 [c] He asked life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of dayes for ever and ever.
5 His glory is great in thy salvation, honour and majestie hast thou laid upon him.

17 I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me.

2 * Examine me, O LORD, and prove me; try my [b] reins and my heart.

3 For thy [c] loving kindnesse is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.

4 * I have not sat with [d] vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers.

5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers: and will not sit with the wicked.

6 I will [e] wash mine hands in innocencie: so will I compasse thine altar, O LORD.

7 That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wonderous works.

A psalme of David.

THe LORD is * my [a] light, and my salvation, whom shall I fear? * the LORD is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes † came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 * Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though warre should rise against me, in [b] this wil I be confident.

4 [c] One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after, that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the dayes of my life, to behold ‡ the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me, he shall set me up upon a rock.

6 [d] And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices † of joy, I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.

7 Heare, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

8 ‡ When thou saidst, [e] Seek ye my face, my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek.

9 Hide not thy face farre from me, put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

10 [f] When my father and my mother forsake me, then the LORD † will take me up.

11 * Teach me thy way, O LORD, and lead me in † a plain path, because of † mine enemies.

12 Deliver me not over unto the [g] will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breath out crueltie.

4 [d] Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickednesse of their endeavours: give them after the work of their hands, render to them their desert.

5 Because they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he shall [e] destroy them, and nor build them up.

6 [f] Blessed be the LORD, because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.

7 The LORD is my strength, and my shield, my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoyceth, and with my song will I praise him.

I WILL extoll thee, O LORD, for thou [b] hast lifted me up: and hast not made my foes to rejoyce over me.

2 O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast [c] healed me.

3 O LORD thou hast brought up my soul from the [d] grave: thou hast kept me alive that I should not go down to the pit.

PSAL. XXXIIII.

1 David praiseth God, and exhorteth others thereto by his experience. 8 They are blessed that trust in God. 11 He exhorteth to the fear of God. 14 The privileges of the righteous.

A psalme of David, when he changed his behaviour before † Abimelech: who drove him away, and he departed.

IWill blesse the LORD at [a] all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the [b] humble shall heare thereof, and be glad.

3 O magnifie the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my [c] fears.

5 They [d] looked unto him, and ‡ were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 This poore man cried, and the Lord heard him; and saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The [e] angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

8 O tast and see that the LORD is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 O fear the LORD, ye his saints, for there is no want to them that fear him.

† Or, Achish, 1 Sam. 21: 11.
a He promiseth never to become unmindefull of Gods great benefit for his deliverance.
b They that are beaten down with the experience of their own evils.
c Which I conceived for the dangers wherein I was.
d They shall be bold to flee to thee for succour, when they shall see they mercies toward me.
‡ Or, they flowed unto him.
e Though Gods power be sufficient to govern us, yet for mans infirmitie he appointeth his angels to watch over us.

10 [f] The 10 [f] The young lions do lack, and ſuffer hunger: but they that ſeek the LORD ſhall not [g] want any good thing.

11 Come ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the [h] fear of the LORD.

12 * What man is he that deſireth life, and loveth many dayes, that he may [i] ſee good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from ſpeaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good: ſeek peace and purſue it.

15 * The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his eares are open unto their crie.

16 The [k] face of the LORD is againſt them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous crie, and the LORD heareth; and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The LORD is nigh † unto them that are of a [l] broken heart: and ſaveth ſuch as be † of a contrite ſpirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

20 [m] He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 Evil ſhall ſlay the [n] wicked: and they that hate the righteous ‡ ſhall be deſolate.

22 The LORD [o] redeemeth the ſoul of his ſervants: and none of them that truſt in him ſhall be deſolate.

1 David prayeth for his own ſafetie, and his enemies confuſion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongfull dealing. 22 Thereby he inciteth God againſt them.

VII Day. Morning prayer.

A Pſalme of David.

PLead my [a] cauſe (O LORD) with them that ſtrive with me: fight againſt them that fight againſt me.

2 [b] Take hold of ſhield and buckler, and ſtand up for mine help.

3 Draw out alſo the ſpear, and ſtop the way againſt them that perſecute me: ſay unto my [c] ſoul, I am thy ſalvation.

4 * Let them be confounded and put to ſhame that ſeek after my ſoul: let them be turned back and brought to confuſion that deviſe my hurt.

5 * Let them be as chaff before the winde and let the angel of the [d] LORD chaſe them.

6 Let their way be † dark and ſlipperie, and let the angel of the LORD perſecute them.

7 For [e] without cauſe have they hid for me their net, in a pit, which without cauſe they have digged for my ſoul.

8 Let deſtruction come upon [f] him † at unawares, and let his net that he hath hid, catch himſelf: into that [g] very deſtruction let him fall.

9 And my ſoul ſhall be joyfull in the Lord: it ſhall rejoyce in his ſalvttion.

10 All my bones ſhall ſay, [h] Lord, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poore from him that is too ſtrong for him; yea, the poore and the needy, from him that ſpoileth him?

11 [i] † Falſe witneſſes did riſe up; † they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me evil for good, to the † [k] ſpoiling of my ſoul.

13 But as for me, when they were ſick, my clothing was ſackcloth: I ‡ humbled my ſoul with faſting, and my [l] prayer returned into mine own boſome.

14 I † behaved my ſelf † as though he had been my friend, or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine † [m] adverſitie they rejoyced, and gathered themſelves together: yea, the abjects gathered themſelves together againſt me, and I knew it not, they did [n] tear me, and ceaſed not.

16 With hypocritall mockers in [o] feaſts: they gnaſhed upon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on? reſcue my ſoul from their deſtructions, † my darling from the lions.

18 * I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praiſe thee among † much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies † wrongfully, rejoyce over me: neither let them [p] wink with the eye, that hate me without a cauſe.

20 For they ſpeak not peace, but they deviſe deceitfull matters againſt them that are ‡ quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide againſt me, and ſaid, Aha, aha, our [q] eye hath ſeen it.

22 This thou haſt ſeen (O LORD) keep not ſilence: O Lord, be not farre from me.

23 Stirre up thy ſelf, and awake to my judgement, even unto my cauſe, my God & my Lord.

24 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy [r] righteouſneſſe, and let them not rejoyce over me.

25 Let them not ſay in their hearts, † Ah, [f] ſo would we have it: let them not ſay, We have ſwallowed him up.

26 Let them be aſhamed and brought to confuſion [t] together, that rejoyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with [u] ſhame and diſhonour, that magnifie themſelves againſt me.

27 Let them ſhout for joy, and be glad, that favour † [x] my righteous cauſe: yea, let them ſay continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleaſure in the [y] proſperity of his ſervant.

28 And my tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy righteouſneſſe, and of thy praiſe all the day long.

* Prov. 23: 17. and 24: 1. a He admonisheth us neither to vex our selves for the prosperous estate of the wicked neither to desire to be like them to make our state the better.

David perswadeth to patience, and confidence in God, by the different estate of the godly and the wicked.

A psalme of David.

FRet * not [a] thy self because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquitie.

2 For they shall soon be [b] cut down like the grasse, and wither as the green herb.

3 [c] Trust in the Lord, and do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land, and † verily thou shalt be fed.

4 Delight thy self also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

5 [d] †* Commit thy way unto the Lord: trust also in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousnesse as the light, and thy [e] judgement as the noon-day.

7 † Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: fret not thy self because of him who [f] prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thy self in [g] any wise to do evil.

9 For evil-doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth.

10 [h] For yet a little while and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.

11 * But the meek shall inherit the earth: and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. * Matt. 5: 5.

12 [i] The wicked ‡ plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.

13 * The Lord shall laugh at him, for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow to cast down the poore and needy, and to slay † such as be of upright conversation.

15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16 [k] A little that a righteous man hath, is better than the riches of many wicked.

17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord upholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord [l] knoweth the dayes of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.

19 They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: and in the dayes of famine they shall [m] be satisfied.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be as † the [n] fat of lambes, they shall consume: into smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy and [o] giveth.

22 For such as be blessed of him, shall inherit the earth; and they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.

23 [p] The steps of a good man are ‡ ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

24 Though he [q] fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young and now am old: yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his [r] seed begging bread.

26 He is † ever mercifull, and lendeth: and his seed is blessed.

27 Depart from evil, and do good: and dwell for evermore.

28 For the Lord loveth judgement, and forsaketh not his saints, they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein [f] for ever.

30 The [t] mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdome; and his tongue talketh of judgement.

31 The law of his God is in his heart, none of his ‡ steps shall slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 The Lord will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is [u] judged.

34 Wait on the Lord, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

35 I have seen the wicked in great power:

and i The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not prevail against them, but fall on their own necks, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewail their sinnes, and offer up their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience, ‡ Or, practiseth.

† Heb. the upright of way.
k For they are daily fed, as with Manna from heaven, and have sufficient, when the wicked have never enough, but ever hunger.

m For God will give them contented mindes, and that which shall be necessary.
† Heb. the preciousnesse of lambes.
n They shall vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for the day of slaughter.
o God so furnisheth him with his blessing, that he is able to help others.
p God prospereth the faithfull, because they walk in his wayes with an upright conscience.
‡ Or, established.
q When God doth exercise his faith with divers tentations.
r Though the just man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posterity, and though God suffer some just man to lack temporall benefits, yet he recompenseth him with spirituall treasures.
† Heb. all the day.
s They shall continually be preserved under Gods wings, and have at least inward rest.
t These three points are required of the faithfull, that their talk be godly, that Gods law be in their heart, and that their life be upright.
† Or, goings.
u For though it be sometime so expedient, both for Gods glory and their salvation yet he will approve their cause, and revenge their wrong.

and ſpreading himſelf like ‡ a green bay-tree.

36 Yet he [x] paſſed away, and lo he was not: yea, I ſought him, but he could not be found.

37 [y] Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the tranſgreſſours ſhall be deſtroyed together, the end of the wicked ſhal be cut off.

39 But the [z] ſalvation of the righteous is of the LORD, he is their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 And the Lord ſhall help them, and deliver them: he ſhall deliver them from the wicked, and ſave them becauſe they truſt in him.

‡ Or, a green tree that groweth in his own ſoil.

x So that the proſperity of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vaniſheth away in a moment.

y He exhorteth the faithfull to mark diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and alſo of his judgements.

z He sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is never in vaine, but in the end hath good ſucceſſe, though for a time God prove them by ſundry tentations.

David care of his thoughts. 4 The conſideration of the brevity and vanity of life. 7 The reverence of Gods judgements, 10 and prayer, are his bridles of impatience.

1 The benefit of confidence in God. 6 Obedience is the beſt ſacrifice. 11 The ſenſe of Davids evils inflameth his prayer.

4 Bleſſed is that man that maketh the LORD his truſt: and [d] reſpecteth not the proud, nor ſuch as turn aſide to lies.

5 [e] Many, O LORD my God, are thy wonderfull works which thou haſt done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: ‡ they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and ſpeak of them, they are mo than can be numbred.

7 [g] Then ſaid I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me:

9 I have preached righteouſneſſe in the [h] great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O LORD, thou knoweſt.

10 I have not hid thy righteouſneſſe within my heart, I have declared thy [i] faithfulneſſe and thy ſalvation: I have not concealed thy loving-kindneſſe, and thy truth, from the great congregation.

11 Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O LORD: let thy loving-kindneſſe and thy truth continually preſerve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compaſſed me about, mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, ſo that I am not able to look up: they are mo than the hairs of mine head, therefore my heart † [k] faileth me.

13 Be pleaſed, O Lord, to deliver me: O Lord, make haſte to help me.

16 Let all thoſe that ſeek thee, rejoyce and be glad in thee: let ſuch as love thy ſalvation, ſay continually, [n] The Lord be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy, yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help, and my deliverer, make no tarrying, O my God.

d To follow their example which he muſt needs do, that truſteth not only in the Lord.

PSAL. XLII.

1 Davids zeal to ſerve God in the temple. 5 He encourageth his ſoul to truſt in God.

To the chief muſician ‡ Maſchil, [a] for the ſonnes of Korah.

AS the hart † panteth after the water brooks, ſo [b] panteth my ſoul after thee, O God.

4 When I remember [d] theſe things, I poure out my ſoul in me; for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the houſe of God; with the voice of joy and praiſe, with a multitude that kept holy-day.

5 Why art thou † caſt down, O my ſoul, and why art thou diſquieted in me? [e] hope thou in God, for I ſhall yet ‡ praiſe him ‡ for the help of his countenance.

IX Day. Morning prayer.

1 The church in memory of former favours, 7 complaineth of her preſent evils. 17 Profeſſing her integrity, 24 ſhe fervently prayeth for ſuccour.

To the chief muſician for the ſonnes of Korah, Maſchil.

WE have heard with our [a] eares, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didſt in their dayes, in the times of old.

2 How thou didſt drive out the [b] heathen with thy hand, and plantedſt [c] them; how thou didſt afflict the [d] people, and caſt them out.

3 For [e] they got not the land in poſſeſſion by their own ſword, neither did their own arm ſave them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, becauſe thou hadſt a [f] favour unto them.

4 Thou art my king, O God, command deliverances for [g] Jacob.

5 [h] Through thee will we puſh down our enemies: through thy name will we tread them under that riſe up againſt us.

6 For I will not truſt in my bow, neither ſhall my ſword ſave me.

7 But thou haſt ſaved us from our enemies, and haſt put them to ſhame that hated us.

8 In God we boaſt all the day long: and praiſe thy name for ever. Selah.

9 But thou haſt caſt off, and put us to [i] ſhame; and goeſt not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makeſt us to turn back from the enemie: and they which hate us ſpoil for themſelves.

a This Pſalme ſeemeth to have been made by ſome excellent Prophet for the uſe of the people, when the church was in extreame miſery, either at their return from Babylon, or under Antiochus, or in ſuch like affliction.

f Gods free mercie and love is the onely fountain and beginning of the church. Deut. 4: 37.
g Becauſe thou art our King, therefore deliver thy people from their miſerie.
h Becauſe they and their forefathers made both one church, they apply that to themſelves, which before they did attribute to their fathers.
i As they confeſſed before, that their ſtrength came of God, ſo now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his juſt judgement.

11 Thou haſt given us † [k] like ſheep appointed for meat: and haſt ſcattered us among the heathen.

12 Thou ſelleſt thy people † [l] for nought, and doſt not increaſe thy wealth by their price.

13 * Thou makeſt us a reproach to our neighbours, a ſcorn and a deriſion to them that are round about us.

14 * Thou makeſt us a by-word among the heathen: a ſhaking of the head among the people.

15 [m] My confuſion is continually before me, and the ſhame of my face hath covered me.

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blaſphemeth: by reaſon of the enemie and [n] avenger.

17 All this is come upon us: yet have we not [o] forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falſely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back: neither have our ‡ ſteps declined from thy way.

19 Though thou haſt ſore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the ſhadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or ſtretched out our hands to a [p] ſtrange god:

21 Shall not God [q] ſearch this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.

22 * Yea, for [r] thy ſake are we killed all the day long: we are counted as ſheep for the ſlaughter.

23 Awake, why ſleepeſt thou, O Lord? ariſe, caſt us not off for ever.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? and forgetteſt our affliction, and our oppreſſion?

25 For our ſoul is [s] bowed down to the duſt: our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

26 Ariſe † for our help, and redeem us for thy [t] mercies ſake.

† Heb. as sheep of meat.

n Meaning, the proud and cruell tyrant.
o They boaſt not of their vertues, but declare they reſt upon God in the mids of their afflictions: who puniſhed not now their ſinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the conſideration of heavenly joyes.
‡ Or, goings.
p They ſhew that they honoured God aright, becauſe they truſted in him alone.
q They take God to witneſſe, that they were uptight to himward.
* Rom. 8 36.
r The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked puniſh them not for their ſinnes, but for Gods cauſe, Matth. 5: 10. 1 Petr. 4: 14.

To the chief musician ‡ [a] Al-taschith, Michtam of David, * when he fled from Saul in the cave.

BE mercifull unto me, O God, be mercifull unto me, for my soul trusteth in thee: yea in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, untill these [b] calamities be overpast.

2 I will cry unto God most high: unto God that [c] performeth all things for me.

3 He shall send from [d] heaven and save me † from the reproach of him that would swallow me up; Selah. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.

4 My soul is among lions, and I lie even among them that are set on fire: even the sonnes of men, whose [e] teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

5 [f] Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

6 * They have prepared a net for my steps, [g] my soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midst whereof they are fallen themselves. Selah.

7 * My heart is † [h] fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.

8 Awake up my [i] glory, awake psaltery and harp: I my self will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations.

PSAL. LVIII.

1 David reproveth wicked judges, 3 describeth the nature of the wicked, 6 devoteth them to Gods judgements. 10 whereat the righteous shall rejoyce.

To the chief musician ‡ Al-taschith, Michtam of David.

DO ye indeed speak righteousnesse, O [a] congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye sonnes of men?

2 Yea, in heart you work wickednesse, you weigh the violence of your [b] hands in the earth.

3 The wicked are [c] estranged from the wombe, they go astray, † assoon as they be born, speaking lies.

4 Their poison is † like the poison of a serpent; they are like the deaf ‡ [d] adder that stoppeth her eare:

7 Let them [f] melt away as waters, which run continually: when he bendeth his bow to shoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces.

8 As a snail which melteth, let every one of them passe away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not see the sunne.

9 [g] Before your pots can feel the thorns, he shall take them away as with a whirlwinde, † both living, and in his wrath.

10 The righteous shall [h] rejoyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the [i] bloud of the wicked.

XI Day. Evening prayer.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies. 6 He complaineth of their cruelty. 8 He trusteth in God. 11 He prayeth against them. 16 He praiseth God.

‡ To the chief musician Al-taschith, [a] Michtam of David: * when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

DEliver me from mine enemies, [a] O my God: † defend me from them that rise up against me.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquitie, and save me from bloudy men.

3 For lo, they lie in wait for my soul; the mighty are gathered against me; not for my transgression, nor for my sinne, O LORD.

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault: awake † to help me, and behold.

5 Thou therefore, O Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen: be [d] not mercifull to any wicked transgressours. Selah.

6 They return at evening: they make a noise like [e] a dog, and go round about the city.

7 Behold, they [f] belch out with their mouth: swords are in their lips; for * who, say they, doth heare?

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt laugh at them; thou shalt have all the heathen in derision.

9 [g] Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is † my defence.

10 The God of my mercy shall [h] prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon † mine enemies.

11 Slay them [i] not, lest my people forget: scatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O Lord our shield.

12 For the sinne of their mouth, and the words of their lips, let them even be [k] taken in their pride: and for cursing and lying which they speak.

13 [l] Consume them in wrath, consume them by little and little, that the people seeing oftentimes thy judgements may be mindfull of thee.

15 Let them wander up and down † for meat, ‡ and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 But I will sing of thy [n] power; yea I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble:

17 Unto thee, O my [o] strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

2 Thou hast made the earth to [d] tremble; thou hast broken it: heal the breaches thereof, for it shaketh.

4 Thou hast given a [f] banner to them that fear thee: that it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah.

5 * That thy beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and heare me.

7 God shall bless us, and all the ends of the earth [e] shall fear him.

Psal. LXVIII.

1 A prayer at the removing of the ark. 4 An exhortation to praise God for his mercies, 7 for his care of the church, 19 for his great works.

To the chief musician, A psalme or song of David.

LEt * God [a] arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him, flee † before him.

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 [b] But let the righteous be glad, let them rejoyce before God, yea let them † exceedingly rejoyce.

4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his name: extoll him that rideth upon the heavens by his name [c] JAH, and rejoyce before him.

5 A father of the fatherlesse, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

6 God setteth the [d] solitary † in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains, but the rebellious dwell in [e] a drie land.

7 [f] O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people; when thou didst march through the wildernesse. Selah.

8 The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even Sinai it self was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel

9 Thou, O God, didst † send a plentifull rain, whereby thou didst † confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, hast prepared of thy [g] goodnesse for the poore.

11 The Lord gave the word, great was the † company of those that [h] published it.

12 Kings of armies † did flee apace: and she that tarried at home, divided the spoil.

13 Though ye have lien among the [k] pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered kings ‡ [l] in it, it was white as snow in Salmon.

15 The [m] hill of God is as the hill of Bashan, an high hill as the hill of Bashan.

16 [n] Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in, yea the LORD will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, † even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them as in Sinai, in the holy place.

18 Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast [o] led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts † for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell among them.

19 Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. Sel.

20 He that is our God, is the God of salvation; and unto GOD the Lord belong the [p] issues from death.

21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairy scalp of such a one as goeth on still in his trespasses.

22 The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the [q] depths of the sea:

23 That thy foot may be ‡ dipped in the bloud of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the [r] same.

24 They have seen thy [f] goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my king, in the sanctuary.

25 The [t] singers went before, the players on instruments followed after; amongst them were the damsels playing with timbrels.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 David complaineth of his affliction. 13 He prayeth for deliverance. 22 He devoteth his enemies to destruction. 30 He praiseth God with thanksgiving.

To the chief musician upon [a] Shoshannim, A psalme of David.

SAve me, O God, for the [b] waters are come in unto my soul.

2 I sink in † deep mire, where there is no [c] standing I am come into † deep waters, where the flouds overflow me.

3 I am weary of my crying, my throat is dried: mine [d] eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are mo than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me being mine enemies [e] wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took [f] not away.

5 O God, thou knowest my [g] foolishnesse; and my † sinnes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord GOD of hosts, be ashamed [g] for my sake: let not those that seek thee, be confounded for my sake, O God of Israel.

7 Because for thy sake I have born reproach; shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mothers children.

9 * [i] For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up; * and the reproaches of them that reproached thee, are fallen upon me.

10 When I [k] wept, and chastened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made sackcloth also my garment: and I became a proverb to them.

XIII Day. Evening prayer.

a Of Shoshannim, read Psal. 45.
b David signifieth by the waters, in what great dangers he was, out of which God did deliver him.
† Heb. the mire of depth.
c No firmnesse or stablenesse to settle my feet.
† Heb. depth of waters.
d Though his senses failed him, yet his faith was constant, and incouraged him still to prayer.
e Condeming me guiltlesse.
f They judged me poore innocent as a thief, and gave my goods to others, as though I had stoln them.
g Though I be guilty to theeward, yet am I innocent toward them.
† Heb. guiltinesse.
h Let not mine evil intreatie of the enemies be an occasion that the faithfull fall from thee.

* John 2: 17.
i When I saw thine enemies pretend thy name only in mouth, and in their life deny the same, thine holy spirit thrust me forward to reprove them, and defend thy glory.
* Rom. 15: 3.
k My zeal moved me to lament and pray for my salvation.

12 They that [l] sit in the gate, speak against me; and I was the song of the † drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD, in an [m] acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercie heare me, in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the [n] deep waters.

15 Let not the water-floud overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Heare me, O LORD, for thy loving kindnesse is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And [o] hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: † heare me speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine [p] adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heavinesse: and I [q] looked for some † to take pitie, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also gall for my meat, * and in my thirst they gave me vineger to drink.

22 Let their [r] table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not; and make their [s] loyns continually to shake.

24 Poure out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathfull anger take hold of them.

25 Let † their [t] habitation be desolate, and † let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten: and they talk to the grief of † those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Adde ‡ iniquity to their [u] iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousnesse.

28 Let them be blotted out of the [x] book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poore, and sorrowfull: let thy salvation (O God) set me up on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnifie him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the LORD [y] better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The ‡ humble shall see this, and be glad: and your heart shall live that seek God.

33 For the LORD heareth the poore, and despiseth not his [z] prisoners.

34 Let the heaven and earth praise him: the seas, and every thing that † moveth therein.

35 For God will save Sion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.

36 [a] The seed also of his servants shall inherit it: and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

l The more he sought to winne them to God, the more they were against him, both poore and rich.
m Knowing that albeit I suffer now trouble, yet thou hast a time wherein thou hast appointed my deliverance.
n He sheweth a lively faith, in that he assured himself, that God is favourable to him, when he seemeth to be angrie: and at hand, when he seemeth to be farre off.
o Not that he feared that God would not heare him, but that care made him to think that God deferred long.
† Heb. make haste to heare me.
p Thou seest that I am beset as a sheep among many wolves.
q He sheweth that it is in vain to put our trust in men in our great necessities: but that our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaseth our sorrows, than diminisheth them. John 15: 20.
† Heb. to lament with me.
* Matth. 27: 48. Mark 15: 23. John 19: 29.
r He desireth God to execute his judgements against the reprobate which cannot by any means be turned, Rom. 11: 9.
s Take both judgement and power from them.
† Heb. their place.
t Punish not only them, but their posteritie, which shall be like unto them † Heb. let there not be a dweller.
† Heb. thy wounded.
‡ Or, punishment of iniquity.
u By their continuance and increasing in their sins, let it be known that they be of the reprobate.
x They which seemed by their profession to have been written in thy book, yet by their fruits prove the contrarie, let them be known as reprobates.
y There is no sacrifice, which God more esteemeth, than thanksgiving for his benefits.
‡ Or, meek.
z For as he delivered his servant David, so will he do all that are in distresse, and call upon him.
† Heb. creepeth.
a Under the temporall promise of the land of Canaan, he comprehendeth the promise of life everlasting to the faithfull and their posteritie.

Psal. LXX.

David ſoliciteth God to the ſpeedy deſtruction of the wicked, and preſervation of the godly.

To the chief muſician, A pſalme of David to bring to a remembrance.

MAke [b] haſte * O God, to deliver me; make haſte † to help me, O Lord.

2 * Let them be aſhamed and [c] confounded that ſeek after my ſoul: let them be turned backward, and put to confuſion, that deſire my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their [d] ſhame, that ſay, Aha, aha.

4 Let all thoſe that ſeek thee, rejoyce, and be glad in thee: and let ſuch as love thy ſalvation ſay continually, Let God be magnified.

5 But I am [c] poore and needy, make haſte unto me, O God thou art my help and my deliver, O Lord, make no tarrying.

a Which might put him in remembrance of his deliverance.
b He teacheth us to be earneſt in prayer, though God ſeem to ſtay: for at his time, he will heare us.
* Pſal. 40: 13, &c.
† Heb. to my help.
* Pſal. 35: 4, and 71: 13.
c He was aſſured that the more they raged, the nearer they were to deſtruction, and he the neareſt to his deliverance.
d Hereby we are taught not to mock at others in their miſerie, leſt the ſame fall on our own necks.
e Becauſe he had felt Gods help before, he groundeth on experience, and boldly ſeeketh unto him for ſuccour.

Psal. LXXI.

XIV Day. Morning prayer.

1 David in confidence of faith and experience of Gods favour, prayeth both for himſelf, and againſt the enemies of his ſoul. 14 He promiſeth conſtancie. 17 He prayeth for perſeverance. 19 He praiſeth God, and promiſeth to do it cheerfully.

IN * [a] thee, O Lord, do I put my truſt, let me never be put to confuſion.

2 Deliver me in thy [b] righteouſneſſe, and cauſe me to eſcape: incline thine eare unto me, and ſave me.

3 † Be thou my ſtrong habitation, whereunto I may continually reſort: [c] thou haſt given commandment to ſave me, for thou art my rock and my fortreſſe.

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the [d] wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God: thou art my [e] truſt from my youth.

6 By thee have I been holden up from the wombe: thou art he that took me out of my mothers bowels, my praiſe ſhall be continually of thee.

7 I am as a [f] wonder unto many; but thou art my ſtrong refuge.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praiſe, and with thy honour all the day.

9 Caſt me not off in the time of [g] old age. forſake me not when my ſtrength faileth.

10 For mine enemies ſpeak againſt me: and they that † lay wait for my ſoul, take counſel together.

11 Saying, [h] God hath forſaken him: perſecute and take him: for there is none to deliver him.

12 O God, be not farre from me: O [i] my God, make haſte for my help.

13 Let them be confounded and conſumed, that are adverſaries to my ſoul: let them be covered with reproach and diſhonour, that ſeek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praiſe thee more and more,

* Pſalm 31: 1.
a He prayeth to God with full aſſurance of faith, that he will deliver him from his adverſaries.
b By declaring thy ſelf true of promiſe.
† Heb. be thou to me for a rock of habitation.
c Thou haſt infinite means, and all creatures are at thy commandement: therefore ſhew ſome ſigne, whereby I ſhall be delivered.
d That is, from Abſolom, Ahitophel, and that conſpiracie.
e He ſtrengtheneth his faith by the experience of Gods benefits, who did not only preſerve him in his mothers belly, but took him thence, and ever ſince hath preſerved him.
f All the world wondreth at me becauſe of my miſeries, aſwell they in authority, as the common people, yet being aſſured of thy favour, I remained ſtedfaſt.
g Thou that didſt help me in my youth, when I had more ſtrength, help me now ſo much the more in mine old age and weakneſſe.
† Heb. watch or obſerve.
h Thus the wicked both blaſpheme God, and triumph againſt his ſaints, as though he had forſaken them, if he ſuffer them to fall into their hands.
i In calling him his God, he putteth back the falſe reports of the adverſaries, that ſaid, God hath forſaken him.

15 My mouth ſhall ſhew forth thy righteouſneſſe, and thy ſalvation all the day: [k] for I know not the numbers thereof.

16 I will [i] go in the ſtrength of the Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteouſneſſe, even of thine onely.

17 O God, thou haſt taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

18 [m] Now alſo † when I am old and gray-headed, O God, forſake me not: untill I have ſhewed † thy ſtrength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.

19 [n] Thy righteouſneſſe alſo, O God, is very high, who haſt done great things: [o] O God; who is like unto thee?

20 Thou which haſt ſhewed me [p] great and ſore troubles, ſhalt quicken me again, and ſhalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Thou ſhalt increaſe my greatneſſe, and comfort me on every ſide.

22 I will alſo praiſe thee † with the pſalterie, even thy [q] truth, O my God: unto thee will I ſing with the harp, O thou holy one of Iſrael.

23 My lips ſhall greatly rejoyce when I ſing unto thee: and my [r] ſoul which thou haſt redeemed.

24 My tongue alſo ſhall talk of thy righteouſneſſe all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto ſhame, that ſeek my hurt.

k Becauſe thy benefits toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate and rehearſe them.
l I will remain ſtedfaſt, being upholden with the power of God.
m He deſireth that as he hath begun, he would ſo continue his benefits, that his liberalitie may have perfect praiſe.
‖ Heb. unto old age, and gray hairs.

† Heb. with the inſtrument of pſalterie.
q He confeſſeth that his long tarriance was well recompenſed, when God performed his promiſe.
r For there is no true praiſing of God, except it come from the heart: and therefore he promiſeth to delight in nothing but wherein God may be glorified.

Psal. LXXII.

1 David praying for Solomon, ſheweth the goodneſſe, and glory of his in type, and in truth of Chriſts kingdome. 18 He bleſſeth God.

A pſalme ‡ [a] for Solomon.

GIve the king thy [b] judgements, O God, and thy righteouſneſſe unto the kings [c] ſonne.

2 He ſhall judge thy people with righteouſneſſe, and thy poore with judgement.

3 The [d] mountains ſhall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteouſneſſe.

4 He ſhall [e] judge the poore of the people, he ſhall ſave the children of the needy, and ſhall break in pieces the oppreſſour.

5 They ſhall [f] fear thee as long as the ſunne and moon endure, throughout all generations.

6 He ſhall [g] come downe like rain upon the mown graſſe, as showres that water the earth.

7 In his dayes ſhall the righteous flourish: and abundance of peace † ſo long as the moon endureth.

8 He ſhall have dominion alſo [h] from ſea to ſea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

9 They that dwell in the wilderneſſe ſhall bowe before him: and his enemies ſhall lick the duſt.

10 The kings of [i] Tarſhiſh and of the iſles ſhall bring preſents: the kings of [k] Sheba and Seba ſhall offer gifts.

11 Yea, all kings ſhall fall down before him: all nations ſhall ſerve him.

d When juſtice reigneth, even the places moſt barren, ſhall be enriched with thy bleſſings.
e He ſheweth wherefore the ſword is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and ſuppreſſe the wicked.
f The people ſhall embrace thy true religion, when thou giveſt a king that ruleth according to thy word.
g As this is true in all godly kings; ſo is it chiefly verified in Chriſt, who with his heavenly dew, maketh his church ever to flourish.
† Heb. till there be no moon.

k That is, of Arabia that rich countrie, whereof Sheba was a part bordering upon Ethiopia.

12 For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth: the poore also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall spare the poore and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy.

14 He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence: and [l] precious shall their bloud be in his sight.

15 And he shall live, and to him † shall be given of the [m] gold of Sheba; prayer also shall be made for him continually, and daily shall he be paaised.

16 There shall be an handfull of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the [n] fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon, and they of the citie shall flourish like grasse of the earth.

17 His name † shall endure for ever: † his name shall be continued as long as the sunne: and men shall be blessed in him; all nations shall call him [o] blessed.

18 Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel, who onely doeth [p] wondrous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious name for ever, and let the whole earth be filled with his glory; Amen, and amen.

20 The prayers of David the sonne of Jesse [q] are ended.

l Though tyrants passe not to shed bloud, yet this godly king shall preserve his subjects from all kinde of wrong.
† Heb. one shall give.
m God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

5 They are not † in trouble as other men: neither are they plagued † like other men.

† Heb. in the trouble of other men.

6 [c] Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain: violence covereth them as a garment.

† Heb. with.
c They glory in their pride as some do in their chains: and in cruelty, as some doe in apparell.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatnesse: † they have more than heart could wish.

† Heb. they passe the thoughts of the heart.

8 They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily.

9 [d] They set their mouth against the heavens; and their tongue walketh through the earth.

d They blaspheme God, and feare not his power, and rail upon men, because they esteem themselves above all others.

10 Therefore [e] his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

e Not only the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall back, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorrows, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly.

11 And they [f] say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most high?

f Thus the flesh moveth even the godly to dispute with God, touching their poore estate, and the prosperity of the wicked.

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world, they increase in riches.

13 Verily, I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocencie.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and † chastened every morning.

† Heb. my chastisement was.

15 [g] If I say, I will speak thus: behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.

g If I give place to this wicked thought I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposedst all things most wisely, and preservest thy children in their greatest dangers.

16 When I thought to know this, † it was too painfull for me.

† Heb. it was labour in mine eyes.

17 Uutill I went into the [h] sanctuarie of God; then understood I their end.

h Untill I entred into thy schoool, and learned by thy word and holy spirit: that thou ordereſt all things wisely and justly.

18 Surely thou didst set them in slipperie places: thou castedst them down into destruction.

19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment? they are [i] utterly consumed with terrours.

i By thy fearefull judgement.

20 As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awakest thou shalt despise their [k] image.

k Or, their shadow; that is, destroy their transitory estate.

21 Thus my heart was grieved; and I was pricked in my reins.

† Heb. I know not.

22 So foolish was I, and † ignorant: I was as a [l] beast † before thee.

‡ For the more that man goeth about by his own reason to seek out Gods judgements, the more doth he declare himself a beast.

23 Nevertheless, I am [m] continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

‡ Heb. with thee.

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glorie.

m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes over me to preserve me.

25 Whom have I in [n] heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.

n He sought neither help nor comfort of any save of God only.

26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the † strength of my heart, and my [o] portion for ever.

† Heb. rock.

o He teacheth us to deny our selves to have God our whole sufficiency, and only contentment.

27 For lo, they that are farre from thee, shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that [p] go a whoring from thee.

p That is, forsake thee to seek others.

28 But it is good for me to draw neare [q] to God: I have put my trust in the LORD GOD, that I may declare all thy works.

q Though all the world shrink from God, yet he promiseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his works.

XV Day.
Evening prayer.

1 An exhortation both to learn and to preach the law of God. 9 The ſtory of Gods wrath againſt the incredulous and diſobedient. 67 The Iſraelites being rejected, God choſe Iudah, Sion, and David.

‡ [a] Maſchil of Aſaph.

GIve eare, O [b] my people, to my law: incline your eares to the words of my mouth.

2 * I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark ſayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known: and our [c] fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, ſhewing to the generation to come, the praiſes of the LORD: and his ſtrength and his wonderfull works that he hath done,

5 For he eſtabliſhed a [d] teſtimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Iſrael which he commanded our fathers: that they ſhould make them known to their children.

6 That the [e] generation to come might know them, even the children which ſhould be born: who ſhould ariſe and declare them to their children:

7 That they might [f] ſet their hope in God, and not forget the works of God: but keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as [g] their fathers, a ſtubborn and rebellious generation, a generation † that ſet not their heart aright: and whoſe ſpirit was not ſtedfaſt with God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed and † carrying bows, turned back in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the covenant of God: and refuſed to walk in his law:

11 And forgat his works: and his wonders that he had ſhewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the ſight of their [i] fathers: in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 * He divided the ſea, and cauſed them to paſſe through: and he made the waters to ſtand as an heap.

14 * In the day-time alſo he led them with a cloud: and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He clave the rocks in the wilderneſſe, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16 He brought ſtreams alſo out of the rock, and cauſed waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they ſinned [k] yet more againſt him: by provoking the moſt high in the wilderneſſe.

18 And they tempted God in their heart: by asking meat for their [l] luſt.

19 * Yea, they ſpake againſt God: they ſaid, [m] Can God † furniſh a table in the wilderneſſe?

20 * Behold, he ſmote the rock, that the waters guſhed out, and the ſtreams overflowed: can he give bread alſo? can he provide fleſh for his people?

21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth, ſo a fire was kindled againſt Jacob, and anger alſo came up againſt Iſrael:

22 Becauſe they beleeved not in God: and [n] truſted not in his ſalvation:

23 Though he had commanded the [o] clouds from above, and opened the doores of heaven:

24 * And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

25 ‡ Man did eat angels food, he ſent them meat to the full.

26 He cauſed an [p] eaſt-winde † to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the ſouth-winde.

27 He rained fleſh alſo upon them as duſt: and † feathered fowls like as the ſand of the ſea.

28 And he let it fall in the midſt of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own deſire.

30 They were not eſtranged from their [q] luſt: but * while their meat was yet in their mouthes, 31 The wrath of God came upon them, and ſlew the [r] fatteſt of them, and † ſmote down the ‡ choſen men of Iſrael.

32 For all this they [f] ſinned ſtill: and beleeved not for his wondrous works.

† Heb. that prepared not their heart.

a Read Pſal. 32.
b The prophet under the name of a teacher, calleth the people his, and the doctrin his, as Paul calleth the goſpel his, whereof he was but the preacher, as Rom. 2: 16. and 16: 25. or, it may be meant of Chriſt, who ſpeaketh in this pſalme to his people: as the next verſe ſheweth ſo Iſa 51: 4.
* Pſal. 49: 4. Matth. 13: 35. c Which were the people of God.
d By the teſtimonie and law, he meaneth the law written, which they were commanded to teach their children, Deut. 4: 9. and 6: 7.
e He ſheweth wherein the children ſhould be like their fathers, that is, in maintaining Gods pure religion.
f He ſheweth wherein the uſe of this doctrin ſtandeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefits, and in obedience.
g Though theſe Fathers were the ſeed of Abraham, and the choſen people, yet he ſheweth by their rebellion, provocation, falſehood, and hypocriſie, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

33 Therefore their dayes did he conſume in vanity; and their yeares in trouble.

34 When he [t] ſlew them, then they ſought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.

35 And they remembred that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Neverthelesſe, they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their [u] heart was not right with him: neither were they ſtedfaſt in his covenant.

38 But he being full of compaſſion, [x] forgave their iniquity, and deſtroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not ſtirre up all his wrath.

39 For he remembred that they were but flesh? a winde that paſſeth away and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they ‡ provoke him in the wilderneſſe: and grieve him in the deſert?

41 Yea, they [y] turned back and tempted God: and [z] limited the holy one of Iſrael.

42 [a] They remembred not his hand: nor the day when he delivered them † from the enemy.

43 How he had † wrought his ſignes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:

44 * And had turned their rivers into bloud; and their flouds, that they could not drink.

45 * He ſent divers [b] ſorts of flies among them, which devoured them, and * frogs which deſtroyed them.

46 * He [c] gave alſo their increaſe unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locuſt.

47 * He † deſtroyed their vines with hail, and their ſycomore-trees with ‡ froſt.

48 † He gave up their cattel alſo to the hail, and their flocks to ‡ hot thunderbolts.

50 † He made a way to his anger, he ſpared not their ſoul from death: but gave ‡ their life over to the peſtilence.

51 * And ſmote all the firſt-born in Egypt: the [e] chief of their ſtrength in the tabernacles of [f] Ham:

52 But made his own people to go forth like ſheep, and guided them in the wilderneſſe like a flock.

53 And he led them on ſafely, ſo that they [g] feared not: but the ſea * † overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his [h] ſanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchaſed:

55 He caſt out the heathen alſo before them, and * divided them an inheritance by line: and made the tribes of Iſrael to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the moſt high God, and kept not his teſtimonies:

57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully [i] like their fathers: they were turned aſide like a deceitfull bow.

58 * For they [k] provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealouſie with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Iſrael:

60 * So that he [l] forſook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men:

61 And delivered his [m] ſtrength into captivity, and his glory into the enemies hand.

62 He gave his people over alſo unto the ſword: and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire [n] conſumed their young men: and their maidens were not † [o] given to marriage.

64 Their prieſts fell by the ſword: and their [p] widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of ſleep, and like a mighty man that ſhouteth [q] by reaſon of wine.

66 And he ſmote his enemies in the hinderparts: he put them to a perpetuall reproach.

67 Moreover, he refuſed the tabernacle of [r] Joſeph: and choſe not the tribe of Ephraim.

68 But choſe the tribe of Judah, the mount Sion which he loved.

69 And he [s] built his ſanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath † eſtabliſhed for ever.

70 * He choſe David alſo his ſervant, and took him from the ſheep-folds:

71 † From following the ewes great with young, he brought him * to feed Jacob his people, and Iſrael his inheritance.

72 So [t] he fed them according to the integrity of his heart: and guided them by the skilfulneſſe of his hands.

t Such was their hypocriſie, that they ſought unto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loved him not.

u Whatſoever cometh not from the pure fountain of the heart, is hypocriſie.

1 The psalmist in his prayer complaineth of the miseries of the church. 8 Gods former favours are turned into judgements. 14 He prayeth for deliverance.

To the chief musician upon Shoshannim Eduth, A psalme ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

GIve eare, [a] O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock, thou that dwellest between the [b] cherubims, shine forth.

2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stirre up thy strength, and † come and save us.

3 [c] Turn us again, O God: and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 O Lord God of hosts, how long † wilt thou be [d] angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears: and givest them tears to drink in great measure.

6 Thou makest us a [e] strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 [f] Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 [g] Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

a God did chuse that place among the hils, to establish Jerusalem and his temple.
b Though thy glorious estate do not yet appeare, yet wait with patience, and God will accomplish his promise.
c That is, Egypt and those other countries, shall come to the knowledge of God.
d It shall be said of him that is regenerate and come to the church, that he is as one that was born in the church.
e In Hebrew, man and man, that is, Many. Out of all quarters shall come into the church, and be counted as citizens.
f When he calleth by his word them into the church, whom he had elected and written in his book.
g The prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the church.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A prayer containing a grievous complaint.

A song or psalme ‡ for the sonnes of Korah, to the chief musician upon Mahalath [a] Leannoth, ‡ Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

O LORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night [b] before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine eare unto my crie.

3 For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength.

5 [c] Free among the dead like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou remembrest no more: and they are cut off ‡ from thy [d] hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darknesse, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me: and thou hast afflicted me with all thy [e] waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine [f] acquaintance farre from me: thou hast made me an abomination unto them: I am [g] shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 [h] Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction, LORD, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou shew [i] wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving-kindnesse be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousnesse in the land of [k] forgetfulnesse?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O LORD, and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die, [l] from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrours, I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me: thy terrours have cut me off.

17 They

‡ Or, of.
a That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalm was sung.
‡ Or, a psalme of Heman the Ezrahite, giving instruction.
b Though many cry in their sorrows, yet they crie not earnestly to God for remedie as he did: whom he confessed to be the author of his salvation.
c For he that is dead is free from all cares and busnesse of this life, and thus he saith, because he was unprofitable for all matters concerning mans life, and as it were cut off from this world.
‡ Or, by thy hand.
d That is, from thy providence and care, which is meant according to the judgement of the flesh.
e The storms of thy wrath have overwhelmed me.
f He attributeth the losse and displeasure of his friends to Gods providence, whereby he partly punisheth, and partly trieth his.
g I see none end of my sorrows.
h Mine eyes and face declare my sorrows.
i He sheweth that the time is more convenient for God to help, when men call unto him in their dangers, than to tarry till they be dead, and then raise them up again.
k That is, in the grave, where onely the body lieth, without all sense and remembrance.
l I am ever in great dangers and sorrowes, as though my life should utterly be cut off every moment.

† Or, all the day.

17 They came round about me † daily like water, they compaſſed me about together.

18 Lover and friend haſt thou put farre from me, and mine acquaintance into darkneſſe.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

XVII Day. Evening prayer.

1 The pſalmiſt praiſeth God for his covenant, 5 for his wonderfull power, 15 for the care of his church, 19 for his favour to the kingdome of David. 38 Then complaining of contrary events, 46 he expoſtulateth, prayeth, and bleſſeth God.

‡ Maſchil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

‡ Or, A pſalme for Ethan the Ezrahite to give inſtruction.

I Will [a] ſing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulneſſe † to all generations.

a Though the horrible confuſion of things might cauſe them to deſpaire of Gods favour, yet the manifold example of his mercies, cauſe them to truſt in God, though to mans judgement they ſaw none occaſion.

2 For [b] I have ſaid, Mercy ſhall be built up for ever: thy faithfulneſſe ſhalt thou [c] eſtabliſh in the very heavens.

† Heb. to generation and generation.

b As he that ſurely beleeveth in heart.

3 [c] I have made a covenant with my choſen; I have * ſworn unto David my ſervant.

c As thine inviſible heaven is not ſubject to any alteration and change: ſo ſhall the truth of thy promiſe be unchangeable.

4 Thy ſeed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy throne † to all generations. Selah.

† Heb. to generation and generation.

5 And the [e] heavens ſhall praiſe thy wonders, O LORD: thy faithfulneſſe alſo in the [f] congregation of the ſaints.

d The prophet ſheweth what was the promiſe of God, whereon he grounded his faith.

* 2 Sam 7: 11. &c.

e The angels ſhall praiſe thy power and faithfulneſſe in delivering thy church.

f That is, in the heavens.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among [g] the ſonnes of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?

g Meaning, the angels, or, it may be underſtood of the princes of the world: Pſal. 82: 6.

7 God is greatly to be feared in the [h] aſſembly of the ſaints: and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

h If the angels tremble before Gods Majeſtie and infinite juſtice, what earthly creature by oppreſſing the church, dare ſet himſelf againſt God?

8 O LORD God of hoſts, who is a ſtrong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulneſſe round about thee?

9 [i] Thou ruleſt the raging of the ſea: when the waves thereof ariſe, thou ſtilleſt them.

i For as he delivered the church by the red ſea, and by deſtroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: ſo will he eſtſoon deliver it when the dangers be great.

10 Thou haſt broken ‡ Rahab in pieces, as one that is ſlain; thou haſt ſcattered thine enemies † with thy ſtrong arm.

‡ Or, Egypt.

† Heb. with the arm of thy ſtrength.

11 * The heavens are thine, the earth alſo is thine: as for the world, and the fulneſſe thereof, thou haſt founded them.

* Gen. 1: 1. Pſalm 24: 1. Pſalm 50: 12.

12 The north and the ſouth thou haſt created them: [k] Tabor and Hermon ſhall rejoyce in thy name.

k Tabor is a mountain weſtward from Jeruſalem, and Hermon eaſtward: ſo the prophet ſignifieth, that all parts and places of the world ſhall obey Gods power for the deliverance of his church.

13 Thou haſt † a mighty arm: ſtrong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

† Heb. an arm, with might.

14 [l] Juſtice and judgement are the ‡ habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth ſhall go before thy face.

‡ Or, eſtabliſhment.

l For hereby he judgeth the world, and ſheweth himſelf a mercifull father, and faithfull protector unto his.

15 Bleſſed is the people that [m] know the * joyfull ſound: they ſhall walk, O LORD, in the [n] light of thy countenance.

m Feeling in their conſcience that God is their Father.

* Num. 10: 6.

16 In thy name ſhall they rejoyce all the day: and in thy righteouſneſſe ſhall they be exalted.

n They ſhall be preſerved by thy fatherly providence.

17 For thou art the [o] glory of their ſtrength: and in thy favour our horn ſhall be exalted.

o In that they are preſerved and continue, they ought to give the praiſe and glory onely to thee.

18 For ‡ the LORD is our [p] defence: and the holy one of Iſrael is our king.

‡ Or, our ſhield is of the LORD, and our king is of the holy one of Iſrael.

p In that, that our king hath power to defend us, it is the gift of God.

19 Then thou ſpakeſt in viſion to thy [q] holy one, and ſaidſt, I have laid help upon one that is [r] mighty: I have exalted one choſen out of the people.

q To Samuel and to others, to aſſure that David was thy choſen one.

r Whom I have both choſen and given him ſtrength to execute his office, as verſe 21.

20 * I have found David my ſervant: with my holy oyl have I anointed him. 465

* 1 Sam. 16: 12.

21 With whom my hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed: mine arm alſo ſhall ſtrengthen him.

22 The enemy ſhall not exact upon him: nor the ſonne of wickedneſſe afflict him.

23 And I will [s] beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him:

s Though there ſhall be evermore enemies againſt Gods kingdome, yet he promiſeth to overcome them.

24 But my faithfulneſſe and my [t] mercy ſhall be with him: and in my name ſhall his [u] horn be exalted.

t I will mercifully perform my promiſes to him, notwithſtanding his infirmities and offences.

u His power, glory and eſtate.

25 I will ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the [x] rivers.

26 He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my [y] father, my God, and the rock of my ſalvation.

y He ſhall enjoy the land round about.

27 Alſo I will make him my firſt-born, higher than the kings of the earth.

y His excellent dignitie ſhall appeare herein, that he ſhall be named the Sonne of God, and the firſt born, wherein he is a figure of Chriſt.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore: and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him.

29 His ſeed alſo will I make to endure [z] for ever, and his throne as the dayes of heaven.

z Though for the ſinnes of the people, the ſtate of this kingdome decayed, yet God reſerved ſtill a root, till he had accompliſhed his promiſe in Chriſt.

30 If his children forſake my law, and walk not in my judgements;

31 If they † break my ſtatutes, and keep not my commandments:

† Heb. profane my ſtatutes.

32 Then will I viſit their tranſgreſſion with the rod, and their iniquity with ſtripes.

33 [a] Nevertheleſſe, my loving-kindneſſe † will I not utterly take from him: nor ſuffer my faithfulneſſe † to fail.

a Though the faithfull anſwer not in all points to their profeſſion, yet God will not brake his covenant with them.

† Heb. I will not make void from him.

34 My covenant will I not break: [b] nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

† Heb. to lie.

b For God in promiſing, hath reſpect to his mercy, and not to mans power in performing.

35 Once have I ſworn by my holineſſe, † that I will not lie unto David.

† Heb. if I lie.

36 * His ſeed ſhall endure for ever; and his throne as the ſunne before me.

* 2 Sam. 7: 16. Luke 1: 33. John 12: 34.

37 It ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever as the moon, and as a [c] faithfull witneſſe in heaven. Selah.

c As long as the ſunne and moone endure, they ſhall be witneſſes to me of this promiſe.

38 But thou haſt caſt off and abhorred, thou haſt been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou haſt [d] made void the covenant of thy ſervant: thou haſt profaned his [e] crown, by caſting it to the ground.

d Becauſe of the horrible confuſion of things, the prophet complaineth to God, as though he ſaw not the performance of his promiſe. And this diſcharging his cares on God, he reſiſteth doubt and impatiencie.

e By this he meaneth, the horrible diſſipation and renting of the kingdome, which was under Jeroboam: or els by the Spirit of prophecie Ethan ſpeaketh of thoſe great miſeries which came ſoon afterward to paſſe at the captivitie of Babylon.

40 Thou haſt broken down all his hedges: thou haſt brought his ſtrong holds to ruine.

41 All that paſſe by the way ſpoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou haſt ſet up the right hand of his adverſaries: thou haſt made all his enemies to rejoyce.

43 Thou haſt alſo turned the edge of his ſword: and haſt not made him to ſtand in the battel.

44 Thou haſt made his † glory to ceaſe and caſt his throne down to the ground.

† Heb. brightneſſe.

45 The dayes of his [f] youth haſt thou ſhortened: thou haſt covered him with ſhame. Selah.

f He ſheweth that the kingdome fell before it came to perfection, or was ripe.

46 [g] How long LORD, wilt thou hide thy ſelf for ever? ſhall thy wrath burn like fire?

g The prophet in joyning prayer with his complaint ſheweth that his faith never failed.

47 Remember [h] how ſhort my time is: wherefore haſt thou made all men in vain?

h Seeing mans life is ſhort, and thou haſt created man to beſtow thy benefits upon him, except thou haſte to help, death will prevent thee.

48 What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former loving kindnesses, which thou * swarest unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember (Lord) the reproach of thy servants: how I do bear in my [i] bosome the reproach of all the mighty people;

51 Wherewith [k] thine enemies have reproached, O LORD: wherewith they have reproached the [l] footsteps of thine anointed.

52 Blessed be the LORD for evermore. Amen, and amen.

* 2 Sam. 7: 15.
i He meaneth, that Gods enemies did not onely slander him behinde his back: but also mocked him to his face, and as it were, cast their injuries in his bosome.
k So he calleth them that persecute the church.
l They laugh at us, which patiently wait for the coming of thy Christ.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses setting forth Gods providence, 3 complaineth of humane fragility, 7 divine chastisements, 10 and brevity of life. 12 He prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of Gods good providence.

‡ A prayer of Moses the [a] man of God.

LOrd, thou hast been our [b] dwelling-place † in all generations.

2 Before the [c] mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world: even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

3 Thou [d] turnest man to destruction: and sayest, Return ye children of men.

4 * [e] For a thousand yeares in thy sight, are but as yesterday ‡ when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou [f] carriest them away as with a flood, they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grasse which ‡ groweth up.

6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up, in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are [g] consumed by thine anger, by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are † passed away in thy [h] wrath: we spend our yeares ‡ as a tale that is told.

10 † The dayes of our yeares are threescore yeares and ten; and if by reason of strength they be [i] foure score yeares, yet is their strength labour and sorrow: for it is soon cut off, and we flie away.

11 [k] Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our dayes, that we may † apply our hearts unto [l] wisdome.

13 Return (O LORD) [m] how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

14 O satisfie us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoyce, and be glad all our dayes.

15 Make us glad according to the dayes wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the yeares wherein we have seen evil.

16 [n] Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their [o] children.

17 And let the [p] beauty of the LORD our God be upon us: and [q] establish thou the work of our hands upon us, yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

XVIII Day. Morning prayer.

‡ Or, a prayer being a psalme of Moses.
a Thus the scripture useth to call the prophets.
b Thou hast been as an house and defence unto us in all our troubles and travels now this foure hundred yeares.
† Heb. in generation and generation.
c Thou hast chosen us to be thy people before the foundations of the world were laid.
d Moses by lamenting the frailty and shortnesse of mans life, moveth God to pity.
* 2 Pet. 3: 8.
e Though man think his life long, which is indeed most short, yea, though it were a thousand yeares: yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three houres.
‡ Or, when he hath passed them.
f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.
‡ Or, is changed.
g Thou callest us by thy rods to consider the shortnesse of our life, and for our sinnes thou abridgest our dayes.
† Heb. turned away.
h Our dayes are not onely short, but miserable, forasmuch as our sinnes daily provoke thy wrath.
‡ Or, as a meditation.
† Heb. as for the dayes of our yeares in them are seventy yeares.
i Meaning, according to the common state of life.
k If mans life for the brevitie be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie upon it, as they which feare thee onely know.
† Heb. cause to come.
l Which is, by considering the shortnesse of our life, and by meditating the heavenly joyes.
m Meaning, wilt thou be angry.
n Even thy mercy, which is thy chiefest work.
o As Gods promise appertained aswel to their posterity as to them, so Moses prayeth for the posterity.
p Meaning, That it was obscured, when he ceased to doe good to his church.
q For except thou guid us with thine holy Spirit, our enterprises can have no good successe.

1 The state of the Godly. 3 Their safety. Their habitation 11 Their keepers. 14 Their friends with the effects of them all.

HE that dwelleth in the [a] secret place of the most high, shall † abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 [b] I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge, and my fortresse: my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely, he shall deliver thee from the [c] snare of the fowler: and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his [d] truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 [e] Thou shalt not be afraid for the terrour by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day:

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darknesse: nor for the destruction that wasteth at noon-day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Onely with thine [f] eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the LORD which is my refuge, even the most high, thy habitation:

10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 * [g] For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands: lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shal tread upon the lion, and ‡ adder: the [h] young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 [i] Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With † [k] long life will I satisfie him, and shew him my salvation.

a He that maketh God his defence and trust, shall perceive his protection to be a most true safeguard.
† Heb. lodge.
b Being assured of his protection, he prayeth unto the Lord.
c That is, Gods help is most ready for us, whether Satan assail us secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.
d That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to help thee in thy necessity.
e The care that God hath over his, is most sufficent to defend them from all dangers.
f The godly shall have some experience of Gods judgements again the wicked, even in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall be revealed.
* Matth. 4: 6. Luke 4: 10.
g God hath not appointed every man one angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to keep his, and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walk in without tempting God.
‡ Or, asp.
h Thou shalt not onely be preserved from all evil, but overcome it, whether it be secret or open.
i To assure the faithfull of Gods protection, he bringeth in God to confirm the same.
† Heb. length of dayes.
k For he is contented with that life, that God giveth, for by death the shortnesse of this life is recompensed with immortality.

PSAL. XCII.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God, 4 for his great works, 6 for his judgements on the wicked, 10 and for his goodnesse to the godly.

A psalme or song for the [a] sabbath-day.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most high:

2 To shew forth thy loving-kindnesse in the [b] morning, and thy faithfulnesse † every night;

3 Upon an [c] instrument of ten strings, and upon the psalterie, ‡ upon the harp with † a solemn sound.

4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy [d] work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 O LORD, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

a Which teacheth that the use of the sabbath standeth in praising God, and not only in ceasing from works.
b For Gods mercy and fidelity in his promises toward his, bindeth them to praise him continually both day and night.
† Heb. in the night.
c These instruments were then permitted, but at Christs coming, abolished.
‡ Or, upon the solemn sound with the harp.
† Heb. Higgaion.
d He sheweth what is the use of the sabbath-day: to wit, to meditate on Gods work.

e That is, the wicked considet not Gods works, not his judgements against them, and therefore most justly perish.

f Thy judgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

6 e A brutish man knoweth not: neither doth a fool understand this.

7 When the wicked spring as the grasse, and when all the workers of iniquitie do flourish: it is that they shall be destroyed for ever.

8 But thou, LORD, art most f high for evermore.

9 For lo thine enemies, O LORD, for lo, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be scattered.

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, and blesse them with all felicitie.

10 g But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oyl.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my desire of the wicked that rise up against me.

* Hos. 14: 5.
h Though the faithfull seem to wither and be cut down by the wicked: yet they shall grow again and flourish in the church of God, as the cedars do in mount Lebanon.
i The children of God shall have a power above nature, and their old age shall bring forth most fresh fruits.
† Heb. green.

12 * The righteous shall h flourish like the palm-tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Those that be planted in the house of the LORD, shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in i old age, they shall be fat, and † flourishing:

15 To shew that the LORD is upright; he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousnesse in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

The majestie, power, and holinesse of Christs kingdome.

XVIII Day. Evening prayer.

THE LORD a reigneth, he is clothed with majestie, the LORD is clothed with strength wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.

a As God by his power and wisdom hath made and governeth the world: so must the same be our defence against all enemies and dangers.
b Wherein thou sittest and governest the world.
† Heb. from then.

2 Thy b throne is established † of old: thou art from everlasting.

3 The c floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voice: the floods lift up their waves.

c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

4 The LORD on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea than the mightie waves of the sea.

d Beside Gods power and wisdome in creating and governing, his great mercie also appeareth, in that he hath given his people his word and covenant. † Heb. length of dayes.

5 d Thy testimonies are very sure: holinesse becometh thine house, O LORD, † for ever.

PSAL. XCIIII.

† Heb. God of revenges.
a Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.
† Heb. shine forth.
b Shew by effect that thou art judge of the world to punish the wicked.
c That is, brag of their cruelty and oppression: or esteem themselves above all other.

O LORD † God, a to whom vengeance belongeth: O God to whom vengeance belongeth, † b shew thy self.

2 Lift up thy self thou judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.

3 LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked c triumph?

4 How long shall they utter and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquitie boast themselves?

5 They d break in pieces thy people, O LORD, and afflict thine heritage.

d Seeing the church was then so sore oppressed, it ought not to seem strange to us, if we see it so now, and therefore must call to God to take our cause in hand.
* Psal. 10: 11, 13.
e He sheweth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gave themselves wholy to doe wickedly.

6 They slay the widow and the stranger: and murder the fatherlesse.

7 * e Yet they say, The LORD shall not see: neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Understand, ye brutish among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?

9 * He that f planted the eare, shall he not heare? he that formed the eye, shall he not see?

* Exod. 4: 11. Prov. 20: 12.
f He sheweth that it is impossible, but God should hear, see, and understand their wickednesse.
g If God punish whole nations for their sinnes, it is meer folly for any one man, or elle a few, to think that God will spare them.
* 1 Cor. 3: 20.
h God hath care over his, and chastiseth them for their wealth, that they should not perish for ever with the wicked.

10 He that g chastiseth the heathen, shall not he correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know?

11 * The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou h chastenest, O LORD, and teachest him out of thy law:

13 That thou mayest give him rest from the dayes of adversitie, untill the pit be digged for the wicked.

14 For the LORD will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

i God will restore the state and government of things to their right use, and then the godly shall follow him cheerfully.
† Heb. shall be after it.

15 But i judgement shall return unto righteousnesse: and all the upright in heart † shall follow it.

16 Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquitie?

17 Unlesse the LORD had been k my help, my soul had ‡ almost dwelt in silence.

k He complaineth of them, which would not help him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods help would not fail.
‡ Or, quickly.

18 When I said, l My foot slippeth: thy mercie, O LORD, held me up.

l When I thought there was no way but death.

19 In the multitude of my m thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my soul.

m In my trouble and distresse I ever found thy present help.

20 Shall the throne of iniquitie have n fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?

n Though the wicked judges pretend justice in oppressing the church, yet they have not that authority of God.

21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent bloud.

22 But the LORD is my defence: and my God is the rock of my refuge.

o It is a great token of Gods judgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most when they are destroyed in their own malice.

23 And he shall bring upon them their own iniquitie, and shall o cut them off in their own wickednesse: yea, the LORD our God shall cut them off.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 3 for his greatnesse, 6 and for his goodnesse, 8 and not to tempt him.

XIX Day. Morning prayer.

O Come let us sing unto the LORD: let us make a a joyfull noise to the rock of our salvation.

a He sheweth that Gods service standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in sacrifices of praise and thanksgiving.
† Heb. prevent his face.

2 Let us † come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyfull noise unto him with psalmes.

3 For the LORD is a great God, and a great king above all b gods.

b Even the angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idols which mans brain inventeth.

4 † In his hand are the deep places of the earth: ‡ the strength of the c hills is his also.

† Heb. in whose.
‡ Or, the heights of the hills are his.

6 O come, let us d worship and bowe down: let us kneel before the LORD our maker.

d By these three words he signifieth one thing: meaning, that they must wholly give themselves to serve God.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his e hand: * to day if ye will heare his voice, e That is, the flock whom he governeth with his own hand. He sheweth wherein they are Gods flock: that is, if they hear his voice. * Heb. 3: 7. and 4: 7.

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.

10 Fourtie years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do [g] erre in their heart, and they have not known my wayes.

11 Unto whom I sware in my wrath, † that they should not enter into my [h] rest.

g They were without judgement and reason.

Psal. XCVI.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 4 for his greatnesse, 8 for his kingdome, 11 for his generall judgement.

O [*] [a] Sing unto the LORD a new song: sing unto the LORD all the earth.

2 Sing unto the LORD, blesse his name: shew forth his salvation from day to day.

3 Declare his glorie among the heathen, his wonders among all people.

4 For the LORD is [b] great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the LORD [c] made the heavens.

6 [d] Honour and majestie are before him: strength and beautie are in his sanctuarie.

7 Give unto the LORD (O ye kindreds of the people) give unto the LORD glorie and [e] strength.

8 Give unto the LORD the glorie † due unto his name: bring an [f] offering and come into his courts.

9 O worship the LORD ‡ in the beautie of holinesse, fear before him all the earth.

10 Say among the [g] heathen, that * the LORD reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved; he shall judge the people [h] righteously.

11 Let the heavens rejoyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and the fulnesse thereof.

12 Let the field be joyfull, and all that is therein: then shall all the [i] trees of the wood rejoyce.

13 Before the LORD; for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth, he shall judge the world with righteousnesse, and the people with his truth.

[*] 1 Chron. 16: 23.
a The prophet sheweth that the time shall come, that all nations shall have occasion to praise the Lord for the revealing of his gospel.
b Seeing he will reveal himself to all nations contrary to their own expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their own imaginations, and onely as he hath appointed.
c Then the idols, or whatsoever made not the heavens, are not God.
d God cannot be known, but by his strength and beautie: the signes whereof appear in his sanctuary.
e As by experience yee see that it is onely due unto him.

Psal. XCVII.

1 The majestie of Gods kingdome. 7 The church rejoyceth at Gods judgements upon idolaters. 10 An exhortation to godlinesse and gladnesse.

THE [a] LORD reigneth, let the earth rejoyce: let the † [b] multitude of isles be glad thereof.

2 [c] Clouds and darknesse are round about him: * righteousnesse and judgement are the ‡ habitation of his throne.

3 A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings enlightened the world: the earth saw and [d] trembled.

5 The hills melted like wax at the presence of the LORD: at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousnesse: and all the people see his glorie.

7 * [c] Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him all ye [f] gods.

8 Sion heard, & was glad, & the [g] daughters of Judah rejoyced; because of thy judgements, O LORD.

9 For thou, LORD, art high above all the earth: thou art exalted farre above all gods.

10 Ye that [h] love the LORD, * hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints, he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

XIX Day. Evening prayer.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the Iews, 4 the Gentiles, 7 and all the creatures to praise God.

A psalme.

O Sing unto the LORD a [a] new song, for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy [b] arm hath gotten him the victorie.

2 * The LORD hath made known his [c] salvation: his righteousnesse hath he ‡ openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

3 He hath [d] remembred his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 Make a joyfull noise unto the LORD, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoyce, and sing praise.

5 Sing unto the LORD with the harp: with the harp, and the voice of a psalme.

6 With [e] trumpets and sound of cornet: make a joyfull noise before the LORD, the king.

7 Let the sea roar, and the fulnesse thereof: the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the flouds clap their hands: let the hills be joyfull together,

Psal. XCIX.

1 The prophet setting forth the kingdome of God in Zion, 5 exhorteth all, by the example of forefathers, to worship God at his holy hill.

THE LORD reigneth, let the people [a] tremble: he sitteth between the cherubims, let the earth † be moved.

judgement and righteousnesse in Jacob.

5 Exalt ye the LORD our God, and worship at his [c] footstool: for † he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, and [d] Samuel among them that call upon his name: they called upon the LORD, and he answered them.

7 He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them.

8 Thou answeredst them, O LORD our God: thou wast a God that forgavest them, though thou [e] tookest vengeance of their inventions.

9 Exalt the LORD our God, and worship at his holy hill: for the LORD our God is holy.

[c] That is before his temple, or ark, where he promised to heare when they worshipped him, as now he promiseth his spirituall presence, wheresoever his church is assembled.
† Or, it is holy.
[d] Under these three he comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whom God made his promise.

PSAL. C.

1 An exhortation to praise God cheerfully, 3 for his greatnesse, 4 and for his power.

A psalme of ‡ praise.

‡ Or, thanksgiving.

‡ Or, and his we are.
[c] He sheweth that God will not be worshipped, but by that means, which he hath appointed.

PSAL. CI.

David maketh a vow and profession of godlinesse.

A psalme of David.

I Will [a] sing of mercy and judgement: unto thee, O LORD, will I sing.

2 I will behave my self wisely in a perfect way, O when wilt thou [b] come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.

3 I will set no † wicked thing before mine eyes: [c] I hate the work of them that turn aside, it shall not cleave to me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

5 Whoso [d] privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look, and a proud heart, will not I suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be upon the [e] faithfull of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh ‡ in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

7 He that worketh deceit, shall not dwell within my house he that telleth lies, † shall not tarrie in my sight.

8 I will [f] early destroy all the wicked of the land: that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.

[a] David considereth what manner of king he would be when God should place him in the throne, promising openly that he would be mercifull and just.
[b] Namely, to assist me in the performance of my duty. Or it may be understood of calling him to an account of his life.
† Heb. thing of belial.
[c] He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.
[d] In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about kings, he declareth that he will punish all.
[e] He sheweth what is the true use of the sword: to punish the wicked, and to maintain the good.
‡ Or, perfect in the way.
† Heb. shall not be stablished.
[f] Magistraets must immediately punish vice, lest it grow to farther inconvenience: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, how much more they that have the charge of the church of God?

PSAL. CII. 469

1 The prophet in his prayer maketh a grievous complaint. 12 He taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God. 18 The mercies of God are to be recorded. 23 He sustaineth his weakenesse by the unchangeablenesse of God.

XX Day. Morning prayer.

A prayer ‡ of the [a] afflicted when he is over-whelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

HEare my prayer, O LORD, and let my [b] crie come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble, encline thine eare unto me: in the day when I call, answer me speedily.

3 For my dayes are [c] consumed ‡ like smoke: and my bones are burnt as an hearth.

4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grasse: so that I forget to [d] eat my bread.

5 By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my ‡ skin.

6 I am like a [e] pelican of the wildernesse: I am like an owl of the desert.

7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day: and they that are mad against me, [f] are sworn against me.

9 For I have [g] eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping:

10 Because of thine [h] indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.

11 * My dayes are like a shadow, that declineth: and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea the [k] set time is come.

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her [l] stones, and favour the dust thereof.

15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the LORD: and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

16 When the LORD shall build up Zion; he shall appeare [m] in his glory.

17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be [n] created, shall praise the LORD.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary: from heaven did the LORD behold the earth:

20 To heare the groaning of the prisoner; to loose † those that are [o] appointed to death;

21 To declare the name of the LORD in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem:

22 When the people are [p] gathered together, and the kingdomes to serve the LORD.

23 [q] He † weakened my strength in the way? he shortned my dayes.

24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my dayes: thy yeares are throughout all generations.

25 * Of old hast thou laid the foundation

† Or, for.
[a] Whereby is signified, that albeit wee be in never so great miseries, yet here is ever place left for prayer.
[b] He declareth that in our prayer we must lively feel that, which we desire, and stedfastly beleeve to obtain.

Ever mourning and solitary, casting out fearefull cries.

[g] I have not risen out of my mourning, to take my refection.
[h] He sheweth that the afflictions did not onely thus move him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure.
* Isa. 40: 6. James 1: 10.
[i] Howsoever we be frail: yet thy promise is sure, and the remembrance thereof shall confirm us for ever.
[k] That is, the seventy years, which by the prophet Jeremy thou didst appoint, Jer. 29: 12.
[l] The more that the church is in misery and desolation, the more ought the faithfull to love and pitie it.
[m] That is, when he shall have drawn his church out of the darknesse of death.
[n] The deliverance of the church is a most excellent benefit, and therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment, the body of the church seemed to have been dead, which by deliverance was as it were created a new.
† Heb. the children of death.
[o] Who now in their banishment could look for nothing but death.
[p] He sheweth that Gods name is never more praised, than when religion flourisheth and the church, increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished under the kingdome of Christ.
[q] The church lament that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but have but few years and short dayes.
† Heb afflicted.
* Hebr. 1: 10.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yeares shall have no end.

28 The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall [r] be established before thee.

r If heaven and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the church by reason of Gods promise, endureth for ever.
† Heb. stand.
ſ Seeing thou hast chosen thy church out of the world, and joyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for ever: for thou art everlasting.

Psal. CIII.

1 An exhortation to blesse God for his mercy, 15 and for the constancy thereof.

A psalme of David.

BLesse the Lord, [a] O my soul: and all that is within me, blesse his holy name.

2 Blesse the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.

3 Who [b] forgiveth all thine iniquities: who healeth all thy diseases.

4 Who redeemeth thy life from [c] destruction: who crowneth thee with loving-kindnesse and tender mercies.

5 Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things: so that thy [d] youth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousnesse and judgement for all that are oppressed.

7 He made known his wayes unto [e] Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.

8 * The Lord is mercifull and gracious, slow to anger, and † plenteous in mercy.

9 He will not alwayes [f] chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

10 He hath not [g] dealt with us after our sinnes: nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

11 For † as the heaven is high above the earth: so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As [h] farre as the east is from the west: so farre hath he removed our transgressions from us.

13 Like as a father pitieth his children: so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth our frame: he remembreth that we are dust.

15 As for man, [i] his dayes are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

16 For the winde passeth over it, and † it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him: and his [k] righteousnesse unto childrens children:

18 * To such as keep his [l] covenant, and to those that remember his commandments, to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens: and his kingdome ruleth over all.

20 Blesse the Lord ye his [m] angels † that excell in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

21 Blesse ye the Lord all ye his hosts, ye ministers of his that do his pleasure.

22 Blesse the Lord all his works in all places of his dominion: blesse the Lord, O my soul.

a He wakeneth his dulnesse to praise God, shewing that both understanding and affections, minde and heart, are too little to set forth his praise.
b This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefits: remission of sinne.
c Death and the grave: for before that we have remission of our sinnes, we are as dead men in the grave.
d As the eagle, when her beak overgroweth sucketh bloud, and so is renewed in strength, even so God miraculously giveth strength to his church above all mans expectation.
e As to his chief minister, and next to his people.

XX Day. Evening prayer.

BLesse the Lord, O my soul, O Lord my God, thou art very great, thou art [a] clothed with honour and majestie.

2 Who covereſt thy self with light, as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain.

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, who maketh the clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the winde.

4 [b] Who maketh his angels spirits: his ministers a flaming fire.

5 † Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.

6 Thou coveredst it with the [c] deep as with a garment: the [d] waters stood above the mountains.

7 At thy rebuke they fled, at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away.

8 ‡ They go up by the mountains: they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.

9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not passe over: that they turn not again to cover the earth.

10 † He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which † run among the hills.

11 They give drink to every [e] beast of the field: the wilde asses † quench their thirst.

15 And * wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and † oyl to make his face to shine, and bread which strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The trees of the Lord are full of sap: the cedars of Lebanon which he hath planted.

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wilde goats: and the rocks for the conies.

21 The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat [l] from God.

22 The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.

a The prophet sheweth that we need not to enter into the heavens to seek God, forasmuch as all the order of nature, with the proprietie and placing of the elements, are most lively mirrours to see his majestie in.
b As the prophet here sheweth, that all visible powers are readie to serve God, so the apostle to the Hebrews 1: 7. beholdeth in this glasse, how the very angels also are obedient to his commandement.
† Heb. he hath founded the earth upon her bases.

23 m Man

23 [m] Man goeth forth to his work, and to his labour untill the evening.

24 O LORD, [n] how manifold are thy works! in wisdome hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.

26 There go the ships; there is that leviathan, whom thou † hast made to play therein.

27 * [o] These wait all upon thee: that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.

28 That thou givest them, they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.

29 [p] Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.

30 [q] Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 The glory of the LORD † shall endure for ever: the LORD shall rejoyce in his works, 32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, [r] and they smoke.

33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live: I will sing praise unto my God, while I have my being.

34 My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the LORD.

35 Let the sinners be [s] consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more: blesse thou the LORD, O my soul. Praise ye the LORD.

PSAL. CV.

1 An exhortation to praise God, and to seek out his works. 7 The story of Gods providence over Abraham, 16 over Ioseph, 23 over Iacob in Egypt, 26 over Moses delivering the Israelites, 37 over the Israelites brought out of Egypt, fed in the wildernesse, and planted in Canaan.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD; call upon his name: [a] make known his deeds among the people.

2 Sing unto him, sing psalmes unto him: talk ye of all his Wondrous works.

3 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoyce that seek the LORD.

4 Seek the LORD, and his [b] strength: seek his face evermore.

5 Remember his [c] marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders and the [d] judgements of his mouth.

6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant: ye children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the LORD our God, his judgements are in all the earth.

8 He hath remembred his covenant for ever: the word which he commanded to a thousand generations.

9 * Which covenant he made with [e] Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac:

10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant.

11 Saying, * [f] Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, † the lot of your inheritance.

12 When they were but a few men in number: yea, very few, and strangers in it.

13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdome to another people.

14 He suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he [g] reproved kings for their sakes:

15 Saying, Touch not mine [h] anointed, and do my [i] prophets no harm.

16 Moreover, he called for a famine upon the land, he brake the whole [k] staff of bread.

17 He sent a man before them, * even Joseph who was sold for a servant.

18 * Whose feet they hurt with fetters: † he was laid in iron.

19 [l] Untill the time that his word came: the word of the LORD tried him.

20 * The king sent and loosed him: even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.

21 * He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his † substance:

22 To binde his [m] princes at his pleasure: and teach his senatours wisdome.

23 * Israel also came into Egypt: and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people greatly: and made them stronger than their enemies.

25 * He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.

26 * He sent Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 * They shewed † his signes among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 * He sent darkenesse, and made it dark: and ° they rebelled not against his word.

29 * He turned their waters into bloud, and slew their fish.

30 * The land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.

31 * [p] He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.

32 * † He gave them [q] hail for rain: and flaming fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their figtrees: and brake the trees of their coasts.

34 * [r] He spake, and the locusts came: and caterpillars, and that without number,

35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land: and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 * He smote also all the first-born in their land: the chief of all their strength.

37 * He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one [s] feeble person among their tribes.

38 * Egypt was [t] glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.

39 * He spread a cloud for a covering: and fire to give light in the night.

40 * The people [u] asked, and he brought quails: and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.

41 * He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out, they ran in the dry places like a river.

1 The pſalmiſt exhorteth to praiſe God. 4 He prayeth for pardon of ſinne, as God did with the fathers. 7 The ſtory of the peoples rebellion, and Gods mercy. 47 He concludeth with prayer and praiſe.

XXI Day. Evening prayer.

† Heb. Hallelujah.

PRaiſe [a] ye the LORD, O * give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD? who can ſhew forth all his praiſe?

3 Bleſſed are they that [b] keep judgement: and he that doth righteouſneſſe at all times.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the [c] favour that thou beareſt unto thy people: O viſit me with thy ſalvation:

5 That I may ſee the good of thy choſen, that I may rejoyce in the gladneſſe of thy nation: that I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have [d] ſinned with our fathers: we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers underſtood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembred not the multitude of thy mercies, * but provoked him at the ſea, even at the Red-ſea.

8 Neverthelesſe, he [e] ſaved them for his names ſake: that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red-ſea alſo, and it was dried up: ſo he led them through the depths as through the wilderneſſe.

10 And he ſaved them from the hand of him that hated them: and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 * And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 * Then [f] beleeved they his words, they ſang his praiſe.

13 * † They ſoon forgat his works, they waited not for his [g] counſel.

14 * But † luſted exceedingly in the wilderneſſe, and tempted God in the deſert.

15 * And he gave them their requeſt, but ſent [h] leanneſſe into their ſoul.

16 * They envied Moſes alſo in the camp, and Aaron the ſaint of the LORD.

17 * The earth opened and [i] ſwallowed up Dathan, and covered the companie of Abiram.

18 * And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burnt up the wicked.

19 * They made a calf in Horeb, and worſhipped the molten image.

20 Thus they changed their [k] glory into the ſimilitude of an ox that eateth graſſe.

21 They forgat God their ſaviour, which had done great things in Egypt:

22 Wonderous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red-ſea.

23 * Therefore he ſaid that he would deſtroy them, had not [l] Moſes his choſen ſtood before him in the breach: to turn away his wrath, leſt he ſhould deſtroy them.

24 Yea, they deſpiſed † the [m] pleaſant land: they beleeved not his word.

25 * But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.

26 Therefore he [n] lifted up his hand againſt them, to overthrow them in the wilderneſſe:

27 † To overthrow their ſeed alſo among the nations, and to ſcatter them in the lands.

28 *They joyned themſelves alſo unto [o] Baal-peor, and ate the ſacrifices of the [p] dead.

29 Thus they [q] provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

30 * [r] Then ſtood up Phinehas and executed judgement: and ſo the plague was ſtayed.

31 And that was [s] counted unto him for righteouſneſſe, unto all generations for evermore.

32 * They angred him alſo at the waters of ſtrife, ſo that it went ill with [t] Moſes for their ſakes.

33 Becauſe they provoked his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake unadviſedly with his lips.

34 They did not deſtroy the nations, * concerning whom the LORD commanded them:

35 * But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.

36 And they ſerved their idols: which were a ſnare unto them.

37 Yea, they ſacrificed their [u] ſonnes and their daughters unto devils,

38 And ſhed innocent bloud, even the bloud of their ſonnes and of their daughters, whom they ſacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with bloud.

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works: and went a * whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled againſt his people, inſomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them, ruled over them.

42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were brought into ſubjection under their hand.

43 * [y] Many times did he deliver them, but they provoked him with their counſel, and were ‡ brought low for their iniquitie.

44 Neverthelesſe, he regarded their affliction when he heard their crie.

45 * And he remembred for them his covenant,

1 The pſalmiſt exhorteth the redeemed in praiſing God, to obſerve his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over ſick men, 23 over ſea-men. 33 and in divers varieties of life.

* Pſal. 106: 1. and 118: 1. and 136: 1.

a This notable ſentence was in the beginning uſed, as the foot or tenour of the ſong which was oftentimes repeated.

O * [a] Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercie endureth for ever.

2 Let the [b] redeemed of the LORD ſay ſo, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemie:

b As this was true in the Jews, ſo is there none of Gods elect, that feel not his help in their neceſſitie.

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the eaſt and from the weſt, from the north and † from the ſouth.

† Heb. from the ſea; meaning the red-ſea, which was the ſouth part of the land.

4 They wandered in the wilderneſſe in a ſolitarie way, they found no citie to dwell in.

5 [c] Hungrie and thirſtie, their ſoul fainted in them.

c He sheweth that there is none affliction ſo grievous, out of the which God will not deliver his, and alſo exhorteth them that are delivered, to be mindefull of ſo great a benefit.

6 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their diſtreſſes.

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a citie of habitation.

8 O that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.

9 For he ſatisfieth the longing ſoul, and filleth the hungrie ſoul with goodneſſe.

10 Such as ſit in darkneſſe and in the ſhadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron:

11 Becauſe they [d] rebelled againſt the words of God, and contemned the counſel of the moſt high:

d Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expreſſe commandement: alſo hereby all are exhorted to deſcend into themſelves, for as much as none are puniſhed, but for their ſinnes.

12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour, they fell down and there was none to help.

13 Then they [e] cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he ſaved them out of their diſtreſſes.

e He sheweth that the cauſe why God doth puniſh us extreamly, is, becauſe we can be brought unto him by no other means.

14 He brought them out of darkneſſe, and the ſhadow of death, and brake their bands in ſunder.

15 O that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men:

16 For he hath broken the [f] gates of braſſe, and cut the barres of iron in ſunder.

f Where there ſeemeth to mans judgement no recovery, but all things are brought to deſpaire; then God chiefly ſheweth his mighty power.

17 [g] Fools, becauſe of their tranſgreſſion, and becauſe of their iniquities, are afflicted.

g They that have no feare of God, by his ſharp rods are brought to call upon him, and ſo find mercy.

18 * Their ſoul abhorreth all manner of meat, and they draw neare unto the gates of death.

h By healing them he declareth his good will toward them.

i Meaning, their diſeaſes, which had almoſt brought them to the grave and deſtruction.

21 O that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men, 22 And let them ſacrifice the ſacrifices of [k] thankſgiving, and declare his works with † rejoycing.

k Praiſe and confeſſion of Gods benefits are the true ſacrifices of the godly.

† Heb. ſinging.

23 They that go down to the [l] ſea in ſhips, that do buſineſſe in great waters:

l He sheweth by the ſea what care God hath over man, for in that, that he delivereth them from the great dangers of the ſea, he delivereth them as it were from a thouſand deaths.

24 Theſe ſee the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.

† Heb. all their wiſdome is ſwallowed up.

n When their art and meanes fail them, they are compelled to confeſſe that onely Gods providence doth preſerve them.

28 Then they crie unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their diſtreſſes.

29 He maketh the ſtorm a calm, ſo that the waves thereof are ſtill.

30 Then are they glad becauſe they be [o] quiet; ſo he bringeth them unto their deſired haven.

o Though before every drop ſeemed to fight one againſt another, yet at his commandement they are as ſtill as though they were frozen.

31 O that men would praiſe the LORD for his goodneſſe, and for his wonderfull works to the children of men.

32 Let them exalt him alſo in the [p] congregation of the people, and praiſe him in the aſſembly of the elders.

‡ Or, an adversarie.

7 When he shall be judged, let him † be condemned, [d] and let his prayer become sinne.

† Heb go out guilty, or wicked.

d As to the elect all things turne to their profit: so to the reprobate, even those things that are good turne to their damnation.

8 Let his dayes be few, and * let another take his † [e] office.

* Acts. 1: 20. † Or, charge. e This was chiefly accomplished in Judas. Acts. 1: 20.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.

11 Let the [f] extortioner catch all he hath and let the stranger spoil his labour.

f He declareth that the curse of God lieth upon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their unlawfull gotten goods, are by Gods just judgement, deprived of all.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 [g] Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembred with the LORD: and let not the sinne of his mother be blotted out.

g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

15 Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 Because that [h] he remembred not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poore and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.

h He sheweth that God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort, that shew themselves cruell toward other.

17 As he loved cursing, [i] so let it come unto him: as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be farre from him.

i Thus giveth the Lord to every man the thing, wherein he delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are given up to their lusts and rebrobate minds.

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment: so let it come † into his bowels like water, and like oyl into his bones.

† Heb. within him.

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversaries [k] from the LORD, and of them that speake evil against my soul.

k For being destitute of mans help, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliver him.

21 But do thou for me, O GOD the Lord, for thy [l] names sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

l As thou art named mercifull, gracious, and long suffering, so shew thy self in effect.

22 For I am poore and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the shadow, when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the [m] locust.

m Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.

24 My knees are weak through fasting: and my flesh faileth of [n] fatnesse.

n For hunger, that came of sorrow, he was lean, and his naturall moisture failed him.

25 I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me, they shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O LORD my God: O [o] save me according to thy mercy:

o The more grievous that Satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer.

27 That they may know, that this is thy hand: that thou LORD hast done it.

28 [p] Let them curse, but blesse thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed: but let thy servant rejoyce.

p They shall gain nothing by cursing me.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame: and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praise the LORD with my [q] mouth: yea, I will praise him among the multitude, q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my self, but also in declaring it before all the congregation.

31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the poore, to save him † from those that [r] condemn his soul.

† Heb. from the judges of his soul.

r Hereby he sheweth that he had not to doe with them that were of little power, but with the judges and princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

XXIII Day. Morning prayer.

1 The kingdome, 4 the priesthood, 5 the conquest, 7 and the passion of Christ.

A psalme of David.

THe * [a] LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, untill I make thine enemies thy footstool.

* Matth. 22: 44. Mark 12: 36. Luke 20: 42. Acts 2: 34. 1 Cor. 15: 25. Hebr. 1: 13.

a Jesus Christ in the 22. of Matth. vers. 44. giveth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that his cannot properly be applied unto David, but to himself.

2 The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of [b] Zion: rule thou in the mids of thine enemies:

3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy [c] power, in the beauties of holinesse ‡ from the wombe of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.

4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, * Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of [d] Melchisedek.

5 The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies: he shall wound the [e] heads over ‡ many countreys.

7 He shall [f] drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head, b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word.

c By thy word, thy people shall be assembled into thy church, whose increase shall be so abundant and wonderfull as the drops of the dew.
‡ Or, more than the wombe of the morning: thou shalt have, &c.
* Hebr. 5: 6. and 7: 17.
d As Melchisedek, the figure of Christ, was both king and priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king save only in Christ.
e No power shall be able to resist him. ‡ Or, great.
f Under this similitude of a captain, that is so greedie to destroy his enemies, that he will not scarce drink by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

1 The psalmist by his example inciteth others to praise God, for his glorious, 5 and gracious works. 10 The fear of God breedeth true wisdome.

† Heb. Hallelujah.
a The prophet declareth that he will praise God both privately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himself wholy and onely unto God.
q He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause, wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefits toward his church.

† PRaise, ye the LORD, I [a] will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the LORD are [b] great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteousnesse endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be remembred: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.

5 He hath given [c] † meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindfull of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The [d] works of his hands are verity and judgement; all his commandments are sure.

8 They † stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightnesse.

9 He sent redemption unto his people, he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

10 * [c] The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdome, ‡ a good understanding have all they † that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever.

† Heb. prey.
c God hath given to his people all that was necessarie for them, and wil doe still even for his covenants sake, and in this sense, the Hebrew word is taken, Prov. 30: 8. and 31: 15. Mal. 3: 10.
d As God promised to take the care of his church, so in effect, doth he declare himself just and true in the government of the same.
† Heb. are stablished.
* Job 28: 28. Prov. 1: 7. and 9: 10. Eccles 1: 16.
e They onely are wise that feare God, and none have understanding, but they that obey his word. ‡ Or, good successe. † Heb. that do them.

PSAL. CXII.

1 Godlinesse hath the promises of this life, 4 and of the life to come. 10 The prosperity of the godly shall be an eye-sore to the wicked.

† Heb. Hallelujah.
a He meaneth, that reverent fear, which is in the children of God, which causeth them to delight only in the word of God.
b The godly shall have abundance, and contentment because their heart is satisfied in God onely.

† PRaise ye the LORD. Blessed is the [a] man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

3 [b] Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousnesse endureth for ever.

4 Unto the [c] upright there ariseth light in the darknesse: he is gracious; and full of compassion, and righteous.

5 A good man sheweth favour, and [d] lendeth; he will guide his affairs with † discretion.

6 Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.

7 He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD.

8 His heart is established, he shall not be afraid, untill he see his desire upon his enemies.

9 * He hath [e] dispersed, he hath given to the poore: his righteousnesse endureth for ever; his [f] horn shall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked shall see it, and be grieved: he shall gnash with his teeth, and [g] melt away; the desire of the wicked shall perish.

c The faithfull in all their adversities know that all shall goe well with them, for God will be mercifull and just.
d He sheweth what is the fruit of mercie, to lend freely and not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to help where need requireth and not to bestow all on himself.
† Heb. judgement.
* 2 Cor. 9: 9.
e The godly pinch not niggardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of the poore requireth, and as his power is able.
f His power and prosperous estate.
g The blessings of God upon his children, shall cause the wicked to die for envie.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise God for his excellency. 6 for his mercy.

† Heb. Hallelujah.
a By this often repetition he stirreth up our cold dulnesse to praise God, seeing his works are so wonderfull, and that we are created for the same cause.
* Dan. 2: 20.
* Mal. 1: 11.
b If Gods glorie shine through all the world, and therefore of all ought to be praised, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whom chiefly it shineth, if they should not earnestly extoll his name?
† Heb. exalteth himself to dwell.
* 1 Sam. 2: 8. Psalm 107: 41. c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giving the barren children, he sheweth that God worketh not onely in his church by ordinarie meanes, but also by miracles. † Heb. to dwell in an house.

† PRaise ye the LORD, praise, O ye servants of the LORD, [a] praise the name of the LORD.

2 * Blessed be the name of the LORD, from this time forth and for evermore.

3 * From the rising of the sunne unto the going down of the same, the LORDS name is to be praised.

4 The LORD is high above all [b] nations, and his glory above the heavens.

5 Who is like unto the LORD our God, who † dwelleth on high?

6 Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth.

7 * He raiseth up the poore out of the dust, and lifteth the [c] needy out of the dunghill:

8 That he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman † to keep house; and to be a joyfull mother of children: praise ye the LORD.

XXIII Day. Evening prayer.

PSAL. CXIIII.

1 An exhortation by the example of the dumbe creatures, to fear God in his church.

* Exod. 13: 3.
a Spiritually it meaneth such as speak against the faith, the language of Canaan, Isa. 19. 18.
b The whole people were witnesses of his holy majestie; in adopting them, and of his mighty power in delivering them.
* Exod. 14: 21.
c Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, and after a sort saw it, much more his people ought to consider it, and glorifie him for the same.
* Josh. 3: 13.
d Ought then his people to be insensible, when they see his power and majestie?

WHen * Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob, from a people of [a] strange language.

2 Judah was his [b] sanctuary, and Israel his dominion.

3 * [c] The sea saw it, and fled; * Jordan was driven back.

4 The mountains skipped like rammes, and the little hills like lambes.

5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest; thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back?

6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams; and ye little hills, like lambes?

7 [d] Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the God of Jacob:

PSAL. CXV.

1 Becauſe God is truly glorious, 4. and idols are vanitie, 9 he exhorteth to confidence in God, 12 God is to be bleſſed for his bleſſings.

NOt [a] unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truths ſake.

2 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, * [b] where is now their God?

3 * But our God is in the heavens, he hath done whatſoever he [c] pleaſed.

4 * Their idols are [d] ſilver and gold, the work of mens hands.

5 They have mouthes, but they ſpeak not: eyes have they, but they ſee not.

6 They have eares, but they heare not: noſes have they, but they ſmell not.

7 They have [e] hands, but they handle not: feet have they, but they walk not; neither ſpeak they through their throat.

8 They that make them are [f] like unto them: ſo is every one that truſteth in them.

9 O Iſrael, truſt thou in the LORD: he is their help and their ſhield.

10 [g] O houſe of Aaron, truſt in the LORD: he is their help and their ſhield.

11 Ye that fear the LORD, truſt in the LORD: he is their help and their ſhield.

12 The LORD hath been mindfull of us, he will bleſſe us, he will [h] bleſſe the houſe of Iſrael, he will bleſſe the houſe of Aaron.

13 He will bleſſe them that fear the LORD, both ſmall † and great.

14 The LORD ſhall increaſe you more and more, you and your children.

15 You are bleſſed of the LORD, which [i] made heaven and earth.

16 [k] The heaven, even the heavens are the LORDS: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.

17 The dead praiſe not the LORD, neither any that [l] go down into ſilence.

18 * But we will bleſſe the LORD, from this time forth and for evermore. Praiſe the LORD.

a Becauſe God promiſed to deliver them, not for their ſakes, but for his name, Iſa. 48: 11. therefore they ground their prayer upon this promiſe.
* Pſalm 42: 10. and 79: 10.
b When the wicked ſee that God accompliſheth not his promiſe as they imagine, they think there is no God.
* Pſalm 135: 6.
c No impediments can let his work, but he uſeth even the impediments to ſerve his will.
* Pſalm 135: 15.
d Seeing that neither the matter, nor the form can commend the idols, it followeth that there is nothing, why they ſhould be eſteemed.
e He ſheweth what great vanitie it is to ask help of them which not onely have no help in them, but lack ſenſe and reaſon.
f As much without ſenſe as blocks and ſtones.
g For they were appointed by God as inſtructers and teachers of faith and religion for others to follow.
h That is, he will continue his graces toward his people.
† Heb. with.
i And therefore doth ſtill govern and continue all things therein.
k And they declare enough his ſufficiency, ſo that the world ſerveth him nothing, but to ſhew his fatherly care toward men.
l Though the dead ſet forth Gods glorie, yet he meaneth here, that they praiſe him not in his church and congregation. * Dan. 12. 20.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 The pſalmiſt profeſſeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He ſtudieth to be thankfull.

XXIV Day. Morning prayer.

I [a] Love the LORD, becauſe he hath heard my voice, and my ſupplications.

2 Becauſe he hath inclined his eare unto me, therefore will I call upon him † [b] as long as I live.

3 * The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the paines of hell † gat hold upon me: I found trouble and ſorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the LORD; O LORD I beſeech thee, deliver my ſoul.

5 [c] Gracious is the LORD, and righteous: yea, our God is mercifull.

a He granteth that no pleaſure is ſo great as to feel Gods help in our neceſſitie, neither that any thing more ſtirreth up our love toward him.
† Heb. in my dayes.
b Or, dayes of affliction: as Job 30: 16. See Pſal. 119: 84.
* Pſal. 18: 5, 6.
† Heb found me.
c He ſheweth forth the fruit of his love, in calling upon him, confeſſing him to be juſt and mercifull, and to help them that are deſtitute of aid and counſel.

6 The LORD preſerveth the ſimple: I was brought low, and he helped me.

7 Return unto thy reſt, O [d] my ſoul, for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee,

8 For thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 [e] I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.

10 * [f] I beleeved, therefore have I ſpoken: I was greatly afflicted.

11 I ſaid in my [g] haſte, * All men are liars.

12 What ſhall I render unto the LORD, for all his benefits towards me?

13 I will [h] take the cup of ſalvation, and call upon the name of the LORD.

14 I will pay my vows unto the LORD, now in the preſence of all his people.

15 Precious in the ſight of the LORD, is the [i] death of his ſaints.

16 O LORD, truly I am thy ſervant, I am thy ſervant, and the ſonne of thy handmaid: thou haſt looſed my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee the ſacrifice of thankſgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD.

18 I will pay my [k] vows unto the LORD, now in the preſence of all his people:

19 In the courts of the LORDS houſe, in the midſt of thee, O Jeruſalem. Praiſe ye the LORD.

d Which was unquieted before now reſt upon the Lord, for he hath been beneficiall towards thee.
e To wit, pleaſingly: as the Greek interpreteth it, or pleaſingly adminiſter. See 1 Sam. 2. verſe 30, 35. Pſalm 86: 14.
* 2 Cor. 4: 13.
f I felt all theſe things, and therefore was moved by faith to counſel them.
g Through fear, and great diſtreſſe. I thought God would not regard man, which is, but lies and vanitie, yet I overcame this tentation, and felt the contrary.
* Rom. 3: 4.
h In the law, they uſed to make a banket, when they gave ſolemn thanks to God, and to take the cup and drink in ſigne of thankſgiving.
i I perceive that God hath a care over his, ſo that he both diſpoſeth their death, and taketh an account.
k I will thank him for his benefits: for that is a juſt payment, to confeſſe that we owe all to God.

PSAL. CXVII.

An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercy and truth.

O * Praiſe the LORD, all ye nations: praiſe him, all ye people.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God for his mercy. 5 The pſalmiſt by his experience sheweth how good it is to truſt in God. 19 Vnder the type of the pſalmiſt, the coming of Chriſt in his kingdome is expreſſed.

O *, [a] Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: becauſe his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let Iſrael now ſay: that his mercy endureth for ever.

3 Let the houſe of Aaron now ſay, that his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Let them now that fear the LORD ſay, his that his mercy endureth for ever.

5 I called upon the LORD † in [b] diſtreſſe: the LORD anſwered me, and ſet me in a large place.

6 * The LORD is † on my ſide, I will [c] not fear: what can man do unto me?

7 The LORD taketh my part with them that help me: therefore ſhall I ſee my deſire upon them that hate me.

8 It is better to truſt in the LORD, than to put confidence in [d] man.

9 * It is better to truſt in the LORD, than to put confidence in princes.

* Exod. 15:2. Isa. 12:2.
f In that he was delivered, it came not of himself, nor of the power of man but only of Gods favour, therefore he will praise him.

15 The [g] voice of rejoycing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.

g He promiseth both to render graces himself, and to cause others to doe the same, because that in his person the church was restored.

h So that all, that are both farre and neare, may see his mighty power.

17 I shall not die but live, and declare the works of the LORD.

18 The LORD hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.

19 Open to me the [i] gates of righteousnesse: I will go in to them, and I will praise the LORD.

l Wherein God hath shewed chiefly his mercie, by appointing me king, and delivering his church.

25 [m] Save now, I beseech thee, O LORD: O LORD, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.

m The people pray for the prosperitie of Davids kingdome, who was the figure of Christ.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee; thou art my God, I will exalt thee.

29 O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSAL. CXIX.

XXIV Day. Evening prayer.

This Psalme containeth sundry prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

ALEPH.

‡ Or, perfect, or sincere.
a Hereby they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their own judgement, nor which imagine to themselves a certain holinesse, but they whose conversation is without hypocrisie.
b For they are ruled by Gods spirit, and embrace no doctrine but his.

BLessed are the ‡ [a] undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the LORD.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 They also do [b] no iniquity: they walk in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 [c] O that my wayes were directed to keep thy statutes!

c David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reform it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word.

6 Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

7 I will praise thee with [d] uprightnesse of heart, when I shall have learned † [e] thy righteous judgements.

d For true religion standeth, in serving God without hypocrisie.
† Heb. judgements of thy righteousnesse.

8 I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not [f] utterly.

e That is, thy precepts, which contain perfect righteousnesse. f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmitie in time.

BETH.

9 Where withall shall [a] a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

a Because youth is most given to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their lives betime to Gods word.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.

11 Thy word have I [b] hid in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

b If Gods word be graven in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him daily more and more therein.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD: teach me thy statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared all the judgements of thy mouth.

14 I have [c] rejoyced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.

c The prophet doth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word, and leave wordly vanities.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy wayes.

16 I will delight my self in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may [a] live, and keep thy word.

a He sheweth that we ought not to desire to live, but to serve God, and that we cannot serve him aright, except he open our eyes and mindes.

18 † Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

† Heb. reveal.

19 * I am a [b] stranger in the earth, hide not thy commandments from me.

* Gen. 47:9. 1 Chron. 29:15. Psalm 39:12. Hebr. 11:13.
b Seeing mans life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide?

20 My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgements at all times.

21 Thou hast [c] rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do erre from thy commandments.

c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

22 Remove from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies.

23 [d] Princes also did sit and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.

d When the powers of the world gave false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and counseller to teach me what to do, and comfort me.

24 Thy testimonies also are my delight, and † my counsellers.

† Heb. men of my counsel.

DALETH.

25 My soul [a] cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy word.

a That is, it is almost brought to the grave, and without thy word I cannot live.

26 I have [b] declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: * teach me thy statutes.

b I have confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.
* Psalm 25:4. and 27:11. and 86:11.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works.

28 My soul † melteth for heavinesse: strengthen thou me according unto thy [c] word.

† Heb. droppeth.
c If God did not maintain us by his word, our life would drop away like water.

29 Remove from me the [d] way of lying: and grant me thy law graciously.

d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my minde may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will.

30 I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgements have I laid before me.

31 I have stuck unto thy testimonies: O LORD put me not to shame.

32 I will runne the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt [e] inlarge my heart.

e By this he sheweth, that we can neither chuse good, cleave to Gods word, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receive his grace, and willing to obey.

HE.

33 Teach [a] me, O LORD, the way of thy ſtatutes, and I ſhall keep it unto the end.

34 Give me underſtanding, and I ſhall keep thy law: yea, I ſhall obſerve it with my [b] whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments, for therein do I delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy teſtimonies, and not to [c] covetouſneſſe.

37 † Turn away mine [d] eyes from beholding vanity: and quicken thou me in thy way.

38 Stabliſh thy word unto thy ſervant, who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away my [e] reproach which I fear: for thy judgements are good.

40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: [f] quicken me in thy righteouſneſſe.

VAU.

41 Let thy [a] mercies come alſo unto me, O LORD: even thy ſalvation according to thy word.

42 ‡ So ſhall I have [b] wherewith to anſwer him that reproacheth me: for I truſt in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgements.

44 So ſhall I keep thy law continually: for ever and ever.

45 And I will walk † [c] at libertie: for I ſeek thy precepts.

46 I will ſpeak of thy teſtimonies alſo before [d] kings, and will not be aſhamed.

47 And I will delight my ſelf in thy commendments which I have loved.

48 My hands alſo will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved: and I will meditate in thy ſtatutes.

ZAIN.

49 Remember the [a] word unto thy ſervant, upon which thou haſt cauſed me to hope.

50 This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me.

51 [b] The proud have had me greatly in deriſion: yet have I not declined from thy law.

52 I remembred thy judgements of old, O LORD: and have comforted my ſelf.

53 [d] Horrour hath taken hold upon me: becauſe of the wicked that forſake thy law.

54 Thy ſtatutes have been my ſongs in the houſe of my [e] pilgrimage.

55 I have remembred thy name, O LORD, in the [f] night, and have kept thy law.

56 [g] This I had: becauſe I kept thy precepts.

CHETH.

57 Thou art my [a] portion, O LORD; I have ſaid, that I would keep thy words.

58 I intreated thy † favour with my whole heart: be mercifull unto me according to thy word.

59 I thought on my [b] wayes, and turned my feet unto thy teſtimonies.

60 I made haſt, and delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The ‡ bands of the wicked have [c] robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy law.

62 At midnight I will riſe to give thanks unto thee: becauſe of thy righteous judgements.

63 I am a [d] companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts.

64 The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercie: [e] teach me thy ſtatutes.

TETH.

65 Thou haſt [a] dealt well with thy ſervant, O LORD, according unto thy word.

66 Teach me good judgement, and knowledge: for I have beleeved thy commandments.

67 Before I was [b] afflicted, I went aſtray: but now have I kept thy word.

68 Thou art good, and doeſt good; teach me thy ſtatutes.

69 The proud have forged a lie againſt me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 [c] Their heart is as fat as greaſe, but I delight in thy law.

71 It is [d] good for me that I have been afflicted: that I might learn thy ſtatutes.

72 * The law of thy mouth is better unto me, than thouſands of gold and ſilver.

JOD.

73 Thy hands have [a] made me and faſhioned me: give me underſtanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

74 They that [b] fear thee, will be glad when they ſee me: becauſe I have hoped in thy word.

75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgements are † right, and that thou in faithfulneſſe haſt afflicted me.

76 Let, I pray thee, thy mercifull kindneſſe be † for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy ſervant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may [c] live: for thy law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be aſhamed, for they dealt perverſely with me without a cauſe: but I will meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let thoſe that fear thee, [d] turn unto me, and thoſe that have known thy [e] teſtimonies.

80 Let my heart be ſound in thy ſtatutes; that I be not aſhamed.

CAPH.

81 My ſoul [a] fainteth for thy ſalvation: but I hope in thy word.

82 Mine eyes fail for thy word, ſaying, When wilt thou comfort me:

83 For I am become like a [b] bottle in the ſmoke: yet do I not forget thy ſtatutes.

84 How many are the [c] dayes of thy ſervant? when wilt thou execute judgement on them that perſecute me?

85 The proud have [d] digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.

86 All thy commandments are † faithfull: they perſecute me wrongfully; [e] help thou me.

87 They had almoſt [f] conſumed me upon earth: but I forſook not thy precepts.

LAMED.

89 For ever, O LORD, thy word is ſettled in [a] heaven.

90 Thy faithfulneſſe is † unto all generations: thou haſt eſtabliſhed the earth, and it † abideth.

91 They [b] continue this day according to thine ordinances: for all are thy ſervants.

92 Unleſſe thy law had been my delights, I ſhould then have periſhed in mine affliction.

93 I will never forget thy precepts: for with them thou haſt quickened me.

94 I am [c] thine, ſave me: for I have ſought thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to deſtroy me: but I will conſider thy teſtimonies.

96 I [d] have ſeen an end of all perfection; but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

MEM.

97 O how love I thy law! [a] it is my meditation all the day.

98 Thou through thy commandments haſt made me wiſer than mine enemies: for † they are ever with me.

99 I have more [b] underſtanding than all my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my meditation.

100 I underſtand more than the ancients: becauſe I keep thy precepts.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way: that I may keep thy word.

102 I have not departed from thy judgements: [c] for thou haſt taught me.

103 * How ſweet are thy words unto my † taſte! yea, ſweeter than honey to my mouth.

104 Through thy precepts I get underſtanding: therefore I hate every falſe way.

NUN.

105 Thy word is a ‡ [a] lamp unto my feet, and a light unto ‡ my path.

106 I have [b] ſworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgements.

107 I am afflicted very much: quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beſeech thee, the [c] free-will-offerings of my mouth, O LORD, and teach me thy judgements.

109 [d] My ſoul is continually in my hand: yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a ſnare for me: yet I erred not from thy precepts.

111 Thy teſtimonies have I taken as an [e] heritage for ever: for they are the rejoycing of my heart.

112 I have inclined mine heart † to perform thy ſtatutes alway, even unto the end.

SAMECH.

113 I hate [a] vain thoughts: but thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding-place, and my ſhield: I hope in thy word.

115 * [b] Depart from me, ye evil-doers; for I will keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live: and let me not be aſhamed of my hope.

117 [c] Hold thou me up, and I ſhall be ſafe: and I will have reſpect unto thy ſtatutes continually.

118 Thou haſt troden down all them that erre from thy ſtatutes: for their [d] deceit is falſhood.

119 Thou † putteſt away all the wicked of the earth like [e] droſſe: therefore I love thy teſtimonies.

120 My fleſh [f] trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgements.

AIN.

121 I have done judgement and juſtice: leave me not to mine oppreſſours.

122 [a] Be ſuretie for thy ſervant for good: let not the proud oppreſſe me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy ſalvation, and for the word of thy righteouſneſſe.

124 Deal with thy [b] ſervant according unto thy mercie, and teach me thy ſtatutes.

125 I am thy ſervant, give me underſtanding, that I may know thy teſtimonies.

126 [c] It is time for thee, LORD, to work: for they have made void thy law.

127 * Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, yea above fine gold.

128 Therefore I eſteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate [d] every falſe way.

PE.

129 Thy teſtimonies are [a] wonderfull: therefore doth my ſoul keep them.

130 The entrance of thy [b] words giveth light: it giveth underſtanding unto the ſimple.

131 I opened my mouth, and [c] panted: for I longed for thy commandments.

132 Look thou upon me, and be mercifull unto me, † as thou uſeſt to do unto thoſe that love thy name.

133 Order my ſteps in thy word: and let not any iniquitie have dominion over me.

134 Deliver me from the oppreſſion of man: ſo will I keep thy precepts.

135 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: and teach me thy ſtatutes.

136 Rivers of waters [d] run down mine eyes: becauſe they keep not thy law.

TSADDI.

137 Righteous art thou, O LORD, and upright are thy judgements.

138 Thy teſtimonies that thou haſt commanded, are † [a] righteous, and very † faithfull.

139 * My zeal hath † conſumed me: becauſe mine enemies have forgotten thy words.

150 They draw nigh that follow after [c] miſchief: they are farre from thy law.

151 Thou art neare, O LORD: and all thy commandments are truth.

152 Concerning thy teſtimonies, I have [d] known of old, that thou haſt founded them for ever.

RESH.

153 Conſider mine affliction, and deliver me: for I do not forget thy law.

154 Plead my cauſe, and deliver me: quicken me according to thy [a] word.

155 Salvation is farre from the wicked: for they ſeek not thy ſtatutes.

156 ‡ Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD: quicken me according to thy [b] judgments.

b He sheweth that Gods providence not only watcheth over his church in generall, but alſo every member thereof.

5 The LORD is thy keeper: the LORD is thy ſhade upon thy right hand.

6 The ſunne ſhall not [c] ſmite thee by day; nor the moon by night.

c Neither heat nor cold, nor any incommoditie ſhall be able to deſtroy Gods church: albeit for a time they moleſt it.

7 The LORD ſhall preſerve thee from all evil: he ſhall preſerve thy ſoul.

8 The LORD ſhall [d] preſerve thy going out,

d Whatſoever thou doeſt enterpriſe, ſhall have good ſucceſſe.

and

and thy coming in: from this time forth and even for evermore.

Psal. CXXII.

1 David professeth his joy for the church, 6 and prayeth for the peace thereof.

A song of degrees of David.

I Was [a] glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the LORD.

2 Our [b] feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.

3 Jerusalem is builded as a citie, that is [c] compact together:

4 Whither the [d] tribes go up, the tribes of the LORD, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the LORD.

5 For there † are set thrones of judgement: the thrones of the house of [e] David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

7 Peace be within thy [f] walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.

8 For my [g] brethren and companions sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.

9 Because of the house of the LORD our God, I will seek thy good.

a He rejoyceth that God had appointed a place where the ark should still remain.
b Which were wont to wander to and fro as the ark removed.
c By the artificiall joyning and beauty of the houses, he meaneth the concord, and love that was between the citizens.
d All the tribes according to Gods covenant shall come and pray there, † Heb. to sit.
e In whose house God placed the throne of justice, and made it a figure of Christs kingdome.
f The favour of God prosper thee within and without.
g Not only for mine own sake, but for all the faithfull.

Psal. CXXIII.

1 The godly professe their confidence in God, and pray to be delivered from contempt.

A song of degrees.

VNto thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of [a] servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes wait upon the LORD our God, untill that he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us: for we are [b] exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud.

a He compareth the condition of the godly to servants that are destitute of all help, assuring that when all other helps fail, God is ever at hand and like himself.
b He declareth that when the faithfull are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scornings of the wicked, there is alway help above, if with hungry desires they call for it.

Psal. CXXIIII.

The church blesseth God for a miraculous deliverance.

A song of degrees of David.

IF [a] it had not been the LORD who was on our side, now may Israel say:

2 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, when men rose up against us:

3 Then they had swallowed us up [b] quick, when their wrath was kindled against us:

4 Then the [c] waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul.

5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.

6 Blessed be the LORD, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the [d] snare of the fowlers; the snare is broken, and we are escaped.

8 * Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

a He sheweth that God was ready to help at need, and that there was none other way to be saved, but by his only means.
b So unable were we to resist.
c He useth most proper similitudes to expresse the great danger that the church was in, and out of the which God miraculously delivered them.
d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.
* Psal. 121:2.

1 The safety of such as trust in God. 4 A prayer for the godly; and against the wicked.

A song of degrees.

THey that trust in the LORD shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be [a] removed, but abideth for ever.

2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people, from henceforth even for ever.

3 For the [b] rod of † the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous: lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquitie.

4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

5 [c] As for such as turn aside unto their crooked wayes, the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel.

a Though the world be subject to mutation, yet the people of God shall stand sure, and be defended by Gods providence.
b Though God suffer his to be under the crosse, lest they should imbrace wickednesse, yet this crosse shall not so rest upon them that it should drive them from hope.
† Heb. wickednesse.
c He desireth God to purge his church from hypocrites, and such as have not zeal of the truth.

Psal. CXXVI.

1 The church celebrating her incredible return out of captivitie, 4 prayeth for, and prophesieth the good successe thereof.

A song of degrees.

WHen the LORD † turned again the captivity of Zion: we were like them that [a] dream.

2 Then was our mouth [b] filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the [c] heathen, The LORD † hath done great things for them.

3 The LORD hath done great things for us: whereof we are glad.

4 Turn again our [d] captivitie, O LORD, as the streams in the south.

5 They that sow in tears, shall reap in ‡ joy.

6 He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing ‡ [e] precious seed, shall doubtlesse come again with rejoycing, bringing his sheaves with him.

XXVII Day. Evening prayer.

† Heb. returned the returning of Zion.
a Their deliverance was as a thing incredible, and therefore took away all excuse of ingratitude.
b He sheweth how the godly ought to rejoyce, when God gathered his church, or delivereth it.
c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderfull work, the faithfull can never shew themselves sufficiently thankfull.
† Heb. hath magnified to do with them.
d That is, the rest of the captives which remain yet behind, bring them also: so Captivitie is for Captives, Ezech. 11:24,25. ‡ Or, singing. ‡ Or, seed-basket.
e That is, seed which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to return, had their desire.

Psal. CXXVII.

1 The vertue of Gods blessing. 3 Good children are his gift.

A song of degrees ‡ for Solomon.

‡ Or, of Solomon.

EXcept the LORD [a] build the house, they labour in vain that † build it: except the LORD keep the [b] city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2 It is vain for [c] you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of [d] sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved [e] sleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the wombe is his reward.

4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man: so are [f] children of the youth.

5 Happy is the man that † hath his quiver full of them: they [g] shall not be ashamed, but they ‡ shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

a That is, govern and dispose all things pertaining to the family.
† Heb. are builders of it in it.
b The publick estate of the common-wealth.
c Which watch and ward, and are also magistrates, and rulers of the citie.
d Either that which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with grief of minde.
e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest.
f That is, indeed with strength and vertues from God, for these are signes of Gods blessing and not the number.
† Heb. hath filled his quiver with them. g Such children shall be able to stop their adversaries mouthes, when their godly life is maliciously accused before judges. ‡ Or, shall subdue, as Psal. 18:47. or, destroy.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

The sundry blessings which follow them that fear God.

A song of degrees.

BLesſed is every one that feareth the LORD; that walketh in his [a] wayes.

2 For thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine [b] hands: happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife ſhall be as a fruitfull vine by the ſides of thine houſe: thy [c] children like olive plants, round about thy table.

4 Behold, that thus ſhall the man be bleſſed, that feareth the LORD.

5 The LORD ſhall [d] bleſſe thee out of Zion: and thou ſhalt ſee the good of [e] Jeruſalem, all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſee thy childrens children, and peace upon Iſrael.

a God approveth not our life, except it be reformed according to his word.
b The world eſteemeth them happy, which live in wealth, and idleneſſe, but the holy Ghoſt approveth them beſt, that live of the mean profit of their labours.
c Becauſe Gods favour appeareth in none outward thing more than in increaſe of children he promiſeth to enrich the faithfull with this gift.
d Becauſe of the ſpirituall bleſſing, which God hath made to his church theſe temporall things ſhall be granted.
e For except God bleſſed his church publikely, this private bleſſing were nothing.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God for ſaving Iſrael in their great afflictions. 5 The haters of the church are curſed.

A ſong of degrees

‡ MAny a time have they afflicted me from my youth, may [a] Iſrael now ſay:

2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth: yet they have not prevailed againſt me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back: they made long their furrows.

4 The LORD is [b] righteous: he hath cut aſunder the cords of the wicked.

5 Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.

6 [c] Let them be as the graſſe upon the houſe tops, which [d] withereth afore it groweth up:

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand: nor he that bindeth sheaves, his boſome.

8 Neither do they which go by, ſay, The bleſſing of the LORD be upon you: we bleſſe you in the name of the LORD.

† Or, much.
a The church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath ever been ſuch from the beginning, to be moleſted moſt grievouſly by the wicked: yet in time it hath ever been delivered.
b Becauſe God is righteous, he cannot but plague his adverſaries, and deliver his, as oxen out of the plough.
c The enemies that lift themſelves moſt high, and as it were approch neare to the ſun, are conſumed with heat of Gods wrath, becauſe they are not grounded in godly humilitie.
d The Chaldee explains it: which before it flouriſheth, an eaſt winde cometh, and bloweth on it, and it withereth.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The pſalmiſt profeſſeth his hope in prayer, 5 and his patience in hope. 7 He exhorteth Iſrael to hope in God.

A ſong of degrees.

OUt of the [a] depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD.

2 Lord heare my voice: let thine eares be attentive to the voice of my ſupplications.

3 If thou, LORD, ſhouldeſt mark iniquities: O Lord, [b] who ſhall ſtand?

4 But there is forgiveneſſe with thee: that thou [c] mayeſt be feared.

5 I wait for the LORD, my ſoul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

6 My ſoul waiteth for the Lord, more than they that watch for the morning: ‡ I ſay, more than they that watch for the morning.

7 Let Iſrael hope in the LORD, for with the LORD there is [d] mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he ſhall redeem Iſrael from all his iniquities.

a Being in great diſtreſſe and ſorrow with heartie deep affections, and lowlineſſe of minde.
b He declareth that we cannot be juſt before God, but by forgiveneſſe of ſins.
c Becauſe of nature thou art mercifull: therefore the faithfull reverence thee.
‡ Or, which watch unto the morning.
d He ſheweth to whom the mercy of God doth appertain, to Iſrael: that is, to the church and not to the reprobate.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 David profeſſing his humilitie. 3 exhorteth Iſrael to hope in God.

XXVIII Day. Morning prayer.

1 David in his prayer commendeth unto God the religious care he had for the ark. 8 His prayer at the removing of the ark, 11 with a repetition of Gods promiſes.

A ſong of degrees.

LORD remember David, and all his [a] afflictions:

2 How he ſware unto the LORD, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob.

3 Surely [b] I will not come into the tabernacle of my houſe, nor go up into my bed:

4 I will not give ſleep to mine eyes, or ſlumber to mine eye-lids,

5 Untill I finde out a place for the [c] LORD: † an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it at [d] Ephratah we found it in the fields of the wood.

7 We will go into his tabernacles: we will worſhip at his footſtool.

8 * Ariſe, O LORD, into thy [e] reſt thou, and the ark of thy ſtrength.

9 Let thy prieſts be clothed with [f] righteouſneſſe: and let thy ſaints ſhout for joy.

10 For thy ſervant [g] Davids ſake, turn not away the face of thine anointed.

11 The LORD hath ſworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it, * Of the fruit of † thy body will I ſet upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my teſtimonie, that I ſhall teach them; their children alſo ſhall ſit upon thy throne [h] for evermore.

13 For the LORD hath choſen Zion: he hath deſired it for his habitation.

14 This is my reſt for ever: here will I dwell, for I have [i] deſired it.

15 I will ‡ abundantly bleſſe her proviſion, I will ſatisfie her poore with bread.

16 I will alſo clothe her prieſts with [k] ſalvation: and her ſaints ſhall shout aloud for joy.

17 * There will I make the [l] horn of David to bud: I have ordained a ‡ lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with ſhame: but upon himſelf ſhall his crown flourish.

a That is, with how great difficultie he came to the kingdome, and with how great zeal and care he went about to build thy temple.
b Becauſe the chiefe charge of the king was to ſet forth Gods glorie, he ſheweth that he could take no reſt, neither would go about any worldly thing, were it never ſo neceſſarie, before he had executed his office.
c That is, the ark, which was a ſigne of Gods preſence.
† Heb. habitation.
d The common bruit was, that the ark ſhould remain in Ephratah: that is in Beth le-hem, a plentifull place: but after we perceived that thou wouldeſt place it in Jeruſalem, which was barren as a foreſt, and compaſſed about only with hils.
* Num. 10: 35. 2 Chron. 6: 41.
e That is, Jeruſalem, becauſe that afterward his ark ſhould remove to none other place.
f Let the effect of thy grace, both appeare in the prieſts and in the people.
g As thou haſt madeſt promiſe to David, ſo continue it to his poſteritie, that whatſoever they ſhall aſk for their people, it may be granted.
* 2 Sam. 7: 12. 1 Kings 8. 25. 2 Chron. 6: 16. Luke 1: 69. Acts 2: 30.
† Heb. thy belly.
h Becauſe this cannot be accompliſhed but in Chriſt, it followeth that the promiſe was ſpirituall.
i Meaning, for his own ſake, and not for the plentifulneſſe of the place: for he promiſeth to bleſſe it, declaring before, that it was barren.
‡ Or, ſurely.
k That is, with my protection, whereby they ſhall be ſafe.
* Luke 1: 69.
l Though his force for a time ſeemed to be broken, yet he promiſeth to reſtore it.
‡ Or, candle.

Psal. CXXXIII.

The benefit of the communion of saints.

A song of degrees of David.

BEhold, how good and how pleasant it is, for brethren to dwell † [a] together in unitie.

2 It is like the [b] precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aarons beard, that went down to the skirts of his garments.

3 As the dew of [c] Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion, for [d] there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

† Heb. even together.

a Because the greatest part were against David, though some favoured him, yet when he was established king, at length they joyned altogether like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly love.

b The ointment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head unto his church.

c By Hermon and Zion, he meaneth the plentifull countrey about Jerusalem.

d Where there is such concord.

Psal. CXXXIIII.

An exhortation to blesse God.

A song of degrees.

BEhold, blesse ye the LORD, all ye [a] servants of the LORD, which by night stand in the house of the LORD.

2 Lift up your [b] hands ‡ in the sanctuary: and blesse the LORD.

3 The LORD that [c] made heaven and earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

a Ye that are Levites, and chiefly appointed to this office.

b For their charge was not onely to keep the temple, but to pray there and to give God thanks.

‡ Or, in holinesse.

c And therefore hath all power, blesse thee with his fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Levites used to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

Psal. CXXXV.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy, 5 for his power, 8 for his judgements. 15 The vanity of idols. 19 An exhortation to blesse God.

PRaise ye the LORD, praise ye the name of the LORD, praise him, O ye servants of the LORD.

2 Ye that stand in the [a] house of the LORD, in the [b] courts of the house of our God.

3 Praise ye the LORD, for the LORD is good: sing praises unto his name, for it is pleasant.

4 For the LORD hath [c] chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure.

5 For I know that the LORD is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that [d] did he in heaven and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.

7 * He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings for the rain: he bringeth the winde out of his treasuries.

8 * Who smote the first-born of Egypt, † both of man and beast.

9 Who sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

10 * Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings:

11 Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 * And [e] gave their land for an heritage, an heritage unto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O LORD, endureth for ever, and thy memoriall, O LORD, † throughout all genetations.

14 For the LORD will [f] judge his people, and he will repent himself concerning his servants.

a Ye Levites that are in his sanctuarie.

b Meaning, the people: for the people and Levites had their courts, which were places of the temple separate.

c That is, hath freely loved the posteritie of Abraham.

d He joyneth Gods power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby he willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples.

15 * The [g] idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of mens hands.

16 They have mouthes, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not.

17 They have eares, but they heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouthes.

18 They that make them are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them.

19 Blesse the LORD, O house of Israel: blesse the LORD, O house of Aaron.

20 Blesse the LORD, O house of Levi: ye that fear the LORD, blesse the LORD.

21 Blessed be the LORD out of Zion, which dwelleth at Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

* Psal. 115: 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, he warneth the people to beware the like offence, seeing that idols have neither power nor life, and that their deliverance came not by idols, but by the mighty power of God.

Psal. CXXXVI.

An exhortation to give thanks to God for particular mercies.

XXVIII Day. Evening prayer.

O * Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his [a] mercy endureth for ever.

2 O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.

3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 To him who alone doth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.

5 * To him that by wisdome made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 Even an heritage unto Israel his servant: for his mercy endureth for ever.

* Psal. 106: 1. and 107: 1. and 118: 1.

* Gen. 1: 1.

* Gen. 1: 9. Jer. 10: 12.

b This was a common kinde of thanksgiving, which the whole used when the people had received any benefit of God, as XXIX Day. Morning prayer.

1 David praiſeth God for his all-ſeeing providence, 17 and for his infinite mercie. 19 He deſieth the wicked. 23 He prayeth for ſinceritie.

To the chief muſician, A pſalme of David.

O LORD, thou haſt ſearched me, and known me.

2 Thou knoweſt my [a] down-ſitting, and mine up-riſing, thou underſtandeſt my throught afarre off.

3 Thou ‡ [b] compaſſeſt my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my wayes.

4 For there is not [c] a word in my tongue, but lo, O LORD, thou knoweſt it altogether.

5 Thou haſt beſet me behinde and before, and [d] laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderfull for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither ſhall I go from thy [e] ſpirit? or whither ſhall I flee from thy preſence?

8 * If I aſcend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermoſt parts of the ſea:

10 Even there ſhall thy [f] hand lead me, and thy right hand ſhall hold me.

11 If I ſay, Surely the darkneſſe ſhall cover me: even the night ſhall be [g] light about me.

12 Yea, * the darkneſſe † hideth not from thee, but the night ſhineth as the day: † the darkneſſe and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou haſt [h] poſſeſſed my reins: thou haſt covered me in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praiſe thee, for I am [i] fearfully and wonderfully made; marvellous are thy works, and that my ſoul knoweth † right well.

15 My ‡ ſubſtance was not hid from thee, when I was made in ſecret; and curiouſly wrought in the [k] loweſt parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did ſee my ſubſtance yet being unperfect, and in thy [l] book † all my members were written, ‡ which in continuance were faſhioned, when as yet there was none of them.

17 * How [m] precious alſo are thy thoughts unto me, O God; how great is the ſumme of them?

18 If I ſhould count them, they are mo in number than the ſand: when I awake, [n] I am ſtill with thee.

19 Surely thou wilt ſlay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore ye bloudy men.

20 For they ſpeak againſt thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I [o] hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with thoſe that riſe up againſt thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: trie me, and know my thoughts.

24 And

a He confeſſeth that neither our actions, thoughts, or any part of our life can be hid from God, though he ſeem to be farre off.
‡ Or, winnoweſt.
b So that they are evidently known to thee.
c Thou knoweſt my meaning before I ſpeak.
d Thou ſo gnideſt me with thine hand, that I can turn no way, but where thou appointeſt me.
e From thy power and knowledge.
* Amos 9: 2, 3, 4.
f Thy power doth ſo faſt hold me, that I can eſcape by no means from thee.

* Job 26: 6. Hebr. 4: 12.

† Heb. as is the darkneſſe ſo is the light.
h Thou haſt made me in all parts, and therefore muſt needs know me.
i Conſidering thy wonderfull works in forming me, I cannot but praiſe thee, and feare thy mightie power.
† Heb. greatly.
‡ Or, ſtrength, or body.
k That is, in my mothers wombe: which he compareth to the inward parts of the earth.
l Seeing that thou didſt know me before I was compoſed of either fleſh or bone, much more now muſt thou know me, when thou haſt faſhioned me.
† Heb. all of them.
‡ Or, what dayes they ſhould be faſhioned.
* Pſalm 40: 5.
m How ought we to eſteem the excellent declaration of thy wiſdome in the creation of man.
n I continually ſee new occaſions to meditate in thy wiſdome, and to praiſe thee.
o He teacheth us boldly to contemn all the hatred of the wicked, and friendſhip of the world, when they would let us to ſerve God ſincerely.

† Heb. way of pain, or grief.
p Or, any heinous way, or rebellious meaning, that though he were ſubject to ſinne, yet was he not given to wickedneſſe, and to provoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy favour towards me to the end.

24 And ſee if there be any † [p] wicked way in me, and lead me in the [q] way everlaſting.

6 I ſaid unto the LORD, Thou art my God: heare the voice of my ſupplications, O LORD.

e He calleth to God with lively faith, being aſſured of his mercies, becauſe he had before time proved, that God helped him ever in his dangers.

7 O GOD the Lord, the ſtrength of my ſalvation; thou haſt [e] covered my head in the day of battel.

8 Grant not, O LORD, the deſires of the wicked, [f] further not his wicked device, ‡ leſt they exalt themſelves. Selah.

9 As for the [g] head of thoſe that compaſſe me about, let the miſchief of their own lips cover them.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them, let them [h] be caſt into the fire; into deep pits, that they riſe not up again.

11 Let not † ‡ an evil-ſpeaker be eſtabliſhed in the earth; evil ſhall [i] hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

LORD, I [a] crie unto thee, make haſte unto me, give eare unto my voice, when I crie unto thee.

2 Let my prayer be † ſet forth before thee as incenſe; and the [b] lifting up of my hands, as the evening ſacrifice.

3 Set a watch (O LORD) before my mouth, keep the [c] doore of my lips.

5 ‡ Let the righteous ſmite me, it ſhall be a kindneſſe; and let [e] him reprove me, it ſhall be an excellent oyl, which ſhall not break my head: for yet my [f] prayer alſo ſhall be in their calamities.

‡ Or, let the righteous ſmite me kindly, and reprove me; let not their precious oyl break my head, &c.
e He could abide all corrections that came of a loving heart.
f By patience I ſhall ſee the wicked ſo sharply handled, that I ſhall for pitie pray for them.

6 When their judges are overthrown in ſtonie places, they ſhall [g] heare my words, for they are ſweet.

7 Our bones are ſcattered at the [h] graves mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.

g The people which followed their wicked rulers in perſecuting the prophet, ſhall repent and turn to God, when they ſee their wicked rulers punished.
h Here appeareth that David was miraculouſly delivered out of many deaths, as 2 Cor. 1: 9, 10.

a Davids patience and inſtant prayer to God, contemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either deſpaire and murmure againſt God, or elſe to ſeek to others than to God, to have redreſſe in their miſeries.

I Cried unto the LORD with my voice: with my voice unto the LORD did I make [a] my ſupplication.

6 Attend unto my crie, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my perſecutours; for they are ſtronger than I.

7 Bring my ſoul out of [c] priſon, that I may praiſe thy name: the righteous ſhall [d] compaſſe me about: for thou ſhalt deal bountifully with me.

1 David prayeth for favour in judgement. 3 He complaineth of his griefs. 5 He ſtrengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer. 7 He prayeth for grace, 9 for deliverance, 10 for ſanctification, 12 for deſtruction of his enemies.

A pſalme of David.

b That is, according to thy free goodneſſe whereby thou defendeſt thine.
* Exod. 34: 7. Rom. 3: 20. Gal. 2: 16.
c He knew that his afflictions were Gods meſſengers to call him to repentance for his ſinnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods ſight all men are ſinners. d He acknowledgeth that God is the only and true Phyſician to heal him: and that he is able to raiſe him to life, though he were dead long ago, and turned to aſhes.

HEare my prayer, O LORD, give eare to my ſupplications: in thy [a] faithfulneſſe anſwer me, and in thy [b] righteouſneſſe.

2 And enter not into judgement with thy ſervant, for * in thy [c] ſight ſhall no man living be juſtified.

3 For the enemy hath perſecuted my ſoul, he hath ſmitten my life down to the ground: he hath made me to dwell in darkneſſe, as thoſe that have been [d] long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me: my [c] heart within me is desolate.

5 I remember the dayes of [f] old, I meditate on all thy works: I muse on the work of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land. Selah.

7 Heare me speedily, O LORD, my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, ‡ lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to heare thy loving-kindnesse in the [g] morning, for in thee do I trust: cause me to [h] know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies: I † flee unto thee to [i] hide me.

10 [k] Teach me to [l] do thy will, for thou art my God: thy spirit is good, lead me into the land of uprightnesse.

11 Quicken me, O LORD, for thy names sake: for thy righteousnesse sake bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And of thy mercy [m] cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am [n] thy servant.

c So that onely by faith, and by the grace of Gods spirit he was upholden.

4 * Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are as a shadow that passeth away.

10 It is he that giveth ‡ salvation unto kings: who delivereth David his [i] servant from the hurtfull sword.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 The psalmist voweth perpetuall praises to God. 3 He exhorteth, not to trust in man. 5 God for his power, justice, mercy, and kingdome, is onely worthy to be trusted.

† PRaise ye the LORD: praise the LORD, O my [a] soul.

d He encourageth the godly to trust only in the Lord, both for that his power is able to deliver them from all dangers, and for his promise sake his will is most ready to do it.
e Whose faith and patience for a while he trieth, but at length he punisheth the adversaries, that he may be known to be judge of the world.
f Though he visit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment, and such like, yet his fatherly love and pity never faileth them; yea rather to his, these are signes of his love.
g Meaning all them that are destitute of worldly means and succour.

PSAL. CXLVII.

XXX Day. Evening prayer.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God, for his care of the church, 4 his power, 6 and his mercy: 7 to praise him for his providence: 12 to praise him for his blessings upon the kingdome, 15 for his power over the meteors, 19 and for his ordinances.

PRaise ye the LORD: for it is good to sing praise unto our God: for it is [a] pleasant, and praise is comely.

2 The LORD doth build up [b] Jerusalem: he gathereth together the outcasts of Israel.

3 He healeth the [c] broken in heart, and bindeth up their † wounds.

4 He [d] telleth the number of the starres: he calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power: † his understanding is infinite.

6 The LORD lifteth up the meek: he casteth the wicked down to the [e] ground.

7 Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving: sing praise upon the harp unto our God:

a He sheweth wherein we ought to exercise our selves continually, and to take our pastime: to wit, in praising God.
b Because the Lord is the founder of the church it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seem, as it were for a time to be cut off.
c With affliction or sorrow for sinne.
† Heb. griefs.
d Though it seem to man incredible, that God should assemble his church, being so dispersed: yet nothing can be too hard to him that can number and name the stars: see Gen. 15: 5. Jer. 33: 22. Isa. 40: 26.
† Heb. of his understanding there is no number.
e For the more high that the wicked climbe, the greater is their fall in the end.

8 Who [f] covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grasse to grow upon the mountains.

9 * He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which [g] cry.

10 He delighteth not in the [h] strength of the horse: he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.

11 The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.

12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem, praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For he hath [i] strengthened the barres of thy gates, he hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 † He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the † finest of the wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his [k] commandment upon earth: his word runneth very [l] swiftly.

16 He giveth snow like wool: he scattereth the hoar frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can stand before his cold?

18 He sendeth out his word and melteth them: he causeth his winde to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth † his [m] word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgements unto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgements, they have not [n] known them. Praise ye the LORD.

f He sheweth the examples of Gods mighty power, goodnesse, and wisdome, that we can never want most just occasion to praise God.
* Job 38: 41. Psal. 104: 27, 28.
g For their crying is as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved, but by God only: then if God shew himself mindfull of the most contemptible fowls, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of live everlasting?
h Though to use lawfull means is both profitable and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour.
i He doth not only furnish this church with all things necessarie, but preserveth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force.
† Heb. who maketh thy border peace.
† Heb. fat of wheat.
k His secret working in all creatures, is as a commandement to keep them in order, and to give them moving and force.
l For immediately and without resisting all things obey him.
† Heb. his words.
m As before called Gods secret working in all his creatures, his word, so he meaneth here by his word, the doctrin of life everlasting, which he hath left to his church, as a most precious treasure.
n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercy, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Jesus to salvation: and his just judgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobare to eternall damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the celestiall, 7 the terrestriall. 11 and the rationall creatures to praise God.

† PRaise ye the LORD. Praise ye the LORD from the heavens: praise him in the heights.

† Heb. Hallelujah.

2 Praise ye him all his [a] angels: praise ye him all his hosts.

3 Praise ye him [b] sunne and moon: praise him all ye starres of light.

4 Praise him ye [c] heavens of heavens, and ye [d] waters that be above the heavens.

5 Let them praise the name of the LORD: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 He hath also stablished them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not passe.

7 Praise the LORD from the earth; ye [e] dragons and all deeps.

8 [f] Fire and hail, snow and vapour, stormie winde fulfilling his word.

9 Mountains and all hills, fruitfull trees and all cedars.

10 Beasts and all cattel, creeping things, and † flying fowl.

11 [g] Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth.

a Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach us to doe our dutie.
b In that Gods glory shineth in these insensible creatures, their beauty is as a continuall praising of God.
c Not that there are divers heavens, but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed starrs and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heaven.
d That is, the rain, which is in the middle region of the aire, which he here comprehendeth under the name of the heavens.
e Meaning the great and monstrous fishes, as whales, and such like.
f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance.
† Heb. birds of wing.
g For the greater gifts that any hath received, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither high nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie.

12 Both young men and maidens, old men and children.

13 Let them praise the name of the LORD: for his name alone is † excellent, his glorie is above the earth and heaven.

† Heb. exalted.

14 He also exalteth the [h] horn of his people, the praise of all his saints: even of the [i] children of Israel, a people neare unto him. Praise ye the LORD.

h That is, the dignity, power, and glory of his church.
i By reason of his covenant made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God for his love to the church, 5 and for that power which he hath given to the church, for the conversion of sinners.

† PRaise ye the LORD: sing unto the LORD [a] a new song, and his praise in the congregation of saints.

† Heb. hallelujah.

2 Let Israel rejoyce in him that [b] made him: let the children of Zion be joyfull in their [c] king.

3 Let them praise his name ‡ in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.

4 For the LORD taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautifie the meek with salvation.

5 Let the saints be joyfull in glory: let them sing aloud upon their [d] beds.

6 Let the high praises of God be † in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand, † Heb. in their throat.

7 To [e] execute vengeance upon the heathen: and punishments upon the people.

8 To binde their [f] kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron.

9 * To execute upon them the judgement [g] written: this honour have all his saints. Praise ye the LORD.

a For his rare and manifold benefits bestowed on his church.
b In that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore Psal. 95: 7. they were called the sheep of Gods hands.
c For God, as he is the Creatour of the soul and body, so will he that both do serve him, and that his people be continually subject unto him, as their most lawfull king.
‡ Or, with the pipe.
d He alludeth to that continuall rest and quietnesse, which they should have, if they would suffer God to rule them. e That is, chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for just causes execute Gods judgements against his enemies: and it giveth no liberty to any to revenge their private injuries.
f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed.
* Deut. 7. verse 1, 2.
g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his, to enterprise no further then he appointeth.

PSAL. CL.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 3 with all kinde of instruments.

† PRaise ye the LORD. Praise God in his [a] sanctuarie: praise him the [b] firmament of his power.

† Heb. hallelujah.

2 Praise him for his mightie acts: praise him according to his excellent greatnesse,

3 Praise him with the sound of the ‡ [c] trumpet: praise him with the psalterie and harp.

4 Praise him with the timbrel and † dance: praise him with stringed instruments, and organs.

5 Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high-sounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath [d] breath, praise the LORD. Praise ye the LORD.

a That is, in the heaven.
b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mighty work of God shineth.
† Or, cornet.
c Exhorting the people onely to rejoyce in praising God, he maketh mention of those instruments which by Gods commandement were appointed in the old law, but under Christ the use thereof is abolished in the church.
‡ Or, pipe.
d He sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this dury, and much more Gods children, who ought never to cease to him, till they be gathered into that kingdome, which he hath prepared for his, where they shall sing everlasting praise.

THE * PROVERBS.

* This word Proverb, or Parable, signifieth a grave and notable sentence, worthy to be kept in memorie: and is sometime taken in the evil part, for a mock or scoff.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe wonderfull love of God toward his church, is declared in this book: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole scripture is here set forth in these brief sentences, which partly contain doctrin, and partly manners, and also exhortations to both: whereof the nine first chapters, are as a preface full of grave sentences and deep mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow; which are left as a most precious jewell to the church, of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1 King. 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Solomons servants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The use of the proverbs. 7 An exhortation to fear God, and beleeve his word. 10 To avoid the entisings of sinners. 20 Wisdome complaineth of her contempt. 24 She threatneth her contemners.

THe Proverbs of Solomon the sonne of David, king of Israel.

2 To know wisdome and [a] instruction, to perceive the [b] words of understanding;

a That is, what we ought to know and follow, and what we ought to refuse.
b Meaning, the word of God, wherein is the only true knowledge.

3 To receive the [c] instruction of wisdome, [d] justice, and judgement, and † equitie;

c To learn to submit our selves to the correction of those that are wise.
d By living justly, and rendring to every man that which appertaineth unto him.
† Heb. equities.

4 To give subtiltie to the [e] simple, to the young man knowledge and ‡ discretion.

e To such as have no discretion to rule themselves.
‡ Or, advisement.

5 A wise man will heare, and will increase learning: and a man of [f] understanding shall attain unto wise counsels:

f As he sheweth that these parables containing the effect of religion, as touching manners and doctrine, do appertain to the simple people: so doth he declare that the same is also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.

6 To understand a proverb, and ‡ the interpretation; the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.

‡ Or, an eloquent speech.

7 ¶ * The fear of the Lord is ‡ the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdome and instruction.

* Job 28: 28. Psal. 111: 10. Chap 9: 10.
‡ Or, the principall part.

8 My sonne, heare the instruction of thy [g] father, and forsake not the law of thy [h] mother.

g He speaketh this in the name of God, which is the universall father of all creatures, or in the name of the pastour of the church, who is as a father.
h That is, of the church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seed of Gods word.

9 For they shall be † an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

† Heb. an adding.

10 ¶ My sonne, if [i] sinners entice thee, consent thou not.

i To wit, the wicked which have not the fear of God.

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for [k] bloud, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause:

k He speaketh not only of the shedding of bloud with hand, but of all craftie practises which tend to the detriment of our neighbour.

12 Let us swallow them up alive as the grave, and whole, as those that go down into the pit:

13 We shall finde all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil:

l As the grave is never satiate, so the avarice of the wicked and their crueltie hath none end.

14 Cast

14 Caſt in thy lot among us, let us all have one [m] purſe.

15 My ſonne, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their [n] path.

16 * For their feet run to evil, and make haſte to ſhed bloud.

17 Surely in vain the net is ſpread † in the ſight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own bloud, they lurk privily for their own [o] lives.

19 So are the wayes of every one that is greedy of gain: which taketh away the [p] life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ * † [q] Wiſdome crieth without, ſhe uttereth her voice in the [r] ſtreets:

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourſe, in the openings of the gates: in the citie ſhe uttereth her words, ſaying, 22 How long, ye [ſ] ſimple ones, will ye love ſimplicitie? and the ſcorners delight in their ſcorning, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will poure out my ſpirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 ¶ * Becauſe I have called, and ye refuſed, I have ſtretched out my hand, and no man regarded;

25 But ye have ſet at nought all my counſel, and would none of my reproof:

26 I alſo will [t] laugh at your calamitie, I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your [u] fear cometh as deſolation, and your deſtruction cometh as a whirlwinde; when diſtreſſe and anguiſh cometh upon you.

28 * Then ſhall they call upon me, but I will not anſwer; they ſhall ſeek me early, but they ſhall [x] not finde me:

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not chooſe the fear of the LORD.

30 They would none of my counſel: they [y] deſpiſed all my reproof.

31 Therefore ſhall they eat of the [z] fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the ‡ turning away of the ſimple ſhall ſlay them, and the [a] proſperitie of fools ſhall deſtroy them.

33 But whoſo hearkeneth unto me, ſhall dwell ſafely, and ſhall be quiet from fear of evil.

m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to joyn together, becauſe they have every one part of the ſpoil of the innocent.
n That is, have nothing at all to doe with them.
* Iſa. 59: 7. Rom. 3: 15.
† Heb. in the eyes of every thing that hath a wing.
o He sheweth that there is no cauſe to move theſe wicked to ſpoil the innocent, but their avarice and cruelty.
p Whereby he concludeth that the covetous man is a murtherer.
† Heb. wiſdomes, that is, excellent wiſdome.
* Chap. 8: 1.
q This wiſdome is the eternall word of God.
r So that none can pretend ignorance.
ſ Wiſdome reproveth three kindes of men, the foolish or ſimple, which are of ignorance, and the mockers that cannot ſuffer to be taught, and the fools, which are drowned in worldly luſts, and hate the knowledge of godlineſſe.
* Iſa. 65: 12. 66: 4. Jer. 7: 13. Ezek. 8: 18.
t This is ſpoken according to our capacitie, ſignifying, that the wicked which mock and jeſt at Gods word, ſhall have the juſt reward of their mocking.
u That is, your deſtruction, which thing you feared.
* Job 27: 9. Iſa. 1: 15. Jer. 1: 11. and 14: 12. Micah 3: 4.
x Becauſe they ſought not with an affection to God, but for eaſe of their own grief.
y Shewing that without faith and obedience we cannot call upon God aright.
z They ſhall feel what commodity their wicked life ſhall give them.
‡ Or, eaſe of the ſimple. a That is, the pleaſure, and ſenſualitie, wherein they delight.

CHAP. II.

1 Wiſdome promiſeth godlineſſe to her children, 10 and ſafetie from evil companie, 20 and direction in good wayes.

MY ſonne, if thou wilt receive my words, and [a] hide my commandments with thee:

2 So that thou incline thine eare unto wiſdome, and apply thine [b] heart to underſtanding:

3 Yea, if thou crieſt after knowledge, and † [c] lifteſt up thy voice for underſtanding.

a That is, keep them as a treaſure in thine heart.
b If thou give thy ſelf to the true knowledge of God without hypocriſie.
† Heb. giveſt thy voice.
c Meaning, that we muſt ſeek the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

4 * If thou ſeekeſt her as ſilver, and [d] ſearcheſt for her, as for hid treaſures:

5 Then ſhalt thou underſtand the fear of the LORD: and finde the [e] knowledge of God.

6 * For the LORD giveth wiſdome: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and underſtanding.

7 He layeth up ſound wiſdome for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

8 He keepeth the paths of judgement, and preſerveth the way of his ſaints.

9 Then ſhalt thou underſtand righteouſneſſe, and judgement, and equity; yea, every good path.

10 ¶ When wiſdome entreth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleaſant unto thy ſoul;

11 [f] Diſcretion ſhall preſerve thee, underſtanding ſhall keep thee:

12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that ſpeaketh froward things.

13 Who leave the [g] paths of uprightneſſe, to walk in the wayes of darkneſſe:

14 Who rejoyce to do evil, and delight in the [h] frowardneſſe of the wicked.

15 Whoſe wayes are crooked, and they froward in their paths.

16 To deliver thee from the [i] ſtrange woman, * even from the ſtranger which flattereth with her words.

17 Which forſaketh the [k] guide of her youth, and forgetteth the [l] covenant of her God.

18 For her [m] houſe inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the [n] dead.

19 None that go unto her, return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayeſt walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21 * For the upright ſhall dwell in the [o] land, and the perfect ſhall remain in it.

22 * But the wicked ſhall be cut off from the earth, and the tranſgreſſours ſhall be ‡ rooted out of it.

d A metaphor from miners who with great diligence bring treaſures out of the earth.

g That is, the word of God, which is the only light, to follow their own fantaſies, which are darkneſſe.
h When they ſee any given to evil as they are.

* Chap. 5: 3. and 7: 5.
k That is, her husband, which is her head and guide to govern her from whom ſhe ought not to depart, but remain in his ſubjection.

CHAP. III.

1 An exhortation to obedience, 5 to faith, 7 to mortification, 9 to devotion, 11 to patience. 13 The happy gain of wiſdome. 19 The power, 21 and the benefits of wiſdome. 27 An exhortation to charitableneſſe, 30 peaceableneſſe, 31 and contentedneſſe. 33 The curſed ſtate of the wicked.

MY ſonne, forget not my law; * but let thine heart keep my commandments:

2 For [a] length of dayes, and † long life, and peace ſhall they adde to thee.

3 Let not [b] mercie and truth forſake thee: * binde them about thy [c] neck, write them upon the table of thine [d] heart.

4 * So ſhalt thou finde favour, and ‡ good underſtanding in the ſight of God and man.

5 ¶ Truſt in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own underſtanding.

6 * In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he ſhall direct thy paths.

10 * So ſhall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy preſſes ſhall [g] burſt out with new wine.

11 ¶ * My ſonne, deſpiſe not the chaſtening of the LORD: neither be wearie of his correction.

12 For whom the LORD loveth, he correcteth, even as a father the ſonne, in whom he delighteth.

13 ¶ Happy is the man that findeth wiſdome, and † the man that getteth underſtanding.

14 * For the merchandiſe of it is better than the merchandiſe of ſilver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.

19 The LORD by wiſdome hath [k] founded the earth; by underſtanding hath he ‡ eſtabliſhed the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 ¶ My ſonne, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep ſound wiſdome and diſcretion.

22 So ſhall they be life unto thy ſoul, and grace to thy neck.

23 * Then ſhalt thou walk in thy way ſafely, and thy foot ſhall not ſtumble.

24 When thou lieſt down, thou ſhalt not be afraid: yea, thou ſhalt lie down, and thy ſleep ſhall be ſweet.

25 Be not afraid of ſudden fear, neither of the [l] deſolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the LORD ſhall be thy confidence, and ſhall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 ¶ Withhold not good from † them to whom it is [m] due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to morrow I will give; when thou haſt it by thee.

29 ‡ Deviſe not evil againſt thy neighbour, ſeeing he [n] dwelleth ſecurely by thee.

30 ¶ Strive not with a man without cauſe, if he have done thee no harm.

31 ¶ * [o] Envy thou not † the oppreſſour, and chooſe none of his wayes.

32 For the froward is abomination to the LORD: * but his [p] ſecret is with the righteous.

33 ¶ * The curſe of the LORD is in the houſe of the wicked: but he bleſſeth the habitation of the juſt.

34 ¶ * Surely he ſcorneth the [q] ſcorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Solomon, to perſwade obedience, 3 sheweth what inſtruction he had of his parents. 5 To ſtudy wiſdome, 14 and to ſhun the path of the wicked. 20 He exhorteth to faith, 23 and ſanctification.

HEare, ye children, the inſtruction of a [a] father, and attend to know underſtanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forſake you not my law.

3 For I was my fathers ſonne, * tender and [b] onely beloved in the ſight of my mother.

4 * [c] He taught me alſo, and ſaid unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and live.

5 Get wiſdome, get underſtanding: forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forſake her not, and ſhe ſhall perſerve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 [d] Wiſdome is the principall thing, therefore get wiſdome, and with all thy getting get underſtanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou doſt embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head * an ornament of grace: ‡ a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Heare, O my ſonne, and receive my ſayings: and the yeares of thy life ſhall be many.

11 I have [e] taught thee in the way of wiſdome: I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goeſt, thy ſteps shall not be [f] ſtraitned, * and when thou runneſt, thou ſhalt not ſtumble.

13 Take faſt hold of inſtruction, let her not go; keep her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ * Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, paſſe not by it, turn from it, and paſſe away.

16 For they [g] ſleep not except they have done miſchief: and their ſleep is taken away unleſſe they cauſe ſome to fall.

17 For they eat the [h] bread of wickedneſſe, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the juſt is as the [i] ſhining light, that ſhineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as darkneſſe: they know not at what they ſtumble.

20 ¶ My ſonne, attend to my words, incline thine eare unto my ſayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midſt of thine heart.

22 For they are life unto thoſe that finde them, and † health to all their [k] flesh.

23 ¶ Keep thy heart † with all diligence: for out of it are the iſſues of [l] life.

* Chap 7. 11.
l By the foolish woman, some understand the wicked preachers, who counterfeit the word of God, as appeareth vers. 16. which were the words of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrin is but as stolen waters, meaning that they are but mans traditions; which are more pleasant to the flesh than the word of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

CHAP. X.

From this chapter to the five and twentieth, are sundry observations of morall vertue, and their contrary vices.

THe proverbs of Solomon: * A wise sonne maketh a glad father; but a foolish sonne is the heavinesse of his mother.

2 * [a] Treasures of wickednes profit nothing: but righteousnesse delivereth from death.

3 * The LORD will [c] not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he casteth away † the substance of the wicked.

4 * He becometh poore that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

* Chap 12: 24.

ſonne: but he that ſleepeth in harveſt, is a ſonne that cauſeth ſhame.

6 Bleſſings are upon the head of the juſt: but * violence covereth the mouth of the [c] wicked.

7 * The memorie of the juſt is bleſſed: but the name of the wicked ſhall [d] rot.

8 The wiſe in heart will receive commandments: but † a prating fool ‡ ſhall fall.

9 * He that walketh uprightly, walketh ſurely: but he that perverteth his wayes, ſhall be known.

10 * He that [e] winketh with the eye cauſeth ſorrow: but a prating fool ‡ ſhall [f] fall.

11 * The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred ſtirreth up ſtrifes: but * love covereth all ſinnes.

13 In the lips of him that hath underſtanding, wiſdome is found, but [g] a rod is for the back of him that is void of † underſtanding.

14 Wiſe men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the fooliſh is neare deſtruction.

15 * The rich mans wealth is his [h] ſtrong city: the deſtruction of the poore is their poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: the fruit of the wicked to ſinne.

17 He is in the way of life that keepeth inſtruction: but he that refuſeth reproof, ‡ erreth.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a ſlander, is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not ſinne: but he that refraineth his lips, is wiſe.

20 The tongue of the juſt is as choice ſilver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous [i] feed many: but fools die for want † of wiſdome.

22 The bleſſing of the LORD, it maketh rich, and he addeth no [k] ſorrow with it.

23 * It is a ſport to a fool to do miſchief: but a man of underſtanding hath wiſdome.

24 The fear of the wicked, it ſhall come upon him: but the deſire of the righteous ſhall be granted.

25 As the whirlwinde paſſeth, ſo is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlaſting foundation.

26 As vineger to the teeth, and as ſmoke to the eyes, ſo is the ſluggard to them that [l] ſend him.

27 * The fear of the LORD † prolongeth dayes: but the yeares of the wicked ſhall be [m] ſhortened.

28 The hope of the righteous ſhall be gladneſſe: but the * expectation of the wicked ſhall perish.

29 The way of the LORD is ſtrength to the upright: but deſtruction ſhall be to the workers of iniquitie.

30 * The righteous ſhall [n] never be removed: but the wicked ſhall not inherit the earth.

31 The mouth of the juſt bringeth forth wiſdome: but the froward tongue ſhall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable; but the mouth of the wicked ſpeaketh † frowardneſſe.

CHAP. XI.

A * † falſe [a] balance is abomination to the LORD: but ‡ a juſt weight is his delight.

2 * When pride cometh, then cometh [b] ſhame: but with the lowly is wiſdome.

3 * The integritie of the upright ſhall guide them: but the perverſneſſe of tranſgreſſours ſhall deſtroy them.

4 * Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteouſneſſe delivereth from death.

5 The righteouſneſſe of the perfect ſhall † direct his way: but the wicked ſhall fall by his own wickedneſſe.

6 The righteouſneſſe of the upright ſhall deliver them: but * tranſgreſſours ſhall be taken in their own naughtineſſe.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation ſhall periſh: and the hope of unjuſt men perisheth.

8 * The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his [c] ſtead.

9 An * [d] hypocrite with his mouth deſtroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge ſhall the juſt be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city [e] rejoyceth: and when the wicked perish, there is ſhouting.

11 By the bleſſing of the upright the citie is exalted; but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that is † void of wiſdome, deſpiſeth his neighbour: but a man of underſtanding [f] holdeth his peace.

13 † A tale-bearer revealeth ſecrets: but he that is of a faithfull ſpirit concealeth the matter.

14 * Where no counſel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of [g] counſellers there is ſafetie.

15 He that is ſuretie for [b] a ſtranger, † ſhall ſmart for it: and he that [i] hateth † ſuretiship, is ſure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and ſtrong men retain riches.

17 The mercifull man doeth [k] good to his own ſoul: but he that is cruel, troubleth his own flesh.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull work: but to him that ſoweth righteouſneſſe, ſhall be a ſure reward.

19 As righteouſneſſe tendeth to life, ſo he that purſueth evil, purſueth it to his own death.

20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the LORD: but ſuch as are upright in their way, are his delight.

21 [l] Though hand joyn in hand, the wicked ſhall not be unpunished: but the ſeed of the righteous ſhall be delivered.

22 As a jewel of gold in a ſwines ſnout, ſo is a fair woman which † is without diſcretion.

23 The deſire of the righteous is onely good: but the expectation of the wicked is [m] wrath.

5 * Counsel

5 * Counsel in the heart of man is like [c] deep water; but a man of understanding will draw it out.

6 Most men will proclaim every one his own ‡ goodnesse: but a faithfull man who can finde?

7 The just man walketh in his integrity: * his children are blessed after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgement, [d] scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

9 * Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sinne?

10 * † Divers weights, and † divers measures, both of them are alike [e] abomination to the LORD.

11 Even a childe is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

12 * The hearing eare, and the seeing eye, the LORD hath made even both of them.

13 * Love not sleep, lest thou come to povertie; open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, it is naught (saith the buyer) but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 * [f] Take his garment that is surety for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.

17 * † Bread of deceit is sweet to a man: but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 * Every purpose is established by counsel: and with good advice make warre.

19 * He that goeth about as a tale-bearer, revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that ‡ flattereth with his lips.

20 * Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his ‡ lamp shall be put out in obscure darknesse.

21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning: but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 * Say not thou, I will recompense evil: but wait on the LORD, and he shall save thee.

23 * Divers weights are an abomination unto the LORD: and † a false balance is not good.

24 * Mans goings are of the LORD, how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a snare to the man who [g] devoureth that which is holy; and after vows to make enquiry.

26 * A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the [g] wheel over them.

27 The spirit of man is the ‡ [i] candle of the LORD, searching all the inward parts of the belly.

28 * Mercy and truth preserve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their strength: and * the beauty of old men is the gray head.

30 The [k] blueneſſe of a wound † cleanseth away evil: so do stripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

THE [a] kings heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water, he turneth it whithersoever he will.

2 * Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the LORD pondereth the heart.

3 * To do justice and judgement, is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.

4 * † An high look, and a proud heart, and ‡ the [b] plowing of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend onely to plenteousnesse: but of every one that is [c] hastie, onely to want.

6 * The getting of treasures by a lying tongue, is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The [d] robberie of the wicked shall † destroy them; because they refuse to do judgement.

8 The way of man is froward and strange: but as for the pure, his work is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, than with † a brawling woman in † a wide house.

10 * The soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour † findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 * When the scorner is punished, the simple is made [e] wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man wisely considereth [h] the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickednesse.

13 * Whoso stoppeth his eares at the cry of the poore, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.

14 * [e] A gift in secret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the bosome, strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding, shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth ‡ pleasure shall be a poore man: he that loveth wine and oyl shall not be rich.

18 * [h] The wicked shall be a ransome for the righteous: and the transgressour for the upright.

19 * It is better to dwell † in the wilderneſſe, than with a contentious and an angry woman.

20 There is a treasure to be desired, and [i] oyl in the dwelling of the wise: but a foolish man spendeth it up.

c God doth not reveal the cauſe of his judgements to man.

2 It is the glorie of God to c conceal a thing: but the d honour of kings is to ſearch out a matter.

d Becauſe the king ruleth by the revealed word of God, the cauſe of his doings muſt appeare, and therefore he muſt uſe diligence in trying out of cauſes.

3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth and the e heart of kings † is unſearchable.

ECCLESIASTES, or the PREACHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Solomon, as a preacher, and one that desired to instruct all in the way of salvation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this world: that man should not be addicted to any thing under the Sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignity and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that, that he is united with God, and shall enjoy his presence: so that all other things must be rejected, save in as much as they further us to attain to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other, save in God alone.

CHAP. I.

1 The preacher sheweth that all humane courses are vain, 4 because the creatures are restlesse in their courses. 9 They bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten: 12 and because he hath found it so in the studies of wisdome.

THE words of the [a] preacher, the sonne of David, king of Jerusalem.

2 * [b] Vanitie of vanities, saith the preacher, vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 * What profit hath a man of all his [c] labour which he taketh under the sunne?

4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: † but the earth abideth [d] for ever.

5 The sunne also ariseth, and the sunne goeth down, and † hasteth to the place where he arose.

6 The [e] winde goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually: and the winde returneth again according to his circuits.

7 * All the rivers runne into the sea, yet the sea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, [f] thither they † return again.

8 All things are full of labour, man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 * [g] The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be: and that which is done, is that which shall be done; and there is no new thing under the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof it may be a Solomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie world.

* Chap. 12: 8.

b He condemneth the opinions of all men that seek felicity in any thing but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing. * Chap. 2: 22. and 3: 9.

c Solomon doth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing under the heaven, nor in any creature, for asmuch as all things are transitory. * Psalm 2: 4: 5. and 119: 90.

d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, even to the last day, which yet is subject to corruption.

said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with those that shall come after.

12 ¶ [h] I the preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem.

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdome, concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travell hath God given to the sonnes of man, ‡ to be [i] exercised therewith, 14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sunne, and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of spirit.

15 * That which is [k] crooked cannot be made straight: and † that which is wanting, cannot be numbred.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten * more wisdome than all they that have been before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart † had great experience of wisdome and knowledge.

17 * And I gave my heart to know wisdome, and to know [l] madnesse and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.

18 For in much wisdome is much [m] grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

h He proveth that if any could have attained to felicity in this world by labour and study, he chiefely should have obtained it, because he had gifts and aides of God thereunto above all other.

‡ Or, to afflict them.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely upon God.

* Chap. 7: 13.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise than they doe: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much lesse remedy them.

† Heb. defect.

* 1 King. 4: 30. and 10: 7, 23.

† Heb. had seen much.

* Chap. 2: 12, and 7: 25.

l That is, vaine things which served unto pleasure wherein was no commoditie, but grief and trouble of conscience.

m Wisdome and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and minde: For when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde never fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

Chap. II.

1 The vanity of humane courses in the works of pleasure, 12 Though the wise be better than the fool, yet both have one event. 18 The vanity of humane labour in leaving it they know not to whom. 24 Nothing better than joy in our labour, but that is Gods gift.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove [a] thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and behold: this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter; It is mad: and of mirth, What doth it?

3 * I sought in mine heart † to give my self unto wine (yet acquanting mine heart with [b] wisdome) and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sonnes of men, which they should do under the heaven, ‡ all the dayes of their life.

4 I made me great works, I builded me houses, I planted me vineyards.

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kinde of fruits.

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees.

7 I got me servants and maidens, and had † servants born in my [c] house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattel, above all that were in Jerusalem before me.

8 * I gathered me also silver and gold: and the peculiar treasure of kings, and of the provinces: I gat me men-singers and women-singers, and the [d] delights of the sonnes of men, as † musicall instruments: and that of [e] all sorts.

a Solomon maketh the discourse with himself, as thouh he would trie whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

* Chap. 1: 17.

† Heb. to draw my flesh with wine.

b Albeit I gave my self to pleasures, yet I thought to keep wisdome, and the feare of God in mine heart, and governe mine affaires by the same.

† Heb. musicall instrument and instruments

e To the end that he might the better know, what contentment there is to be found in such things. Which were the most beautifull of them that were taken in warre, as Judg. 5: 30. Some understand by these words, no women, but instruments of Musick.

9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdome [f] remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy: for my heart rejoyced in all my labour, and this was my [g] portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was * vanitie and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sunne.

12 And I turned my self to behold [h] wisdome, * and madnesse and folly: for what can the man do, that cometh after the king? ‡ even that which hath been already done.

13 Then I saw † that wisdome excelleth folly, as farre as light excelleth darknesse.

14 * The wise mans [i] eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darknesse: and I my self perceived also that [k] one event happeneth to them all.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it † happeneth even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool [i] for ever; seeing that which now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten; and [m] how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

17 Therefore I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the sunne, is grievous unto me: for all is vanitie and vexation of spirit.

18 ¶ Yea. I hated all my labour which I had † taken under the sunne: because * I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed my self wise under the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to [n] despair of all the labour which I took under the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdome, and in knowledge, and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not laboured therein, shall he † leave it for [o] his portion. This also is vanity, and a great evil.

22 * For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart wherein he hath laboured under the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are * sorrows, and his travell grief, yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanitie.

24 ¶ * There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he ‡ should make his soul [p] enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who else can [q] hasten hereunto more than I?

16 ¶ And moreover, I ſaw under the ſunne the place of judgement, that wickedneſſe was there: and the place of righteouſneſſe, that iniquity was there.

17 I ſaid in mine heart, God ſhall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is * [g] a time there, for every purpoſe, and for every work.

18 I ſaid in my heart concerning the eſtate of the ſonnes of men, ‡ that God might manifeſt them, and that they might ſee that they themſelves are [h] beaſts.

19 * For that which befalleth the ſonnes of men, befalleth beaſts, even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, ſo dieth the other, yea, they have all [i] one breath, ſo that a man hath no preeminence above a beaſt: for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place, all are of the duſt, and all turn to duſt again.

21 Who [k] knoweth the ſpirit † of man that † goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt that goeth downward to the earth?

22 * Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man ſhould [l] rejoyce in his own works; for that is his portion: for who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him?

k Meaning, that reaſon cannot comprehend that which faith beleeveth therein.

† Heb of the ſonnes of man.

† Heb. is aſcending.

* Chap. 2: 24. and 5: 18.

l By the often repetition of this ſentence, as Chap. 2: 24. and Chap. 3: 12, 22. Chap. 5: 17. and Chap. 8: 15. he declareth, that man, by reaſon, can comprehend nothing better in this life, than to uſe the gifts of God ſoberly, and comfortably: for to know farther is a ſpeciall gift of God revealed by his ſpirit.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Vanity is increaſed unto men by oppreſſion, 4 by envie, 5 by idleneſſe, 7 by covetouſneſſe, 9 by ſolitarineſſe, 13 by wilfulneſſe.

SO [a] I returned, and conſidered all the * oppreſſions that are done under the ſunne, and behold, the tears of ſuch as were oppreſſed, and they had no comforter: and on the † ſide of their oppreſſours there was power, but they had no comforter.

a He maketh here another diſcourſe with himſelf, concerning the tyranny of them that oppreſſed the poore.

* Chap. 5: 8. &c.

† Heb. hand.

2 * Wherefore I praiſed the [b] dead which are already dead, more than the living which are yet alive.

* Job 3: 17 &c.

b Becauſe they are no more ſubject to their oppreſſours.

3 * Yea, [c] better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evil work that is done under the ſunne.

* Job 3: 11, 16, 22.

c He ſpeaketh according to the judgement of the fleſh, which cannot abide to feel, or ſee troubles.

4 ¶ Again I conſidered all travell, and † every [d] right work that † for this a man is envied of his neighbour: this is alſo vanitie, and vexation of ſpirit.

† Heb. all the righteouſneſſe of work.

d The more perfect that the work is, the more is it envied of the wicked.

5 * The fool ſoldeth his hands together, and [e] eateth his own fleſh.

† Heb. this is the envy of a man from his neighbour.

6 * Better is an handfull with quietneſſe, than both the hands full, with travell and vexation of ſpirit.

* Prov. 6: 10. and 24: 33.

e For idleneſſe he is compelled to deſtroy himſelf.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I ſaw vanity under the ſunnne.

* Prov. 15: 16, 17. and 16: 8.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond; yea, he hath neither childe nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches, neither ſaith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my ſoul of good? this is alſo vanitie, yea, it is a ſore travell.

f Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither help himſelf nor others, he sheweth, that all men ought to live in mutuall ſociety, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increaſe.

9 ¶ [f] Two are better than one; becauſe they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but wo to him that is alone, when he falleth: for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

g By this proverb he declareth how neceſſary it is, that men ſhould live in ſociety.

12 And if one prevail againſt him, two ſhall withſtand him; and a [g] threefold cord is not quickly broken.

† Heb. who knoweth not to be admoniſhed.

13 ¶ Better is a poore and a wiſe childe, than an old and fooliſh king, † who will no more be admoniſhed.

h That is, from a poore and baſe eſtate or out of trouble and priſon, as Joſeph did, Gen. 41: 14.

14 For out of [h] priſon he cometh to reigne, whereas alſo he that is [i] born in his kingdome becometh poore.

i Meaning, that is born a king.

15 I conſidered all the living which walk under the ſunne, with the [k] ſecond childe that ſhall ſtand up in his ſtead.

k Which follow and flatter the kings ſonne, or him that ſhall ſucceed, to enter into credit with them in hope of gain.

16 There is no [l] end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they alſo that come after, ſhall not rejoyce in him: ſurely, this alſo is vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

l They never ceaſe by all means to creep into favour: but when they obtain not their greedy deſires, they think themſelves abuſed, as others have been in time paſt, and ſo care no more for him.

CHAP. V.

1 Vanities in divine ſervice, 8 in murmuring againſt oppreſſion, 9 and in riches. 18 Ioy in riches is the gift of God.

KEep thy [a] foot when thou goeſt to the houſe of God, and be more ready to heare, * than to give the ſacrifice of [b] fools: for they conſider not that they do evil.

a That is, with what affection thou comeſt to heare the word of God.
* 1 Sam. 15: 22. Pſal. 50: 8. Prov. 15: 8. and 21: 27.
b Meaning, of the wicked which thinketh to pleaſe God with ceremonies, and have neither faith nor repentance.

2 Be not [c] raſh with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be haſty to utter any ‡ thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words * be [d] few.

c Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, that we ſhould uſe all reverence to Godward.
‡ Or, word.
* Prov. 10: 19. Matth. 6: 7.
d He heateth thee not for thy many words ſake, or often repetitions, but conſidereth thy faith and fervent minde.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of buſineſſe, and a fools voice is known by multitude of words.

4 * When thou voweſt a vow unto God, deferre not to pay it, for he hath no pleaſure in fools: * pay that which thou haſt [e] vowed.

* Deut. 23: 21.
* Pſal. 66: 13, 14.
e He ſpeaketh of vowes which are approved by Gods word, and ſerve to his glorie.

5 Better is it that thou ſhouldeſt not vow, than that thou ſhouldeſt vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cauſe thy [f] fleſh to ſinne, neither ſay thou before the [g] angel, that it was an errour: wherefore ſhould God be angry at thy voice, and deſtroy the work of thine hands?

f Cauſe not thy ſelf to ſinne by vowing raſhly as they doe, which make a vow to live unmarried, and ſuch like.
g That is, before Gods meſſenger, when he ſhall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance ſhould be a juſt excuſe.

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words, there are alſo divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 ¶ If thou ſeeſt the oppreſſion of the poore, and violent perverting of judgement and juſtice in a province, marvell not † at the matter: for he that is [h] higher than the higheſt, regardeth, and there be higher than they.

† Heb. at the will or purpoſe.
h Meaning, that God will redreſſe theſe things, and therefore we muſt depend upon him.

9 ¶ Moreover, the [i] profit of the earth is for all: the king himſelf is ſerved by the [k] field.

i The revennues of the earth are to be preferred above all things which appertain to this life.
k Kings and princes cannot maintain their eſtate without tillage which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

10 He that loveth ſilver, ſhall not be ſatiſfied with ſilver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increaſe: this is alſo vanitie.

11 When goods increaſe, they are increaſed that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, ſaving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The ſleep of a labouring man is ſweet, whether he eat little or much: but the [l] abundance of the rich will not ſuffer him to ſleep.

l That is, his great abundance of riches, or the ſurfetting, which cometh by his great feeding.

13 There is a ſore evil which I have ſeen under the ſunne, namely, riches [m] kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

m When covetous men heap up riches which turn to their deſtruction.

14 But thoſe riches perish by evil travell: and he begetteth a ſonne, and there is [n] nothing in his hand.

n Hee doth not enjoy his fathers riches.

15 * As he came forth of his mothers wombe, naked ſhall he return to go as he came, and ſhall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

* Job 1: 21. Pſal. 49: 17. 1 Tim. 6: 7.

16 And this alſo is a ſore evil, that in all points as he came, ſo ſhall he go: and * what profit hath he that hath laboured for the [o] winde?

* Chap. 1: 3.
o Meaning, in vaine and without profit.

17 All his dayes alſo he eateth in [b] darkneſſe, and he hath much ſorrow, and wrath with his ſickneſſe.

p In affliction and grief of minde.

18 ¶ Behold that which I have ſeen: * † it is good and comely for one to [p] eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the ſunne, † all the dayes of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

* Chap. 2: 24. and 3: 12, 13.
† Heb. there is a good which is comely, &c.
q Reade Chap. 3. verſe 22.
† Heb. the number of the dayes.

19 Every man alſo to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoyce in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 ‡ For he ſhall not much remember the dayes of his [q] life: becauſe God anſwereth him in the joy of his heart.

‡ Or, though he give not much, yet he remembreth, &c.
q He will take no great thought for the pains that he hath endured in time paſt.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vanity of riches without uſe. 6 of children 6 and old age without riches. 9 The vanity of ſight and wandring deſires. 11 The concluſion of vanities.

THere is an evil which I have ſeen under the ſunne, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, ſo that he wanteth nothing for his ſoul of all that he deſireth, yet God giveth him [a] not power to eat thereof, but a ſtranger eateth it: this is vanitie, and it is an evil diſeaſe.

a He ſheweth, that it is the plague of God, when the rich man hath not a liberall heart to uſe his riches.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many yeares, ſo that the dayes of his yeares be many, and his ſoul be not [b] filled with good, and alſo that he have no [c] buriall, I ſay, that an untimely birth is better than he.

b If he can never have enough.
c As we ſee oftentimes, that the covetous man either falleth into crimes that deſerve death, or is murthered, or drowned, or hangeth himſelf, or ſuch like: and ſo lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the laſt office of humanitie.

4 For he [d] cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkneſſe, and his name ſhall be covered with darkneſſe.

d Meaning, the untimely fruit, whoſe life did neither profit or hurt any.

5 Moreover, he hath not ſeen the ſunne, nor known any thing: this hath more reſt than the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thouſand yeares twice told, yet hath he ſeen no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the † appetite is not filled.

e His deſire and affection.

8 For what hath the wiſe more than the fool? what hath the poore, that [f] knoweth to walk before the living?

f That knoweth to uſe his goods well in the judgement of men.

9 ¶ Better is the [g] ſight of the eyes, † than the wandring of the deſire: this is alſo vanitie and vexation of ſpirit.

g To be content with that which God hath given, is better than to follow the deſires that never can be ſatisfied.
† Heb. than the walking of the ſoul.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is [h] mightier than he.

h Meaning, God who will make him to feel that he is mortall.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increaſe vanity, what is man the better?

12 For [i] who knoweth what is good for man in this life, † all the dayes of his vain life which he ſpendeth as * a ſhadow? for who can tell a man what ſhall be after him under the ſunne?

i There is no ſtate wherein man can live to have perfect quietneſſe in this life.
† Heb. the number of the dayes of the life of his vanity.
* Pſal. 144: 4.

CHAP. VII.

1 Remedies againſt vanitie, are a good name, 2 mortification, 7 patience, 11 wiſdome. 25 The difficulty of wiſdome.

A * Good name is better than precious ointment: and the day of death, [a] than the day of ones birth.

* Prov. 15: 30. and 22: 1. a He ſpeaketh thus after the judgement of the fleſh, which thinketh death to be the end of all evils: or elſe, becauſe that this corporall death is the entring into life everlaſting.

2 ¶ It is better to go to the houſe of mourning, than to go to the houſe of feaſting: for that that is the [b] end of all men, and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 ‡ Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadnesse of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5 * It is better to heare the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to heare the song of fools.

6 For as the † crackling of [c] thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.

7 ¶ Surely oppression maketh a wise man [d] mad, * and a gift destroyeth the heart.

8 Better is the [e] end of a thing, than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

9 * Be not hastie in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fools:

10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former dayes were better than these? for thou dost not enquire † [f] wisely concerning this.

11 ¶ Wisdome ‡ is good with an [g] inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sunne.

12 For wisdome is a † defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdome giveth life to them that have it.

13 Consider the work of God: for * who can make that straight which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperitie be joyfull, but in the day of adversitie [h] consider: God also hath † set the one over against the other, to the end that man should finde [i] nothing after him.

15 All things have I seen in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a just man that perisheth in his [k] righteousnesse, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickednesse.

16 Be not righteous [l] overmuch, neither make thy self over-wise, why shouldest thou † destroy thy self?

17 Be not [m] overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die † before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold [n] of this, yea also from [o] this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

19 * Wisdome strengtheneth the wise, more than ten mighty men which are in the citie.

20 * For there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good, and sinneth not.

21 Also † [p] take no heed unto all words that are spokē; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee.

22 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth, that thou thy self likewise hast cursed others.

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wisdome: I said, I will be wise, but it was farre from me.

24 That which is farre off, and exceeding deep, who can finde [q] it out?

25 † I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdome, and the reason of things, and to know the wickednesse of folly, even of foolishnesse and madnesse.

26 * And I finde more bitter than death, * Prov. 22: 14.
the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: † whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her. † Heb. he that is good before God.

27 Behold, this have I found (saith the preacher) ‡ coming one by one, to finde out the [r] account: ‡ Or, weighing one thing after another to finde out the reason.

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I finde not: one man among a thousand have I found, but a woman among all those have I not found. r That is, to come to a conclusion.

29 Lo, this onely have I found, * that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many [s] inventions. * Gen. 1: 27.

s And so are cause of their own destruction.

Chap. VIII.

1 Kings are greatly to be respected. 6 The divine providence is to be observed. 12 It is better with the godly in adversitie than with the wicked in prosperity. 16 The work of God is unsearchable.

WHo is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? * a [a] mans wisdome maketh his face to [a] shine, and † the boldnesse of his face shall be [b] changed. * Prov. 17: 24.

a That is, doth get him favour and prosperitie.

† Heb. the strength.

b Whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meek.

2 I counsel thee to keep the [c] kings commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 [d] Be not hastie to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing, for he doth whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment † shall feel no evil thing and a wise mans heart discerneth [e] both time and judgement.

6 ¶ Because to every purpose there is time, and judgement; therefore the [f] miserie of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him ‡ when it shall be?

8 There is no man that hath [g] power * over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no † discharge in that warre, neither shall wickednesse deliver those that are given to it.

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sunne: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own [h] hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had [i] come and gone from the place of the [k] holy, and they were forgotten in the citie where they had so done: this is also vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not [l] executed speedily; therefore the heart of the sonnes of men is fully set in them to do evil.

12 ¶ Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his dayes be prolonged, yet surely I know that * it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him.

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes which are as a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be just men unto whom it * happeneth according to [m] the work of the wicked:

b Where we may see the hand of God, and learn to examine our lives.

wicked: again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said, that this also is vanitie.

15 * Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sunne, than to [n] eat, and to drink, and to be merrie: for that shall abide with him of his labour, the dayes of his life, which God giveth him under the sunne.

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdome, and to see the businesse that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot finde out the work that is done under the sunne: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not finde it; yea further, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to finde it.

Chap. IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 4 There is a necessitie of death unto men. 7 Comfort is all their portion in this life. 11 Gods providence ruleth over all. 13 Wisdome is better than strength.

† Or, I gave, or set to my heart.

FOr all this † I considered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love, or [a] hatred, by all that is before them.

2 * All things come alike to all, there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked: to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sunne, that there is [b] one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of evil, and madnesse is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joyned to all the living, there is hope: for [c] a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward, for the memorie of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envie is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sunne.

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merrie heart, for God now [d] accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be alwayes [e] white; and let thy head lack no ointment:

9 † Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which he hath given thee under the sunne, all the dayes of thy vanitie: * for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sunne.

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdome in the grave whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battel to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill, but time and [f] chance happeneth to them all.

12 For man also knoweth not [g] his time, as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sonnes of men * snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

13 ¶ This wisdome have I seen also under the sunne, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little citie, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poore wise man, and he by his wisdome delivered the city; yet no man remembred that same poore man.

16 * Then said I, wisdome is better than strength: nevertheless, the poore mans wisdome is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet, more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wisdome is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

Chap. X.

1 Observations of wisdome and folly. 16 Of riot, 18 slothfulnesse, 19 and money. 20 Mens thoughts of kings ought to be reverend.

† Heb. flies of death.

† DEad flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdome and honour.

2 A wise mans heart is at his [a] right hand: but a fools heart is at his left.

3 Yea also when he that is a fool walketh by the way, † his wisdome faileth him, and he [b] saith to every one that he is a fool.

4 If the [c] spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yeelding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sunne, as an [d] errour which proceedeth † from the ruler.

*THE SONG of SOLOMON.

* Heb. a song of songs: so called, because it is the chiefest of those 1005. which Solomon made, as is mentioned, 1 King. 4: 32.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song, Solomon, by most sweet and comfortable allegories and parables, describeth the perfect love of Iesus Christ, the true Solomon and king of peace, and the faithfull soul, or his church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular love of the bridegroom toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits, wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bounty and grace without any of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the church, which is inflamed with the love of Christ, desiring to be more and more joyned to him in love, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The churches love unto Christ. 5 She confesseth her deformity, 7 and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds tents: 9 and shewing his love to her, 11 giveth her gracious promises. 12 The church and Christ congratulate one another.

THE song of songs which is Solomons.

2 Let him [a] kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: * for † thy love is better than wine.

3 Because of the [b] savour of thy good ointments, thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the [c] virgins love thee.

4 *[d] Draw me, we will runne after thee: the king hath brought me into his [e] chambers: we will be glad and rejoyce in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine: ‡ the upright love thee.

5 I am [f] black, but comely (O ye daughters of Jerusalem) as the tents of [g] Kedar, as the [h] curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me because I am [i] black, because the [k] sunne hath looked upon me: my mothers [l] children were angry with me, they made me the keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I [m] not kept.

7 [n] Tell me (O thou whom my soul loveth) where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be ‡ as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy [o] companions?

8 ¶ [p] If thou know not, (O thou fairest among women) go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds tents.

9 I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaohs [q] chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

12 ¶ [r] While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrhe is my wellbeloved unto me; he shall lie all night betwixt my [s] breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me, as a cluster of ‡ camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.

1 The church professeth her faith in Christ. 4 Christ sheweth the graces of the church, 10 and his love towards her.

WHither [a] is thy beloved gone? O thou fairest among women, whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his [b] garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 * I am my beloveds, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 ¶ Thou art beautifull, O my love, as [c] Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as as armie with banners.

5 [d] Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have overcome me: thy hair is * as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twinnes, and there is not one barren among them

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are [c] threescore queens, and fourescore concubines, and virgins without number

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one; she is the onely one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her: the daughters saw her, and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not † liquour: thy belly is like an heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

3 * [b] Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twinnes.

5 Thine head upon thee, is like ‡ Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple; the king is † [c] held in the galleries.

† Heb. they should not despise me.

5 (* Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved?) I raised thee up under the apple-tree: there thy mother brought thee forth, there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

d The spouse desireth Christ, to be joined in perpetuall love with him.

6 ¶ [d] Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death, jealousie is † cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

† Heb. hard.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

8 ¶ [e] We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: † what shall we do for our sister, in the day when she shall be spoken for?

f If she be sure and fast, she is meet for the husband to dwell in.

9 [f] If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver, and if she be a doore, we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

g The church promiseth fidelitie and constancy. † Heb. peace.

10 [g] I am a wall, and my breasts like towers, then was I in his eyes, as one that found † favour.

12 My vineyard which is mine, is before me: thou (O Solomon) must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof, two hundred.

i Christ dwelleth in his church, whose voice the faithfull hear. † Heb. flee away.

13 Thou that dwellest in the [i] gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice, cause me to heare it.

k The church desireth Christ, that if he depart from them, yet that he would haste to help them in their troubles.

14 ¶ † [k] Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe, or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

THE BOOK of the prophet ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promise, Deut. 18, 15. that he would never leave his church destitute of a prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare to the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall revelation, but also to interpret and declare the law, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the utilitie and profit of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the law, they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the law: and thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded upon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gave them understanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care of, or regard to, the enemies, but to assure the church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they have more clearely treated of it than Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom the covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things, Isaiah did excell all the prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: ever applying the doctrine, as he saw that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophecies which he had received of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the favour of God toward his church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their union with the Iews, which are as most principall points contained in this book, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached: Which after certain dayes that they had stood upon the temple doore (for the manner of the prophets was to set up the summe of their doctrine for certain dayes, that the people might the better mark it, as Isa. 8, 1, and 518 Hab. 2, 2.) the Priests took it down, and reserved it among their register: and so by Gods providence, these books were preserved as a monument to the church for ever. As touching his person & time, he was of the kings stock (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Judah, as the best writers agree) and propheſied more than 64 yeares from the time of Vzziah, into the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in law he was (as the Hebrews write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the prophets, this one thing among others is to be observed, that they speak of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordained them in his secret counsel, and so revealed them to his prophets.

CHAP. I.

2 Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion. 5 He lamenteth her judgements. 10 He upbraideth their whole service. 16 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises and threatnings. 21 Bewailing their wickednes, he denounceth Gods judgements. 25 He promiseth grace, 28 and threatneth destruction to the wicked.

THE vision of [a] Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, which he saw [h] concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the dayes of [c] Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 * Heare, O [d] heavens, and give eare, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up [e] children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 * The [f] ox knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.

4 Ah sinfull nation, a people † laden with iniquitie, [g] a seed of evil-doers, children that are corrupters, they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the [h] holy one of Israel unto anger, they are † gone away backward.

5 ¶ Why should ye be [i] stricken any more? ye will † revolt more and more: the whole [k] head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the [l] sole of the foot even unto the head, there is no soundnesse in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither [m] bound up, neither mollified with † ointment.

7 * Your countrey is desolate, your cities are burnt with fire: your land, strangers devoure it in your presence, & it is desolate † as overthrown by [n] strangers.

8 And the daughter of [o] Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 * Except the LORD of hosts [p] had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as * [q] Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah, 10 ¶ Heare the word of the LORD, ye [r] rulers of Sodom; give eare unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your * sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt-offerings of rammes, and the fat of fed beasts, and I [f] delight not in the bloud of bullocks, or of lambes, or of he-goats.

12 When ye come † to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more [t] vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me, the new moons, and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies I cannot away with, it is ‡ iniquitie, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your [u] new moons, and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me, I am wearie to bear them,

15 And * when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye † make many prayers, I will not heare: your hands are full of * † [x] bloud.

16 ¶ [y] Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, * cease to do evil, 17 Learn to do [z] well, seek judgement, ‡ relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherlesse, plead for the widow.

18 Come now [a] and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sinnes be as scarlet, they shall be as [b] white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shal be as wooll.

19 If ye be [c] willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and rebell, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

21 ¶ How is the [d] faithfull citie become an harlot? it was full of judgement, righteousnesse lodged in it; but now [e] murderers.

22 [f] Thy silver is become drosse, thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of [g] theeves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they * judge not the fatherlesse, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts, the [h] mightie one of Israel, Ah, I will [i] ease me of mine adversaries, & avenge me of mine enemies.

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and † [k] purely purge away thy drosse, and take away all thy tin.

CHAP. II.

1 Iſaiah propheſieth the coming of Chriſts kingdome. 6 Wickedneſſe is the cauſe of Gods forſaking. 10 He exhorteth to fear, becauſe of the powerfull effects of Gods majeſtie.

THe word that Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſaw, concerning Judah and Jeruſalem.

2 And * [a] it ſhall come to paſſe in the laſt dayes, that the mountain of the LORDS houſe ſhall be ‡ eſtabliſhed in the top of the mountains, and ſhall [b] be exalted above the hills; and all nations ſhall [c] flow unto it

3 And many people ſhall go and ſay, Come ye, and let us go up to the [d] mountain of the LORD, to the houſe of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his wayes, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion ſhall go forth the [d] law, and the word of the LORD from [f] Jeruſalem.

4 And [g] he ſhall judge among the nations and ſhall [h] rebuke many people: and they ſhall [i] beat their ſwords into plow-ſhares, and their ſpeares into ‡ pruning-hooks: nation ſhall not lift up ſword againſt nation, [k] neither ſhall they learn warre any more.

5 O houſe of Jacob, come ye, and let us [l] walk in the light of the LORD.

6 ¶ Therefore thou haſt [m] forſaken thy people the houſe of Jacob, becauſe they be [n] replenished ‡ from the eaſt, and are ſoothſayers like the Philiſtines, and they ‡ [o] pleaſe themſelves in the children of ſtrangers.

1 Isaiah in a vision of the Lord in his glory. 5 being terrified is confirmed for his message. 9 He sheweth the obstinacy of the people, unto their desolation. 13 A remnant shall be saved.

IN the yeare that king Uzziah died, I * a saw also the Lord sitting upon a b throne high and lifted up, and ‡ c his train filled the temple. * Joh. 12: 41. a God sheweth not himself to man in his majestie, but according as mans capcity is able to comprehend him: that is, by visible signes, as John Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the forme of a dove. b As a judge ready to give sentence. ‡ Or, the skirts thereof. c Of his garment, or of his throne.

2 Above it stood the d seraphims: each one had six wings, with twain he covered his e face, and with twain he covered his f feet, and with twain he did g flie. d They were angels, so called, because they were of a fiery colour, to signifie that they burnt in the love of God, or were light as fire to execute his will.

3 And † one cried unto another, and said, * b Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts, † the whole i earth is full of his glory.

4 And the posts of the † doore k moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for * us? Then said I, † Here am I, send me.

9 ¶ And he said, Go and tell this people, * [o] Heare ye ‡ † indeed, but understand not: and see ye indeed, but perceive not.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their eares heavy, and shut their eyes: lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and understand with their heart, and convert and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, [p] how long? And he answered, Untill the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be † utterly desolate.

12 And the LORD have removed men farre away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 ¶ But yet in it shall be [q] a tenth, † and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a teyl-tree, and as an [r] oak whose ‡ substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ahaz being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Isaiah. 10 Ahaz, having liberty to choose a signe, and refusing it, hath for a signe, Christ promised. 17 His judgement is prophesied to come by Assyria.

* 2 King. 16: 5.

AND it came to passe in the dayes of [a] Ahaz the sonne of Jotham, the sonne of Uzziah king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, king of Israel, [a] went up towards Jerusalem to warre against it, but could not prevail against it.

2 And it was told the house of [b] David, saying, Syria † is confederate with [c] Ephraim: and his heart was [d] moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the winde.

3 Then said the LORD unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and [e] Shear-jashub thy sonne, at the end of the * conduit of the upper pool in the ‡ high-way of the fullers field:

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, † neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of these smoking [f] firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the sonne of Remaliah:

5 Because Syria, Ephraim, and the sonne of Remaliah have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and † vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of [g] Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to passe.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin, and within [h] threescore and five yeares shall Ephraim be broken, † that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne: ‡ if ye will not beleeve, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ † Moreover, the LORD spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask thee [i] a signe of the LORD thy God, ‡ ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I [k] tempt the LORD.

13 And he said, Heare ye now, O house of David, Is it a small thing for you to weary [l] men, but will ye weary my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord [m] himself shall give you a signe, * Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a sonne, and ‡ shall call his name Immanuel.

15 [n] Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.

16 For before the [o] childe shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings.

17 ¶ The LORD shall bring upon thee and upon thy people, and upon thy fathers house, dayes that have not come, from the day that [p] Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of [q] Assyria.

18 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the LORD shall hisse for the [r] flie, that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all ‡ [r] bushes.

20 In the same day shall the Lord shave with a * rasour that is hired, namely by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the † feet: and it shall also consume the heart.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, that a man shall [u] nourish a young cow, and two sheep.

22 And it shall come to passe for the [x] abundance of milk that they shall give, he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat, that is left † in the land.

23 And it shall come to passe in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines, at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for briers and thorns.

g Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth enemy to the house of David.
h Counting from the five and twentieth year of the reigne of Uzziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, and now Isaiah confirmeth, that the Israelites should be led into perpetuall captivitie, which thing came to passe within 20 yeares after that Isaiah did this message.

k Not to beleeve Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God, but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the aid and help of our infirmity, is to rebell against him.
l You think you have to doe with men when ye contemn Gods messengers, but it is God against whom you bend your selves.
m Forasmuch as thou art unworthy, the Lord for his own promise sake will give a signe, which shall be, that Christ the Saviour of his church, and the effect of all signes and miracles shall be revealed.

1 The wo of tyrants. 5 Assyria, the rod of hypocrites, for his pride shall be broken. 20 A remnant of Israel shall be saved. 24 Israel is comforted with promise of deliverance from Assyria.

WO unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and ‡ that [a] write grievousnesse which they have prescribed:

2 To turn aside the needie from judgement, and to take away the right from the poore of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherlesse.

3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from [b] farre? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your [c] glorie?

4 [d] Without me they shall bowe down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain: * for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ ‡ O † [e] Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, ‡ and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

6 I will send [f] him against an hypocriticall nation; and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and † to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7 Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so, but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few.

10 As my hand hath found the kingdomes of the idols, and whose graven images did excell them of Jerusalem, and of Samaria:

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to passe, that whē the Lord hath performed his [h] whole work * upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will † punish the fruit of the stout heart of the [i] king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdome; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants ‡ like a valiant man.

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth egges that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 Shall the [k] axe boast it self against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnifie it self against him that shaketh it? ‡ as if the rod should shake it self against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up ‡ it self, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be for a [l] fire, and his holy one for a flame: and it shall burn and devoure [m] his thorns and his briers in one day:

4 But with righteousnesse shall he judge the poore, and [‡] reprove with equity, for the meek of the earth: and he shall * [b] smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousnesse shall be the girdle of his loyns, and faithfulnesse the girdle of his reins.

6 * [c] The wolf also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid: and the calf, and the young lion, and the fatling together, and a little childe shall lead them.

12 And he shall set up an ensigne for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah, from the foure [†] corners of the earth.

13 The envie also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envie [h] Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

And in that day thou [a] shalt say, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angrie with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me.

1 God mustereth the armies of his wrath. 6 He threatneth to destroy Babylon by the Medes. 19 The desolation of Babylon.

The [a] burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the sonne of Amoz did see.

2 Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, [b] shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also [c] called my mightie ones for mine anger, even them that rejoyce in my [d] highnesse.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, † like as of a great people: a tumultuous noise of the kingdomes of nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts mustereth the host of the battel.

5 They come from a farre countrey, from the end of heaven, even the Lord and the [e] weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

6 ¶ Howl [f] ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almightie.

7 Therefore shall all hands ‡ be faint, and every mans heart shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them, they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth, they shall † be amazed † one at another, their faces shall be as † [g] flames.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate; and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 For the [h] starres of heaven, and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sunne shall be * darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the [i] world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquitie: and I will cause the arrogancie of the [k] proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtinesse of the terrible.

12 I will make [l] a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And [m] it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through: and every one that is joyned unto them, shall fall by the sword.

16 [n] Their children also shall be * dashed to pieces before their eyes, their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stirre up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces, and they shall have no pitie on the fruit of the wombe; their eye shall not spare children.

19 ¶ And Babylon the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie of the Caldees excellencie, shall be † as when God overthrew * Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the [o] Arabian pitch tent there, neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

21 But [p] wilde beasts of the desert shall lie there, and their houses shall be full of † dolefull creatures, and ‡ † owls shall dwell there, and satyres shall dance there.

22 And † the wilde beasts of the islands shall cry in their ‡ desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is neare to come, and her dayes shall not be prolonged.

a That is, the great calamitie, which was prophesied to come on Babel, as a most grievous burthen, which they were not able to bear. In these twelve chapters following, he speaketh of the plague wherewith God would smite these strange nations, (who they knew) to declare that God chastised the Israelites as his children, and these other as his enemies: and also, that if God spare not these that are ignorant, that they must not think strange, if he punished them, which have knowledge of his law and keep it not.

1 Gods mercifull restauration of Israel. 4 Their triumphant insultation over Babel. 24 Gods purpose against Assyria. 29 Palestina is threatned.

For [a] the Lord will have mercie on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers [b] shall be joyned with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.

6 They ſhall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the [i] beaſts of the earth: and the fowls ſhall ſummer upon them, and all the beaſts of the earth ſhall winter upon them.

i Not onely men ſhall contemn them, but the bruit beaſts.

7 ¶ In that time ſhall the [k] preſent be brought unto the LORD of hoſts, of a people ‡ ſcattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; á nation meted out and troden under foot, whoſe land the rivers have ſpoiled, to the place of the name of the LORD of hoſts, the mount Zion.

k Meaning, that God wil pitie his church, and receive that little remnant as an offering unto himſelf.

Chap. XIX.

1 The confuſion of Egypt. 11 The foolishneſſe of their princes. 18 The calling of Egypt to the church. 23 The covenant of Egypt, Aſſyria and Iſrael.

THE [a] burden of Egypt. Behold, the LORD [b] rideth upon a ſwift cloud, and ſhall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt ſhall be moved at his preſence, and the heart of Egypt ſhall melt in the midſt of it.

a Reade chap. 13. verſ. 1.

b Becauſe the Egyptians truſted in the defence of their countrey, in the multitude of their idols, and in the valiantneſſe of their men, the Lord ſheweth that he will come over all their munitions in a ſwift cloud, and that their idols ſhall tremble at his coming, and that mens hearts ſhall faint.

2 And I will † ſet the Egyptians againſt the Egyptians: and they ſhall [c] fight every one againſt his brother, and every one againſt his neighbour; citie againſt citie, and kingdome againſt kingdome.

† Heb. mingle. c As he cauſed the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans, to kill one another, when they came to deſtroy the church of God, 2 Chron. 20: 22, chap. 49: 26.

3 And the [d] ſpirit of Egypt † ſhall fail in the midſt thereof, and I will † deſtroy the counſel thereof: and they ſhall ſeek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar ſpirits, and to the wizards.

d Meaning, their policie, and wiſedome.

† Heb. ſhall be emptied.

4 And the Egyptains will I ‡ give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king ſhall rule over them, ſaith the Lord, the LORD of hoſts.

‡ Or, thut up.

5 And the [e] waters ſhall fail from the ſea, and the river ſhall be waſted and dried up.

e He ſheweth, that the ſea and Nilus their great river, whereby they thought themſelves moſt ſure, ſhould not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would ſend the Aſſyrians among them that ſhould keep them under as ſlaves.

6 And they ſhall turn the [f] rivers farre away, and the brooks of defence ſhall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags ſhall wither.

f For Nilus ran into the ſea by ſeven ſtreams, as though they were ſo many rivers.

7 The paper-reeds by the brooks, by the [g] mouth of the brooks, & every thing ſown by the brooks ſhall wither, be driven away, † and be no more.

g He meaneth the ſpring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.

† Heb. and ſhall not be.

8 The fiſhers alſo ſhall [h] mourn, and all they that caſt angle into the brooks ſhall lament, and they that ſpread nets upon the waters ſhall languiſh.

h The ſcriptures uſe to deſcribe the deſtruction of a countrey by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fish, and ſuch other things, whereby countreis are enriched, 9 Moreover, they that work in fine flax, and they that weave ‡ net-works ſhall be confounded.

‡ Or, white works.

10 And they ſhall be broken in the † purpoſes thereof, all that make ſluces and ponds † for fiſh.

† Heb. foundations.

11 ¶ Surely the princes of [i] Zoan are fools, the counſel of the wiſe counſellers of Pharaoh is become brutish: how [k] ſay ye unto Pharaoh, I am the ſonne of the wiſe, the ſonne of ancient kings?

† Heb. of living things.

i Called alſo Tanes, a famous citie upon Nilus.

k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh; who perſwaded the king, that he was wiſe, and noble, and that his houſe was moſt ancient, and ſo he flattered himſelf, ſaying, I am wiſe.

12 Where are they? where are thy wiſe men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the LORD of hoſts hath purpoſed upon Egypt, 13 The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of [l] Noph are deceived, they have alſo ſeduced Egypt, even ‡ † they that are the [m] ſtay of the tribes thereof.

l Or, Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cairo.

‡ Or, governours.

† Heb. corners.

m The principall upholders thereof are the chiefeſt cauſe of their deſtruction.

14 The LORD hath mingled † [n] a perverſe ſpirit in the midſt thereof: and they have cauſed Egypt to erre in every work thereof, as a drunken man ſtaggereth in his vomit.

† Heb. a ſpirit of perverſities.

n For the ſpirit of wiſdome, he hath made them drunken and giddie with the ſpirit of errour.

15 Neither ſhall there be any work for Egypt, which the head [o] or tail, branch or ruſh may do.

o Neither the great, nor the ſmall, the ſtrong nor the weak.

16 In that day ſhall Egypt be like unto women: and it ſhall be afraid and fear, becauſe of the ſhaking of the hand of the LORD of hoſts, which he ſhaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah ſhall be [p] a terrour unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof, ſhall be afraid in himſelf; becauſe of the counſel of the LORD of hoſts, which he hath determined againſt it.

p Conſidering, that through their occaſion the Jews made not God their defence, but put their truſt in them, and were therefore now puniſhed, they ſhall fear leſt the like light upon them.

18 ¶ In that day ſhall five cities in the land of Egypt [q] ſpeak † the language of Canaan, and [r] ſwear to the LORD of hoſts: one ſhall be called the citie ‡ of [ſ] deſtruction.

q Shall make one confeſſion of faith with the people of God, by the ſpeech of Canaan, meaning the language wherein God was then ſerved.

† Heb. the lip.

r Shall renounce their ſuperſtitions and proteſt to ſerve God aright.

‡ Or, of Heres, or of the ſunne.

ſ Meaning, of ſix cities, five ſhould ſerve God and the ſixt remain in their wickednes: and ſo of the ſix parts there ſhould be but one loſt.

19 In that day ſhall there be an altar to the LORD in the midſt of the land of Egypt, and a [t] pillar at the border thereof to the LORD.

20 And it shall be for a signe, and for a witnesse unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall crie unto the LORD because of the oppressours, and he shall send them [u] a saviour and a great one, and he shall deliver them.

21 And the LORD shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day, and shall do [x] sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and perform it.

22 And the LORD shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heal it, and they shall return even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

23 ¶ In that day shall there be a high-way out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into [y] Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt, and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land.

25 Whom the LORD of hosts shall blesse, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

t There shall be evident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the patriarks, and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place and full manner how he would be worshipped.
u This declareth that this prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.
x By these ceremonies, he comprehendeth the spirituall service under Christ.
y By these two nations, which were then chief enemies of the church, he sheweth, that the Gentiles and the Jews should be joyned together in one faith and religion, and should be all one fold under Christ their Shepherd.

CHAP. XX.

A type prefiguring the shamefull captivitie of Egypt and Ethiopia.

IN the yeare that [a] Tartan came unto [b] Ashdod (when [c] Sargon the king of Assyria sent him) and fought against Ashdod, and took it;

2 At the same time spake the LORD † by Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins: and put off thy shoe from thy foot: and he did so, walking naked and bare-foot.

3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath [d] walked naked and bare-foot three yeares for a signe and wonder upon Egypt, and upon Ethiopia:

4 So shall the king of Assyria lead away † the Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and bare-foot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the † shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of [e] Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt [f] their glory.

6 And the inhabitant of this ‡ [g] isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and how shall we escape?

11 Edom scorning the prophet, is moved to repentance.
13 The set time of Arabia's calamitie.

THE burden of the [a] desert of the sea. As whirlwindes in the south passe through; so it [b] cometh from the desert, from a terrible land.

2 A † grievous vision is declared unto me, the [c] treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth: go up, O [d] Elam: besiege, O Media: all the sighing [e] thereof have I made to cease.

3 Therefore are my [f] loyns filled with pain? pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it, I was dismayed at the seeing of it.

4 ‡ My heart panted, fearfulnesse affrighted me: the night of [g] my pleasure hath he † turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: [h] arise ye princes, and anoint the shield.

6 For thus hath the [i] Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, [k] a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels: and he hearkened diligently with much heed.

8 And ‡ he cried, [l] A lion: my lord, I stand continually upon the * watch-tower in the day-time, and I am set in my ward ‡ whole nights.

9 And behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen: and [m] he answered and said, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

12 The watchman said, The [q] morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come.

13 ¶ The burden upon Arabia. In the [r] forrest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanim.

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tema ‡ brought [r] water to him that was thirstie, they prevented with their bread him that fled.

15 For they fled † † from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousnesse of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, within a yeare, [t] according to the yeares of an [u] hireling, and all the glorie of Kedar shall fail.

17 And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of [x] Kedar shall be diminished: for the LORD God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The prophet lamenteth the invasion of Iewrie by the Persians. 8 He reproveth their humane wisdome, and worldly joy. 15 He propheſieth Shebnas deprivation, 20 and Eliakim, prefiguring the kingdome of Christ, his substitution.

THe burden of the [a] valley of vision. What [b] aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of [c] stirres, a tumultuous citie, a joyous citie: thy slain men are not slain with the [d] sword, nor dead in battel.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are [e] bound † by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from [f] farre.

4 Therefore said I, * Look away from me, † I will [g] weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me; because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexitie by the Lord GOD of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of [h] crying to the mountains.

6 And Elam [i] bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kir † uncovered the shield.

7 And it shall come to passe that † thy choicest valley shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in aray ‡ at the gate.

8 ¶ And he discovered the [k] covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forrest.

9 Ye have seen also the [l] breaches of the citie of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have [m] numbred the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortifie the wall.

11 Ye [n] made also a ditch between the two walls, for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker [o] thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago

12 And in that day did the Lord GOD of hosts call to weeping and to mourning, and to baldnesse, and to girding with sackcloth:

13 And behold, joy and gladnesse, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, [p] eating flesh, and drinking wine; * let us eat and drink, for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine eares by the LORD of hosts, Surely this iniquitie shall not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD of hosts, Go, get thee unto this [q] treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say, 16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou [r] here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here ‡ as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation [r] for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, ‡ the LORD will carrie thee away with † a mightie captivitie, and will surely cover thee.

18 He will surely violently turn and tosse thee, like a ball into a † large countrey: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glorie shall be the [t] shame of thy lords house.

19 And I will drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall he pull thee down.

20 ¶ And it shall come to passe in that day, that I will [u] call my servant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah.

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand, and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah,

22 And the [x] key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder: so he shall * open and none shall shut, and he shall shut and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a [y] nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his fathers house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glorie of his fathers house, the offspring and the issue, all vessels [z] of small quantitie: from the vessels of cups, even to all the ‡ vessels of flagons.

25 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the [a] nail that is fastened in the sure place, be removed, and be cut down and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The miserable overthrow of Tyre. 17 Their unhappy return.

THe [a] burden of Tyre. Howl ye ships of [b] Tarshish, for [c] it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entring in: from the land of [d] Chittim it is [e] revealed to them.

2 Be † still ye inhabitants of the isle, thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that passe over the sea, have [f] replenished.

2 And by great waters the [g] seed of Sihor, the harvest of the river is her revenue, and she is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon; for the [h] sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I [i] travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be [k] sorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6 Passe ye over to [l] Tarshish, howl ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 Is this your joyous citie, whose antiquitie is of ancient dayes? her own feet shall carrie her † afarre off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tyre, [m] the crowning citie, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The LORD of hosts hath purposed it, † to stain the pride of all glorie, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

1 The dolefull judgements of God upon the land. 13 A remnant shall joyfully praise him. 16 God in his judgements shall advance his kingdome.

BEhold, the LORD maketh the [a] earth emptie, and maketh it waste, and † turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the † [b] priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistresse; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower: as with the taker of usurie, so with the giver of usurie to him.

3 The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the LORD hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, † the haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The earth also is [c] defiled under the inhabitants thereof, because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets, all joy is darkened, the [g] mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people: there shall be [h] as the shaking of an olive-tree, and as the gleaning grapes when the vintage is done.

14 They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majestie of the LORD, they shall cry aloud from the [i] sea.

15 Wherefore, glorifie ye the LORD in the ‡ fires, even the name of the LORD God of Israel in the isles of the sea.

16 ¶ From the † uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the [k] righteous: but I said, † My [l] leanneſſe, my leanneſſe, wo unto me: the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously, yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 * Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And it shall come to passe, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear, shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the [m] windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage, and the transgression thereof shall be heavie upon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again.

21 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the LORD shall † punish the [n] host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together † as prisoners are gathered in the † pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many dayes shall they be † [o] visited.

23 [p] Then the * moon shall be confounded, and the sunne ashamed, when the LORD of hosts shall reigne in mount Zion and in Jerusalem, and ‡ before his ancients gloriously.

a This prophecy is as a conclusion of that which hath been threatned to the Jews, and other nations from the 13 chap. and therefore by the earth he meaneth those lands, which were before named.
† Heb. perverteth the face thereof.
‡ Or, prince.
b Because this was a name of dignitie, it was also applied to them which were not of Aarons family, and so signifieth also a man of dignity, as 2 Sam. 8. 18. and 20. 25. 2 Chron. 18: 17. and by these words the prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shall be neither religion, order, nor policie, Hosea 4: 9.
† Heb. the height of the people.
c By the sins of men procuring Gods judgements on the same.
d Written in the law, as Lev. 26: 14. Deut. 28: 16. thus the prophets used to apply particularly the menaces and promises, which are generall in the law.

g Because they did not use Gods benefits aright, their pleasures should fail, and they fall to mourning.
h He comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in this great desolation the Lord will assemble his church, which shall praise his name, as Chap. 10: 22.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The prophet praiseth God for his judgements, 6 for his saving benefits, 9 and for his victorious salvation.

O LORD, thou [a] art my God, I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderfull things; thy counsels of old are faithfulnesse and truth.

2 For thou hast made [b] of a citie, an heap; of a defenced citie, a ruine: a palace of [c] strangers, to be no citie, it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the [d] strong people glorifie thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee,

4 For thou hast been a strength to the poore, a strength to the needie in his distresse, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the [e] blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of strangers, [f] as the heat in a dry place; even the [g] heat with the shadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.

6 ¶ And in this [h] mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And he will † destroy in this mountain the face of the [i] covering † cast over all people, and the vail that is spread over all nations.

8 He will * swallow up death in victory, and the Lord GOD will [k] wipe away tears from off all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 ¶ And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God, we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD, we have waited for him, we will be glad, and rejoyce in his salvation.

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and [l] Moab shall be ‡ troden down under him, even as straw is ‡ troden down for the [m] dunghill.

11 And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands.

12 And the fortresse of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust.

a Thus the prophet giveth thanks to God because he will bring under subjection these nations by his corrections, and make them of his church, which before were his enemies.
b Not onely of Jerusalem, but also of these other cities which have been, thine enemies.
c That is, a place whereas all vagabonds may live without danger, and as it were at ease as in a palace.
d The arrogant and proud which before would not know thee, shall by thy corrections feare and glorify thee.
e The rage of the wicked is furious, till God break the force thereof.
f Meaning, that as the heat is abated by the rain, so shall God bring down the rage of the wicked.
g As a cloud shadoweth from the heat of the sunne, so shall God asswage the rejoycing of the wicked against the godly.
h To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his church, which should under Christ be assembled of the Jews and the Gentiles, and is here described under the figure of a costly banquet, as Matth. 22: 2.
† Heb. swallow up.
i Meaning, that ignorance and blindnesse, whereby we are kept back from Christ.
† Heb. covered.
* 1 Cor. 15: 54.
k He will take away all occasions of sorrow, and fill his with perfect joy, Revel. 7: 17. and 21: 4.
l By Moab are meant all the enemies of his church.
‡ Or, threshed.
‡ Or, threshed.
m Heb. Madmenah there were two cities of this name: one in Judah, 1 Chron. 2: 49. and another in the land of Moab. Jerem. 48: 2. which seemeth to have been a plentifull place of corn, chap. 10: 31. the meaning is of the vilest chaff which is fit for no other use, but as dung to be cast to the field.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 A song inciting to confidence in God, 5 For his judgements, 12 and for his favour to his people. 20 An exhortation to wait on God.

IN that day shall [a] this song be sung in the land of Judah, We have a strong city, [b] salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 [c] Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the † truth may enter in.

3 Thou wilt keep him in † perfect peace, whose ‡ [d] minde is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.

4 Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is † everlasting strength.

5 ¶ For he bringeth down them that dwell on high, the [e] lofty city he layeth it low, he layeth it low, even to the ground, he bringeth it even to the dust.

6 The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the [f] poore, and the steps of the needie.

7 The way of the just is uprightnesse: thou most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

8 Yea in the way of thy [g] judgements, O LORD, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night, yea with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn [h] righteousnesse.

10 Let [i] favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousnesse: in the land of uprightnesse will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majestie of the LORD.

11 LORD, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see: but they shall see, and be ashamed for their [k] envy ‡ at the people, yea the fire of thine [l] enemies shall devoure them.

12 ¶ LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works ‡ in us.

13 O LORD our God, other [m] lords besides thee have had dominion over us: but by thee onely will we make mention of thy name.

14 They are [n] dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

15 Thou hast [o] increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation, thou art glorified; thou hadst removed it farre unto all the ends of the earth.

16 LORD, in trouble have they [p] visited thee, they poured out a † prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe that draweth neare the time of her deliverie, is in pain, and cryeth out in her pangs; so have we been in thy [q] sight, O LORD.

18 We have been with childe, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought [r] forth winde, we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, neither have the inhabitants of the world [s] fallen.

19 [t] Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise: awake and sing ye that dwell in dust: for thy [u] dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 ¶ Come my people [x] enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee: hide a This song was made to comfort the faithfull when their captivitie should come, assuring them also of their deliverance, for the which they should sing this song.

e There is no power so high that can let God, when he will deliver his.
f God will set the poore afflicted over the power of the wicked.
g We have constantly abided in the adversities wherewith thou hast afflicted us.

t He comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them, that even in death they shall have life: and that they should most certainly rise to glory: the contrary should come to the wicked, as verse 14.
u As herbs dead in winter, flourish again by the rain in the spring time, so they that lie in the dust, shall rise up to joy when they feel the dew of Gods grace.
x He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to wait upon Gods work.

* Micah 1: 3.

y The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent bloud, which it hath drunk, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The care of God over his vineyard. 7 His chastisements differ from judgements. 12 The church of Jews and Gentiles.

IN that [a] day the LORD with his sore and great and strong [b] sword shall punish leviathan the ‡ piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of [c] red wine.

3 I the LORD do keep it, I will water it every moment; lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 [d] Furie is not in me: who would set the bryers and thorns against me in battel? I would ‡ go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or let him [e] take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me, and he shall make peace with me.

6 [f] He shall cause them that come of Jacob to take root: Israel shall blossome and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 ¶ Hath he [g] smitten him, † as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?

8 In [h] measure ‡ when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it; ‡ he stayeth his rough winde in the day of the east-winde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Jacob be purged, and this is all the [i] fruit to take away his sinne; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalk-stones that are beaten in sunder, the groves and ‡ images shall not stand up.

10 Yet the [k] defenced citie shall be desolate, and the habitation forsaken, and left like a wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off: the [l] women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercie on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.

12 ¶ And it shall come to passe in that day that the LORD shall beat off from the chanel of the [m] river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel.

13 And it shall come to passe in that day, that the great trumpet shall be [n] blown, & they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the LORD in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

a At the time appointed.
b That is, by his mighty power, and by his word. He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satan and his kingdome, under the name of Leviathan, Ashur, and Egypt.
‡ Or, crossing like a barre.
c Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the church, should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.
d Therefore he will destroy the kingdome of Satan, because he loveth his church for his own mercies sake, and cannot be angry with it, but wisheth that he may powre his anger upon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thorns.
‡ Or, march against.
e A promise towards the faithfull, taking hold on the Lord by faith: and trusting on his power.
f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the root spring againe and bring forth in great abundance.
g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in justice.
† Heb according to the stroke of those.
h That is, Thou wilt not destroy the root of thy church, though the branches thereof seem to perish by the sharp winde of affliction.
‡ Or, when thou sendest it forth.
‡ Or, when he removeth it.
i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments thereof destroyed.
‡ Or, sun images.
k Notwithstanding his favour that he will shew them after, yet Jerusalem shall be destroyed, and grasse for cattell shall grow in it.
l God shall not have need of mighty enemies: for the women shall doe it to their great shame. m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to have escaped. n In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be delivered: but this was chiefly accomplished under Christ.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The prophet threatneth Ephraim for their pride and drunkennesse. 9 The residue shall be advanced in the kingdome of Christ. 7 He rebuketh their errour. 9 Their untowardnesse to learn, 14 and their securitie. 16 Christ the sure foundation is promised. 18 Their securitie shall be tried. 23 They are incited to the consideration of Gods discreet providence.

WO to the [a] crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beautie is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat [b] valleys of them that are † overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mightie and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a [c] destroying storm, as a flood of mightie waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim shall be troden † under feet.

4 And the glorious beautie which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the [d] hastie fruit before the summer: which when he that looketh upon it, seeth it, while it is yet in his hand he † eateth it up.

5 In that day shall the LORD of hosts be for a crown of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie unto the [e] residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of judgement to him that sitteth in judgement, and for [f] strength to them that turn the battel to the gate.

7 ¶ But they also have erred through [g] wine, and through strong drink are out of the way: the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink, they erre in vision, they stumble in judgement.

8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthinesse, so that there is no place clean.

9 ¶ [h] Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand † doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

10 [i] For precept ‡ must be upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little.

11 For with † * [k] stammering lips and another tongue ‡ will he speak to this people.

12 To whom [l] he said, this is the [m] rest wherewith ye may cause the wearie to rest, and this is the [n] refreshing: yet they would not heare.

13 But the word of the LORD was unto them, precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little; that they might go and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 ¶ Wherefore heare the word of the LORD, ye scornfull men that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.

n If ye be wearie and loden with sins, seek to Christ for refreshment. Matth. 11: 28.
o Because they will not receive the word of God when it is offered, it cometh of their own malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care nor for it, as before Chap. 6: 9. p They thought they had shifts to avoid Gods judgements, and that they could escape though all other perished.

agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall passe through, it shall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under [q] falshood have we hid our selves:

16 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation, * a stone, [r] a tried stone, a precious corner-stone, a sure foundation: he that beleeveth, [s] shall not make haste.

17 Judgement also will I lay to the line, and [t] righteousnesse to the plummet, and the [u] hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the [x] hiding-place.

18 ¶ And your covenant with death shall be disanulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall passe through, then ye shall be † troden down by it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it passe over, by day and by night, and it shall be a [y] vexation, onely ‡ to understand the report.

20 For the bed is [z] shorter, than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower, than that he can wrap himself in it.

21 For the LORD shall rise up as in mount * [a] Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of * [b] Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work; and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 ¶ Give ye eare, and heare my voice; hearken and heare my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he ope and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath [c] made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in ‡ the principall wheat, and the appointed barley, and the ‡ rie in their † place?

26 ‡ For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing-instrument, neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corn is bruised, because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.

29 This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsel, and excellent in working.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the [d] ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall † whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy [e] strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away: yea it shall be at an instant suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the LORD of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the [f] multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distresse her, shall be as a dream of a night-vision.

8 It shall even be as when a hungrie man dreameth, and behold he [g] eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and behold he drinketh; but he awaketh, and behold he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

9 ¶ [h] Stay your selves and wonder, ‡ cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

† Heb. border.
‡ Or, and he bindeth it in such sort as his God doth teach him.

a The Hebrew word Ariel, signifieth, the Lion of God, and signifieth the altar, because the altar semeth to devoure the sacrifice, that was offered to God, as Ezek. 43: 16.

c Or, altar; that is, Your citie shall be full of bloud, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.
d Thy speech shall be no more so loftie, but abased, and low, as the very charmers which are in low places; and whisper so that their voice can scarce be heard.
† Heb. peep, or chirp.
e Thine hired souldiers in whom thou trustest, shall be destroyed as dust or chaff in a whirlewinde.
f The enemie that I will bring to destroy thee, and that which thou makest thy vaine trust; shall come at unawares even as a dream in the night.
g Some reade as if this were a comfort to the church for the destruction of their enemies. That is; he thinketh that he eateth.
h Muse hereon as long as ye list, yet shall ye finde nothing but occasion to be astonied for your Prophets are blinde, and therefore cannot direct you.
‡ Or, take your pleasure and riot.
† Heb. heads.
† Or, letter.
i Meaning, that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to understand.
k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Matth. 15: 8. Marc. 7: 6.
l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.
† Heb. I will adde.
* Jer. 49: 7. Obad. ver. 8. 1 Cor. 1: 19.
m Meaning, that where as God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fools, and without understanding.
n This is spoken of them, which in heart despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face. * Eccles 23: 18.
o For all your craft, saith the Lord, you cannot be able to escape mine hands, no more than the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliver it self, b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shall not last long. † Heb. cut off the heads.

shall shall the * work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed, say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

* Chap. 45:9.

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and [p] Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitfull field, and the fruitfull field shall be esteemed as a forrest?

[p] Shall there not be a change of all things? and Carmel, that is, a plentifull place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as a forrest, as Chap. 32. vers. 15. and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithfull.

18 ¶ And in that day shall the deaf heare the words of the book, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meek also † shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poore among men shall rejoyce in the holy one of Israel.

† Heb. shall adde.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquitie are cut off:

21 That make a man an offender for [q] a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought.

[q] That is, they would take offence for the smallest matter, and when no cause at all was given.

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands in the midst of him, they shall sanctifie my name, and sanctifie the holy one of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

† Heb. shall know understanding, [r] Signifying, that except God give understanding and knowledge, man cannot but still erre, and murmure against him.

24 They also that erred in spirit † [r] shall come to understanding, and they that murmured, shall learn doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The propbet threatneth the people for their confidence in Egypt. 8 and contempt of Gods word. 18 Gods mercies towards his church. 27 Gods wrath, and the peoples joy in the destruction of Assyria.

[a] Who contrary to their promise take not me for their protector, and contrary to my commandement, seek help at strangers.

WO to the [a] rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that [b] cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may adde sinne to sinne:

[b] They seek shifts to cloke their doings, and not godly means.

2 That walk to go down into Egypt, (and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt,

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

[c] The chief of Israel went into Egypt in ambassie to seek help, and abode at these cities.

4 For his [c] princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadours came to Hanes.

5 They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help nor profit: but a shame and also a reproach.

[d] That is, a heavie sentence, or prophecy against the beasts that carried their treasures into Egypt, by the wildernes, which was south from Judah: signifying, that if the beasts should not be spared, the men should be punished much more grievously.

6 The [d] burden of the beasts of the south; into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carrie their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

‡ Or, to her.

[e] By the appointment and advise of the Jews to send a message, see Jerem. 31:7.

7 For the Egyptains shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried † concerning [e] this, Their strength is to [f] sit still.

[f] And not to come to and fro to seek help.

8 ¶ Now go, [g] write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for † the time to come [h] for ever and ever:

[g] That is, this prophesie.

† Heb. the latter day.

[h] That it may be a witnesse against them for all posteritie.

9 That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will [i] not heare the law of the LORD:

[i] He sheweth, what was the cause of their destruction, and bringeth also all miserie to men: to wit, because they would not heare the word of God, but delighted to be flattered and led in errour.

10 Which say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesie not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesie [k] deceits:

[k] Threaten us not by the word of God, neither be so rigorous, nor talk unto us in the name of the Lord, as Jer. 12:22.

11 Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the holy one of Israel to cease from before us.

‡ Or, fraud.

12 Wherefore thus saith the holy one of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in ‡ oppression and perverseneſſe, and [l] stay thereon:

[l] Meaning, in their stubbornes against God, and the admonitions of his prophets.

13 Therefore this iniquitie shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of † the potters vessel, that is broken in pieces, he shall not spare; so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it, [m] a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withall out of the pit.

† Heb. the bottle of potters.

[m] Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shall be without recovery.

15 For thus saith the [n] Lord GOD, the holy one of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietnesse and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not.

[n] Oft times by his prophets he put you in remembrance of this, that you should onely depend on him.

16 But ye said, No, for we will flee upon [o] horses; therefore shall ye flee: and we will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you, be swift.

[o] We will trust to escape by our horses.

17 One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as ‡ a beacon upon the [p] top of a mountain, and as an ensigne on an hill.

‡ Or, a tree bereft of branches, or boughs: or a mast.

[p] Whereas all the trees are cut down save two or three to make masts.

18 ¶ And therefore will the LORD wait that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have [q] mercy upon you; for the LORD is a God of [r] judgement; * blessed are all they that wait for him.

[q] He commendeth the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

[r] Not onely in punishing, but in using moderation in the same, as Jer. 30:24. and 30:11.

* Psal. 2:12. and 34:8. Prov. 16:20. Jer. 17:7.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more; he will be very gracious unto thee, at the voice of thy cry; when he shall heare it, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversitie, and the water of ‡ affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

‡ Or, oppression.

21 And thine eares shall heare a word behinde thee, saying, This is the way, [s] walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

[s] God shall direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to goe either hither or thither.

22 Ye shall [t] defile also the covering of † thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt † cast them away as a menstruous cloth, thou shalt say unto it, [u] Get thee hence.

[t] Ye shall cast away your idols, which you have made of gold and silver, with all that belongeth unto them, as a most filthy thing and polluted.

† Heb. the graven images of thy silver.

† Heb. scatter.

23 Then shall he give the rain of thy seed

[u] Shewing, that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deed we shew our selves enemies to idolatrie.

that that thou ſhalt ſow the ground withall, and bread of the increaſe of the earth, and it ſhall be fat and plenteous: in that day ſhall thy cattel feed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen likewiſe and the young aſſes that eare the ground, ſhall eat ‡ † clean provender which hath been winnowed with the ſhovel and with the fanne.

‡ Or, ſavoury. † Heb. leavened.

25 And there ſhall be upon every [x] high mountain, and upon every † high hill, rivers and ſtreams of waters, in the day of the great ſlaughter, when the towers fall.

x By theſe divers manner of ſpeech, he ſheweth, that the felicitie of the church ſhall be ſo great, that none is able ſufficiently to expreſſe it.

† Heb. lifted up.

26 Moreover, the light of the moon ſhall be as the light of the [y] ſunne, and the light of the ſunne ſhall be ſevenfold, as the light of ſeven dayes, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the ſtroke of their wound.

y When the church ſhall be reſtored, the glory thereof ſhall paſſe ſeven times the brightneſſe of the ſunne: for by the ſunne and moon, which are two excellent creatures, he ſheweth what ſhall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdome of Chriſt.

27 ¶ Behold, the [z] name of the LORD cometh from farre, burning with his anger, ‡ and the burden thereof is † heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire.

z This threatning is againſt the Aſſyrians the chief enemies of the people of God.

‡ Or, and the grievouſneſſe of flame. † Heb. heavineſſe.

28 And his breath as an overflowing ſtream, ſhall reach to the midſt of the neck, to ſift the nations with the ſive of [a] vanity: and there ſhall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, cauſing them to erre.

a To drive them to nothing: and thus God confumeth the wicked by that meanes whereby he cleanſeth his.

29 Ye ſhall have a ſong as in the [b] night, when a holy ſolemnity is kept, and gladneſſe of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the † mighty one of Iſrael.

b Ye ſhall rejoyce at the deſtruction of your enemies, as they that ſing for joy of the ſolemne feaſt, which began in the evening.

30 And the LORD ſhall cauſe his glorious voice to be heard, and ſhall ſhew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with ſcattering, and tempeſt, and hailſtones.

‡ Heb. rock. † Heb. the glory of his voice.

31 For through the voice of the LORD ſhall the Aſſyrian be beaten down which ſmote with [c] a rod.

c Gods plague.

32 And † in every place where the grounded ſtaff ſhall paſſe, which the LORD ſhall † lay upon him, it ſhall be with [d] tabrets and harps: and in battels of ſhaking will he [e] fight ‡ with [f] it.

† Heb. every paſſing of the rod founded. † Heb. cauſe to reſt upon him. d With joy and aſſurance of the victorie. e That is, he will put the enemies to flight. ‡ Or, againſt them. f Againſt Babel: meaning the Aſſyrians and Babylonians.

33 For [g] Tophet is ordained † of old: yea for the [h] king it is prepared, he hath made it [i] deep and large, the pile thereof is fire and much wood, the breath of the LORD, like a ſtream of brimſtone, doth kindle it.

g Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, reade 2 King. 23: 10. cannot exempt the wicked. † Heb. from yeſterday. h So that their eſtate or degree i By theſe figurative ſpeeches he declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The prophet ſheweth the curſed folly in truſting to Egypt, and forſaking of God. 6 He exhorteth to converſion. 8 He ſheweth the fall of Aſſyria.

a There were two ſpeciall cauſes why the Iſraelites ſhould not joyn amitie with the Egyptians: firſt, becauſe the Lord had commanded them never to return thither, Deut. 17: 16. and 28: 68. leſt they ſhould forget the benefit of their redemption: and ſecondly, leſt they ſhould be corrupted with the ſuperſtition and idolatry of the Egyptians, and ſo forſake God, Jer. 2: 18.

WO to them that go [a] down to Egypt for help, and ſtay on horſes, and truſt in chariots, becauſe they are many; and in horſemen, becauſe they are very ſtrong: but they look not unto the holy one of Iſrael, neither [b] ſeek the LORD.

b Meaning, that they forſake the Lord, that put their truſt in worldly things: for they cannot truſt in both.

2 Yet he alſo is [c] wiſe, and will bring evil, and will not † call back his words: but will ariſe againſt the houſe of the evil-doers, and againſt the help of them that work iniquity.

c And knoweth their craftie enterpriſes, and will bring all to naught. † Heb. remove.

3 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horſes fleſh and not ſpirit; when the LORD ſhall ſtretch out his hand, both [d] he that helpeth ſhall fall, and he that is holpen ſhall fall down, and they all ſhall fail together.

d Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Iſraelites.

4 For thus hath he LORD ſpoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of ſhepherds is called forth againſt him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abaſe himſelf for the ‡ noiſe of them: ſo ſhall the LORD of hoſts [e] come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

‡ Or, multitude. e He ſheweth the Jews, that if they would put their truſt in him, he is ſo able, that none can reſiſt his power: and ſo carefull over them, as a bird over her young, which ever flieth about them for their defence: which ſimilitude the ſcripture uſeth in divers places, as Deut. 32: 11. Matth. 23: 37.

5 As birds flying, ſo will the LORD of hoſts defend Jeruſalem, defending alſo he will deliver it, and paſſing over he will preſerve it.

6 ¶ Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Iſrael have [f] deeply revolted.

f He toucheth their conſcience, that they might earneſtly feel their grievous ſins, and ſo truly repent, for as much as now they are almoſt drowned and paſt recoverie.

7 For in that day every man ſhall * [g] caſt away his idols of ſilver, and † his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a ſinne.

* Chap. 2: 20. g By theſe fruits your repentance ſhall be known, as Chap. 2: 18. † Heb. the idols of his gold.

8 ¶ [h] Then ſhall the Aſſyrian fall with the ſword, not of a mighty man; and the ſword, not of a mean man ſhall devoure him: but he ſhall flee ‡ from the ſword, and his young men ſhall be ‡ † diſcomfited.

h When your repentance appeareth. ‡ Or, for fear of the ſword.

9 And he ſhall paſſe over to ‡ † his [i] ſtrong hold for fear, and his princes ſhall be afraid of the enſigne, ſaith the LORD, whoſe [k] fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jeruſalem.

‡ Or, tributarie. † Heb. for melting, or tribute. ‡ Or, his ſtrength ſhall paſſe away for fear. i This was accompliſhed ſoon after, when Sennacheribs armie was diſcomfited, and he fled to his caſtle in Nineveh for ſuccour. † Heb. rock k To deſtroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The bleſſings of Chriſts kingdome, 9 Deſolation is foreſhown. 15 Reſtauration is promiſed to ſucceed.

BEhold, a [a] king ſhall reigne in righteouſneſſe, and princes ſhall rule in [b] judgement.

a This propheſie is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Chriſt, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

2 And a man ſhall be as an hiding-place from the winde, and a covert from the tempeſt: as rivers of water in a dry place, as the ſhadow of a † great rock in a [c] weary land.

b By judgement and juſtice, is meant an upright government both in policie and religion. † Heb. heavy. c Where men are wearie with travelling, for lack of water.

3 And the eyes of them that [d] ſee, ſhall not be dimme; and the eares of them that heare, ſhall hearken.

d He promiſeth to give them true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods word, and underſtanding, and zeal of the ſame, contrary to the threatnings againſt the wicked, Chap. 6: 9. and 29: 10.

4 The heart alſo of the † raſh ſhall underſtand knowledge, and the tongue of the ſtammerers ſhall be ready to ſpeak ‡ plainly.

† Heb. haſty. ‡ Or, elegantly.

5 [e] The vile perſon ſhall be no more called liberall, nor the churl ſaid to be bountifull.

e They ſhall call evil, evil: and good, good.

6 For the vile perſon will ſpeak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practiſe hypocriſie, and to utter errour againſt the LORD, to make empty the ſoul of the hungry, and he will cauſe the drink of the thirſtie to fail.

7 The inſtruments alſo of the churl are evil: he deviſeth wicked devices to deſtroy the poore with lying words, even ‡ when the needy ſpeaketh right.

‡ Or, when he ſpeaketh againſt the poore in judgement.

8 But

8 But the liberall deviſeth liberall things, and by liberall things ſhall he ‡ ſtand.

9 ¶ Riſe up ye women that are at eaſe, heare my voice ye [f] careleſſe daughters, give eare unto my ſpeech.

10 Many † dayes and [g] yeares ſhall ye be troubled, ye careleſſe women: [h] for the vintage ſhall fail, the gathering ſhall not come.

11 Tremble ye women that are at eaſe: be troubled ye careleſſe ones: ſtrip ye and make ye bare, and gird ſackcloth upon your loyns.

12 They ſhall lament for the [i] teats, for † the pleaſant fields, for the fruitfull vine.

13 Upon the land of my people ſhall come up thorns and briers, ‡ yea upon all the houſes of joy in the joyous citie:

14 Becauſe the places ſhall be forſaken, the multitude of the city ſhall be left, the ‡ forts and towers ſhall be for dennes for ever, a joy of wilde aſſes, a paſture of flocks:

15 Untill the [k] ſpirit be poured upon us from on high, & * the wilderneſſe be a fruitfull field, and the [l] fruitfull field be counted for a forreſt.

16 Then judgement ſhall dwell in the wilderneſſe, and righteouſneſſe remain in the fruitfull field.

17 And the work of righteouſneſſe ſhall be peace, and the effect of righteouſneſſe, quietneſſe and aſſurance for ever.

18 And my people ſhall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in ſure dwellings, and in quiet reſting places:

19 When it ſhall hail, coming down on the forreſt; ‡ and the [m] citie ſhall be low in a low place.

20 Bleſſed are ye that [n] ſow beſide all waters, that [o] ſend forth thither the feet of the ox and the aſſe.

‡ Or, be eſtabliſhed.

f He prophecieth of ſuch calamitie to come, that they will not ſpare the women and children, and therefore willeth them to take heed and provide.

g Meaning, that the affliction ſhould continue long, and when one yeare was paſt, yet they ſhould look for new plagues.

h God will take from you the meanes and occaſions, which made you to contemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.

i By the teats he meaneth, the plentifull fields, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teat: or, the mothers for ſorrow and leanneſſe ſhall lack milk.

† Heb. the fields of deſire.

‡ Or, burning upon, &c.

‡ Or, clifts and watchtowers.

k That is, when the church ſhall be reſtored: thus the prophets after they have denounced Gods judgements againſt the wicked, uſe to comfort the godly, leſt they ſhould faint.

* Chap. 19: 17.

l The field which is now fruitfull, ſhall be but as a barren forreſt in compariſon of that it ſhall be then, as Chap. 29: 17. which ſhall be fulfilled in Chriſts time, for then they that were before, as the barren wilderneſſe, being regenerate, ſhall be fruitfull, and they that had ſome beginning of godlineſſe, ſhall bring forth fruits in ſuch abundance, that their former life ſhall ſeeme but as a wilderneſſe, where no fruits are. ‡ Or, and the city ſhall be utterly abaſed. m They ſhall not need to build it in high places for feare of the enemie: for God will defend it, and turne away the ſtormes from hurting of their commodities. n That is, upon fat ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance: or in places which before were covered with waters, and now made drie for your uſes. o The fields ſhall be ſo rank, that they ſhall ſend out their cattel to eat up the firſt crop, which abundance ſhall be ſignes of Gods favour and love towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Gods judgements againſt the enemies of the church. 13 The priviledges of the godly.

WO to thee that [a] ſpoileſt, and thou, waſt not ſpoiled; and dealeſt treacherouſly, and they dealt not treacherouſly with thee: when thou ſhalt [b] ceaſe to ſpoil, thou ſhalt be ſpoiled; and when thou ſhalt make an end to deal treacherouſly, they ſhall deal [c] treacherouſly with thee.

2 [d] O LORD, be gracious unto us, we have waited for thee, be thou their [e] arm every morning, our ſalvation alſo in the time of trouble.

3 At the noiſe of the tumult the [f] people fled: at the lifting up of [g] thy ſelf the nations were ſcattered.

4 And your ſpoil ſhall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running to and fro of [h] locuſts ſhall [i] he run upon them.

a Meaning, the enemies of the church, as were the Caldeans, and Aſſyrians: but chiefly of Sennacherib.

b When thine appointed time ſhall come, that God ſhall take away thy power: and that which thou haſt wrongfully gotten, ſhall be given to others, as Amos 5: 11.

c The Caldeans ſhall doe like to the Aſſyrians as the Aſſyrians did to Iſrael: and the Medes and Perſians ſhall doe the ſame to the Caldeans.

d He declareth hereby what is the chief refuge of the faithfull when troubles come, to pray and ſeek help of God. e Which helpedſt our fathers ſo ſoon as they called upon thee. f That is; the Aſſyrians fled before the armie of the Caldeans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes and Perſians. g When thou, O Lord, didſt lift up thine arm to punish thine enemies.

h Ye that as locuſts deſtroyed with your number the whole world, ſhall have no ſtrength to reſiſt your enemies the Caldeans, but ſhall be gathered on an heap and be deſtroyed.

i Meaning, the Medes and Perſians againſt the Caldeans.

5 The LORD is exalted: for he dwelleth on high, he hath filled Zion with judgement and righteouſneſſe.

6 And wiſdome and knowledge ſhall be the ſtability of thy [k] times, and ſtrength of † ſalvation: the fear of the LORD is his treaſure.

7 Behold, [l] their ‡ valiant ones ſhall cry without: the [m] ambaſſadours of peace ſhall weep bitterly.

8 The [n] high-wayes lie waſte, the wayfaring man ceaſeth, he hath broken the covenant, he hath deſpiſed the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languiſheth; Lebanon is aſhamed and ‡ hewen down: [o] Sharon is like a wilderneſſe, and Bashan and Carmel ſhake off their fruits.

10 Now will I [p] riſe, ſaith the LORD: now will I be exalted, now will I lift up my ſelf.

11 [q] Ye ſhall conceive chaff, ye ſhall bring forth ſtubble: your breath as fire ſhall devoure you.

12 And the people ſhall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up ſhall they be burnt in the fire.

13 ¶ Heare ye that are [r] farre off, what I have done; and ye that are neare, acknowledge my might.

14 [s] The ſinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulneſſe hath ſurprized the hypocrites: who among us ſhall dwell with the devouring fire? who amongſt us ſhall dwell with everlaſting burnings?

15 He that * walketh † righteouſly, and ſpeaketh † uprightly, he that deſpiſeth the gain of ‡ oppreſſions, that ſhaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that ſtoppeth his eares from hearing of † bloud, and ſhutteth his eyes from ſeeing evil:

16 He ſhall dwell [t] on † high: his place of defence ſhall be the munitions of rocks, bread ſhall be given him, his waters ſhall be ſure.

17 Thine eyes ſhall [u] ſee the king in his beautie: they ſhall behold † the land that is very [x] farre off.

18 Thine heart [y] ſhall meditate terrour: * Where is the ſcribe? where is the † receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou ſhalt not ſee a fierce people, a people of a deeper ſpeech than thou canſt perceive; of a ‡ ſtammering tongue, that thou canſt not underſtand.

20 Look upon Zion the city of our ſolemnities: thine eyes ſhall ſee Jeruſalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that ſhall not be taken down, not one of the ſtakes thereof ſhall ever be removed, neither ſhall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious LORD will be unto us a place † of broad [z] rivers and ſtreams;

k Meaning, that God will bee a ſure defence to all them that live according to his word.

† Heb. bloud.

† Heb. heights, or high places.

l Meaning, that God will deliver Hezekiah and his people from Sennacherib.

‡ Or, meſſengers.

m Whom they of Jeruſalem ſent to intreat of peace.

n Theſe are the words of the Ambaſſadours, when they return from Sennacherib.

‡ Or, withered away.

o Which was a plentifull country, meaning, that Sennacherib would deſtroy all.

p To help and deliver my church.

q This is ſpoken againſt the enemies, who thought all was their own, but he ſheweth, that that enterpriſe ſhall be in vain, and that the fire which they had kindled for others, ſhould conſume them.

r His vengance ſhall be ſo great, that all the world ſhall talk thereof.

s Which doe not beleeve the words of the prophet, and the aſſurance of their deliverance.

u They ſhall ſee Hezekiah delivered from his enemies, and reſtored to honour and glorie.

† Heb. the land of farre diſtances.

x They ſhalbe no more ſhut in as they where by Sennacherib, but goe where it pleaſeth them.

y Before that this liberty cometh, thou ſhalt think that thou art in great danger, for the enemie ſhall ſo ſharply aſſail you, that one ſhall cry, Where is the clark that writeth the names of them that are taxed, Another, where is the receiver; Another ſhall cry for him that valueth the rich houſes, but God will deliver you from this feare.

wherein wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship passe thereby.

22 For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our † lawgiver, the LORD is our king, he will save us.

23 ‡ Thy [a] tacklings are loosed, they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the [b] prey of a great spoil divided, the lame take the prey.

24 And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

† Heb. flaunte-maker.
‡ Or, they have forsaken thy tackelings.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 The judgements wherewith God revengeth his church. 11 The desolation of her enemies. 16 The certaintie of the prophesie.

COme neare ye [a] nations to heare, and hearken ye people: let the earth heare, and † all that is therein; the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the LORD is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath utterly [b] destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcases, and the mountains shall be melted with their bloud.

4 And all the host of heaven shall be [c] dissolved, and the heavens shall be * rolled together as a scrole: and all their host shall fall down as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a * falling fig from the fig tree.

5 For my sword shall be [d] bathed in heaven: behold it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of [e] my curse to judgement.

6 The sword of the LORD is filled with bloud, it is made fat with fatnesse, and with the bloud of [f] lambes and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rammes: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in [g] Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 And the ‡ [h] unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls, and their land shall be ‡ soaked with bloud, and their dust made fat with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of the LORDS * vengeance, and the yeare of recompenses for the controversie of Zion.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into [i] brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day, * the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste, none shall passe through it for ever and ever.

11 ¶ But the ‡ [k] cormorant and the bittern shall possesse it, the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it, and he shall stretch out upon it the line of [l] confusion, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdome, but [m] none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.

14 [n] † The wilde beasts of the desert shall also meet with † the wilde beasts of the island, and the satyre shall cry to his fellow, the ‡ shrichowl also shall rest there, and finde for her self a place of rest.

15 [o] There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 ¶ Seek ye out of the [p] book of the LORD, and reade: [q] no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: for [r] my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the [s] lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possesse it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 The joyfull flourishing of Christs kingdome. 3 The weak are encouraged by the vertues and priviledges of the gospel.

THe [a] wildernesse and the solitary place shall be glad for them: and the desert shall rejoyce, and blossome as the rose.

2 It shall blossome abundantly, and rejoyce even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellencie of [b] Carmel and Sharon: they shall [c] see the glory of the LORD, and the excellency of our God.

3 ¶ * [d] Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

4 Say to them that are of a † fearfull heart, Be strong, fear not, behold, your God will come with [e] vengance, even God with a recompense, he will come and save you.

5 Then the * eyes of the [f] blinde shall be opened, and * the eares of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6 Then shall the * lame man leap as an hart, and the * tongue of the dumbe sing: for in the [g] wildernesse shall * waters break out, and streams in the desert.

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay shall be ‡ grasse with reeds and rushes.

8 And an high way shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of [h] holinesse, the unclean shall not passe over it, † but it shall be [i] for those: the way-faring men, though fools, shall not erre therein.

9 [k] No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there: but the redeemed shall walk there.

10 And the * [l] ransomed of the LORD shall return and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladnesse, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

a He propheseth of the full restauration of the Church, both of the Jews and Gentiles under Christ, which shall be fully accomplished at the last day: albeit, as yet it is compared to a desert and wildernesse.
b The Church which was before compared to a barren wildernesse shall by Christ be made most plenteous and beautifull.
c He sheweth, that the presence of God is the cause that the Church doth bring forth fruit and flourish.
